School Attendance Boundaries Changed

(For a detailed description of attendance boundaries of all District 25 elementary schools, see Page 6.)

Changes in attendance boundaries, affecting every District 25 elementary school on the north side of Arlington Heights, were approved Monday by the board of education.

The changes were recommended by Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh as an attempt to balance class sizes throughout the district, in view of numerous classroom additions which will open this fall.

The new attendance areas will become effective in September.

ALTHOUGH the appearance of attendance areas on the agenda was not announced in advance, approximately 40 residents—most living in the Olive and Wilson school attendance areas—appeared to protest the change. The group asked for a delay.

But the board approved the changes and told them it will reconsider the Wilson-Olive lines if residents come up with an acceptable alternative.

The new lines provide for every existing elementary building to handle kindergarten through fifth grade. The new Ivy Hill School, however, will handle K-3 students living east of Arlington Heights Road who formerly went to Greenbrier.

That change is not likely to provoke controversy, since Ivy Hill's younger children will attend school in their own neighborhood.

HOWEVER, two schools which currently send their fourth and fifth graders to Wilson were made K-5 schools and their boundaries were changed. They are Patton and Olive.

K-3 children living north of Thomas Street and east of Arlington Heights Road, who formerly attended Olive School, will attend Wilson School along with fourth and fifth graders. Residents of the area, which includes Arlington North subdivision, protested that traffic on Arlington Heights Road is high speed, that crossing guards are not stationed there at all times children are crossing and that access to Wilson School is hazardous because the unincorporated Arlington Knolls subdivision which they must cross has open ditches and no sidewalks.

Anthony Tomaso, president of the Arlington Greens Civic Association, asked what pressures the school board is exerting on the village to annex Arlington Knolls and get sidewalks installed. He was told the school board did not want to get involved in village annexations and the residents should go to the village.

CLABAUGH told the residents that despite hazards it was the best proposal the administration was able to develop.

Other changes:

(1) Windsor school crowding will be relieved by moving the line between Olive and Windsor slightly south, the line between Windsor and Kensington slightly west and the line between north and Windsor slightly east.

(2) K-5 students (120) from Prospect Meadows and Wedgewood Terrace (an area of the district that projects north of Mount Prospect) will be bused to North School.

(3) To relieve North School, the line between it and Ridge School will be moved slightly east.

(4) On the south side, Dunton School, now receiving an addition, was made K-5. And two fifth grade classes from Dryden will be bused to Westgate.

Junior high attendance areas were unchanged.

Policy Made By Trustees

by DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

(This is the second in a series of stories about the role of boards and commissions in governing Arlington Heights.)

At the top of the official power structure of Arlington Heights sits the village board of trustees, presided over by the village president and composed of six trustees.

It is one of two politically elected boards in the village, the other being the library board of trustees. Current members have all run successfully on the local Caucus party ticket.

The village board is the general policy making and policing body in the village. Only it has power to approve ordinances—the laws of the village—to approve resolutions and other motions setting forth village policy and has ultimate responsibility for law enforcement.

THE OPPORTUNITY for patronage is almost nonexistent; the village board directly appoints only one member of the village staff—the village manager.

It is the manager who hires most classes of village employes and who controls the appointment of village department heads. But the elected board can control general village policy and services in other ways.

The manager, for example, works without contract. He may be removed by a simple majority vote of the village

ALBERT F. VOLZ in his study—the grand old man of Arlington Heights with characteristic Stetson hat. His reminiscences on his 95 years as a citizen of the village go back to, "I knew William Dunton real well . . ."

Life a Village Chronicle

Volz 95 Today

by GENE NOJEK
Staff Writer

Albert F. Volz is 95 today.

Arlington Heights' oldest life-long resident, former mayor, state representative, civic leader and businessman, said he plans to spend the day at home with friends who drop in.

Celebrate?

"What's there to celebrate?" he quipped. "I feel just as good as I did 20 years ago."

Arlington Heights would not be Arlington Heights without Al Volz, for his life, which spans two-thirds of the village's, is inextricably intertwined with its development.

THE VILLAGE was still known as Dunton when Volz was born on May 12, 1871, at 17 E. Campbell St., an area once known as "the loop."

His father was Christian Volz, a German immigrant who served on the first board of trustees when Arlington Heights was incorporated in 1887.

Volz started working for the North Western Railway in 1886 when he was 15. At the turn of the century, he and George Peter became partners in the Peter and Volz Foundry which manufactured iron parts for school and opera seats. In 1923 it became the Arlington Seating Co.

Volz continued to be active in the firm until he retired in 1943 at 72.

BUT POLITICS is what Volz is noted for, and it's what he calls his "sideline."

"I always loved politics," he said, "and it was a game to me. I enjoyed nothing better than a clean political fight."

He never lost an election after winning a seat on the village board in 1899. He served two terms as mayor — in 1907 and 1913.

During his first term, the village water system — what he calls the first major improvement — was completed.

Typical of the incidents which gave impetus to the water works project, Volz recalled, was the time the Diamond Stone Machine building burned down. Then firemen used milk cans to haul water to feed "Old Maude" —the fire department's horse-drawn, hand-powered pumper.

The first part of the water system was put in in 1905 when Volz was trustee. It was bitterly opposed and only ran from the old village hall up Highland Avenue to Hawthorne.

Opposition to the improve- was so strong, Volz mused, that he and other board members didn't run for re-election because "people were out to hang us."

IN 1907, however, Volz was

Bank to Close Davis St. Soon

Davis Street, north of the Arlington Heights National Bank, will soon be closed to traffic, according to signs posted by the bank. The village vacated the portion of Davis between Dunton and Evergreen to permit expansion of the bank. Replacing that portion of Davis will be Commuter Street, built by the bank a short distance north.

But No Tax Hike Expected

The Arlington Heights Park District may be operating on an increased budget this fiscal year, but officials appear confident a tax hike will not be necessary.

Park Supt. Thomas Thornton this week said he will submit to the park board when it meets Tuesday a $506,695 budget for the fiscal year which began May 1. This is $130,796 over last year's budget of $375,899. But Thornton stressed that increased assessed valuation and reductions in payments on bonds would offset the increase.

The proposed budget has the recommendation of the board finance committee. Not a legally adopted measure, the budget is for the guidance of the park administration.

THE ASSESSED valuation increase from $136 million last year to $145 million this year, said Thornton, will be enough to hold down taxes even if voters approve a $1 million bond referendum in August. The proposed bond issue is for development of new park land acquired in the past year.

Tax levies next year are projected by Thornton at almost two cents less than this year, before the effect of the proposed referendum is considered. This spring's levy was 30 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Thornton projects next spring's levy at 28.2 cents.

The superintendent said passage of the referendum would mean about the same levy next year as this.

He noted a vast area recently annexed to the park district — including that part of Arlington Heights north of Rand Road — will not provide tax revenue until 1968. He estimated assessed valuation of the area at $20 million, a substantial increase in the tax base.

A BREAKDOWN of the proposed budget expenditures shows: $128,305—bonds and interest; $23,000—land purchase and development; $38,600—buildings and equipment; $109,650—grounds maintenance and equipment; $12,400—concessions; $46,375—administration; $1,000—buildings; $127,365—recreation program; $16,000—social security and Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund; and $4,000—public liability insurance.

A decrease in the park district's insurance rates also is credited with helping to keep down taxes.

All expense categories except insurance would increase over last year. The biggest boosts would come from expenditures for bonds and interest ($71,123 last year), land purchase and development ($6,483 last year), and grounds maintenance and equipment ($74,509 last year). This year's budget is financed by last year's tax levy.

Purchase Of 3 Sites Discussed

Three land acquisition possibilities were discussed by the Arlington Heights Village Board in a closed-door special meeting Monday night.

Discussion of land purchase and sale is an area in which officials are permitted by state law to exclude the public.

In their brief open meeting preceding the closed session, trustees voted on only one measure.

They set a price of $25 each for the sale of the new municipal code and $5 annually for the supplemental sheets.

FOR PUBLIC use, the village has one copy of the municipal code available at the village hall and provides gratis two copies to the Arlington Heights Public Library and one copy to

Wayside Requests Permit For Two Mobile Classrooms

By MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

Village trustees will be asked Monday to grant a special use permit for erection of two mobile classrooms at Our Lady of the Wayside parochial school during the 1966-67 school year.

Archbishop John Cody has said he will supply two mobile classrooms to Wayside next year "if proper legal permission can be secured."

Trustees must okay a special use permit before the temporary classrooms can be erected because the mobile units do not meet village building code requirements.

SOME TRUSTEES have said privately that they feel this is politically a "hot potato" and have raised the question of how temporary the mobile classrooms will really be.

Village board members will have to weigh the possibility of Wayside getting permission for permanent construction if the temporary classroom request is nixed. And they will have to judge the effect a turn-down would have on elementary District 25.

Archbishop Cody has put a temporary ban on all building in the archdiocese, in part because of what the archdiocese feels are too-high construction costs and in part because Cody wants to take a look at the total building needs first.

He said in a letter that, it would be "imminently impossible, not to say uneconomical," to do anything for the Wayside student increase at present other than provide the mobile classrooms.

DISTRICT 25 Supt. Ralph Clabaugh said he does not plan to make any statement, formally, or informally, regarding the parochial school's request for the mobile units and has not been contacted regarding the matter by village officials.

He acknowledged that "it would crowd us" next fall to absorb an umplanned-for 100 pupils, the number that the two mobile units would accommodate.

If the village trustees say "Yes," the Wayside pastor, the Rev. Harold T. OHara, plans to use one more room in the gray-bricked parochial school for junior high students and use each of the two mobile classrooms for an elementary grade. This would make it possible, he said, for Wayside to have four sections each in the primary grades next year.

Only a part of Our Lady of the Wayside's building needs will be met by the mobile units, however. The church now has no parish meeting hall, for example; the large basement school room once used for parish meetings has been converted into three classrooms.

PLANS FOR substantial new junior high building, to include eight classrooms, a science laboratory, gymnasium and locker rooms, kitchen, and parish hall, have been sitting on an archdiocesan desk since last year. Wayside officials had estimated that they would need to get permission by March in order to have the building in use for next fall's classes.

In the past few years, the Wayside congregation has financed a church, a school, a school addition and a convent. All debts on these have been paid off.

To Install Officers of VFW Post

New officers of the Arlington Heights VFW Post will be installed Sunday in ceremonies at the post clubhouse, 811 N. Yale.

Past department commander of Illinois VFW, John Heidemann, will conduct the ceremonies beginning at 8 p.m.

The 1966-67 officers are: Edward J. Zaker, commander; Henry Thune, senior vice commander; Richard Anderson, junior vice commander; John Heidemann, quartermaster; Eldon Dahl, chaplain; William Kopplin, judge advocate; Mel Stier, post surgeon; Tom Fegan, three-year trustee; Irvin McDougall, two-year trustee; Robert Reynolds, one-year trustee; Alex Olesuk, adjutant; Robert Reynolds, officer of the day; Edward Lubeck, service officer; William Milligan, patriotic instructor; Alex Angeloff, legislative officer; Edward R. Doyle, publicity officer.

New officers of the post's ladies auxiliary also will be installed. (A

3-H Homes Wins OK From Planners

Berkley Square builders, 3-H Homes, drew an okay from the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday on a request for rezoning 37.74 adjoining acres from R-1 to a smaller lot size R-3.

The village trustees will act on the plan commission recommendation at its meeting Monday.

Howard A. Borde, attorney for the Berkley Square group, said that although the R-3 classification would allow 8,750 square foot minimum lots, planners for 3-H Homes plan to plat this subdivision with lots of about 9,600 square feet each.

The 37-plus acres adjoins Berkley Square's south boundaries. Its own southwest boundary is the angling Commonwealth Edison high line property, while to the east is part of Berkley Square and a 20-acre future District 25 junior high and K-5 school site.

CHARLES BENNETT, District 25 board member who also sits on plan commission, noted that the school district will probably want streets along west and south edges of the school property. He suggested that 3-H Homes planners take this into account in platting the subdivision.

The petition had originally included in its rezoning request a 33-foot-wide strip connecting the property with Arlington Heights Road. On Wednesday, Borde asked this strip be dropped from the petition, explaining that it had been included in the rezoning of the first Berkley Square unit.

Zoning classification of the 33-foot strip is not important anyway, Borde said, since the ribbon of land will become part of the Hintz Road right-of-way when Hintz is extended into the new subdivision. (A

Father O'Hara to Bless Wayside's New Organ

A pastor's fondest wish will be fulfilled Sunday at 3 o'clock, when the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara will bless the new Wicks pipe organ recently installed in Our Lady of the Wayside Church, Arlington Heights. Since Father O'Hara was assigned to his parish almost 14 years ago, a pipe organ has been included in his plans for the completed church.

Emlyn Owen, who has been active in church, radio, and concert performance for over 40 years, will be guest organist. Owen was formerly professor of piano and organ at Parsons College in Iowa and has been instrumental in the design of many large organs throughout the Midwest.

His selections will include: Rhapsody on the Hymn "Ein' Feste Burg" (Luther-Sellars), "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach — arranged for organ by Harvey Grace), Concert Fantasia on the theme "Tantum Ergo" (Roland Diggle), "Song of the Basket Weaver" (Alexander Russell), Grand Choeur Exsultate Deo (Frederick Lacey), "Night" (Cyril Jenkins), and Pilgrims Chorus from "Tannhauser" (Richard Wagner).

OUR LADY OF the Wayside Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Drolet, will sing the "Canticle of Praise" by Charpentier, composed for choir, two trumpets, and organ. The trumpeters will be Frank Del Giudice and Paul Roy, both of Rolling Meadows. Other choral compositions will include "O Sacred Feast" (Healey Willan), "Now Thank We All Our God" (Cruger-Mueller), and "O Taste and See" (R. Vaughan Williams).

Owen will join the choir on the recessional, Handel's Hallelujah Chorus, a particular favorite of Father O'Hara's.

Choir members include: Mrs. Peter Baumann, Mrs. Robert Carroll, Miss Cheryl Dority, Miss Linda Heffernan, Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. Arthur Long, Mrs. Paul Roy, Miss Madeline Sauerbier, Miss Maria Villars, Mrs. Andrew Brauneis, Mrs. Frank Hornof, Miss Rose Burack, Mrs. Charles Hume, Mrs. Richard Montaba, Miss Carol Plodzien, Mrs. Edward Lenzen, Mrs. John Heiderscheidt, and Robert Epperly, Robert Hampton, Dan Maguire, Thomas McManus, Bernard Callahan, Robert Forpe, Philip Gorman, Richard Gorman, John Leahy, Robert Pritts, Robert Schmit and John Shanley. Streets Too Bad, No Speed Signs

65 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 11, 1901

The village board street and sidewalk committee reported at Monday's meeting that four brick crossings have been built. They were instructed to purchase a car of pressed brick and have eight or nine more built.

50 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 12, 1916

Arlington Heights doesn't need any speed signs while her streets are so bad. Most travelers skip our town to escape our village roads. No great loss but there is some small gain.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 16, 1941

The village board at a special meeting Monday said "no" to the Hill Oil Co. of Elgin, which asked for a permit to erect a bulk gas station on railroad park property.

Public sentiment is strongly against use of the railroad parks for private industry and a wave of protest has arisen throughout the community. A petition signed by 334 village residents opposing the gas station was presented to the board.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 10, 1956

Two major hurdles toward realization of the proposed Northwest Community Hospital have been cleared with the selection of a site and the donation of funds for purchase of the tract.

The site lies north of Central Road between Salem and Ridge Avenues and has a total area of 11.84 acres.

More than 50 per cent of the sum required for the tract was provided with a $20,000 gift from Mrs. M. C. Magnus of Arlington Heights.

Olive School PTA Installs Officers

The Olive School PTA last week installed new officers for the coming school year.

They are: Gene Rabe, president; Mrs. Sherry Brophy, first vice president; Mrs. Fran De Luca, second vice president; Mrs. Marilyn Rabe, third vice president; Mrs. Barbara Hendricks, fourth vice president; Mrs. Pat Bayer, recording secretary; Mrs. Beverly Weidinger, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Evelyn Jahnke, treasurer.

Following the installation ceremony, members heard a report on progress and needs of William Rainey Harper College from Roy de Marrais, administrative assistant of the two-year college.

The group also heard John Bennett, mathematics co-ordinator for Elementary District 25, outline his role in the school system. (A

Opponent 'Regrets' Endorsement of BGA

"Regret" over the Better Government Association's endorsement of his opponent was expressed Tuesday by Eugene F. Schlickman.

The BGA Friday announced its endorsement of Thomas W. Novotny for the Wheeling Township Republican committeeman.

Schlickman, who had the BGA's endorsement in his race for state representative two years ago and expects it again this year, was obviously stunned by the BGA action. But added he had "nothing but respect" for the organization. He said the BGA interviewed Novotny for the committeeman job but not him.

"I REGRET that the Better Government Association last week recommended by opponent for Wheeling Township Committeeman without interviewing me. I did submit by written application for recommendion, and it is the practice of GBA to interview candidate before recointerview candidates before recommending.

"But in the case of my race for committeeman, it interviewed only my opponent. I enjoyed the BGA endorsement for state representative two years ago, and am assured that I will be recommended by that organization in the current legislative race."

Hitting at a campaign theme Novotny has used — that the precinct captains' organization which endorsed Schlickman is a "hand picked" group—Schlickman released a letter dated May, 1964, from Novotny. In it, Novotny said he wished Schlickman in running for the legislature had submitted his name to captains for their endorsement. (ACM

Jewel Scholarships Awarded Local Teens

Jewel's Tenth Anniversary of the firm's annual scholarship program was celebrated at a dinner last night in the Great Hall of the Pick-Congress Hotel with the awarding of $90,000 in college scholarships to 25 high school senior part-timers from Jewel stores.

Mr. H. R. Rasmussen, executive vice president, Chicagoland stores, presided at the dinner and the presentation of the awards was made by Mr. H. G. Beckner, vice president and general manager of Jewel Food Stores. Among those in attendance were parents, principals of the winners' high schools and Jewel managers of the stores in which the winners are employed, along with part-timers representing each Jewel store.

STEPHEN A. SPOETH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Spoeth, Sr., 1710 S. Chesterfield, Arlington Heights, and Richard J. Profita, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Profita, 232 Hatlen, Mount Prospect, received Jewel scholarship awards for $500 each year. To be eligible for the scholarships, they had to work fifteen hours per week in a Jewel store through their senior year, and were in competition with 640 other part-time employees throughout the area served by Jewel.

Spoeth, who parcels and carries out orders for the customers at the Jewel store at 948 Grove Mall in Elk Grove Village, is an honor roll student at Forest View High School. He is a member of the Letterman's Club, holding varsity letters in tennis and cross-country, and is also actively interested in music. He plans to major in mathematics at Valparaiso University.

Profita checks in orders, parcels, and carries out orders for customers of the Jewel store at 819 Elmhurst Road in Des Plaines. He is third in his class of 186 at St. Viator High School, a member of the National Honor Society, a National Merit commended student, holds a Latin award, D.A.R. history award, is editor of the school newspaper, prefect of the Sodality, was freshman and sophomore class president, and is now president of the student council executive board. He plans to enter Northwestern University where he will become a liberal arts major.

SPOETH AND PROFITA are among 3,500 teenagers working part time in Jewel stores. Jewel estimates it will provide over 10,000 part-time opportunities during the next three years as a result of employment needs due to growth and turnover.

The scholarship program in which Spoeth and Profita participated is one of several Jewel scholarship programs. Many Jewel employees, both high school and college graduates, are enrolled in local colleges on a part-time basis and receive a refund of 50 per cent of their tuition cost upon completion of their studies with a passing grade.

Jewel also sponsors part-time employees for an accredited college course in Food Distribution at Western Michigan University for either two or four years. These students attend school one term and are guaranteed full-time employment on alternate terms, this work paying for their education.

Many Jewel executives, it is reported, started their careers as part-time employes of Jewel during their high school years.

Post Office: Crammed Quarters

Arlington Heights' eight-year-old post office at 201 W. Wing St. has become badly crowded with the growth of the village. Since it was first occupied, the number of carriers working out of it has increased from 25 to 40. In a recent four-week period, it handled 7.8 million pieces of mail. In the past eight years, village population has nearly doubled. ABOVE: Carriers sort mail by street and number. LEFT: Postal employes sort mail into route numbers. BELOW: His mail sorted and bagged, carrier Emmett McDougall leaves for his route.

2 Newsboys Picked for Scholarships

Two Arlington Heights newspaper boys will be awarded $500 scholarships by the Newspaper Distributors Association at its 18th annual scholarship presentation to be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Pick-Congress Hotel, Chicago.

They are Dewey Chiesl, 201 S. Dryden, and Thomas Rush, 26 N. Phelps. Both are students at Prospect High School.

Chiesl and Rush are among 26 Chicago area newspaper boys receiving Newspaper Distributers Association Scholarships. Their length of service in home delivery exceeds 5½ years on the average.

They are being honored for community service and for maintaining scholastic grades above the 90th percentile for the country as a whole.

The top echelon for the newspaper industry, civic leaders, and many educational and religious leaders of Chicago will be on hand for the presentation. (A

Cub Pack 67 Goes Hiking In Arboretum

Twenty boys and 11 adults from Cub Pack 67 left Ridge School at 9:30 a.m. on April 30 for Morton Arboretum. When they arrived they went on a 1½ to 2 mile hike on the four Seasons Trail for which the boys will receive the Multi-Color Badge. Following the hike a picnic was enjoyed in the pine tree grove, after which the group returned to the school. Pack 67 is sponsored by the Ridge School PTA. (A SUN WORSHIPPERS — BEWARE OF AGING SKIN. Too much sun can make your skin look older than your years unless you sensibly protect yourself. The American Academy of Dermatology offers these suggestions to avoid sun troubles.

USE A GOOD SUN SCREEN PROTECTIVE. Apply a lot of it often at first till your skin gets a good tan. Select a cream or lotion which contains a chemical that screens out the ultraviolet rays and prevents a burn.

DON'T RUB SUN PROTECTIVES INTO SKIN. Apply these agents gently and just pat them on the skin. If rubbed in too vigorously, irritations may develop. And, the purpose of a sun preventive is to keep the ultraviolet rays from penetrating into the skin, not to absorb them. Forcing them into the skin lessens the effectiveness of any sun cream or lotion.

AFTER EXPOSURE LUBRICATE YOUR SKIN. The sun will dry out much of the natural skin oil. Apply a soothing, nourishing cream or lotion to replace the lost oil. If you don't your skin may develop excessive unsightly dryness.

WEAR SUNGLASSES TO PROTECT YOUR EYES. Do not depend on beach umbrellas alone. For the reflected rays from the sand and sky can do harm. Sunglasses can prevent serious eye damages.

WE ARE SUN PROTECTION EXPERTS. Of course we carry a complete stock and can supply your favorite brand. But, we also have studied how these sun protectives can help you most and will be glad to give you our informed opinion about the effectiveness of any product. Now is the right time to start using them before the sun's rays reach their high intensity.

"C'mon Bernie," said Bernie's wife. "If we buy electric whole-house air conditioning now, we can save money."

So Bernie did.
Did Bernie save money?
You should see his smile.
Read how you can save, too.

The contractors who install electric whole-house air conditioning aren't busy right now (it's between seasons). In order to keep busy they are strongly inclined to make special money-saving deals for smart folks who want to keep cool.

Last year, 25,000 smart Chicago area folks installed electric whole-house air conditioning. Join the smart crowd. (Bernie did.) Your heating contractor can make you a member. Air-condition now.

With electric whole-house air conditioning you'll have the least expensive air conditioning available, both in the cost of the unit (as little as $800 in an average 6-room house) and cost of operation (about 40 cents a day during the air-conditioning season).

And with electric whole-house air conditioning you'll enjoy cool, filtered, dust-and-pollen-free air. You'll be really comfortable, and you'll sleep better and eat better. Best of all, you'll know it is one home-improvement you'll get your money back on if you ever sell your house.

Now you know why 25,000 electric whole-house air conditioners were installed in the Chicago area in 1965. And why you'd better beat the crowd in 1966.

School Survey Team Will Report Monday

The University of Chicago team that is surveying Arlington Heights School District 25's financial future will make its preliminary conclusions known Monday.

The university group, headed by Prof. J. Alan Thomas, will meet in South Junior High at 8 p.m. with a citizens committee formed to advise the team and critique its work.

Revised copies of the financial survey, updated to include "first draft" conclusions and extra comparative data asked for by the lay citizens group at an earlier meeting, are on their way to the 40-member citizens group now. Thomas said he hoped that reports will be received by all members of the citizens committee by Friday.

NOT INCLUDED in the mailing will be the results of a survey of community attitudes, made by graduate student Robert Jewell. That material, gained from in-depth interviews with 70 to 80 Arlington Heights families, is still being drawn together.

But persons attending Monday's meeting will have copies of that study handed to them.

Comments made at Monday's meeting will be taken into account by Professor Thomas and other members of the university's Midwest Administration Center team in making formal recommendations to the school board.

The board of education, which originally contracted for the financial survey last year, will hear reports from the University of Chicago team on June 6 and 20.

The official written report will be presented at the meeting on June 20. (A

Arlington Student Is Science Winner

Stanley C. Martens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Martens, 828 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, a student at Arlington High School, was among 34 Illinois high school students who won honors through the 1966 nationwide Science Talent Search. He received a state honorable mention.

The winners were honored last Friday during the Illinois Junior Academy of Science state meeting at the University of Illinois in Urbana. They received certificates and were guests of the Illinois State Academy of Science at the junior academy's banquet.

THE GROUP included two who received trips to Washington in connection with Westinghouse Science Scholarship Awards, 18 who received national honorable mention in that competition, and 14 selected by the state academy for state citations.

The State Academy of Science talent search committee reviewed all Illinois entries which did not receive national recognition to select the 14 for state citations.

Prof. Charles K. Hunt of the department of chemistry in the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle is chairman of the state committee. (A

Set Supt. Gilbert's Salary Monday Behind Closed Doors

The District 214 High School Board will have a special meeting Monday that will include a long executive session to discuss personnel matters, including the salary of Dr. Edward H. Gilbert, superintendent-elect.

The 7:30 p.m. session in the Slichenmyer Administrative Center, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect, will be open at the beginning for a discussion of qualifications needed in a purchasing agent and determination of what names to include on the Elk Grove High School's name plaque.

Then the board will close its doors to discuss — among other things — what Dr. Gilbert's salary should be during his first year as District 214 superintendent.

Names of several possible candidates for the purchasing agent's post will be considered in the executive session.

IT IS ALSO likely that the board will discuss other personnel problems. Board member William Griffith, at last week's meeting, mentioned the possibility of creating another new — but unspecified — position in addition to that of the purchasing agent. Some board members are known to be interested in other improvements in the high school district's administrative setup.

In conducting the closed-door meeting, the board will be guided by an opinion given last month by its attorney, Allyn J. Franke of Norman, Engelhardt, Zimmerman, Franke and Lauritzen of Chicago.

Franke, at Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer's request, has pointed out, in a letter to the District 214 board, that it is public policy of the State of Illinois that all meetings of governmental bodies, and their committees, shall be open to the public.

THERE ARE JUST two exceptions:

—When acquisition or sale of property is the subject.

—When "information regarding employment or dismissal of an employee" is being considered. In this case, no final action can be taken except in public session.

Franke's letter stated his opinion that the statute relating to executive sessions for discussion of personnel matters could include "any and all terms and conditions relating to employment, the conduct of the employee, and his relations with other employees and with the Board or members thereof."

"IN SUCH AN executive session the Board, in its discretion, may meet either by itself or with one or more employees as the Board deems advisable. It could also request a third person to attend the executive session to furnish information relating to the employment of a particular person or persons," Franke stated.

Originally, the District 214 board had intended to determine criteria for employment of a purchasing agent during its closed session. After members of the press protested, pointing out that job descriptions do not fall within the scope of the closed-door law, it was decided that this part of the meeting would be open. (ACME

Local Involvement Is Sought for GOP

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman said Monday he will initiate a four-point program to involve more Republicans in the local work of the party, if he is elected Wheeling Township GOP committeeman.

He said he would seek "continued help" from a large advisory committee he named several weeks ago. "A committeeman can best serve a community when he is fully aware of all the activity within his area and has sufficient information to take educated action," Schlickman said in a news release. "The advisory committee, I feel, would be an effective method of keeping party workers in contact with all township interests.

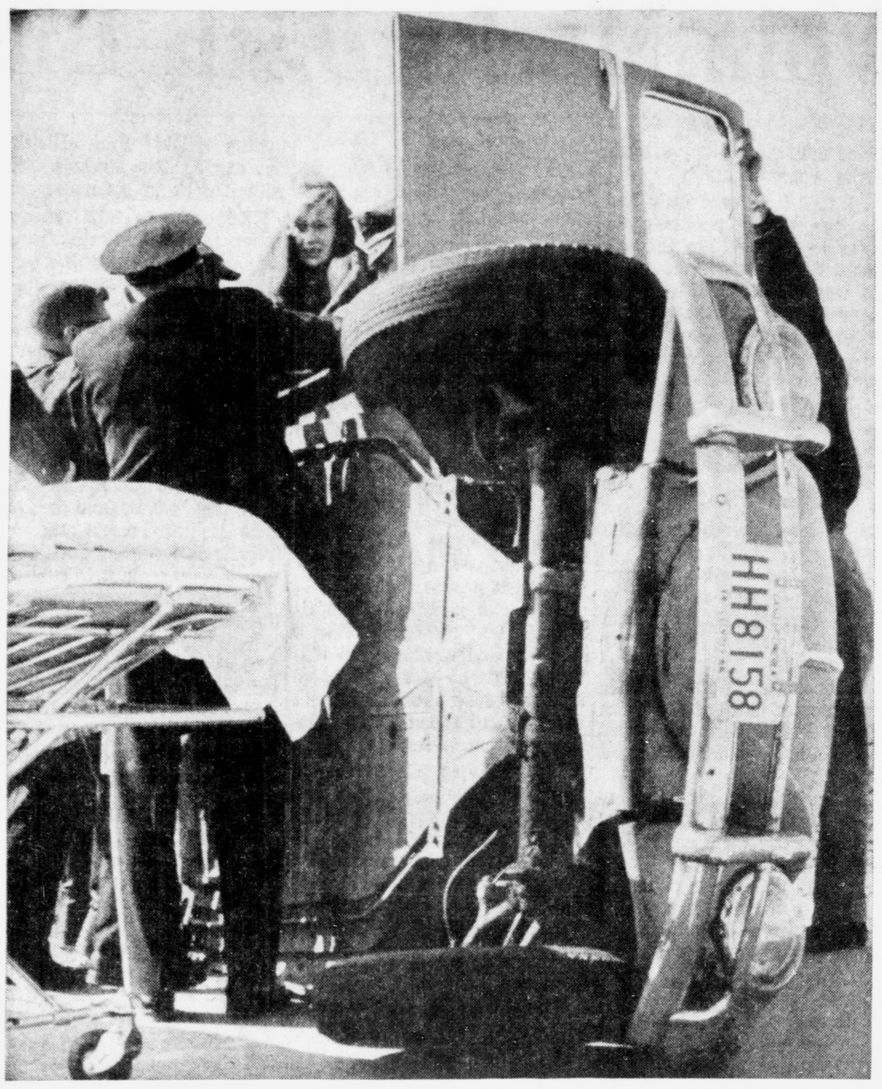
HIS SECOND point calls for a "Hi Neighbor" program of greeting newcomers to the community, acquainting them with the local Republican organizations, and offering service to new residents.

"Newcomers are often bewildered by our suburban governmental structures, especially when they are unfamiliar with the taxing bodies in their community and sometimes lack even the most basic information about their new locale."

Point three provides for the establishing of regular office hours for the township committeeman's office. "The purpose here, of course, is to make the committeeman readily accessible to anyone who needs to contact him," Schlickman explained.

The final point involves a "neighborhood seminar" approach to local political activity. Schlickman said he would sponsor informal gatherings throughout the township in an effort to get more residents involved in the local GOP.

"I am convinced that many residents would like to be part of local political activity but are hesitant to approach a group of strangers who seem to be running things," the legislator maintained. "My intention is to take politics to them, make them part of the group 'running things.'" (ACM



POLICE ASSIST one of two teenage girls injured when their auto overturned Monday afternoon on north Wilke Road, Arlington Heights. The auto was driven by Connie A. Visger, 16, of Elgin. Holly E. Humbracht, 15, Bartlett, was a passenger. Both were taken to Northwest Community Hospital where they were treated and released. Police said Miss Visger lost control of the auto and it went off the pavement and turned completely over. She was ticketed for negligent driving. (A

Hardware Customers Get Second Chance at Prize

Paddock Bingo players who obtained their cards from area V&S hardware stores had an extra chance to win a prize when owners of the four stores held a drawing for a GE personal TV Monday.

Although the official Bingo contest ended May 1, V&S customers were invited to write their names and addresses on the backs of their losing cards and drop them into boxes at Hansen Hardware in Palatine, Elk Grove Hardware in Elk Grove Village, or Bowen Hardware or Freitag Hardware in Arlington Heights.

At noon on Monday the owners — Conrad Hansen, Jim Ivans, John Bowen and Harold Freitag — met, combined the contents of the boxes, and drew the winning card. The name on the back was J. P. Ryder, 1605 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

PURPOSE OF THE promotion, according to John Bowen of Bowen Hardware, was to emphasize the benefits accruing to customers of the dealer-owned V&S chain.

Parent organization for the V&S (Value and Service) stores is Cotter & Co., 2740 N. Clybourn, Chicago, which started out in 1948 as a buying office for 25 retail hardwzre dealers who invested $1,500 apiece to capitalize the firm.

Organized by John Cotter for the express purpose of buying merchandise at lowest possible cost, the firm did a $385,000 volume in its first year.

FOR 13 YEARS the company enjoyed normal, steady growth; then, in 1961, the acquisition of a warehouse in Cleveland added approximately 100 new stores to the cooperative in one fell swoop.

The following year Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett decided to get out of the hardware business, and Cotter & Co. acquired its inventory and accounts receivable. Hibbard was buyer and distributor for the True Value chain of retail hardware stores, about 500 of which have since affiliated with Cotter.

In January, 1965, Walter H. Allen Co. of Dallas, Texas, another dealer-owned organization operating in the Southwest, and boasting 325 members, merged with Cotter & Co.

Finally, in July of last year, the firm opened a new warehouse in Philadelphia, filling a need for a complete hardware distributor in the east and southeast. A large number of such firms had gone out of business in those areas during recent years.

THUS TODAY Cotter & Co. operates from Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas and Philadelphia, with a total membership of over 1,900 stores located in 40 states. They did a total volume of $86 million in 1965 and expect that figure to increase to $106 million this year.

"We are completely dealer-owned," emphasized George MacIntyre, sales manager for the midwest, southwest and western states. Judging by its growth, he added, the firm "obviously must have filled a real need in hardware distribution."

"The main reason for our existence," MacIntyre said, "is to furnish dealer members with merchandise at low cost so they can buy on a basis that will make them competitive with chains, syndicates, mass merchandisers and mail order competition, and to furnish them with an advertising and professional program to inform consumers in their marketing areas of the values and selection of merchandise available. We furnish members with the same professional merchandising guidance that the largest retail and mail order houses give their outlets." (ACM-E

Happiness is

Relaxed Retirement

Every hard-working person deserves to look forward to post-65 years of relaxed retirement. Yet the facts are that four-fifths of single persons over 65 are poverty-stricken, with yearly incomes of less than $2,000, and two-thirds of family heads over 65 have incomes of less than $4,000 annually.

"Poor people are the bulk of the old," says the New York Times. "If you weren't poor before you reached your 65th year, you are likely to be so afterward."

This doesn't have to be. Thoughtful persons will free themselves from the financial distress and daily drudgery that lie ahead by making provision now for relaxed retirement years.

Area News Roundup

HOFFMAN ESTATES—Hoffman Estates Police Wednesday began investigating the finding of a body at Freeman and Central Roads. The body was identiifed from papers in the clothing as that of William Carver Jr.

MOUNT PROSPECT—A large, well landscaped ranch home is being carried on Cook County tax rolls as an "unimproved lot" bearing an assessment of $4,271. The house is occupied by Salvatore DiMucci Sr. at 900 S. Wa-Pella Ave., but is carried under a trust with the Pioneer Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. Taxes on the home amounted to $347.56 in 1965.

ROLLING MEADOWS—Voters will elect an interim mayor next Tuesday to fill the unexpired term of Mayor John J. Woods who resigned Jan. 1. Candidates are two aldermen, Albin Piekarski and William Miseska. In his first public statement since his resignation from office, Woods gave his endorsement to the $255,000 library building referendum which will be on a special ballot Tuesday.

HANOVER PARK—The village board annexed a 112-acre tract north of Irving Park Road and west of Barrington Road last week that's to become the Longmeadows North Subdivision. The annexation appeared threatened for awhile when Schaumburg School District declined to take a five-acre site for a new school in the tract, contending it was too small to permit the adequate building of a school. The builder, 3-H Homes, Inc., however, added approximately another acre to the proposed site to satisfy school district representatives.

PALATINE—The elementary school district must rebid for a new school and classroom addition because original bids were $100,000 over the limit for construction financed by the state. The school and classrooms are to be built by an interest-free state loan. In rebidding the school district will eliminate offices, multi-purpose rooms and furnishings such as cabinets and chalk boards from the plans.

SCHAUMBURG—Relocatable classrooms, (mobile classrooms), are being discussed as a possible solution to next fall's anticipated classroom shortage in Schaumburg Township schools.

WHEELING—Wheeling trustees angrily denounced critics who assail them for proposing a utility tax. Pres. Ted C. Scanlon contended that statements that the village was trying to "cram the tax down the resident's throats," was false. The board delayed action on the measure until June 6.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—The village board delayed a decision on upgrading street standards throughout the village so it could receive comments Tuesday from developers and contractors. One trustee questioned whether the village might be requiring overdesigned streets in residential areas.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Archbishop John Cody has asked the village to approve special use permits for two mobile classrooms at Our Lady of the Wayside School. Building plans at the already-crowded school have been held up because of construction costs and the new archbishop's desire to review all building plans in his archdioceses.

BENSENVILLE—The Raymond S. Blunt auditing firm has completed an audit of personal, business and village accounts handled by Harold Keeling, village treasurer for 18 years. The state's attorney's office will begin preparing its case this week against Keeling of charges of official misconduct, forgery, and grand theft of village funds.

ITASCA—A "planned development" near the Itasca Country Club is under consideration by the Itasca Plan Commission. Developers are still in the "talking" stage, and want some sign of intent from the village before proceeding. The plan would include high-priced homes, duplex-type complexes and 10-story high rise apartment buildings.

Volz Marks 95th Birthday

elected mayor, and they extended the system.

"By that time everybody had seen the inside plumbing in houses on Highland and they all wanted it," he said.

It was during his term as mayor in 1913 that the original village hall was built at Davis and Wing Streets.

He has an anecdote for that one too. Money-conscious residents wouldn't approve funds for a village hall until the village was notified by its insurance company that it would no longer insure the frame building housing the boilers that powered the water system pumps.

BEGINNING in 1917, Volz went to Springfield to serve the first of three terms in the Illinois General Assembly.

His efforts as a state representative were instrumental in getting Arlington Heights its high school when the state district system was set up.

He is also credited with originating the idea for Northwest Highway and working with William Busse of Mount Prospect in establishing the Northwest Highway Improvement Association to promote it.

In 1894, Volz joined the village's first fire department, and he is the last surviving member of that original group.

He was also a member of the first park board of commissioners. Recognizing him as one of the founding fathers of the Arlington Heights Park District, the district has honored him with a park in his name.

FROM 1910 to 1952 Volz was active in the Northwest Towns Republican Organization of which he was chairman.

"We were a real power because we represented six townships," he recalled with a smile. "We worked together on patronage and every decision was unanimous."

Volz has seen the village grow from a small town with a population of less than 1,000 to a sprawling 47,000, and he predicts it will become the metropolis of northwest Cook County.

But he looks nostalgically on the days when it was a small community.

"I liked Arlington Heights better when I knew and could shake hands with everyone I met on the street, like back around 1950 when the population was 8,000," he said.

YET HE'S HAD no desire to follow the footsteps of those who retire to warmer climes like Florida. "Who wants to sit on a park bench or window shop down there? This town means a lot to me and I've never wanted to get away from it."

Here he keeps busy working on statistical projects in his study and, in good weather, he takes daily walks from his home at 6 E. Hawthorne St. to the downtown business district.

He likes statistics. He kept records of his numerous travels throughout the U. S. He figures he's covered more than 100,000 miles, stopped in or gone through 10,000 towns and crossed 837 rivers — "not streams."

An amateur photographer, he has catalogued a collection of 2,800 colored slides and 1,500 photographs of places he's been.

As another statistical project, he compiled a list of the distances from Arlington Heights to more than 53,000 towns in the U. S. It is arranged in alphabetical order in a 500-page volume typed single-spaced.

He's kept a statistical record of Arlington Heights' weather.

ALMOST FINISHED now is a family history with photographs, clippings and documents going back to 1848.

When it's done, he'll start something else.

"I'll do the best I can to keep the ball a' rollin'."

Talks Held On 3 Sites

each of the high schools in the village.

Also in open session, trustees reviewed proposed uses of the Pingel and Hildebrandt farm properties in light of the recent disclosure that Miller Buildesr have an option to purchase 136 acres located north of Algonquin Road and east of and contiguous to the Pingel and Hildebrandt farms.

Miller Builders are developers of the Surrey Ridge and Greenbrier subdivisions in Arlington Heights. The village board had no definite proposals from them for the development of the 136 acres if the purchase is concluded.

Village Pres. John G. Woods said he would like to see the whole area under a planned development "to give the village board and the plan commission a chance to pass on every aspect of it."

The first item on the agenda for the closed-door session to which reporters were admitted for "background" was a proposal to purchase a site for a water storage tank and fire station south of Golf Road in the village.

THE VILLAGE presently owns two lots at Arlington Heights Road and Magnolia Street. The small size of that site and its proximity to the existing south side fire station could detract from its feasibility as a location for a fire station.

President Woods said the board is seriously considering the purchase of a site farther south and asked Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson to make an evaluative study of possibilities.

Trustees also considered several sites near the downtown area for parking and the proposed cultural center. Woods said the board will review future recomendations of Hanson.

Last item in the touchy area of proposed land purchases was consideration of a 56-acre site to be used for sanitary land fill located north of Dundee Road.

Woods said the proposal is in the embryonic stages and will take a tremendous amount of study" before action is taken.

Board of Trustees Makes Village Policy

Probably the village board's greatest power, outside the passage of ordinances, is in control of the purse strings. Bills must be presented to the trustees for their approval, as must the annual budget. If the board chose, it could exert very direct pressure on the selection of personnel.

SIMILARLY, THE board can exert influence on the work of other village bodies through its fiscal control. The board of local improvements, for example, is responsible for supervising improvements (streets, sewer and water lines, etc.) which are paid for by assessment of property owners.

The village board has only a small role in the formal process. But it must approve expenditures vital to the assessment process—like a guarantee that the village will pay engineering costs if for some reason the assessment proceeding is abandoned.

Fiscal control extends even to the operation of the Memorial Library, whose general operation is supervised by a separate library board.

Arlington's officials are elected at-large for four-year terms. Three trusteeships become vacant every two years. The trustees are paid $10 for each meeting they attend; the village president who also acts as liquor commissioner receives a flat salary of $2,000 a year.

TO HELP itself operate efficiently, the board has created four standing committees which do basic research and make recommendations for board action in the areas of finance, legal problems and legislation, administration and public relations and public safety. In addition, special committees are sometimes appointed to deal with problems which do not fit into the existing committee "mold."

One of the most important sub-bodies in the village, the plan commission, acts in some ways as a committee of the village board, though none of its 14 members is a trustee of the village. A major resonsibility of the plan commission is to develop information for the board of trustees on matters of zoning, development and related ordinances and give the trustees an informed recommendation on which to act.

While the village board's direct appointment power is limited, it has power to approve or disapprove nominees for several jobs. The village president, for example, appoints a village attorney and village prosecutor with the "advice and consent" of trustees. Appointments to six of the boards and commissions are handled in the same way: the board of health, zoning board of appeals, police and fire commission, plan commission, youth council and safety commission.

ONE FULL-TIME village job—the deputy clerk—is filled by the elected clerk, with the advice and consent of the board of trustees.

Current president of the board is John G. Woods. Woods, general counsel for Universal Oil Products, is in his sixth eyar as Arlington Heights' president. Clerk is Mrs. Jeanne Novotny.

The terms of three trustees expire next year. They are Carl F. Mees, chairman of the finance committee; Thomas H. Hanlon; and John J. Walsh, chairman of the public safety committee. The other three trustees, with Woods and Mrs. Novotny, began four-year terms last year. They are Roy A. Bressler, chairman of the public relations committee; Frank N. Palmatier; and John F. White, chairman of the legal and legislative committee.

District 59 Eyed for Pilot Teacher Project

Elk Grove School District 59 in cooperation with area school districts is being considered for a federally-financed teacher training project.

Dr. Richard Suchman of the U. S. Office of Education hinted broadly Monday that the district would be chosen as one of three or four school systems in the nation for a pilot project expected to have a major impact on education

Suchman described the project to the planing conference Monday and Tuesday for a teacher training center in District 59. The district will submit a proposal May 25 seeking federal financing to put a teacher training center in operation.

Suchman envisioned District 59 with High School Districts 214 and 211 and their feeder schools acting as "a consortium," for the exchange of ideas about teaching.

TEACHERS WOULD begin to question what and why they were doing something in their teaching and evaluate their results, Suchman said. The consortium would be carefully staffed and include outside specialists to facilitate the flow of ideas.

Teachers traditionally have protected themselves from observation in their classroom in fear of being criticized, Suchman declared. In this project they would be in an environment where they could learn from the "autopsy" of their "goofs."

"There is pitifully little research evidence to support what we have been doing in education for years," Suchman said. He viewed the teachers' inquiry process as beneficial to the children.

Parents would be involved in inquiry about teaching, Suchman suggested. He predicted supportive reaction. He reminded the audience of teachers, administrators, university professors, and lay people that parents are "intelligent and interested."

HE CRITICIZED school systems for becoming committed to a fixed program instead of continuing to evaluate programs and trying variations. A system would not be handicapped by a "just phonics" or "just sight" approach to reading, he cited as example.

Planning of who would be involved and the staffing of the consortium would be a careful and key part of the project, Suchman said. The activities of inquiry would not be predicted in advance, he added.

This approach to a federally supported project is a shift in attitude by people in the bureau of research of the U. S. Office of Education, Suchman said. It changes a categorical aid concept to one of general reimbursement. It permits greater flexibility on the use of funds.

"We want growth, not engineered change," Suchman said. This represents the federal government's effort to change educational practices because the teacher sees their effectiveness. Changing comes from doing not being told.

Suchman sees the federal money providing the incentive for a school system to produce this kind of environment for teaching change. Eventually the local system would support the program for which it recognized a need.

Suchman cited three prerequisites for the program:

—The administrative group (administrators and principals) would have to want the conditions where teachers could be explorative, innovative, and theoretical.

—The right people would have to be brought together at the right time and kept for a sufficient period of interaction.

—Special conditions would have to be created to produce individual and collective growth. This could mean teachers be given time to build materials for classroom use, to write curriculum, and to visit other school systems or university settings.

Suchman predicted a project would be located in New York City, another on the West Coast, and one or two in the Midwest. Different models would be used, he explained. Metropolitan and suburban school systems might band together for a consortium promoting the interchange of ideas and problems.

The centers will be known as Research Educational Assistance Bureau centers.

X-Ray Unit Coming May 24

Free chest x-rays will be offered residents of Arlington Heights on Tuesday, May 24, when a mobile x-ray unit will be parked in front of the Ben Franklin store, 9 W. Campbell St. Hours are from noon to 6 p.m.

Ecumenical Body Begins Planning

An interdenominational committee formed by the Arlington Heights Clergy Fellowship to plan some type of ecumenical venture in the village held its first meeting last Thursday.

Six laymen — James Bailey of our Saviour Lutheran Church, Gene Shull of Southminster Presbyterian, J. Kemp Blackwell of St. Simon's Episcopal, Mrs. Richard Frisbie of St. James Catholic, Mrs. Thomas Grisell of First Presbyterian and Harold Woodhouse of Peace Reformed Church — have been appointed to the commitee.

They join a clergy delegation headed by the Rev. Rowland Koch, pastor of the Congregational United Church of Christ, to make plans for fall.

Kerner Slated For Dedication Of Clearbrook

Gov. Otto Kerner will preside at the dedication of Clearbrook School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows on May 25.

The governor is scheduled to attend the ceremonies between 5 and 6 p.m.

The Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club has been invited, by the board of directors of the school, to provide hostesses for the reception for invited guests following the dedication. The clubwomen will serve a tea in the school's gymnasium, reports Mrs. Gordon Black, president.

District Won't Hunt, Will Hire Negroes

Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 should not go out looking for a Negro teacher but should make it clear it will hire qualified applicants regardless of color.

That appeared to be the concensus of board members Monday after Supt. R. E. Clabaugh asked for the board's direction. No Negroes currently are employed by the district, although several Negroes have been hired in neighboring districts in the past year.

The school administration has said in the past that while it has not discriminated in hiring it has not sought out Negroes and has had few Negro applicants.

Monday, Clabaugh told the board that "well-qualified Negro candidates do not appear to make application on their own initiative in systems which do not have other teachers of their race."

HE SUGGESTED four reasons the district might seek Negro applicants:

"1) This appears to be a constructive way in which public education can participate in promoting civil rights,

"2) Children in suburban communities stand to profit from the opportunity to become familiar with people of other races and their culture. (Some contend that children in a highly homogeneous community are culturally deprived, because the world is not like their community.),

"3) Teacher talent is at a premium. Not much difference would result, so far as teacher supply is concerned, from a district such as ours employing two or three Negro teachers. However, if all such communities as ours were to make a more or less concerted effort to do so, a large resevoir of untapped talent would eventually become available. If this is true, every school system has some responsibility in this regard, and

"4) With a growing trend to recruit Negro teachers in largely white communities, districts with only white teachers might appear to be following a discriminatory policy even though this is not true."

The superintendent suggested "some effort" be made to recruit Negro teachers.

BOARD MEMBER Charles O. Bennett said the district's job is "not to display other races to our children" but to find good teachers without regard to race.

Board member Mrs. Marian Malcolmson said the administration should make clear to employment agencies that District 25 "is looking for qualified teachers regardless of race."

$20 Million New Homes In Past Year

Arlington Heights issued 800 permits fir single family homes during the village's fiscal year, which ended May 1. The homes had a total price tag attached of $20.6 million.

In the previous fiscal year, 549 home permits with a total construction value of $13.6 million were issued.

Permits for all kinds of construction in the recent fiscal year totaled 1,169 with a total value of nearly $37 million. For the previous year, 874 permits with a total value of $27.2 million were issued.

IN HIS MOST recent monthly report to the village manager, Building Commissioner H. C. Best reported 58 single family home permits were issued in April with total construction value of $5.9 million. In April 1965, 36 home permits with a total value of slightly less than $1 million were issued.

Total of all permits issued this past April was 82, with a construction price tag of $2.2 million. Included were two apartment buildings with a value of $480,000 and an addition to Southminster Presbyterian Church with a value of $220,000.

THE NEW LINE for Walro Shoes in Arlington Heights is admired by Don Lenehan, manager. The store at 8 E. Northwest Highway was recently remodeled and has added Child Life shoes as a new line. During its first five years at that location Walro Shoes was primarily an orthopedic prescription store. While they have added regular shoes, Lenehan said, they will continue to carry a complete line of prescription shoes.

Tempers Flare in Debate Over School Bus Contracts

Cook County School Bus Co. general manager Cameron Wren showed both anger and discouragement Monday at the end of High School District 214's 90-minute discussion of bus service.

Wren charged that someone — he did not say who — had mounted a campaign of "character assassination" designed to bring some other company in "at a higher rate."

He said he had tried, a week ago, to fight criticism of Cook County's service and accounting by "providing facts" but had been ignored.

THIS MONDAY Mrs. Leah Cummins, Elk Grove Village board member, started the bus discussion by moving that Davidsmeyer Bus Service be given a contract to haul next year's Elk Grove High School students and that Cook County continue its present 63-bus service to the other four high schools.

Her proposal would cost the school district $51,000 more than an administration recommendation to use just Cook County, with some double runs and 65 buses, to haul all five schools' students next year.

Mrs. Cummins' motion was defeated, 5-1, but at least two of the board members who voted no — Arthur Aronson and Dr. Frank J. Smith — indicated that they did so because they wished to have the Davidsmeyer contract spelled out. If Board Pres. Hal Armstrong also were to switch his vote next time, then Davidsmeyer would get the contract.

THE BOARD was to meet Wednesday at 6 p.m. to go over the whole matter again. It was not made clear Monday whether that meeting would be considered a transportation committee meeting or whether the board would be able to take final action on the bus contract at that time.

Mrs. Cummins drew smiles when she said she had used a "report card" approach in determining her recommendation. She said she graded all three interested bus companies — Davidsmeyer, Cook County and Ritzenthaler Bus Lines — on the basis of their reliability, safety, financial accountability and reputation.

"I am abundantly satisfied in my recommendation," she declared, "even though it means an added cost. I don't want to have a bargain when we're hauling kids."

Board member William Griffith disagreed. His motion to accept the administration-recommended use of just Cook County, for a total cost to the district of $333,566, was also defeated 5-1. But board members did not appear as likely to switch their vote on this motion another time.

THE DAVIDSMEYER proposal is an alternate bid submitted recently, offering to haul Elk Grove High School students in 84-passenger buses at $40 each. The offer said that a stand-by bus would be provided free and that "convenience passengers," students within the 1½ mile limit, would not be charged. This would mean, Mrs. Cummins pointed out, that the school district could receive any revenue from the "convenience" riders.

The 84-passenger buses were criticized harshly by Ralph Marshment, director of school bus safety for State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page's office.

He said such large buses were unsafe, asking, "Would you put this many students in a classroom with one teacher?" When Mrs. Cummins asked why he did not criticize Cook County Bus Co. for having 78-passenger buses, he said he had never noticed any there.

THE EXCHANGE caused many members of the audience to discount Marshment's comments that all three bus companies had good safety records based on what he said were better than a dozen visits to each bus company lot each year.

It was later determined that the Cook County's two 78-passenger buses are new, received March 22. Marshment said his last visit to the Cook County lot was made before that time.

Gory Gulch Story Told By Cub Pack

Elk Grove Township Cub Pack 164 held its last meeting April 28 at High Ridge Knolls School. Den 3 placed the colors.

Under the direction of Cubmaster Clarence Dunsing, all the dens participated in telling the story of Gory Gulch, with cubs taking the parts of Indians, horses and guns. Dens 2 and 5 also presented skits to add to the evening's entertainment.

THE DEN POLL wound up in a three-way tie between dens 4 and 5 Webelos. The arrow symbol was withheld until the May meeting.

It was reported that about 300 Scout-O-Rama tickets remain to be sold. The flag was retrieved by Den 7. (ACM-E

Jones Attends Brown Seminar On Engineering

Hugh E. Jones, a science teacher at Arlington High School, was among 20 science and mathematics teachers from the nation's leading high schools who attended a two-day symposium at Brown University last weekend on the changing nature of engineering education.

The teachers were guests of Brown's Division of Engineering, which has pioneered in the scientific approach to the education of engineers, as distinct from the vocational approach.

The symposium was designed to acquaint high school teachers with the increasingly scientific content of engineering education at institutions such as Brown, and thus give teachers a better opportunity to advise and prepare their students for engineering careers in college. (A

Novotny Hails BGA Backing

"Great pleasure" was expressed Monday by Thomas W. Novotny over his endorsement by the Better Government Assn. for election as Wheeling Township Republican committeeman.

The BGA endorsement, announced Friday, is expected to be a boost for Novotny, who is running against Eugene F. Schlickman, a state representative who has the party organization's backing for the committeeman job.

NOVOTNY SAID he was "greatly pleased by this recommendation from an impartial group of knowledgeable ladies and gentlemen dedicated to better government. That this organization, not subject to inconsequential local pressures, has agreed that I am best qualified to lead the Republican party in our township is highly significant."

H. F. Bunnelle, Novotny's campaign manager, echoed Novotny's pleasure at the BGA recommendation. Bunnelle said, "It is obvious to anyone viewing this campaign objectively that Tom Novotny is offering new life for local Republicanism and that his opponent is only repeating tired old cliches."

"For example," Bunnelle continued, "Novotny's platform calls for a representative Republican organization wherein precinct captains, who are the backbone of any party, are given the tools to communicate with the voters and, in turn, directly represent the voters in party councils."

"NOVOTNY'S opponent," Bunnelle said, "has countered with the four-year-old notion that an 'advisory committee' will somehow rescue the party from its current low fortunes."

Bunnelle said that "It is a fact that the incumbent committeeman (Thomas J. Houser) formed an advisory committee immediately after his election, to which he appointed Novotny, but not Novotny's opponent. He held two or three meetings of the advisory group and thereafter ignored it."

"For our opposition to try to retread this discredited approach," Bunnelle concluded," is indicative of the bankruptcy of ideas of the current local party leadership and of its hand-picked candidate for committeman."

The election for township committeemen is June 14.

Unity Leader To Lecture On Monday

J. SIG PAULSON

J. Sig Paulson, Unity School of Christianity, minister, lecturer, author and coordinator of "World Outreach" of the Unity Movement, will speak in Arlington Heights Monday at 8 p.m. at Unity Northwest, 1801 E. Palatine Road.

Expressing enthusiasm for the appearance of the former newspaper editor and businessman turned minister, the Rev. Dorothea Fowler, Unity Northwest minister, revealed that Paulson has recently been appointed director of a newly established department of world unity, extending his opportunity to spread the Unity message through a world out-reach.

Chicago and its environs will be the area of a lecture tour beginning May 15 and ending May 29 with Unity's united expansion meeting in the banquet room of McCormick Place at 3:30 p.m. It will be possible for persons to attend more than one of the lectures, each of which will be different. (A

Planners Oppose Rezoning 2 Lots

Arlington Heights Plan Commission turned thumbs down last Wednesday on a petition to rezone two lots on the southwest corner of Central and Evergreen from R-3 residential to B-1 business.

Commissioner Leo Mueller told fellow plan commission members, "This man really didn't work at selling the property." He moved that the petition not be approved.

O. V. Anderson, another plan commission member, noted that no definite use of the property had been decided upon under the B-1 classification, which includes such various business uses as food stores, tea rooms and cafeterias.

"I THINK this is more a criticism of the zoning ordidinance," commented William H. Moore, attorney representing owner Marvin J. Peters of 714 Dempster, Mount Prospect. To grant rezoning to B-1 only for certain uses represents plan commission amendment of its own ordinance, he declared.

Peters told the plan commission that he had owned the property, which had 135 foot frontage on Central, since 1957. In 1960, he had the property subdivided into two lots with 67-and 68-foot frontage and then posted it with his own "For Sale" sign for a year. It was listed for two years after that with a Chicago Realtor but then withdrawn. Peters said he has not tried recently to sell it as residential property because of what he termed "unsettled" land use conditions in the adjacent area, just off Arlington Heights Road.

The village board will act on the plan commission's recommendations at its meeting Monday. (A

The class consists of: John Alsterda Jr., Daniel Beck, Beverly Brasch, Richard Buehne, Gail Cordiner, William Gow, Scott Hase, Cynthia Herrick, Rosalie Keller, Susan Kost, David Kurrasch, Celeste Landon, Marcia Leister, Thomas Lidge, Kenneth Malcolmson, Guy McMillan, Jacqueline McMillan, Pamela Richey, Sharon Russell, Loren Scheman, Annette Schroeder, Arthur Schroeder, Jeffery Schulze, Bonita Strader, Rebecca Swinford, George Tannery, Cheryl Thomas, Deborah Vanek, James Wallen, Richard Weaver, Karen Wilson and Patricia Zalud.

The pastor and Mrs. Jones were hosts at a dinner for the communicants Wednesday in the church Fellowship Hall. Following this, the class was examined by the Church Session. Public reception of the class will be held Sunday morning. (A

Cadettes Teach Younger Scouts

Brownie, Junior and Cadette troops from all three Girl Scout neighborhoods in Arlington Heights, south, northeast and northwest, participated in a Wide Day on Saturday, May 7, at Deer Grove.

This was the day when the Cadette troops taught skills to the Juniors and Brownies. Cadette troops teaching Brownies were 131, 150, 167, 255, 294 and 521. They demonstrated first aid, songs, dancing, games, trail signs and knots. Junior troops were shown first aid, tent pitching, dancing and fire building by Cadettes from troops 147, 380, 474, 638 and 639.

REGISTRATION time was 1:30 p.m. and scouts from these Brownie troops appeared: 27, 95, 108, 145, 227, 241, 259, 331, 340, 460, 670, 712 and 893 as well as those from Junior troops 50, 137, 170, 172, 261, 328, 343, 400, 341, 438, 462, 694, 996, 724, 766, 793, 133, 805, 882, 850 899 927, and 940.

At 4 p.m., after a song get-together, the Brownies and Juniors departed after a fun-filled afternoon. Cadettes remained for a scavenger hunt and cook-out. (A

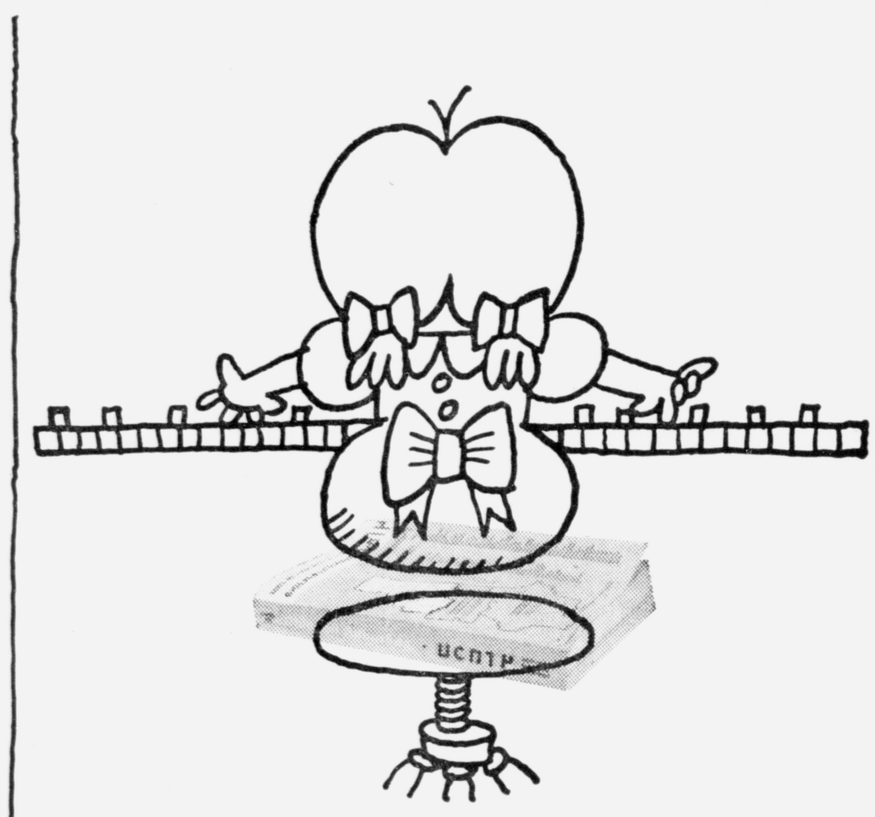
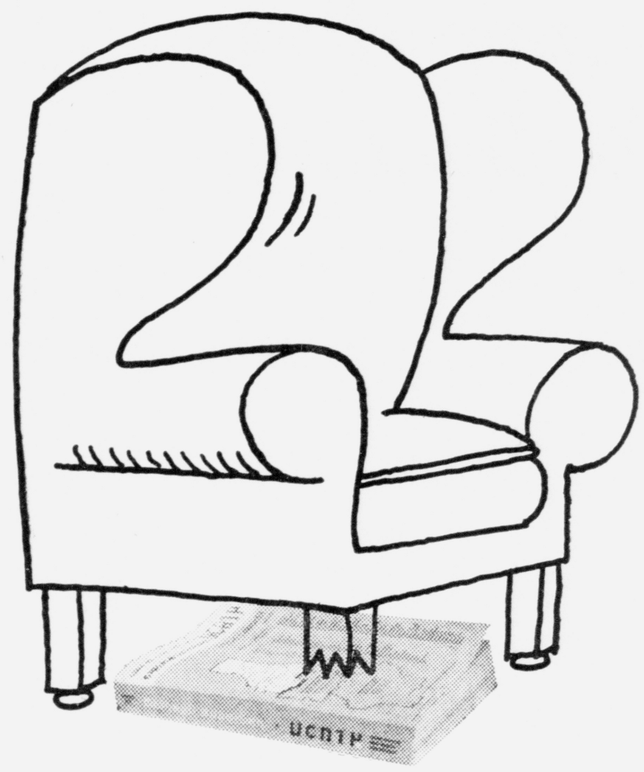
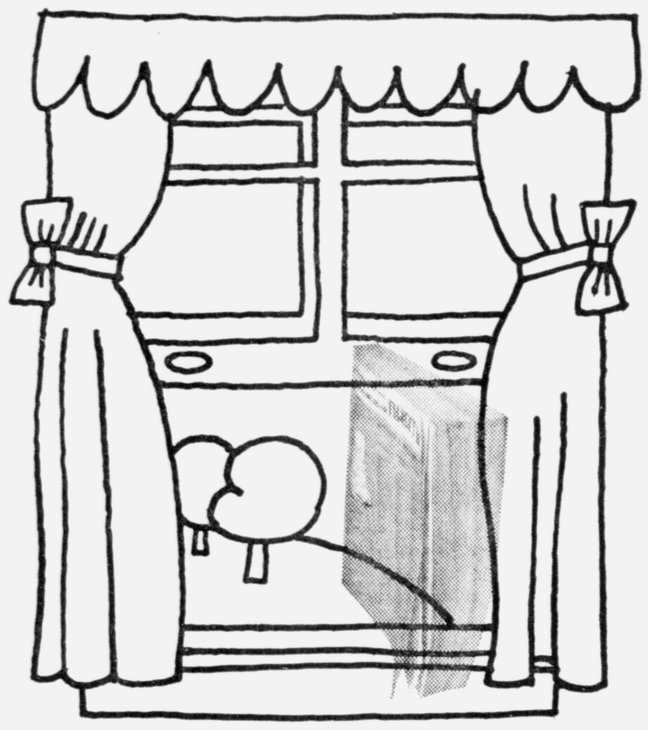
Some people used their phone books to...



1. raise their children...



2. cure a broken leg...



3. air condition a room...

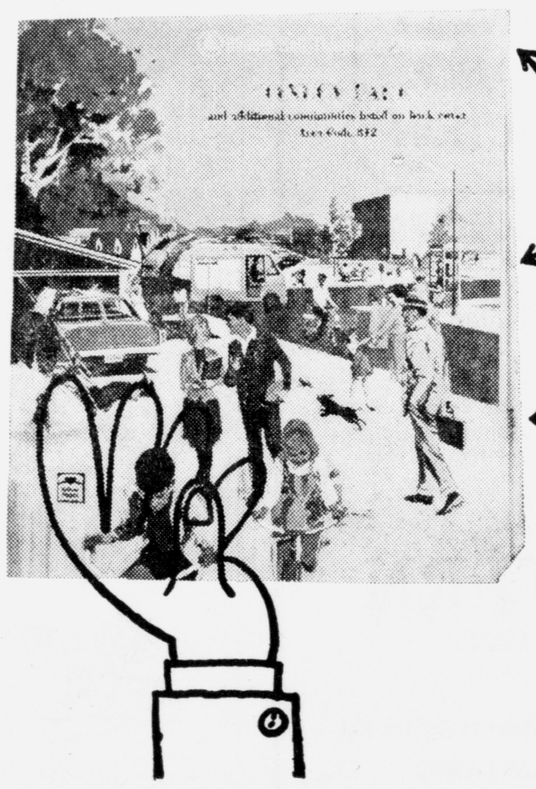
4. amaze their friends...

until we invented the "3 in 1" directory. It's on its way to you now.

Again this year, you're listed twice—in larger type—in your telephone directory. The front pages of your directory are more readable than ever before—packed with useful information to help you get the most from your telephone service.

To help speed your phoning, there's a detachable card in the book. List the numbers you call frequently, and keep the card handy for convenient reference.

If you haven't received your all-new phone book within ten days, please call us at the business office.



A convenient local section in front. You're listed here with just your neighbors. It's easier for you to find numbers for nearby calls.

Local "Yellow Pages" are in the center. Where to find products and services near you. Serves the same area as your new local listings.

Regional over-all listing in the back. You're listed again, along with everyone else living in the larger area around you.

IEA Division Backs Principals in Hassle

Board Says Tenure Law Is Violated

by MARILYN HALLMAN
Staff Writer

Support for two recently reassigned Mount Prospect elementary school principals, Richard Van Dyke and F. Foy Haney, has been pledged by the Northwest Suburban Division of the Illinois Education Association (IEA).

The unanimous action was taken recently by the division's executive board.

"We are taking this step because we believe that for the good of the profession, the teacher tenure law must be defended at all costs," Dr. Donald Thomas, president-elect of the IEA Northwest Suburban Division, told Paddock Publications in discussing the significance of the education association's aggressive action.

"We believe that the District 57 board violated the teacher tenure law when it reassigned the two principals as classroom teachers and gave them salary cuts," Dr. Thomas explained.

HE SAID THAT the IEA division believes that the tenure law was violated in two ways: 1) By that fact that the reassignments included the salary cuts, and 2) The reassignments were made with the intention of obtaining the principals' resignations.

The IEA and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page's office are in disagreement on the first point. The IEA believes the salary cuts to be a violation of the tenure law, while the state superintendent's legal aides have given the opinion that the school board is within its rights in cutting the two men's salaries.

The Mount Prospect court case, thus, would establish an important point of law regarding teacher rights.

The division's support for Van Dyke and Haney includes $400 to help pay an estimated $2,500 in legal costs of their public hearings and subsequent court action. Contributions are being sought from other IEA divisions and local groups in the state to bring the aid fund up to $750.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Donald Thomas, president-elect of the IEA's Northwest Suburban division, this money will go toward Van Dyke's case since Haney has withdrawn his request for a public hearing.

This financial support is in addition to $1,000 pledged by the board of directors of the statewide IEA. The state organization has also promised to pay half the cost of the public hearing transcripts.

In addition, the Northwest Suburban Division's executive board sent a letter to William Krampert, newly-elected president of the District 57 school board, deploring the situation in the school district during the past several years.

"The district appears to be once again more interested in power struggles rather than the education of the children," the letter stated.

"Adequate educational leadership from a top-notch board of education does not result in a situation as now exists in District 57," it continued. "The talents and abilities of school personnel cannot be fully utilized for the benefit of boys and girls in such a climate."

SPECIFICALLY, the local IEA officers recommended that the District 57 school board set up a formal procedure for dealing with grievances, work more closely with the Mount Prospect Education Association (MPEA), and make available to the MPEA all information needed for long range planning.

They also asked the school board to "assure teachers that policies and programs will be arrived at democratically and with fairness to all concerned."

Finally, the division's executive board suggested that the Caucus and Residents Organized for Sound Education (ROSE) form a single group to select school board candidates. The school board, it felt, should help the groups work toward this goal.

"Unhealthy political competition has harmed the district," the IEA letter continued. "Education must be free of political pressures."

In addition to its stand in the District 57 case, the Northwest Suburban Division's officers agreed to set up a $5,000 fund to help support the teacher tenure law and area teachers who are unjustly treated.

MORRIS PUMPHREY, local chairman of the policy and welfare committee, will appoint a sub-committee to work this out. Funds for the $5,000 fund will be sought from area teachers and schools.

Mrs. Marge Olson, past president of the IEA Northwest Suburban Division, said she has sent letters to the other 21 IEA divisions in Illinois, asking them to contribute to the fund to help the two Mount Prospect principals. She also has appeared before the membership of two divisions.

Don Holtzee, division president, is also asking local education associations within the division for contributions.

The Northwest Suburban Division includes the four townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, and Schaumburg.

Recently, the representative assembly of a nearby IEA division, the Lake Shore Division, unanimously authorized its executive committee to investigate and take such action as it deems appropriate to aid the Northwest Suburban Division in its protection of the two principals' rights.

THE MOTION was made by Joseph King, who teaches in Western Springs and lives in Mount Prospect. His four children attend District 57 schools. According to King, about 10,000 teachers belong to the IEA Lake Shore Division.

As yet, the MPEA has not taken a stand in the District 57 situation, according to Bill Beach, president. The MPEA governing board has agreed to wait to hear from the State IEA office before deciding on what aid will be given the principals.

Meanwile, a three-man IEA investigating committee is studying the transcript of Van Dyke's four-session public hearing, noting especially the merits of the board's action. The hearing was completed earlier this month.

When it finishes, the committee will make recommendations to Van Dyke, the District 57 school board, and the IEA state board of directors. Any official IEA action on the state level must be approved by that board.

EARLIER THIS month the committee supported the principals' requests for public hearings. It also recommended financial support for them. These recommendations were okayed by the state officers at their April meeting.

Serving on the committee are David Elder, IEA research director from the Springfield office; Robert Beckwith, an IEA field representative; and Ethan Janove, an elementary school principal in Des Plaines.

That the tenure law has been violated is also the contention of Andrew Leahy, attorney representing Van Dyke and Haney. He maintains that when Supt. Eric Sahlberg asked the principals to resign, he used their possible reassignment as a threat.

The school board holds that its action of Feb. 25, reassigning Van Dyke and Haney, was legal. A letter to the board from Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, agrees with this stand.

SUPPORTING the District 57 principals, stated the Northwest Suburban Division executive board, is by far the most important action the division has taken, Dr. Thomas asserted. "We cannot permit infraction of this basic protection (tenure law), which has given stability to teaching."

Dr. Thomas added that the law protects boards of education, too, by providing an orderly procedure for dismissals.

According to state law, any teacher (or principal) who has served in a district for two consecutive years then is on tenure. This means that he cannot be dismissed unless certain procedures are followed.

Van Dyke has been a principal at Sunset Park School for three years. Haney is completing his third year as principal of Gregory School. Previously, each had many years of teaching and administrative experience in other districts.

Asked about the current situation in District 57, Bill Beach, MPEA president, told Paddock Publications, "The teachers don't particularly like what is going on. They like to work in an atmosphere where there is harmony."

After their reassignment, Van Dyke and Haney sought IEA support on two counts: 1) They were unable to find any specific reasons for their reassignments. 2) They questioned the legality and ethics of the procedure used.

THE superintendent, they told the IEA, made no professional visits to their schools. They also said he had never spelled out any criticisms or suggestions to them orally or in writing prior to his request for their resignations.

During his testimony at Van Dyke's public hearing, Dr. Sahlberg said that he evaluated all eight district principals on criteria they had worked out together at weekly principals' meetings. He felt that if Van Dyke had the leadership qualities he sought, he would not have to be told how he was measuring up. (A15

PALATINE SQUARES

Next-to-last dance night comes up Saturday for the Palatiners, climaxing the 1965-66 season this month. Art Mathews calling the tips and the Jerry-Dot Daniels duo leading the rounds, will get things swingin' at 8:30 Saturday night in Pleasant Hill School, Cedar and Illinois Streets, Palatine. As always, everyone's welcome to get in on the fun.

Season's wind-up will be May 28 with caller Jim Stewart at the mike in Pleasant Hill School. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 20 through 22, will find many Palatine club members in the Conrad Hilton, Chicago, where the second annual Illinois State Convention of square dancers will be offering the finest entertainment and dance opportunities to thousands of enthusiasts.

A-C SQUARE WHEELS

Regularly scheduled dancing for the Deerfield club's third Saturday session has been cancelled so that members may attend the state convention in Chicago without having a conscience about playing hookey from the local secene. Last Saturday's dance was thus the club's season finale, a fitting climax to a fine year of good times with jolly Joe Gipson.

During April A-C Square Wheels honored three classes of beginners who graduated from Gipson-lead courses to become active and accomplished members in area square dancing circles. A fifth Saturday special of the club was its April 30 Knothead trip to Crown Point, Ind. where three busloads of A-Cs earned Knothead badges, Hoosier-style.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Black Cat badges will be "earnable" tomorrow night, Friday the 13th, when the Arlington club meets in Miner Junior High School for its next-to-last dance of the 1965-66 season. According to the club's reporter, a chance to earn a Black Cat badge comes up only about once every two years!

Tomorrow night's "what's new, Pussy Cat" session also affords three area clubs one of their last two chances to retrieve their banners. Still in Arlington Squares custody are the pennants of Bucks and Does, Dudes and Dolls and Glenview Squares . . . y'listenin', B & Ds, D & Ds, and y'all from Glenview? Come and get 'em!

Jim Smith will be at the mike tomorrow night, squarin' 'em up at 8:30, immediately following Jerry and Dot Daniels' round dance workshop at 7:30. Everyone's welcome, 7:30 or 8:30. Miner Junior High is located at 1101 E. Miner St., Arlington Heights.

K. K. (Kissin Kousins) badges were earned by all club members present at the Arlington Squares' members-only box social the last Friday in April. Adding Black Cat badges to their collections is the collective aim tomorrow night.

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

As a small token of their very deep affection for Bob and Rose Kim, bereaved parents of the late Roy Kim, club members will turn over proceeds of Saturday's dance to the Kims. Bob Belson will be at the mike for the benefit dance, squaring up at 8:30 in Schaumburg School. All Kim friends and fans are urged to attend.

Young Kim, a Chicago resident, died April 24 in a boating accident on Lake Michigan.

Bristol Scholarships Are Awarded to 3 Area Seniors

Recipients of the first Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarships were announced Tuesday evening by Larry S. Jenness, principal of Forest View High School and chairman of the scholarship program's executive committee.

Sharing a total of $1,000 in scholarship grants will be:

—Christine Wasik, 1403 Joan Drive, Palatine, senior at Palatine High School who plans to study elementary education at Northern Illinois University;

—Linda J. Meyers, 305 W. Hiawatha, Mount Prospect, senior at Forest View High School who will major in foreign languages at Northwestern University; and —Cheryl Lee Dornquast, 115 N. Main St., Mount Prospect, senior at Prospect High School who will study elementary education at Northern Illinois University.

THE WINNERS were honored at a reception in the community room of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In addition to Jenness, executive committee members present included Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications; Jack Martin, assistant to High School District 214 superintendent; Ray Mills, Palatine High School college counselor; and Guy Anderson of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan representing Don Morton, scholarship program treasurer.

Others attending the awards ceremony included Mrs. Don Thomas, wife of Elk Grove High School principal; Alvin Kulieke, principal of Prospect High School; Tom Shirley, principal of Wheeling High School; Don Schroeder, Wheeling High School college counselor; Lyovonne Trad, Arlington High School director of speech activities; Floyd Hillman, Forest View High School guidance counselor; Stuart R. Paddock, vice president of Paddock Publications; and Dan Baumann, Joan Lorenson, Dan Pribilski, and Larry Cameron of Paddock Publications editorial staff.

A total of 25 students made application for the 1966 Helene Bristol scholarships.

THE SCHOLARSHIPS, established in memory of the late Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications newspapers, were awarded by the governing committee after preliminary screening of applications by the procedures subcommittee.

Associated with the Paddock news staff since 1954, Mrs. Bristol was made education editor of the chain in 1960. Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments.

A $400 balance in the scholarship fund will be held over for the 1967 grants, which will also include $600 in contributions renewable on an annual basis. This includes $400 from the Illinois Education Association Northwest Suburban Division, $100 from the District 214 Teachers Association, and $100 from Paddock Publications.

Donations to the scholarship fund may be made c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarships Program. (A15

Federal Aid Is Topic At Area School Meets

Federal aid, and its implications for local schools, will be the topic at spring meetings next week of the Tri-County Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

University deans will be keynote speakers at next week's three meetings, attended by educators and school board members from throughout the Chicago metropolitan area.

"Local-State-Federal Relations, —Partnership or Competition in Education" will be the topic of the keynote speech, at all three meetings.

ON TUESDAY, May 17, the 5:30 p.m. Tri County Division dinner at Libertyville Community High School will be followed by a speech by Prof. Robert Chandler, dean of the School of Education at Northwestern University.

Dr. Rupert Evans, dean of the School of Education at the University of Illinois, will be the speaker Wednesday at a Tri-County Division meeting at Elmwood Park Community High School.

At the third Tri-County meeting, next Thursday at Reavis High School in Oak Lawn, the speaker will be Dr. Roald F. Campbell, dean of the School of Education at the University of Chicago.

Following will be discussion meetings on federal aid to education, centering on programs available and the best way for local school boards to utilize them.

THE IASB BULLETIN telling of the spring meeting schedule, which started with downstate meetings in March, commented in part that never before has "local control or educational administration been more seriously challenged."

The bulletin said the spring ISASB meetings has been planned to discuss the significance of the new federal laws, notably the National Education Act of 1965 (P.L. 89-10) in bringing about a new or revitalized local-public education. (A15

Piano Students To Give Recital At Lyon-Healy

A piano recital will be presented Sunday by students of Mrs. Suzanne Hynek, Wheeling, who will play at the Lyon-Healy Randhurst store at 2 p.m.

Students performing will be Leslie Delezynski, Janet Preuss, Cheryl Berendt, Bonnie White, Mark Preuss, Janet Smith, Sandra Treece, Paul Ford, Paige McCabe, Kevin Ford, Maria Szymanski and Jeffrey Stevenson.

Mother-Daughter Banquet at Church

"Christ, the Heart of the Home" will be the theme of the annual mother and daughter banquet of Lutheran Church of the Cross, to be held at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the church, 2025 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights.

Developing the theme will be guest speaker, Mrs. Lorraine Johanson of Geneva, Ill.

Mrs. Harold Hansen, Arlington Heights, will be toastmistress for the evening.

THE PROGRAM will include musical selections provided by the Harmonettes, Arlington High School choral group, and a presentation of awards to various mothers. A special award will go to Kaarina Hacklin, foreign exchange student from Finland presently enrolled at Prospect High School.

Leading the group in a songfest will be Mrs. Carl Baardsen and daughters of Mount Prospect. Mrs. William Teske, Lake Briarwood, will accompany.

Men of the church will serve the mothers, daughters and guests. (B10

Five Slated By Party

The Better Government Association of Chicago recently endorsed five GOP candidates for "country towns" commissioners on the Cook County Board.

The organization recommended Richard B. Ogilvie, Charles F. Chaplin, William N. Erickson, Floyd T. Fulle and Charles Grupp Jr., the five party-endorsed candidates.

Gerald Dolezal, Cicero, is also running for the board. He is an incumbent commissioner, and was not slated by the party.

PARTISANS IN HIS area are attempting to stage an upset by acquiring enough votes to nominate him for the position.

It is conceivable that Ogilvie, now sheriff and a candidate for county board president, could be nominated to the latter post and not to a county commissioner position.

This would mean that if he won the November election for board president, he would not be able to take office. A county board president must also be a commissioner.

There is no contest for the nominations in the Democratic party. (B10

Regner Gets Maine Twp. Endorsement

David J. Regner, candidate for Republican nomination to the Illinois House of Representatives from the 3rd House District, this week received the endorsement of the Regular Republican Organization of Maine Township.

This newly apportioned district encompasses all of Elk Grove, Wheeling, Palatine, Barrington, Hanover and Schaumburg Townships and portions of Maine and Northfield.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was made simultaneously by Regner and Floyd Fulle, Republican Committeeman of Maine Township.

Regner had previously received the unanimous endorsement of the Regular Republican Township and was the only candidate endorsed by the Northfield Republican group.

Tour to Scotland To Leave June 9

For all whose hearts are still in the Highlands, a Royal Scottish Heritage Tour will leave O'Hare - International June 9, destination Edinburgh.

That is the first stop in a 21-day tour which will include 13 days among the lochs, moors and colorful cities of Scotland, and eight days' sightseeing in England.

Highlights of the trip through Scotland will be visits to Braemar and Balmoral Castle; highland games, the world gathering of clans and international piping contest in Inverness; a visit to the Isle of Skye in the Hebrides; and a trip by steamer up the Firth of Clyde. In England five days will be spent in London with a side trip to Canterbury and a boat ride on the Thames.

A DAY AND night in Stratford on Avon will include attendance at a Shakespearean play. The return to Scotland is routed through England's Lake District on the northwest coast.

The tour will be conducted by Richard C. Eaton, 420 We-Go Trail, Mount Prospect, the midwest sales manager for Holiday magazine. He will be accompanied by his wife and 15-year-old son, Jim.

Scottish and English by ancestry, Eaton has been a student of Scottish music and history for a number of years. He is a member of the board of governors of the Illinois Saint Andrew Society and a piper in the Chicago Highlanders Pipe Band.

A LIMITED number of openings are still available for the tour, which already includes people of all ages and from many states, according to Eaton. Total cost for the three-week vacation, except for some luncheons and dinners, is $783 per person. Anyone wishing to make reservations or obtain further information may call Eaton at home, CL 3-9546; or at his office, CE 6-7362.

"Those interested are encouraged to register for the trip prior to the end of this month," Eaton stated. He noted that already air lines and hotels are reporting no accommodations available for June, the height of the British vacation season.

Demonstration Is Program for Elmhurst Guild

Albert Alfredson, prominent Chicago artist, will give a demonstration in oil entitled "Covered Bridge" at the last meeting of Elmhurst Artists Guild this season Thursday, May 19.

Alfredson studied at the Art Institute of Chicago and Academy of Fine Arts, besides taking studio lessons in portrait and figure painting. His main interest is in genre and documentary painting in a representational way rather than abstract. Oil is his principle medium, and he has won many prizes throughout the years.

Alfredson is a member of the Palette and Chisel Club, All Illinois League, North West Art League and others.

Non-members are welcome at the demonstration which starts at 8 p.m. in the Elmhurst Youth Center. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Blanche Kelley and Mrs. Janice Sturm.

Humane Society Seeking Members

The newly-formed North Central Illinois Humane Society has issued an urgent appeal for memberships and donations to enable it to purchase land, hire personnel and build and maintain a shelter. The purpose of the Society is to place lost or unwanted pets, limit breeding, and control mistreatment of animals.

MEMBERSHIPS are available in the following categories: a lifetime membership is $100; a yearly supporting membership, $15; first in family yearly membership, $3; second in family, $2; and junior (under 18) non-voting membership, $1. Donations in any amount will be welcomed.

Membership is open to all residents of the area, as is a general meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 at Besinger Community Center, 2 Pine St., Carpentersville.

For membership application cards or further information write Mrs. E. L. Daniels, 831 Schiller St., Elgin. (A15

Schultz To Address Welfare Council

Assistant Principal H. Louis Schultz of Prospect High School, member of the Mount Prospect Youth Commission, will address the Northwest Suburban Welfare Council during a noon luncheon-meeting today (Thursday) at Northwest Suburban YMCA.

Schultz, a veteran in the field of education for 19 years, received his B.A. degree from Eastern Illinois University and his M.A. from the University of Illinois.

HIS TALK will center around the Mount Prospect Youth Commission—its organizatio n, history, objectives, and place in the community. The general public is welcome.

Schultz is a resident of Mount Prospect; he came to High School District 214 nine years ago from Calumet City, where he served eight years as dean of boys. His present duties as assistant principal include direction of administrative services, as well as attendance and discipline. (B10

Youth Hostels to Hold Open House

American Youth Hostels (AYH), 2210 N. Clark St., Chicago, is having open house Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5, at the Des Plaines hostel, Methodist Camp Ground, located on Algonquin Road just east of the Des Plaines River. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Two daytime programs have been arranged to include each AYH activity: cycling, hiking, canoeing, sailing, skiing and foreign travel. Programs will be conducted rain or shine.

Special feature Saturday will be the 6 o'clock dinner, followed by singing, folk dancing and movies at 7:30. Sunday there will be a cook-out supper and Paddlers' Pow Wow following a trip on the Des Plaines river by a flotilla of canoes.

NO RESERVATIONS are necessary for the activities, but advance notice is required for the dinner and cook-out supper, which are $1.50 each. Write Ruth A. Danielson, 3923 N. Frontier Ave., Chicago 60613.

AYH is a non-profit, nonsectarian, non-political corporation organized to help young people gain a greater understanding of the world and its people through outdoor activities and travel; to develop fit, self-reliant, well-informed citizens; and to provide youth hostels — simple overnight accommodations in scenic, historic and cultural areas — with supervising houseparents and local sponsorship.

It is a service organization supported by voluntary contributions, memberships and program fees. (B10

College Architects To Report Tonight

Architects for William Rainey Harper College are back on the campus site this week to draw up plans for phase one of the proposed $29.5 million college.

The architects, representing the firm Caudill, Rowlett and Scott of Houston, Tex., will report to the junior college board tonight (Thursday) on their plans. The campus designers two weeks ago outlined what they called a "rough design" of the master campus plan.

THE FIRST PHASE of campus development, according to architects' estimates, will cost about $18,888,000. However, the inadequacy of state funds available — about $20,500,000 for six colleges — means the first phase will have to be divided into construction stages.

Dr. Robert P. Lahti, junior college president, said this week that architects would map out the entire first phase. The board will later decide what portions of phase one can be constructed with available funds from the state and local tax levies.

The college is eligible for state funds amounting to 75 per cent of the total amount needed to construct the campus. However, District 512 voters must first approve a $7,375,000 bond issue as their share of the overall cost.

JUST WHAT portions of phase one will be proposed for construction first is not known. It is known, however, that the entire first phase would include classroom and office complexes, a public auditorium, vocational-technical space and physical plant facilities.

Following the last planning session, architects recommended the district purchase an additional 25 to 30 acres adjacent to the current 171-acre site on the northeast corner of Roselle and Algonquin Roads. College officials and board members said they would consider the recommendation, but as yet have made no public announcement to their decision.

Currently, the college has an option to buy only 81 of the 171 acres. The remaining 90 acres, owned by George Jayne, have been the object of much price bargaining for the past month. There has been no indication whether the district will begin condemnation proceedings.

AFTER THE FIRST proposed building stage has been designated, architects will begin actual construction design of individual structures.

College officials and board members have been meeting most of the week with architects to discuss the over-all construction program. (B10

Ogilvie to Visit Palatine Tomorrow

Cook County Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie will be the featured guest at the formal opening tomorrow (Friday) of the new Palatine Township Republican headquarters at 135 Johnson St., Palatine.

The headquarters will also serve as the command post for the campaign of Robert L. Hesse for state representative.

The public, and especially all Republicans in the new 3rd District, are invited to the opening ceremonies beginning at 8 p.m.

In announcing plans for Ogilvie's visit, Hesse said, "It will be an honor and a personal pleasure to have my former law partner talk with Republicans in the area. I know he will have some comments about the forthcoming election."

Ogilvie was a law partner in the firm of Hackbert, Rooks, Pitts, Fullager and Poust before being elected Republican sheriff. Hesse is a partner in that firm.

SHERIFF OGILVIE is now engaged in a campaign for president of the Cook County board. The Democratic Party currently controls a majority of the County Board and elects the president.

Republican leaders believe Ogilvie has the head start for election as county president, since the incumbent, Seymour Simon, is not seeking re-election.

Hesse is in a five-man race for state representative. Two candidates will be selected by Republicans in the June 14 primary. Hesse has been gaining considerable support in the western half of the new 3rd District.

He has been endorsed by the Republican organizations in Hanover, Schaumburg and Palatine townships.

Hesse said, "I am confident of support throughout the district in which I have lived all my life. I expect further party endorsements as soon as other townships meet for that purpose."

Hesse has served as attorney for the Wheeling Township Republican Party, and his campaign aides believe that many members of the Republican organization in Wheeling Township support him. (B10

Edison Park Home Open House Sunday

Edison Park Home, 1800 Canfield Road, Park Ridge, will hold open house Sunday from 2 to 5:30 p.m. for the general public. Refreshments will be served and the Home staff will be on hand to answer questions about the program and activities.

The Rev. Quentin Goodrich, superintendent of the Home since September, invites inspection of the completely renovated girls' unit, a new garage-workshop, Uthus Hall, where twenty teenage boys live, and the Moe-Seaver building containing the gymnasium, chapel, campus school and administrative offices.

EDISON PARK Home is the only residential treatment center for emotionally disturbed teenagers in the Chicago area exclusively serving the middle and older adolescent who needs help, Goodrich said. "There is a tremendous shortage for this kind of service," he added. "With the additions we will be able to better serve the Chicago area with more efficient use of staff."

Average stay in the Home is about two years. Children remain until some resolution of their emotional difficulties is reached or they become too old to stay in this kind of facility.

Edison Park Home, formerly known as Norwegian Lutheran Children's Home, was established in 1896. About 1960 the program was revised to move from a custodial kind of care to treatemnt of disturbed adolescents. (B10

Square Dance For Social Club

A square dance will enliven the May 19 meeting of the Parted Mates Social Club, to be held in the Life Savings & Loan Assn. club room at Winston Park Plaza on North Avenue in Melrose Park at 8 p.m. Art and Doris Horton will be the callers.

Parted Mates Social Club was organized to help people readjust to single status, and membership is open to widows, widowers, divorced and legally separated persons. The club meets the third Thursday of each month and includes in its activities bowling, dinners, and tours. Guests are welcome.

A trip to the Museum of Science and Industry this Sunday has been planned by the children's activity chairman. Further information may be obtained by calling 352-2264 or FI 4-1795. (B10

Music Teachers Meet Tuesday

The Northwest Suburban Music Teachers Assn. will meet at 9:30 a.m. May 17, at the Lyon-Healy store in Randhurst. A surprise program is planned.

A joint teacher recital is scheduled for Sunday, June 5, in the Little Theatre of Arlington Heights High School, 502 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

All music teachers are invited to attend these events.

Hesse Asks Review Of All Zoning Laws

"The State of Illinois has been virtually immobilized for the past several years by lack of executive leadership," charged Robert L. Hesse, of Palatine, a Republican candidate for state representative from the third district.

In listing current legislative needs for the state, Hesse said, "Illinois voters cannot select a new governor until 1968. We can, however, this year elect strong, competent representatives to the legislature to remedy this lack of direction and leadership."

SPECIFIC AREAS in which there is need for state action were named by Hesse.

He said, "Our suburban areas, such as the Third District, face continued growing pains. These growing pains need not disable us if we have provided our area with adequate planning and zoning tools."

Hesse recommended establishment of a special commission for the sole purpose of reviewing present state zoning laws. "Just plugging gaps in the existing laws every two years that the legislature meets is no solution to the problem," Hesse said.

He wants the special commission to investigate the impact of present zoning in metropolitan areas and to prepare a new comprehensive zoning code for presentation to the legislature.

"Another problem which became apparent to me during my term as trustee of the village of Palatine," Hesse continued, "is the failure of our state to encourage municipalities in the same area to coordinate their planning and zoning."

"THE PUBLIC has a vital interest in proper use and orderly development of land. Determination of what is good use of the land should not turn on whether the land happens to be annexed to one municipality rather than another one located just across the street."

Hesse said, "A further subject of pressing need in Illinois is an over-all program for the development and improvement of streams and creeks under state jurisdiction."

He said "In our suburban district, the state controls an estimated 40 miles of waterways. Many of these presently cause flooding. Some are being converted into open sewers."

Hesse charged that the present system for waterway development in Illinois "amounts to little more than pork-barrel legislation. What we need is a master plan which pinpoints needs, assigns priorities, and ties together the various improvement projects throughout the state."

HESSE CONCLUDED his list of present legislative needs by calling for revision of state election laws.

"Our present election machinery is cumbersome and expensive. It is more geared to paying poll workers than using the products of modern technology.

"With reform of the election machinery should also come extension of voting hours. Our present laws serve to disenfranchise many suburban voters, the majority of whom are Republican." (B-10

2 Appointments on Jr. College Agenda

Recommendations for the appointment of a data processing and systems specialist and for the establishment of another administrative position will come before the William Rainey Harper College board tonight (Thursday).

Dr. Robert P. Lahti, junior college president, has been interviewing applicants for the data processing position since it was established more than a month ago. Lahti indicated he had some trouble finding a qualified person to fill the position, but expressed confidence in the abilities of the applicant he will recommend to the board. He did not identify the applicant.

The board will also vote on the establishment of the administrative position of registrar. Lahti said college officials will try to recommend an applicant for registrar by mid-July.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board will establish a public hearing date for review of the 1966-67 budget. Lahti said earlier this week he will recommend the hearing be held July 14.

He explained that the budget had not yet been drawn up, but added that it was necessary to set up the hearing date within two weeks after the beginning of the fiscal year July 1.

The board also will approve a treasurer's salary for last year. Lahti said the fees are figured after the year of service because the salary can be figured on the basis of time and performance given by the treasurer. (B10

Costly Chore

Painting windows is not only tedious, it's costly. Industry sources estimate that it can cost as much as $2.50 per window, every year. With 15 windows in the average house, that totals over $35 a year and helps explain the recent rise in popularity of aluminum frames, which don't need painting.

Overseas Jobs Are Available

U. S. Department of State recruiting officers will be in Chicago from May 16 through June 3, looking for qualified young people for positions in American embassies and consulates in some 300 cities abroad, and also for candidates for positions in the "home" office in Washington, D.C.

Experienced secretaries and communications clerks with recent experience in cryptography or teletype are needed for foreign service. They must be single, and at least 21 years of age. Washington positions are open for typists and stenographers who are at least 18. All applicants must be American citizens, high school graduates, and able to pass qualifying tests.

Interviews will be conducted at the Illinois State Employment Service, 40 W. Adams, Chicago. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 346-3960. (A15

Date Processing Equipment Used for Teaching, Grades

Electronic data processing equipment, its leasing partly financed with the aid by state funds, is being used in High School District 214 for everything from teaching teachers to making grade lists.

Those two functions were among a couple dozen cited by five high school district staff members at Monday's board meeting in a report on the data processing program in the district.

Rental of the IBM equipment costs the district $5,200 a month.

State reimbursement of the cost may run as high as two-thirds, the "current figure" given W. L. (Pat) Randle, director of adult education, by the state department of public instruction. As low as 12/21st reimbursement had been quoted by the department earlier.

IT IS BECAUSE the IBM machines are needed for an adult training program course in computer programming that the high school district can receive the reimbursement.

Randle said candidly at Monday's board meeting that the adult course is being less enthusiastically received than are other uses of the data processing equipment. Of 25 students enrolled last fall, only 10 now are attending classes.

Randle added that High School District 214 is not the only school system to have difficulty in holding adult students' interest in computer courses. He said Maine Township's adult school has also had a high attrition rate, as has Morton Junior College in Cicero.

The District 214 night school course, set up to meet state department of public instruction criteria, is planned to run three years and with three nights a week of work. Included is extensive work in mathematics, requiring an eventual understanding of such concepts as Boolean algebra and binary numbers. Work on the computers will not begin until next year.

THIS DOESN'T mean that the computer room sits idle. Dozens of business and education-related functions were cited by William Reid, director of data processing; H. Louis Schultz, Prospect High assistant principal for administrative services; John Rowe, Arlington High assistant principal for instructional services, and Larry Scranton, assistant to Director of Business Services Frank Coleman.

Reid said that at the present time District 214 has the computer itself in use 80 to 85 per cent of the normal working day. At report card time, when the machines are used to tabulate and register grades, they run continuously.

Many student accounting functions, ranging from class lists to attendance records, are handled through the business machines.

A total conversion of employe payroll records to the automatic machines has been completed. Use of the machines in handling purchasing records is being planned, but Scranton commented that this is going more slowly than the district had hoped.

HE SAID THE equipment manufacturer's suggested systems and materials have not proved as satisfactory as the school system would have liked. Instead, district-originated systems will have to be developed.

Scranton predicted that eventual switch to a "full-blown disk system" of a recording purchases will make it possible for the business office to do a better job in purchasing.

Though the school's present equipment, a "1440," has an 8,000 unit storage capacity, this is still too limiting, Reid said, for research use.

He added that the school district soon will hope to replace the "1440" with a "1401" series machine, with a larger memory bank but less expensive to lease.

The lower cost is possible because of a larger manufacturer discount offered schools on these machines, which in industry have already been superseded by even more sophisticated computers. (ACME

INSPECTION TIME for the High School District 214 data processing center was Monday. Board members toured the computer room and then heard five staff members, led by Director of Data Processing William Reid, explain ways the school uses automated machinery to speed up its reporting or provide complicated analyses that would take too long to work out manually. Here Reid explains use of the computer printer to Board Pres. Hal Armstrong of Mount Prospect. (Staff photo)

Promote 3 To Police Sergeants

Three Arlington Heights patrolmen will be promoted to the rank of sergeant, Police Chief L. W. Calderwood announced Wednesday.

They are Philip M. Oszewski, George Ekblad and LeRoy J. Weith. The three were chosen for the promotions after competing with 23 fellow-officers on a battery of tests administered in the past few weeks.

Their appointments become effective May 22. Calderwood said two other promotions would be made this week. Two sergeants will be elevated to the rank of lieutenant. (A Theft of a 1966 Volkswagen was reported to Arlington Heights police Monday by Carl Hart, 1216 W. Northwest Highway.

Hart told police the car was stolen from the driveway of his home sometime Saturday night. (A

Gappert Appointed To Peace Corps Post

Gary Gappert has been appointed assistant director of Peace Corps training at Syracuse University.

Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. William Gappert, 620 E. Lincoln Road, Arlington Heights, has been a graduate student at Syracuse University since 1965 and has been serving as administrative assistant in the Peace Corps training program there. Before that time Gappert spent three years in East Africa as a member of the Teachers for East Africa program. He taught chemistry in a secondary school in Tabora, Tanganyika.

He received his new appointment under a new $1 million contract recently awarded Syracuse to train Peace Corps volunteers for service in Somalia, Tanzania, Bechunaland and Malawi. Syracuse has been training Peace Corps volunteers since 1962.

"WITH THE recent unfortunate events in West Africa," Gappert stated, "Eastern Africa looms large as an area of stability and progress, but with the same difficulties facing all developing nations. Because of this the Peace Corps attaches highest priority to assistance given these countries."

Gappert is also continuing his studies in the Ph.D. program of the economics department of the Maxwell School of Syracuse University. (A

Funds Depleted, School Construction Put Off

District 25's $2.5 million building program was given solemn burial at Monday's school board meeting. Ralph E. Clabaugh, superintendent of the Arlington Heights elementary district, told board members the funds authorized by voters will be exhausted short of their goal.

Two planned projects, a classroom addition at Dryden School and a maintenance shop at Miner Junior High, will have to be financed in the next referendum —probably early next year. The recently approved addition to South Junior High, far above estimates when the referendum was passed last year, apparently will eat up all remaining construction funds.

Clabaugh told the board a $50,000 contingency fund will "look pretty feeble" in view of increased costs of equipping the South addition, but he expects the district to "come out."

NORVAL B. Stephens, a resident of the Scarsdale subdivision which is served by Dryden, noted that two fifth grade classes there are to be bused to Westgate School next year because of overcrowding. He said the adjoining Park Manor subdivision will begin to develop in the near future and could add another class to the Dryden load by fall.

A member of the library board and village plan commission, Stephens said Park Manor when developed will add about 115 children to Dryden. He asked how the Dryden addition will be affected by the shortage of construction funds.

Clabaugh said putting the Dryden addition in the next referendum would not necessarily delay construction because architectural plans could be completed before the referendum is held.

With an eye on library building bonds which will be issued this spring, Stephens asked whether deleting Dryden and Miner work from the current program might affect other village taxing bodies' position with bonding firms. He was told the school district's attorney had termed the change legal.

Police Chase, Ram Speeder Off Highway

Policemen from five villages were involved in a wild chase along Northwest Highway after a lone motorist Saturday night.

The chase started in Des Plaines and before it was over, the motorist — identified as George D. Hasselman, 25, 350 E. Touhy, Des Plaines — sideswiped another motorist, ran two police blockades, terrorized motorists by driving in the opposing lane of traffic, had his tires shot at and struck a squad car.

He was finally halted when a Des Plaines squad car deliberately rammed his auto as he was entering Palatine.

HASSELMAN was issued a total of 27 tickets from four villages and is being held on bonds totaling $12,500. Here is the police account:

The incident began when Des Plaines police were told that Haasselman had created a disturbance in several drug stores. After witnesses gave them a description of Hasselman's car, they spotted it heading west in the eastbound lanes on Northwest Highway near Mount Prospect.

Mount Prospect Patrolman James Bock stopped Hasselman at Northwest Highway and Central Road after seeing him go through a red light and drive on the wrong side of the raod. When Bock got out of his car to talk to Hasselman, he sped off, again heading west in eastbound lanes.

AT NORTHWEST Highway and Chatham Place in Arlington Heights, Hasselman sideswiped a car driven by Virginia A. Lasswell, 732 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

In the meantime, pursuing Des Plaines and Mount Prospect squads radioed ahead to Arlington Heights police for assistance.

At Northwest Highway and Kensington Street, four Arlington Heights squad cars formed a roadblock with their red lights flashing. But Hasselman drove through a gap between the cars and continued west in the eastbound lanes, forcing oncoming cars off the road.

Another roadblock was set up at Northwest Highway and Wilke Road by two Arlington Heights and one Rolling Meadows squads and pursuing police radioed ahead that they intended to shoot out the tires of Hasselman's car.

AT WILKE, Hasselman tried to avoid the roadblock but struck the rear of an Arlington Heights squad car and officers shot his right front tire. But that did not stop him.

Hasselman was finally halted in front of the Zayre store at 1300 E. Northwest Highway, Palatine, when a Des Plaines squad car driven by Officer Frank Wilson deliberately rammed the right side of his car and forced it over to the curb.

Hasselman was turned over to Des Plaines police and on Sunday transferred to Forest Hospital in Des Plaines where he is being held.

Among the 27 violations Hasselman is charged with are leaving the scene of an accident, running a red light, speeding, improper lane usage, reckless driving, resisting arrest, disobedience to a police officer and damage to village property.

His court date has been set for June 8 in the Arlington Heights branch of the Circuit Court. (A

Architect Fears More Stoppages

The strike of heavy machinery operators, members of the operating engineers union, has delayed work on both Elk Grove High School and the Prospect High School foyer addition.

And the operating engineers strike is likely to be followed by a chain reaction of similar labor stoppages, High School District 214 board was told Monday by Wayne Fritch of architects Berger Kelley Unteed and Associates.

Teamsters hauling concrete mix are working without a contract now, the architectural firm's representative pointed out. He said the general consensus is that they will strike as soon as the bulldozer operators settle.

ONLY DELAY IN the Elk Grove High School project because of the operating engineers strike is in the cleanup of rubble around the building, Fritch said.

But no work can be started at all on the Prospect High foyer, or on a machinery storage building to be erected at the same high school site, until the heavy machinery people go back to work, the board was told.

Just when that will be is "anyone's guess," Fritch commented.

The first two sections of Elk Grove High School are ready to be moved into and work is "coming along" on the rest of the building, Fritch told the board.

He said air conditioning in the administrative wing had not yet been tested. "We can try it out if it ever gets warm again," he added wryly.

THE BOARD HAS drawings out now to contractors interested in Arlington High School's life safety code remodeling. Bids will be opened May 18 and will be brought to the board for action as soon as they have been properly analyzed, Fritch said.

An August date is being aimed at for bid-taking on the sixth District 214 high school, to be located on Willow Road just east of Rand Road in a newly-annexed section of Arlington Heights. (ACME

Hospital Insurance Coverage Is Tabled

Action on medical and hospital insurance coverage for Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 employes was tabled by the school board Monday after one board member disagreed with a school admininstration's recommendation.

The administration had recommended Blue Cross - Blue Shield coverage.

Board member Theodore Seiler said he felt the district could obtain more liberal benefits for its employes at the same or lower cost to the district through the Firemen's Fund.

THIS YEAR, for the first time, the district will pay the premium for all employes; the employes may add family coverage at their own expense. Formerly, they paid the entire premium.

Blue Cross - Blue Shield and Firemen's Fund were the two low bidders among seven firms which had submitted proposals to District 25. Seiler said he was familiar with group insurance coverage because his firm sold group coverage for other-than-medical and health policies. He raised a series of questions about the Blue Cross coverage, and board members asked Bus. Mgr. Peter Bakas to obtain the answers before it acts. (A

District 25 Board Hires 44 Teachers

Hiring of 44 new teachers for the fall term was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 board.

The list of new teachers, of whom 34 are beginners and 30 have from one to seven years' experience, was recommended by the school administration. Assistant Supt. Robert Campbell said that including the 44 hired Monday the district had employed 64 new teachers for fall.

With 43 resignations to date and 51 new teaching positions, there are 94 spots to fill. Campbell said hiring this year was satisfactory except for the "chronic shortage" of specialists: librarians, social workers, psychologists and teachers of the perceptually handicapped and educable mentally handicapped. Heavy Voter Signup, Clerk Hard-Pressed

Some missing voter registration cards caused temporary trouble in the Arlington Heights village's clerk's office last week.

When Carl Gehrke, investigator in the office of County Clerk Edward Barrett, stopped in Wednesday to make a count of new registration cards he was told that some were not at that time on the premises.

The cards, it turned out, were at the home of the village clerk, Mrs. Jeanne Novotny of 201 N. Yale Ave.

Gehrke, a resident of 204 S. Arlington Heights Road, asked that they be returned immediately to the office and Mrs. Novotny brought them in.

Tallied, the cards totaled 75. Their total, added to the others in the office, brought the new registrations to a record high —for such a two-day drive — of 671 new voters, not counting transfers or changes in addresses.

GEHRKE SAID that the in-the-office counts were made this year in the villages for the first time, to provide a check with registration cards turned in eventually to the county clerk's office.

Asked if he thought it was improper for the village clerk to remove registration cards from the village hall, Gehrke said that while this might be a bad practice, its legality — or illegality — could only be determined by referring to the election code. The election code shows no infraction.

Mr. Novotny said that she had taken the cards home only to "work on them in a quieter place."

The village hall office of the clerk, she explained, was swamped that day with the work of completing the registration paper work so cards could be turned in to the downtown clerk's office.

"Besides, I thought it would be all right to take them home as long as the cards were in the clerk's possession," Mrs. Novotny added.

THOUGH THE election regulations specify that records of new registrations be turned in to the county clerk's office within 24 hours after in-village registration, officials in growing suburban areas were hard put to meet that deadline. Arlington Heights' new registrations records were not turned in downtown until Friday.

To process the record registrations, Mrs. Novotny asked help of local League of Women Voter members. Working Thursday at village hall was a league delegation that included Mrs. W. F. Marier, voter service chairman; Mrs. W. J. Navik, Mrs. Joseph Laurinec, Mrs. Dwight Walton and Mrs. Roger C. Persons. (A

Registration Starts for Park Activities

The Arlington Heights Park District offers a recreation-packed summer this year with programs providing everything from a dip in the pool to knitting.

A summer activities schedule was released this week. Aquatic activities, of course, take up much of the program. Season family passes for pool privileges go on sale Monday for $25.

Special swimming programs, such as lessons, water safety, water ballet and competitive diving, are offered to residents for $2 to $3.

FOR THOSE who like to keep their feet on dry land part of the summer, there is an extensive sports program, offering baseball, tennis, tumbling and trampoline, golf and even baton twirling.

The less athletic minded may want to register for dramatics, bridge lessons, guitar instruction, concerts, ceramics or knitting lessons. Costs of these and similar programs range from $3 to $5.

A $25 activities pass entitles a family to take advantage of portions of the entire program.

Registration for the summer program will be at Recreation and Pioneer Parks beginning Monday. A photo identification card will be issued for admittance to swimming pools. An entire family need not be present when passes are purchased. Any member of a family having proof of residence may be sold passes. (A

ROLLING MEADOWS

A train trip to Chicago to see the movie "The Trouble with Angels" and a visit to the Art Institute were highlights of a day for Cadettes of Troop 42. Troop leader Mrs. William Roberts and her co-leader Mrs. Frank Bohac were joined by Nancy Bohac.

Troop 141 spent an overnight at Camp Pine April 22. Mrs. Harold Kees, Mrs. Charles Newman and troop leader Mrs. Elmer Tucker led the scouts in indoor badge work because of the heavy rain.

A rainstorm during the night didn't dampen the spirits of Brownie Troop 371 for their April 23 outing at Deer Grove. Leader Mrs. William Bull and her assistants Mrs. William Nothdorft and Mrs. August Draeger kept their troop busy cooking witches brew and hot dogs. Mothers who had chauffered the Brownies led the non-cooks on a hike.

Scouts in Troop 754, headed by Mrs. Robert Carl and assisted by Mrs. George Schwatz, made images of people out of hard boiled eggs for an Easter treat for the sick children in hospitals. Pat Carlstrom is the scribe reporting her troop's news.

Troop 371 headed by Mrs. William Bull also made Easter baskets for the children at Clearbrook School in Rolling Meadows.

A recognition luncheon was instigated by Mrs. Ted Werling, neighborhood chairman, to say thank you to all the leaders and co-leaders who have done so well in supporting the scouting program in Rolling Meadows. After the luncheon on numerous salads, which were prepared and donated by the committee mothers, troop organizers Evey Turcott and Rose Miller entertained the 60 leaders with an original humorous skit on "The Scout Leaders Diary." Other troop organizers Marty Roberts, Pat Hagenmeier and Carol Kalinowski along with service team Mrs. Leo Larson, Mrs. Vic Schrock and Mrs. Harold Kees were responsible for the enjoyable afternoon which included sitting service and was held in the Dr. Young Fellowship Hall in the Community Church.

ELK GROVE

The girls of Junior Troop 539 have a busy May ahead of them. They planned an overnight camping trip May 6 at Camp Pine. A week later they will participate in the Girl Scout Rally at the Market Place in Des Plaines.

Later in May Cadette Troop 299 will have a bridging ceremony for nine girls from Troop 539 who will become Cadettes. Highlights of the program during the past year included a cookout, several swimming and bowling outings and a Valentine dinner given for the fathers which included a presentation of the Girl Scout Ideals and activities.

Several girls from Troop 539 are planning to attend day camp at Camp Pine and Camp Norwesco in Wisconsin this summer.

Troop 377 enjoyed activities this year which included roller skating at the YMCA in Park Ridge. Junior Troops 362 and 773 went along for the fun evening stopping afterwards for hamburgers.

In January these three troops went swimming together at the YMCA. Troop 377 joined other Cadette Scouts from Arlington Heights and Elk Grove for a winter weekend of tobogganing and ice skating at Camp MacLean in Wisconsin.

Some of the girls from Troop 377 have been teaching Troop 112 songs and games at Einstein Elementary School.

Girls who are interested in scouting and joining in these activities should contact the leaders at their schools.

NORTH PALATINE

Junior Troop 501 has been busy with many projects the last few months. March found them bundling announcements to remind adults to vote for the library referendum.

On Girl Scout Sunday, after attending the church services of their choice, they gave a mother-daughter brunch at the home of their leader, Mrs. Donald Sargol. The brunch theme was international friendship and dolls from foreign countries were used as decorations.

Later the scouts and their fathers danced at the father-daughter square dance.

April 15 they went on a weekend camping trip to Camp Pine.

Presently the girls are making costumes and learning a dance done in Holland to present at the World Friendship Wide Game. The Wide Game, sponsored by Olde Towne Neighborhood, was held May 1 at Deer Grove.

Junior Troop 753, led by Mrs. Robert Lorden and Mrs. Raymond Burke, joined Junior Troop 501 on a bus trip to Goodman Theater to see Peter Pan April 2.

MOUNT PROSPECT

April 26 Cadette Troop 212 and leaders Mrs. Eugene Gallup and Mrs. Robert Scheman welcomed approximately 20 mothers to their meeting. A skit was presented to the guests and a brief description of the meaning of Cadette Girl Scouting was given. About 40 Cadettes participated in a candlelight service and rededication ceremony. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

At a recent ceremony Cadette Troop 212 welcomed into their troop 18 sixth grade girls and 10 seventh grade girls. Cadettes in ninth grade will be moving up to join Senior Girl Scouts.

To help celebrate the Easter holidays girls of Troop 219 made Easter baskets which they presented to the elderly of Magnus Farms. The Juniors included their names and addresses and are enjoying corresponding with their new friends.

Eighteen Juniors from 219 and their leaders, Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. J. Crillin, recently camped overnight. This activity helped the girls to complete the Sign of the Arrow.

JUNIOR SCOUTS of Troop 97, whose leaders are Mrs. Edward Shaler and Mrs. C. W. Barto, enjoyed a recent swim and skate party at the YMCA. Hearty appetites helped the girls to enjoy the hamburgers and cool drinks after the activity.

To earn their troop Dramatics badge, Juniors from Troop 30 presented a play, "The Wizard of Oz," to their mothers. The girls baked cookies which were served with punch to their guests. The meeting was held at St. Raymond's auditorium, the troop's regular meeting place. Leaders are Mrs. John Moran and Mrs. Lee Bigos.

Twenty-one Juniors from Troop 708 spent a two-night campout at Camp Pine. On Saturday the Juniors entertained Brownie Troop 8 and their leader, Mrs. J. Taillard, with lunch and games. A fly-up ceremony was held by the Brownies.

A Court of Awards was held by Troop 708 and various badges were awarded. Eleanor Schwartz, cookie chairman of this troop treated the entire troop to ice cream and cookies in appreciation to the girls for doing an outstanding job of selling Girl Scout cookies during the past campaign. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. R. Kerr and Mrs. W. Goodhope.

JUNIORS FROM Troop 411 are presenting bushes to Westbrook School to show their appreciation for the use of the gym as a meeting place. The girls are planning a cookout May 16 and a camping trip June 15-17. They will have their final Court of Awards at which Community Safety, My Community, My Troop and Troop Camper badges will be awarded. Leaders are Mrs. John Cutchin and Mrs. Lawrence Koch.

April activities of Junior Troop 742 included a nature hike at which half the troop marked a trail with stick trail signs and the other half followed the trail. Many different birds, nests and interesting insects were noted.

More recently these scouts joined other juniors at a swim and skate party held at the YMCA. Mrs. David Hanna and Mrs. Victor Johnson are leaders.

Cadette Troop 730 held an unusually successful rummage sale at Lions Park's Field House. The sale under the fine directions of Katherine Cox cleared $216 which was used to help finance a three-day bus trip to Greenfield, Mich.

THE CADETTES accompanied by leaders Mrs. Alfred Moldenhauer and Mrs. Warren Purcell, mothers Mrs. John Raeder and Mrs. Gerry Freeman, and Senior Scout Pam Wiegand of Troop 499, toured the Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn, the Kellogg's cereal factory and the Ford Motor Co. Leaders and girls extend a special "thank you" to Pam for adding so much pleasure to their trip with her music and personality.

Troop 730 assisted in planting trees at the Arbor Day planting held at the Mount Prospect Community Center. This activity contributed to the scouts' work toward their Conservation badge.

April 28 Cadettes of Troop 401 held a cookout at Meadows Park. The girls and their leaders, Mrs. Philip Rives and Mrs. Floyd Caldini enjoyed their hot meal around a camp fire.

WHEELING-BUFFALO GROVE

The parents of the Cadettes in Troop 263 were treated to a Hawaiian luau, planned and carried out by their daughters. The luau was held April 30 at the Community Presbyterian Church from 7 to 9 p.m. The girls were dressed in gay shifts and muumuus along with leis. Skits were performed to give an idea of what had been learned for the Good Grooming badge. A fashion show was presented as well as a Hawaiian dance, a flute duet and a piano solo. The luau completed the final requirements for the Good Grooming and Hostess badges and also helped toward the fulfillment of the Social Dependability challenge.

All of the troops in the area participated in the Juliette Low Friendship Community Art Fair May 1. It was held as an open house for the girls parents and friends. Awards were given to each troop for first, second and third place. Exhibits were entered under three categories, drawing and painting, sculpture and embroidery. In addition each girl who entered was given a Certificate of Achievement. All hope this will become a yearly event. (B-10

Caron Combo Will Appear

The Don Caron Combo will be featured in a free "Pop 'n Rock" combo concert sponsored by Karnes Music Co., 9800 Milwaukee Ave., Des Plaines, this Sunday at 3 p.m.

The combo features Robby Roberts and Jeff Galitz on guitar; Ted Ostling on bass; Dick Rahn on drums and Don Caron on tenor sax. They have appeared at Adventureland and the Happy Medium and are currently playing at the Pussy Cat Discotheque in Chicago.

In addition, the combo has numerous recordings to its credit on Capitol, Columbia and Liberty labels, and has teamed up with such stars as Johnny Tillotson, Frankie Laine, Freddy Cannon, Jackie De Shannon and Bobby Rydell. The group has also made numerous radio and TV commercials.

Sunday's performance will range from "hot" to "cool," and is planned to appeal to all ages. The public is invited. (B10

Robert Sir to Head Davies Area Campaign

William T. Davies, Republican senatorial candidate from the third district, has announced the appointment of Robert A. Sir of Arlington Heights as area chairman for the Arlington Heights area for Davies in the race for the state senate.

Sir is the father of five, and has been a resident of this area all his life. He recently moved into Arlington Heights from Mount Prospect, where he resided for the past six years, and worked actively in the Republican Party.

Sir worked in support of Congressman Donald Rumsfeld, and on behalf of Charles Percy for governor in the Mount Prospect area. He is a sales manager at Alcoa Aluminum Company of America, Chicago division, and the past chairman of the general caucus of Mount Prospect, and past president of the Arlington Heights Tennis Club.

He attended Lake Forest College, graduating in 1954 with his major in history. He is married to the former Sherrie Riddough.

He has been a personal friend of Bill Davies for many years and said "Bill Davies is the best qualified candidate for state senator because he is an energetic, serious minded, gifted lawyer, with a sensitive understanding of people, and their problems.

"He believes it is the duty of a state senator to ask the opinion of his constituents on important issues, and truly be a representative of the people in his district." (B10

Graham Cites Education Bills Passed by Assembly

Sen. John A. Graham (R — Barrington), this week sent to professional educators and school board members in his district copies of an informative bulletin outlining the accomplishments of the last General Assembly in the field of education.

The bulletin stressed the importance of quality education to the people of Illinois.

Sen. Graham predicted "greater sacrifices will be required in the future if we are to continue to provide the highest quality education for all levels."

He stressed that the Senate Republicans introduced and passed legislation to raise the basic support level of state aid to local schools. The legislature approved a 31 per cent increase from $252 per pupil to $330 per pupil. In 1963 the GOP passed an increase from $252 to $292; however, it was vetoed by Gov. Kerner.

THE CREATION of a statewide junior college system was adopted as a part of the bi-partisan Master Plan for Higher Education in Illinois.

Republican amendments to improve the original plan included one to preserve the right of a local board to charge tuition if it so desires and another to establish a uniform limitation at one-third of the operation cost per pupil.

Other key measures passed by the legislature included a boost to adult education programs and a special scholarship program to aid adults wishing to return to school to prepare for teaching careers.

"Republicans sponsored legislation to begin a program to make up the total of more than one and one-half billion dollars deficit in state pension funds including the Teacher's Retirement System. This sound legislation was arbitrarily killed in the Democratic-controlled House," Sen. Graham said.

"HIGH-QUALITY education requires the attraction of capable and dedicated teachers," he said. "It also requires that we make every effort to keep our teachers in our schools once we have attracted them to their noble profession."

Senate Republicans rejected a proposed increase in compulsory school attendance from 16 to age 18.

"The increase from the present age of 16 would breed serious discipline conflicts and would prove disruptive of a sound education program," Senator Graham said.

A program to provide education for underprivileged children received vigorous support from Graham and the Republican-controlled Senate, Graham said.

Other Republican legislation passed into law included bills to improve the "gifted children" program, establish a statewide library system, raise salaries of county superintendents of schools and increase the legal minimum salaries for teachers in Illinois, the bulletin says.

Senator Graham said copies of his bulletin would be available to any interested citizens.

May 18 Reception To Honor Rudiger

A reception entitled "The Rudiger Round-Up" will be held May 18 to honor Gilbert Rudiger, assistant superintendent of Des Plaines School District 62 and secretary to the Board of Education.

GILBERT RUDIGER

Payment in Food

In colonial days, Virginia planters paid preachers with food instead of money. A standard contribution was three hams and a "parssel" of potatoes a month.

Repulsive Bug

There are about 1,200 species of cockroach. The repulsive bug, abundant in the tropics, is found to some degree practically throughout the world.

Art Fair Entered By 66 Teenagers

Sixty-six teenage artists have already made application for entry in the "Talented Teen Art Fair" to be held Sunday, May 22, at the Flick-Reedy Auditorium in Bensenville, according to George F. Koehnke, president of the Talented Teen Foundation which conducts the contest.

Northwest suburban teens who have already made application for the District contest include: Nancy Nicoll, Patricia Weber, Roger Schult, Edward Schauble, Cheryl E. Haugh, Cathy Swanson, Carole Clark, Don Kirkendal, Lanette Swanson, Robert Berger, Karen Gralton, Linnea Johnson and Sue Novack of Mount Prospect; Deborah Williams, Jenison C. Peet, Laurel C. Gebhart and Steve Greco of Prospect Heights; and Tina Drachman of Arlington Heights.

Also, Catherine S. Cogliandro, Danny Sano and Joy Sanders of Addison; Kathy Zabel of Palatine; Carla Back and Kay Star Kutch of Rolling Meadows; D. Finkler, Cherie L. Workman of Elk Grove Village; John Smead of Bartlett; and Carl Wanzeny of Bensenville.

THE ART CONTEST, open to all teenage artists, is offering a three-week Europe tour, scholarships to the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and a special art award donated by the Countryside Art Center.

Registration for artists will start at 1 p.m. Each artist is limited to four entries, and all work must be originals, not copies. The categories are drawings and paintings, graphic arts and design, 3-dimensionals and photography. The best of show will qualify for the grand area finals at McCormick Place where they will try for the three-week European tour. Registration fee is $1. The art will be on display for the public at 7 p.m.

For offical entry blanks teens should write to Art Fair, 404 Larkdale Lane, Mount Prospect 60056. (A15

Sen. Douglas Talks Sunday In Evanston

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) will speak on "Year of Decision for a Great Society" at the 13th annual meeting of the Evanston Democratic Club on Sunday.

The meeting, to be held at The Evanston Inn, Main Street and Forest Avenue, Evanston, will begin at 8:30 p.m., and will be preceded by cocktails at 6:30 and a buffet dinner at 7:30. Among party leaders attending the function will be James L. McCabe, Democratic candidate for the 13th Congressional District, who will introduce Sen. Douglas.

Persons unable to attend the dinner are urged to attend the meeting. (A15

Focus Attention on Exceptional Child

Governor Kerner has proclaimed this week Exceptional Children's Week, which has as its theme, "Focus on the Exceptional Child."

The Northwest Suburban Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children urges that citizens focus their thinking on what they can do for the exceptional children — meaning those who deviate from the so-called norms to the extent that they require modification of educational or vocational services.

THESE INCLUDE blind, partially sighted, deaf, hard of hearing, perceptually handicapped, educable mentally handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped youngsters now being aided in public and private schools through programs designed to meet the needs of each individual.

What is needed, according to Northwest Suburban Chapter of CEC, is for the public to accept the exceptional child and understand his differences, become acquainted with the special programs and what they are working toward, make an effort to visit classes for exceptional children, inform others of the growing need for programs, and participate actively with local agencies and programs to help these children. Shriners Hospital Marks Anniversary

Northwest suburbs will be well represented on Sunday when the Chicago Unit of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children celebrates its 40th birthday with an "open house" on the hospital grounds, 2211 N. Oak Park Ave., Chicago, to which the public as well as Shriners are invited.

Prominent in the program will be Walter M. Dill, 528 Evergreen Ave., Arlington Heights, Medinah Temple's Oriental Guide and secretary of the hospital's board of governors, and Vernon E. Victorine, 21 Gullick St., Park Ridge, a member of the board. Also present in his official capacity as Medinah's Chief Rabban will be G. William Sullivan, 415 S. Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights.

THE PROGRAM will start at 1:30 p.m. with escorted tours of the hospital. Principal speaker will be Superintendent of Schools, Benjamin C. Willis, who is a member of Medinah Temple. Among the colorful units participating in the entertainment will be the Brass Band, Oriental Band, Arab Patrol and Chanters. In addition, the famous camel corps of Zor Temple, Madison, Wis., will be on hand.

Other representatives will include a group of dedicated Shriners who give up their time on alternate Sunday afternoons to act as ushers at the hospital, where more than 8,000 youngsters have been treated without charge or regard to race or religion since the opening in 1926.

They are: Daniel Gengo, 926 S. Vine Ave. and William Cullen, 920 N. Lincoln Ave., Park Ridge; Robert Gottner, 609 George St., Arlington Heights; Karl Hanson, 5847D Lincoln Ave. and A. Petri, 8545 N. Major Ave., Morton Grove; Charles Schultz, 259 Lake View Ave., Hoffman Estates; John J. Krecker, 105 Willow Drive, Roselle; Earl R. Kiesgen, 17W374 Deerpath Road, Bensenville; Gerald R. Zielenske, 190 Edgemont Lane, Roselle; Harold Peterson, 113 S. Ela Rd., Barrington; and Harold Koenig, 407 W. Lonnquest Ave., Mount Prospect. (A15

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Dare To Be Different?

by Jane Sherrod Singer

Are you the master or the victim of convention? Some of us are so busy being like "the crowd" that we have lost sight of our own powers of individuality. Granted that the world would be a confusing place if we were all "odd balls," it would also be dull if we were all "stick-in-the-muds." Victim or master? Pick up your pencil and see.

	YES	NO
1. Do you find yourself interested by many different types of people?	( )	( )
2. If at a party, you find yourself conspicuously under or over-dressed, is the evening still enjoyable for you?	( )	( )
3. Do you wear clothes in which you feel comfortable, even if they are not of the latest style?	( )	( )
4. Have you read some current books that you are excited about?	( )	( )
5. Do you enjoy the company of people who are younger or older than you?	( )	( )
6. Would you give up a "secure" job if you found it boring?	( )	( )
7. If your usual schedule is changed, are you upset?	( )	( )
8. Would you like to try living in a foreign country?	( )	( )
9. Do you sometimes tend to be careless about money?	( )	( )
10. Is it difficult for you to remember the dates of friends' birthdays, anniversaries, etc.?	( )	( )
11. Do you pick up new slang or passing expressions?	( )	( )
12. If you had a choice, would you rather live fifty years in the future than fifty years in the past?	( )	( )
13. Did you ever walk across the grass in front of a sign that said NO NOT WALK ON THE GRASS?	( )	( )
14. Do you belong to or plan to join a political party different from that of your parents?	( )	( )
15. Do you find abstract art interesting, and even exciting?	( )	( )
16. As a design, do you prefer a loose spiral to a square?	( )	( )
17. Did you or would you like to have a simple wedding - or even elope?	( )	( )
18. Do you take a certain pride in being "different?"	( )	( )

DESIRABLE ANSWERS:

If you are to be different, you will have given YES answers to all questions except 9, 10, 13, and 18. If you answered YES to these questions, you are TOO daring for the following reasons:

9. A conscientious care of money, without being a slave to it, shows good judgement. Careless use will land you in trouble.
10. Do not live a self-centered life or you may find yourself alone and forgotten.
13. Laws, even signs, are made for a good reason. If you said yes, you are not daring to be different, but challenging authority which was set up for your protection.
18. If you said yes, you are using your "difference" as a front, very likely a shield for some feeling of insecurity.

"An unlearned carpenter of my acquaintance once said, 'There is very little difference between one man and another; but what difference there is, is very important'."

Solidly Sided

Over 300,000 new and remodeled homes a year are being sided with aluminum, according to a survey by Creative Research Associates for The Aluminum Association. The survey respondents indicated that long paint life of aluminum siding—15 or more years under average conditions—significantly reduces home maintenance. (O

Clearbrook Director's Papers to Be Read

Two papers co-authored by Byrn T. Witt, executive director of Clearbrook Center for the Retarded, will be presented tomorrow (Friday) before the annual meeting of the National Assn. on Mental Deficiency.

The association, whose membership is made up of professional workers in the field of mental retardation, is meeting this week in Chicago's Sherman House.

The first of the two papers, entitled "Development of a Social Service Department in a Day Center for the Retarded," will be presented by Miss Evadean Watts, director of special services for Clearbrook. Miss Watts collaborated with Witt in writing the paper.

THE SECOND paper, entitled "A Successful Home Program for Development of Speech and Language in Mentally Retarded Pre-school Children," will be read by Barbara Witt, who assisted her husband in its preparation. Mrs. Witt has had extensive educational and work experience in the speech therapy area.

Clearbrook Center, located at 3201 W. Campbell in Rolling Meadows, serves 48 pre-school and school-age children in a day care center and 17 young adults in a sheltered workshop and vocational training program. Enrollments include children from the townships of Elk Grove, Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling and Maine.

Witt, formerly director of the Southwest School for Retarded Children in Chicago, has been associated with the Clearbrook organization for the last two years. (A15

For the gardener, this weekend marks the start of the real planting season. Even the tenderest plants such as tomatoes or petunias can now be planted without danger of frost.

It's at this time that people often ask us what flowers they can plant in shade. Although the list is large, it in no way compares with the variety of plants that can be grown in sun.

First on the list of shade tolerant flowers are two plants that are produced from tubers: caladium and tuberous begonia. The caladium is attractive because of its colorful six-inch arrow-shaped leaves. Plants may be started from tubers by sprouting in damp moss or started plants may be placed directly in the garden.

Tuberous begonias are similar to caladiums not only in their shade tolerance but also their need for plenty of water. However, in contrast, begonias have a large variety of showy flower types while caladiums limit their variety to a number of unusual leaf patterns.

Plants of tuberous begonias purchased at nurseries now will have two or three large hairy leaves. Flowers should be produced in three to four weeks.

The plants grow quite rapidly bearing huge leaves on rather succulent stems. For this reason it is best to support the plants with thin bamboo stakes.

A drooping variety is well suited for hanging baskets or window boxes.

Still another showy flower for shady window boxes or flower gardens is the fuchsia. All that they require is plenty of water and a humus rich soil. The drooping flowers range in color from white to scarlet and fuchsia. As a native of South America or a shrub in California, the fuchsia reaches six to nine feet. However, in Chicago gardens it only reaches 12 to 30 inches. Blooming occurs from July to frost time. At that time they can be lifted and grown through the winter as house plants.

An ideal plant for shady children's gardens is the coleus. Their colorful rariegated foliage will hold a child's interest from seedling stage to maturity. It's also a good plant on which to develop a youngster's green thumb. Cuttings or slips can be quickly rooted in water, damp sand or vermiculite. In winter it serves as a fast growing house plant.

Browallia, a not too common member of the petunia family, is another shade tolerant plant that is suited to hanging baskets, flower boxes or garden edging. The one inch blue, violet or white flowers are borne on foot high plants. The glossy foliage faintly resembles myrtle.

Torenia or wish bone flower is another member of the hard-to-find group. Although only a few nurseries offer it, it is becoming increasingly available each year. It is a member of the snapdragon family, therefore its flowers resemble single snapdragon blooms. The color is deep velvet blue with a throat of pale violet and yellow.

Other plants for partial heavy shade include: Balsam, impatiens (also called sultana), pansy, and nicotiana. For partial light shade try: Cleome, also called spider plant, Celosia or cockscomb, calendula, cosmos, dusty miller, honesty, petunia, annual phlox, salvia, sweet alyssum, verbena, and flowering kale or cabbage. Beautifying Begins On Home Grounds

In addition to the home property, streets and the neighborhood can be beautified.

How does one go about this? The street, neighborhood or community group makes a survey of what is needed to beautify. If presently beautiful, perhaps only a few touches will make all the difference. If there are ugly areas, perhaps they can be cleaned up and planted with something permanent and beautiful that requires the least amount of maintenance.

EXAMPLES OF community projects include street trees, small parks and recreation areas, waterfront landscaping including banks of local streams and many others. Industrial landscaping movements have done much to beautify in some areas.

On one's own home grounds is a logical place to start beautifying, then with the cooperation of other individuals and civic groups should come expansion to neighborhood and community projects.

Community beautification under the direction of the mayor, advised by a committee of experts, can call a conference, organize, and lay out a long range program that benefits the area. To be most effective, beautification should range all the way from the individual home to the Federal Government at Washington.

"The responsibility for natural beauty and conservation starts at home," says Russell E. Train, president of the Conservation Foundation, "of this we can be absolutely certain. Our immediate job lies in our own backyard, on our own street, in our own neighborhood."

HOW DOES the average citizen go about conserving and beautifying his own property?

"Beauty alone is not enough," says the American Association of Nurserymen. "To be really worthwhile, the beauty of trees and shrubs should be made to work for the family to make family living both more enjoyable and productive."

Good conservation practice includes preservation of the soil, fertilization, sound drainage and plant covers which prevent erosion. A lawn or other ground cover will accomplish this.

To make the conservation and beautification improve family living, however, a landscape plan is needed which will provide privacy, shade where you need it when you need it, outdoor or patio living, flowers to beautify and cut for indoor decoration, family fruit, or whatever the family itself decides upon.

HOW DOES ONE obtain a plan?

Landscape architects and landscape nurserymen will draw plans for individual properties. Some nurseries will draw plans without charge providing the plants are purchased from them. (O

Many Ways To 'Finish' Paneling

Have you been holding off on paneling that room because you're unsure how to give joints and corners that "finished" look that is the earmark of a professional job?

There's really no mystery to it. First of all, many prefinished wall panels are designed so that joints are concealed. Secondly, many building materials manufacturers are prepared to supply you with accessory materials and will make the job easier and add visual interest to the finished project.

FOR EXAMPLE, the edges of v-grooved hardboard wall panels, when butted together form a v-groove joint. U-grooved panels for both interior and exterior use also lend themselves to this type of treatment and, in addition, provide a built-in expansion joint.

Another way to make attractive joints between hardboard panels is with prefinished wood and metal moldings and battens. Moldings and trim can also be obtained for inside and outside corners, for baseboards and for many other uses that enhance remodeling projects.

These accessories are simple to install and available color-matched for most types of prefinished hardboard paneling. Engineered hardboard and moldings can be obtained through building materials dealers. (O

Handy Storage Easily Created

Perforated hardboard can be used to cover all or part of a wall almost anywhere in a home. Equipped with metal hooks, the attractive sturdy surface provides compact storage space for cleaning implements, toys, sports equipment and other items.

Sliding doors of hardboard panels can be fitted easily over the storage area to hide its contents and protect from dust and dirt. (O

Drive Begins for Mail Box Beauty

The rural mail box plays a big part in the current "Keep America Beautiful" campaign.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who has been in the forefront of this campaign, has agreed that "attractive mail boxes do enhance our nation's highways."

An estimated 18,000,000 rural mail boxes are in use serving almost 70,000,000 Americans. May is a red-letter month for them. It's the Post Office Department's Mail Box Improvement Month stressing boxholders' compliance with postal regulations.

To pass inspection the rural mail box must be in good condition and weatherproof — securely mounted at a convenient height for the carrier. During Mail Box Improvement Month every mail box is inspected and patrons are advised of substandard conditions. Failure to comply may result in discontinuance of service.

A postal official points out that the name of the patron must be neatly printed on the box in letters not less than one-inch high—or a suitable name plate can be used as sold in many hardware stores.

"THERE IS also a safety factor in having properly-marked boxes," the postal official declared. "Many new streets are not included in directories or maps. It's happened that people who failed to put their names on their mail box have experienced undue delay in having emergency fire or medical care reach their home when minutes counted."

With the incentive provided by Mail Box Improvement Month and the Administration's beautification program, homeowners replacing old mail boxes will find a wide choice of colors available. Jackes-Evans Mfg. Company of St. Louis, Mo., nation's largest maker of R.F.D. boxes and posts, reports that new boxes in colors now account for 25 per cent of industry sales with demand continuing to grow. "Even city dwellers are using them to add charm to their homes."

"It's too bad," comments a midwestern postmaster, "but a good many boxes are neglected and get to look shabby. They downgrade the appearance of the property, even the neighborhood." With the cooperation of boxholders, he added, "Mail Box Improvement Month can help beautify the landscape and also help carriers make their appointed rounds more efficiently for better service." (O

MODERN AND ORIENTAL decor are blended handsomely and in pleasing contrasts to form the background for this corner of a living room where tea may be served in a relaxing fashion. Walls of Pecky Teak, a modern hardboard paneling with the patina of age, provide a rich setting for the object d'art seen on the shelf and floor. Blended illumination comes from natural and electric light. With attractive woodgrained paneling, the decor-minded homemaker can create settings in any motif.

Summer Best Time For Heating Work

Is this statement true or false? Now that warm weather is here, you can forget about your heating system until next fall.

It's false. The summer months, when the heating system is shut down, is the right time to have it cleaned and repaired, if necessary, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau points out.

If you have a bulky old furnace or boiler in the basement or radiators that eat up space in your rooms, this is a good time to investigate the possibility of replacing them with a completely new hydronic heating system. It's called "hydronic"—from the Greek word meaning water—because it uses water heated by a boiler and distributed via pipes to baseboard radiators in the various rooms.

TODAY'S BOILERS take up about as much room as a television set, yet they're extremely efficient. They look handsome enough to fit into the decor of a recreation room or matched to the appliances in a utility room. They can even be hidden away in a closet.

Modern baseboard radiation takes up so little space you hardly know it's there—so you have complete freedom in arranging furniture or hanging curtains and drapes. It's extremely efficient too—blanketing the walls with even, draft-free heat. (O

Outdoor Fountain Handy for the Kids

Before you know it, summer will be here. Then the endless patter of little feet trekking into the kitchen for a drink of water begins.

Children always promise not to track in dirt or wake up baby by banging the door, but somehow they forget. Besides, their little friends need drinks of water too, and whoever heard of a group of children all remembering to wipe their feet or close the door quietly?

WHAT'S THE ANSWER? For a growing number of young families, it's an outdoor drinking fountain, according to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. Many famili who enjoy outdoor living—a this includes those who ha no youngsters—have water co veniences installed on the pa io. They consist of a fountai hot and cold water and an e tertainment sink, with storag space beneath for charcoal a other barbecue equipment.

Outdoor water makes foo preparation easier, and it sim plifies the cleanup job after meal. The cost of the install tion is less than you migh think, the Bureau says. plumbing contractor will b glad to give you an estimate.

GARDENING TIPS

Your Garden . . . Day by Day

FROM THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS GARDEN CLUB

by MARY B. GOOD

May 12

Groundcovers could be the answer for a problem area — an incline difficult to mow or a dense, shady location.

May 13

Systematic spraying is vital to mums and roses.

May 14-15

"Arlington A-Gro-Gro," the 7th flower show of the Arlington Heights Garden Club is in full swing and living color today (Saturday) from 2-5 p.m. and tomorrow (Sunday) from 1-7 p.m. Pioneer Park Fieldhouse.

May 16

First planting of gladioli may be made now. For a continuous color display, plant at two-week intervals.

May 17

Though many people save seed from year to year, it is preferable to buy fresh new seed to avoid possible variation.

YOU ARE NOT OLD WHEN YOU ARE HEALTHY

Only a few generations ago almost everyone was old at 40. People who had a fiftieth birthday were considered fortunate. Many of them had incurable pains and aches. Few enjoyed good health.

Now, with greater medical knowledge we have medicines that perform seeming miracles. There are few diseases that do not respond favorably to treatment. Drugs can usually be depended upon to produce a desired benefit. People can be immunized against former killers.

We carefully read and study all information about new drugs and add them to our stock as soon as they are available. Your physician can prescribe medicines which will keep you young for a longer time.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Nancy Smith, 1259 N. Chicago, narrated the Designer's Show sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Elks and held at the Elks' Club last week Wednesday. Nancy also a model, had as a special guest, her husband's grandmother, Mrs. Laura Breathwaite of Clarendon Hills, who had been spending the week with the Smiths.

Dave, Nancy and the Smith children had Sunday dinner at the Elks to celebrate Mother's Day. Accompanying them were Dave's grandmother, his father, Wayne Smith, and his aunt, Jane De Witt, all of Clarendon Hills.

On May 1, Edith Singer, 1402 N. Illinois, was honored at a baby shower given by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Singer, and her sister-in-law, Sandy Singer, at their home in Chicago. Terrace women among the 30 who attended the shower were Jane Von Ebers, Betty Bloom, Dorothy Kirstein, Helen Martin and Carroll Brahm.

SATURDAY evening Bob and Nancy Nelson and daughters, Karol and Janet, 1251 N. Race, had dinner at the Pinnacle Restaurant of the Holiday Inn to celebrate Karol's 16th birthday and an early celebration of Mother's Day.

Entertaining her monthly bridge and canasta club on May 4 was Phyllis Fluhrer, 1433 N. Race. Present were Elsie Sorensen, Betty Sorensen, Bea Bohler, Pierrette Leckie, Shirle Husted, Helen Flesch and Joan Donath.

Seven terrace youngsters were among the more than 200 who made their First Communions at St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine on April 30 and May 1.

Dawn Amann, 1409 N. Wilke, daughter of the James Amanns, was honored with a buffet dinner Saturday evening. Present were her grandfather, Leonard Weidner, grandparents, the Ed Amanns, and her godmother and husband, the Ronald Suchomskis, all of Arlington Heights. The Maynard Cocker family enjoyed a family celebration with members of the immediate family at 1318 N. Illinois in James' honor. A dinner party was given for Kathy Maybee, daughter of the Fred Maybees of 1215 N. Wilke, and attended by her grandparents, the R. F. Kreuschers of Kenosha and the C. C. Johnsons of River Woods.

Ronnie Roberts, 1256 N. Chicago, went out for dinner with his parents, the Haldon Robertses, his brother and two sisters. On May 1, the Robert Webers, 1508 Oakton, hosted a party in honor of Cathy's First Communion and the recent confirmation of their son, Mark. Attending the party were Kathy's godfather and his family, the John Torrettos of Arlington, aunts, uncles and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weber of Westchester and the Richard Weber family of Bensenville, and their grandmother, Mrs. Yvonne McAvoy of Chicago.

The Bill Zieglers, 1243 N. Chicago, hosted a party last week Sunday in honor of Bill and June and attended by their aunt and uncles, the Joseph Zieglers of Des Plaines and Bill Keegan of Chicago, grandmothers, Mrs. May McDermott of Chicago and Mrs. Mayme Ziegler of Des Plaines, and neighbors, the Josef Kalous family.

TURNING 7 May 4, Wayne Herndon, son of the Brodie Herndons, 1333 N. Wilke, celebrated at a family party Sunday which also celebrated Mother's Day. His grandparents, the E. M. Nixons of Park Ridge, joined the family for the party.

Bill Bredenbeck, son of the Hugh Bredenbecks, 1706 W. Oakton, was 5 May 8 and celebrated at a family party for his grandparents, the Edwin Johnsons of Lindstrom, Minn., and his aunt and uncle, the Harold Shobergs of St. Paul. The relatives spent the weekend visiting the Bredenbecks and combined the birthday celebration with a Mother's Day celebration. Saturday a group of neighbor children gathered to help Bill celebrate.

May 7 was the seventh birthday of Ford Harmon, son of the Clifford Harmons, 1408 N. Yale. He celebrated at a luncheon Saturday attended by Jimmy and Billy Gibbons, Andy Chodera, Jerry Milligan, Don Mey and Ford's sister and brother, Amy and Chris. A batman theme was followed for the party decorations.

Bernard and Dorothy Roser, 1447 N. Race, saw Carol Channing in "Hello, Dolly" on April 28 in Chicago with Glenview friends. The two couples had dinner at Trader Vic's.

On Friday, the Rosers returned to the city to celebrate their wedding anniversary. They had dinner at a French restaurant, the Chaumiere, and afterwards had cocktails at Pier 2 at Marina City.

Saturday Ray and Vaneta Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, attended the 25th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Deutsch at the VFW in Lake Villa. Ray had been best man at the couple's wedding.

On May 3, Jim and Janice Murphy, 1326 N. Chicago, attended the Waa - Mu show, "Strings and Things," at Northwestern University.

THE FOLLOWING Saturday the Murphys attended a birthday celebration in honor of Andy Calarco, a friend of Jim's from work. The party, entitled a "Sour 36," was held in Chicago.

Six Terrace young people were confirmed at the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights on Sunday. They were: Kevin Cadle, son of the Richard Cadles, 1428 N. Illinois; Janet Fluhrer, daughter of the Hal Fluhrers, 1433 N. Race; Karen Sue Garland, daughter of the Jack Garlands, 1317 N. Chicago; Robert Husted, son of the Robert Husteds, 1610 W. Olive; Scott Nielsen, son of the Edward Nielsens, 1252 N. Illinois; and Shirley Rozdalovsky, daughter of the Les Rozdalovskys, 1321 N. Race. Most of the young people combined confirmation celebrations and Mother's Day parties after the afternoon service.

Kevin's grandmother, Mrs. Francis Cadle, and his great aunt, Della Duncan, came from Stronghurst to spend the weekend and help him celebrate. The Cadles and their guests had dinner at Gunnell's Sunday.

A family party was given for Janet Fluhrer.

A large family celebration was given for Karen Garland and included her godparents, Mrs. Robert Johnson of Des Plaines and Perry Anderson of Mount Prospect.

Joining the Husted family to help Robby celebrate were his grandmother, Mrs. John Wilson of Elmwood Park, and great-aunt, Mrs. Lou Hooper of Glen Ellyn.

CHICAGO RELATIVES who came to the Nielsens' for a dinner party were Scott's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Svendsen, and aunts, uncles and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soderstrom and the Carl Helldner family.

Coming from Milwaukee to the Rozdalovskys' were Shirley's grandparents, the Joseph La Prestis, and her aunt, uncle and cousins, the Ned La Prestis, for a family celebration.

Sunday guests of Robert and Marilyn Schmidt, 1201 N. Race, were Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, her sister and family, the Joe Mullarkys, aunt, Sandra Harrington, and uncle, Hardy Harrington, all of Evanston.

Spending several days this week with their grandparents, the Eugene Van de Merkts, 1231 N. Wilke, were Susie, Shirley and Jimmy Freeman of Wheeling. Visiting the family for Mother's Day were Mary Ellen's parents, the A. C. Pattersons of Evanston.

Recent houseguests of the Van de Merkts were Mary Ellen's brother and family, the John Pattersons, of Westbury, Long Island, N.Y. They enjoyed a week's stay in Arlington Heights.

Enjoying the Sunday holiday with the Donn Buonincontros, 1247 N. Race, were Carol's mother, Mrs. E. T. Forbrich of Park Ridge, her aunt, Miss Arlene Forbrich of Chicago, and Donn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Buonincontro of Park Ridge.

VISITING the Warren Blackburns, 1326 N. Race, on Sunday were Warren's parents, the Eugene Blackburns, his sister and family, the Phillip Daums, and his brother and family, the Wayne Blackburns, all of Chicago.

The Walter Leckies, 1429 N. Chicago, hosted a family party on Mother's Day for Walter's parents, the Stephen Leckies of Evanston, and his sister and family, the Bill Balows of the Terrace.

Coming from Ottawa, Ontario, to spend the weekend with the George Beauchamps, 1401 N. Illinois, was Mr. W. Armstrong.

The Werner Beckers, 1440 N. Race, entertained their two children and their families on Mother's Day. Coming from Mount Prospect were the Frank Malones; the Ronald Beckers came from Joliet.

Sunday evening the Richard Sobys, 1208 N. Chicago, traveled to Genoa City, Wis., for a family celebration at the home of Mary's parents, the Robert Watsons.

A BIRTHDAY celebration was given May 5 for Dee Poole at the home of her in-laws, the J. E. Pooles. In addition to the Bill Poole family, 1329 N. Chicago, other guests included the John Carlsons of the Terrace and Mrs. Don F. House.

On Sunday, Bill, Dee and children, Jeffrey and Steven, traveled to Joliet, where Dee was honored at another birthday party combined with a Mother's Day celebration at the home of her parents, the Paul E. Reicherts.

The Bill Ziegler family had dinner at the Carousel to celebrate Mother's Day.

Also having dinner at the Carousel were Ralph and Barbara Wiederhold and daughter, Lisa, 1322 N. Chicago, and Barbara's parents, the W. H. Alexanders of Park Ridge.

Enjoying Sunday dinner at Uncle Andy's Cow Palace were Jerry and Nancy Pollard and daughter, Paula, 1400 N. Yale. Accompanying them were Nancy's parents, the Francis Cooks of Barrington, and her brother and family, the Roger Cooks of Rolling Meadows, and Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Walsh of Chicago.

Al and Rosemary Shellander and son, Jim, 1716 W. Olive, went to Lake Geneva on Sunday to visit Rosemary's parents, the Walter Jonases. Mary and Margi returned home with their parents after visiting in Lake Geneva for two weeks.

The Way We See It

Post Office Site Planning Necessary

A decision to provide new post offices for Arlington Heights and Wheeling was announced recently. As other suburbs continue to grow they, too, will develop needs for new and expanded postal facilities which must be met.

The post office department has had a chronic difficulty in keeping up with the fast-growing demands for service in the northwest suburbs. This is reflected in replies to one of the questions asked in Cong. Donald Rumsfeld's recent poll of voter opinion: "Do you feel that postal service has improved in the last five years?" Only 33 per cent answered yes, while 7 per cent did not reply, and 60 per cent answered no.

Post office size and location are important factors in ability to give good service and win public approval.

There have been instances in our area where choice of location was unfortunate and community growth and mail volume were badly underestimated.

Perhaps the Post Office Department would be wise to call on citizen committees for advice. Why not? Such groups have worked extremely well in helping plan new schools and later in gaining public support for the plans. They have worked well on other projects, too, such as campaigns for much-needed municipal buildings.

A citizens committee bringing forth the ideas of the businessmen, home owner groups, the village planning commission, industry, and other segments of the community could be of great value to the post office department. We hope postal officials will consider the idea.

The Making of a Judge

Newspapers have printed many stories lately on how federal judicial vacancies are likely to be filled. Every indication is that old-fashioned politics is still in the saddle, even when it comes to filling the highest judicial posts.

We read that "Italian-Americans have been pounding on Sen. Douglas to give them representation on the federal court" and that "the cost would be high" if the Polish-American claim were disregarded, since "the only spokesman of this ethnic group on the federal bench" has retired.

Quite likely it can be demonstrated that persons of particular ancestries were discriminated against in the past when appointments to the federal bench were made. Certainly, it seems evident that such discrimination persisted against Negroes until a few years ago. But is this still a problem? We doubt it.

Many citizens would like to think that a judge does not "represent" or serve as a "spokesman" for any ethnic group. They want justice to be blind and the judge to be the best qualified person available to wear the robes.

Is the level of political maturity in Illinois still so low that judicial appointments must be passed out according to ethnic and religious affiliations? Or, mirabile dictu, could the best qualified man be named and receive support from all quarters simply on the basis that he would make an outstanding judge?

Let us hope that becomes possible soon.

A Welcome Addition

After the defeat two years ago of a junior college proposal that would have united Palatine with Niles Township (along with the area in between) we suggested that Barrington might be a more likely junior college partner than Skokie.

That hunch seems well on the way to coming true. Leaders of a campaign to provide a junior college for Barrington have studied the alternatives and decided that affiliation with William Rainey Harper College is their best bet.

They are anxious that this wedding take place before a possible junior college district including all of Lake County is established. Such an arrangement would split the Barrington High School district, part of which is in Lake County and the rest in Cook County.

For its part, the Harper College board has welcomed Barrington's bid. Barrington has a record of strong citizen interest in schools. Needs have been met and new educational ideas welcomed. Barrington High School students have set fine standards of scholarship, extra-curricular achievement, and sportsmanship. Per pupil valuation in the Barrington district is comparable to what exists in the junior college district, so no significant financial sacrifices for anyone would be connected with the merger.

Barrington's affiliation with Harper College should be expedited as a benefit to all concerned.

Bright Prospects

Twenty-nine student journalists will be honored Sunday at Paddock Publications second annual High School Highlights Staff Recognition Banquet. They are the students responsible for producing the weekly section of northwest area high school news which appears in all Paddock newspapers.

The Highlights feature section and the student staff program were begun in 1964 as a cooperative venture between our newspapers and the many high schools located within our circulation area.

In addition to increased high school news coverage for our readers, the section has provided a training program for high school students with journalistic ability and interested them in journalism career opportunities.

This second Recognition Banquet will include presentation of special Certificates of Merit to student staff members as well as announcement of the outstanding student journalist of the year who will receive Paddock Publications journalism scholarship award.

We salute these young journalists. We are proud to have worked with them and to have made some contribution to their interest in, and appreciation of, the bright prospects afforded by a dynamic and expanding profession.

Critic's Corner

Drivers Are Real Hazard

by PAT ADAM
Staff Writer

Ralph Nader has been creating quite a furor lately about alleged weaknesses in automobile construction that constitute "safety hazards." While the automobile manufacturers have hardly laid down their arms in complete surrender, they have admitted some shortcomings and are eager to do better.

I wish Nader could do the same for drivers. A safe and sane driver is still the most important factor in cutting the rising traffic accident toll so far as I'm concerned.

As a commuting driver from home to job to home, I am appalled time and again at the slight value some drivers place on their lives—and, more important, mine—to save a few minutes.

ADAM

ONE OF the worst offenders, in my opinion, is the sports car driver who apparently feels we're all out on the highway for the sport of it, not because we have a destination to reach — be it work, shopping center or some other place. I am not against sports cars, only their drivers the ones who whip around the rest of us at twice the speed limit, who zoom through intersections as though they expected never again to get a green light.

If it weren't so serious it would be funny, because more times than not in my experience, we passed-up drivers catch up with the speed maniac at the next stop-and-go light.

Another driver who almost makes me forget to be my usual calm self is the small compact car motorist. I drive a medium-sized compact myself so it can't be prejudice. But the fact the small ones are so maneuverable is no excuse for cutting in front of another driver or weaving in and out on expressways and other heavily-traveled roads.

MY VOTE for the most stubborn and annoying driver goes to the one who insists—and persists—in driving in the passing lane of a four-lane road at less than the posted speed maximum when there is a line of drivers behind him (or her) who obviously want to "get on with it."

For the "most stupid" title I tap the driver who fails to use his turn signals. This is particularly annoying when you're stopped behind this oaf at a stop-and-go light on a four-lane street, and he fails to signal a left turn.

Then there are those aggressive four-way stop drivers who must have been mistreated in childhood—or perhaps spoiled. Anyway they never learned to take their proper turn. They've always got to be first regardless of which driver has the right-of-way.

ON MY LIST of drivers who deserve a medal of dishonor are those truck drivers who have marred the long standing reputation of such drivers as always courteous and helpful. Things are not as they once were. There are just as many fools behind the wheel in trucks these days as in other vehicles, at least on urban thoroughfares. Perhaps the long distance drivers can still boast an untarnished reputation as courteous and careful.

Many young drivers outperform their elders, in an automobile, but there are others, thoughtless and wreckless, who contribute to the unflattering image so many have of teens and young adults.

If parents and driver education instructors can't get through to them what it means to be a responsible driver, it's doubtful a newspaper writer can. But it relieves my tensions to state unequivocably that they irk me . . .because they do damage the reputation of young persons as a whole and because they are show-offs. I dislike show-offs.

I WOULD pin a special badge of cowardice on those men and women drivers with children riding in the car who violate speed limits and take other chances at the risk of the lives of those in their charge—whether their own or someone else's youngsters.

And as a pedestrian, I shake my fist at the driver who can't wait to turn a corner or get through an intersection until the pedestrian has crossed.

As for pedestrians, I reserve a little of my wrath for those who cross mid-way in the block, blissfully unmindful there may be cars coming in both directions. We drivers have to respect their lives even if they don't!

Fortunately, there are courteous and responsible drivers on today's roadways who restore my faith in man's reason and humanity to his fellow man. Ralph Nader, give us more of them!

Man in the News

A Builder-Innovator

by MARY SCHLOTT
Staff Writer

Like Archbishop Cody, High School District 214 Supt. Harold L. Slichenmyer has a reputation as a builder.

His 12 years as chief executive of the two-township school district have been marked by steady rise in student population and in school facilities to house the growth.

When Slichenmyer came to the northwest suburbs in 1946, District 214 had just one high school—Arlington. Now there are four 2,500-pupil high schools, a fifth opening in September, a sixth school on the drawing board and land available for two schools more.

ONE OF THE buildings erected during his years at District 214's helm is the Slichenmyer Administration Center, housing all central offices. He was "touched beyond words," the superintendent admits, at hearing that the center would bear his name.

"Slick," as he is known behind his back, will retire this summer. But his impact on education in the northwest suburbs will be felt for many years.

When he is remembered, Slichenmyer hopes it will be not for his reputation as a builder but as an encourager of innovations. "A building is only a necessary skeleton," he points out.

THIS HIGH school district has been blessed, he says, with both public and staff acceptance of innovations. He cites team teaching and the early work-study program (an approach which in turn has spawned perhaps a half dozen other job-study combinations) as the best of the new things the district has tried.

SUPT. SLICHENMYER

The hazard in new educational approaches comes if you move before you've laid good plans, Slichenmyer has found. He says team teaching took longer to prove itself in District 214 because of this; because good planning was lacking, some of the early approaches flopped.

What are the secrets of Slichenmyer's success? Probably they're three: confidence in the public, encouragement of his teachers, and just plain guile.

"IF I HAVE a magic formula," the superintendent will tell you, puffing his pipe, "it's in planting an idea with someone else and then, when they bring it back to you, accepting the idea with enthusiasm—but only after they've shown they've planned thoroughly for its use."

The high school district puts citizens committees to good use and wisely, Slichenmyer says. "I doubt if we could pass our bond issues without them." Often, vocal critics of the school system turn up on such committee lists. Their inclusion is deliberate. "Usually we can sell them. If we can't, at least we know what our opposition's saying," he explains.

Some superintendents think of teachers' associations—and particularly teachers unions—as "the enemy," but not this veteran administrator. He admits his thinking on this may be colored "somewhat" by the fact that he's held office in both the Illinois Education Association and a teachers' union. He was union president at Bloomington, in fact, relinquishing the post only when he became a principal.

PART OF Slichenmyer's advice to any upcoming young superintendent would be to include teachers more in planning and the policy-making process and, as much as is practical, to see that all administrators teach at least one class. The latter, he admits, is a rule he himself has failed to follow for the past 19 years, but he still thinks it's a good one.

A quotation he's tried to follow is the one which goes, "Give me the patience to endure the things I cannot change, the courage to tackle the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference." But he can seldom resist the temptation to give most problems, even the toughest ones, a little nudge.

At board of education meetings, under public criticism, Slichenmyer's approach to criticism is to let the bait lie. He believes in minimizing such criticism, in letting it roll off him. This is not to say, he adds, that he ignores what's said. "I try to learn from it, just as I should," he asserts.

A SUPERINTENDENT must be many things to his school system—a businessman, for about 25 per cent of his time is spent on money matters; an educator, with final responsibility for pupil learning; a supervisor, with a staff to choose and guide; in a multitude of meetings, a spokesman for the district; and a figurehead, "a man in the blue Slichenmyer suit," as this role was satirized at the April 26 banquet given in his honor.

To balance all these roles well, and be himself, represents artistry in the superintendency. This Harold L. Slichenmyer has achieved.

To leave their well-tended garden and their Arlington Heights home, as the Slichenmyers plan to do when he retires this summer, will mean a wrench for both of them. For gardening — and meeting people — have been the two hobbies of this busy man.

THE Slichenmyers' goal next year will be to travel, to "See the U.S. First" and then find a new home hopefully with less-bone-chilling winters, in which to settle down. But not to rest.

During the travel he'll be scouting for something with which to occupy himself. It will probably be in education, for it would be surprising if he'd leave the field he's fitted himself to so well for 40 years.

The Touch of Nobility

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Among the distinctions of American architecture are its 19th century railroad depots. A year or so ago a magazine of Americana offered several fine illustrations of railroad depots built in the last century by the Jersey Central Railroad in towns in New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania. But all the fine specimens are not in the East. Last weekend I had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with the depots on the Michigan Central line.

CUMMINS

The trip reinforced my feeling that the depots at Niles and Ann Arbor are outstanding examples of 19th century American depot architecture.

THEY ARE similar. Both resemble Norman castles. I was standing on the station platform in Ann Arbor with a civil engineer, discussing the fine features of the depot, when he decided to measure the width of the stone walls. Using the span of his hands as a rough yardstick, he measured, and then announced that the walls of the station were about three and a half feet thick.

"Strong enough to support the Empire State Building," he added thoughtfully.

I haven't been able to find a good reason why these depots should resemble Norman castles. I suppose the railroad hoped to flatter the people of Niles and Ann Arbor circa 1886 by conferring upon them a touch of nobility that they had not yet achieved for themselves.

ANOTHER question I would like answered is what use is made of the towers in these depots. One would think they should be used for luxurious private offices for railroad vice presidents, but instead they have become roosting places for pigeons.

There are two chief schools of thought about what actually is in these towers. One is the Realist School and the other the Romantic School.

The realists maintain that both towers are full of dusty biils of lading from Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids dated 1907 or thereabouts.

THE ROMANTICISTS insist that the directors of the New York Central have imprisoned a young and handsome dissident stockholder, known only as The Dauphin, in either the Niles or Ann Arbor tower and are holding him there to prevent his leading a proxy rebellion.

One of the impressive things about these depots is that they will always be there. This thought grips you, especially when you realize how impermanent most things are.

The Morrison Hotel has been razed, and Ebbetts Field and the Polo Grounds are gone, and soon the Metropolitan Opera House will be only a memory. But the depots at Niles and Ann Arbor will stand forever.

DID I HEAR you ask why? The answer is simple. There is no force on earth powerful enough to destroy them. The Atomic Energy Commission could explode a nuclear bomb in either depot without damaging it at all. Oh, I admit the dust would fly and the pigeons would be frightened from their tower roost.

But the depot would remain unchanged, rooted solidly to the same spot it has occupied since 1886.

If the scientists ever invent anything capable of damaging these depots I will know for sure that mankind is flirting with disaster.

Says Office Holder Can Be An Effective Committeeman

Can a holder of public office be a party officer as well?

This question summarizes what has become an issue in the current contest to elect the Wheeling Township Republican Committeman. Opponents of Representative Eugene F. Schlickman maintain that he can't double as committeeman and as legislator.

To this point of view I say "Poppycock!" In the first place, like it or not, the holder of a public office (especially that of representative) is a political leader. He cannot escape those political responsibilities which are inherent with accepting his party's support. The party recognizes that fact and attempts to select candidates who will not only be effective office-holders but will be an asset to the party they represent. Such a person is Gene Schlickman, whose first term was a success. The recent Republican drive for greater strength in Illinois has been marked by leadership from men like Richard Ogilvie, William Scott, and Ray Page, all office-holders who recognize their responsiblities to the party.

We are surrounded by excellent examples of office-holders who are effective township committeemen: Floyd Fulle, Maine; William Erickson, Evanston; Terrrel Clarke, Lyons; and in addition, Harris Rowe, Morgan County Republican chairman. As it turns out, the political office is an asset, not a liability. The office-holder is more knowledgeable of his party's needs, he is more responsible to his party members, he has more strengths at his command, and he becomes more than a frustrated office-seeker who prefers politics to pinochle; or, worse, an ambitious office-seeker who sees the committeeman's job as a stepping stone to something bigger.

I make these observations as a life-long Republican and as a result of some 11 years of activity with the Republican Party, both at the local and at the county level, where I have served for two years as Cook County Chairwoman.

Clouding the current campaign is Schlickman's opponent's assertion of "absentee leadership" in the past two years. The accusation seems to be made more toward the current leadership than toward Gene Schlickman, which is confusing and inaccurate. Schlickman was not that leader.

Consistent with such confusion —how can Schlickman's opponent point to the inefficiency of the party in the past few elections and then claim to have been an important part of the leadership during that period?

Come on, now. Which way was it?

Wheeling Township Republicans deserve top-notch leadership from a man in the best position to render his party effective service. That person is Eugene F. Schlickman.

Reader Answers Questions Posed by Critic Swinford

Dear Mr. Swinford:

Thank you! Thank you for your refreshing column in the May 5th issue of the Wheeling Herald.

Bill, (mind if you're called Bill?) you have missed your calling. You are a master with words! You are a genius in understanding the biggest puzzle — people! You are a crusader! I could go on and on but I'm sure you'd rather I go on to the business at hand.

You asked for answers; I can give a few and I can also ask questions on each of your questions. A newspaper like the Wheeling Herald can do a lot in getting the action and the answers.

1. The $7 plus we paid for the junior college was put in the "coffers," so that people will forget it (we are great for forgetting.)

2. The developers who get away with even less than the minimum and refuse even to add a door bell — sufficient insulation between the paper thin walls — poor plumbing that just barely pass the one year (big deal) guarantee; the poor sidewalks, driveways that crack, break and collapse within a year. The roofing that is ripped out at a 10 mile an hour wind. The aluminum windows should be outlawed, except for summer homes and summer living.

They get away with building a $20,000 home that is an oven in summer and a refrigerator in winter. I could go on and use up this whole editorial page listing the flaws, poor materials, poor workmanship and old lumber and is common procedure for the builder and developer. I must mention the debris, garbage, mountains of dirt, gravel, sand that is left to give the area a little less than a slum city alley appearance.

You said you believe the buyers would be happier — yes; for better quality in material and workmanship — to charge a little extra? NO! A happier village government — no — they will be happy only when the developer builds more homes and sells them fast! Many developers finish in one area — change their names - and build in another. They time this pretty perfect, because when their bad reputation is known they are pftt!

And there is a new builder — a new developer who is promising swim pools, libraries, shopping centers that will make Randhurst look like a toy. He will still make a big fat profit if he could learn to be honest and give the unsuspecting buyer what he has paid for.

3. I am one of the "outs" in the village and I don't consider all the "ins" as crooks. I'd say one or two may be hungry for big politics. They believe this is the stepping stone to being governor of Illinois— maybe even a senator.

4. The apportionment you speak of will never be, for the same reason — hunger for big politics.

5. The reason 6th, 7th and 8th graders are not permitted to play football would mean that a few lazy parents may have to get involved. This same type poor cooperation can be seen in Cub Scouts, and Boy Scouts. They don't want to trouble themselves and mix in with some one's responsibilities. Most of these parents wouldn't know how —they won't try.

6. The politician will not cuddle up to the press. Newspaper people know people too well. When a politician cuddles up to me, I'm stupid enough to knock myself out for him.

7. The streets in Arlington Heights are just as good as those in Hoffman Estates. Arlington Heights has the same cracks and breaks.

8. Federal aid is NOT a bad thing and the suburbs NEED it. We should have it! But the old itch for being different and getting news coverage, certain persons will refuse it and are shocked when they don't get it.

8. A safe automobile (or reasonably so) is dependable doors that will close shut; with proper insulation and a stronger metal —there will be less dents, caveins, smash-ups. Brakes that will work every time; glass that will not break or shatter (plastic is the answer) wheels properly aligned; tires that will not fail and of course a good driver who has passed a test in skill, consideration and courtesy. As for the motor companies using secret spy methods — well, they do! They are all in tune and everybody agrees with everybody.

9. As for the Chicago Cubs — they are losers and a lost cause. Leo can take his morning constitutional and forget to come back. He's not the answer to a winning ball club. Cub fans are not loyal and when you don't have your own family backing you — forget it!

10. There is nothing wrong with a reporter attempting to be unbiased. But it is good to see one assert himself and be biased, if he wants too.

11. A depression? Like you said — don't be absurd!

12. The teens don't set standards — the parents do. Some teachers, too, are not shouldering their full responsibilities. (please don't tell me they are underpaid — they work less than 10 months a year — some only nine months.) There are many teachers doing over and above their duty. There isn't enough money to pay them for the splendid way they handle youngsters. Many teachers today are too young and do not have the patience or skill to work with children and teens.

13. Morality? Parents, in general, are not pushing anymore. A 17-year-old is not too old to be told what to do and why not! The old adage is ever true "you can lead a horse to water but you can't force him to drink." As a parent we try to do our duty in leading the teen and because he dies of thirst-the parent has a broken heart and who is responsible? And as long as the teen lives in his father's house, and is his father's sole responsibility, that teen should obey and not give reasons why he shouldn't.

Plans to Run Next Year for School Board

It would seem that the newly elected President of the Board of Education of District 57, Mr. William Krampert, guide posts for "happy year" is to silence the press and ignore issues. A philosopher once said, it is better to remain silent and appear dumb, rather than opening one's mouth and removing all doubt of it. Mr. Krampert is following this line of action — remain silent, sweep the dirt under the rug and hope no one notices it.

We, the public and parents of school children in Mount Prospect, owe no obligations to the school board to inform them of our opinions rather than expressing them to the press. This is still a free country and we have the right of freedom of speech.

After the "Haney-Van Dyke Debase" I don't think we owe any courtesy to the school board in regard to what we think or say about the activities of the school board. I agree with Mr. Krampert that the public must become fully informed concerning the activities of the board, but it is the school board's responsibility to see that the public is fully informed of all activities and reasonable advance notice of all public meetings should be given to all interested parties including the press.

I also realize that actions speak louder than words, so I am hereby announcing my intentions to run as an independent candidate in the next school board elections without any obligations to any group or party, so I can serve the citizens of Mount Prospect to the best of my ability if elected, without any prior commitments to any organizations.

Blames Parents Of Teens for Depot Damage

Article appearing over the signature of Mrs. Marie Koppenhoefer in our Palatine Enterprise last week, headed, "Tells Need for Improvements at Palatine Depot — is not without merit, but is somewhat contrary to fact. As for a trainman stating that "They" hadn't touched it in "over 20 years," well, the depot is now less than 19 years old!

It is mopped well, deodorized, and furniture cleaned weekly! While we just might agree that the North Western could do a better job, the main fault lies squarely upon the shoulders of the PARENTS of the teenagers that consistently wreck the place.

About a year ago it was freshly decorated, but now even four squares of ceiling tile are missing! The clock was so consistently either wrecked or stolen that it proved useless to go on replacing it, so it has none now. The inside phone booth came in for its share of vandalism, including filth, so it is out, too. A booth was erected outside and lasted about three months. Now a much sturdier one has replaced it and the opaque side-panels have been replaced in it several times, as well as one of the phones itself.

Passing it on foot includes, at most hours, of having obscenities shouted out of the windows, now missing some panes where the R.R. is behind schedule in replacing broken panes as fast as they are broken. This vulgarism emanates from boys and girls alike, usually to be seen sitting on the backs of the benches, stomping their feet where others needs must later sit.

Police do their best, but the alert youngsters leave when the police are noticed coming for an inspection, or as result of a complaint, only to return when the officers leave. Conceding the R.R.'s patrolling of this eyesore, erected for the main reason of blocking two of our main business street crossings is not what it was when three men were on duty in the former depot being station-agent, his assistant and a baggageman at all day hours, they do not cause any of these conditions.

Delta Ambulance Owner Praises Paddock Story

When so many people in the news media criticize ambulance services without first investigating properly, it is refreshing to see our local paper devote a full eight-column head to what I find to be a quite definitive study of the situation.

Our files are full of letters of praise for our drivers and attendants from persons we have helped, but these do little for our public image when articles condemning all ambulance services are published on the basis of one person's misfortune.

We of Delta Ambulance are constantly trying to add to the service we render to those in need. I am sure that this is true of most services in the northwest suburbs where private ambulance company standards for employees and equipment are much higher than state codes.

It has been my impression that praise for our suburban ambulance services should also include praise for the village, county, and state police departments and our hospital emergency rooms with whom we work hand in hand and have always received the utmost cooperation; and without whom we could not operate as effectively. It is indeed gratifying to add our area news media to this category, for only through you can the general public become aware of the things we are trying to accomplish.

Thank you for looking into our work. We will constantly try to live up to and improve on your findings.

Police Respond Speedily When Infant Chokes

This is the time of year in which many residents of Arlington Heights and other communities complain about their tax bills. I also have complained in the past but "never again."

Last Wednesday my wife experienced the benefits of the efficiency of the Arlington Heights Police Force well beyond the tax bills we can pay for the rest of our lives. Our four-month-old daughter choked on a piece of cloth and was unable to breathe. My wife telephoned the police inhalator squad and within 60 seconds one patrol car had arrived at the house and the inhalator squad arrived less than three minutes later. Their competence and patience in this trying time cannot be exaggerated.

The next time I am tempted to criticize various facets of our village government, I will remember this event and I believe many of our neighbors will also.

Urges Voter Approval Of Library

On May 17, a referendum providing for the erection of a new library will be submitted to the residents of Rolling Meadows for approval. Without question, it should be approved.

At this moment our present library facilities are inadequate to provide our ever-growing student population with proper and needed reference and research materials. Even if the material was available, there is no adequate area where proper and undisturbed research can be made. While these facilities may be considered as only desirable where it concerns grade school students, they are, in my opinion, essential to the high school and college student.

Apropos of the above, it should be remembered that the northwest community has, by previous referendum, approved operating funds for a junior college which will, hopefully, offer its first classes in the fall of 1967. This college will serve Palatine Township and four others.

Certainly the new library will cost us money — about $4.40 per home per year. But this is cheap. I can site my own experience as proof.

Three years ago, I purchased a high school level encyclopedia for my boys for $150. This expenditure would not have been necessary had there been study space and up-to-date references available at our library. Even the encyclopedia wasn't enough.

My older boy, now a senior, found it necessary to travel into Chicago to the Crerar Library to get in-depth material for a special research paper. These trips alone, considering the use of a car, gasoline, lunches and time, easily cost me $10. — more than two years taxes for a new library.

For those young people who will attend our local junior college and, therefore, reside in this area, a comprehensive reference facility is an absolute must. When our new library is built, it is intended that it become a part of a large library district with several libraries. A student can avail himself of any texts in any of the associated libraries simply by requesting them. Imagine the intellectual resources that are made available for $4.40 per year. Even if one chose to buy a college level encyclopedia for about $300, this would only suffice for surface study. It would by no means approach the requirement for in-depth research.

Frankly, I'd rather pay $4.40 every year in taxes and have a wealth of research and reference material available for my children than outlay hundreds of dollars for personal reference materials that at best, are limited in scope. No home can furnish the periodicals, abstracts and specialized texts which the exploding knowledge of man is making necessary.

Note that I have only dwelled on the necessity of the new library as it concerns todays student. I've made no mention of such extras as its esthetic value to the community and its added source for enjoyment in reading for we older people.

It seems to me that the new library will be a bargain - no matter how you look at it.

Vote yes on the referendum on May 17.

Cannot Deny Freedom and Still Enjoy It

Perhaps the most misunderstood concept in our society today is "open occupancy." Those who oppose this idea seem to be especially talented for bending, twisting, distorting and confusing the basic concept of freedom. Freedom cannot be given to one person by taking it away from another.

In terms of housing, the concept of "the freedom to sell property to whom I please" as a basic individual freedom is as wrong as the concept of individual freedom to own a slave — and for the same reason too. In our society either they both have freedom or neither has freedom.

WHEN A MAJORITY in a society reacts to a minority in such a way as to deny the minority the same freedom that the majority enjoys, then this denial, however unorganized, can be construed as a conspiracy and should be overcome with appropriate legislation. Not to do this would result in an obstacle to peace and tranquility within our society would drain off energy that could be better utilized.

It is unfortunate that some people capitalize on the powerful motivating force of hate to attain a position of leadership. I would hope that they are merely misguided. I prefer leadership motivated by constructive forces.

Many Enroll For Workshops On Good Will

Three of the six workshops on "Rearing Children of Good Will" sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews have been held. At this mid-point, we'd like to express our thanks to the Herald for the news stories, and especially the editorial, which helped so much to get the workshops started.

Your readers may be interested to know that we have two workshops meeting in Arlington Heights, with approximately 50 men and women taking part. Their enthusiasm is indicated by the fact that participation has grown since the first meetings, as original members have brought along friends.

We know, also, that many who were unable to attend are watching the Channel 11 telecasts on Thursdays at 8:30 p.m.

The subject is "Good Will'—and yours toward this project is greatly appreciated.

Reader Likes Variety of News

I can hardly wait until my Register gets delivered. First of all I read the first three or four pages and then our local news — such as Bensenville proper and then White Pines. From there on its social news, school items, obituaries.

I also like the publication of items as our churches doings, such as rummage sales and all items of interest—coverage of the bus rides of the clubs to the flower show and such.

I admire your coverage of VFW news of Tioga Post and Auxiliary. I formerly was a member in Chicago of Northwest Post's Auxiliary, which unfortunately fell by the wayside due to no public interest and poor publicity.

When publicity fails, public interest is lost.

I've read the Bensenville Register for 13 years, since moving to Bensenville. I am over 75 years old.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity for writing this.

Hopes for Arlington Museum Located in Stately Mansion

Wouldn't it be appropriate in a beautiful village like ours, if the Arlington Heights Historical Society would be housed in one of our lovely 100-year-old houses? I wonder if it is possible that, newcomers as well as old-time residents, would contribute to a Museum Fund to make such a dream become a reality?

The Historical Society has a wealth of articles from long ago, but many of them now are housed in the basement of the house of the curator, Mrs. Daniels. The rest of them are in the basement of Wheeling Township Town Hall.

The other morning I was at Mrs. Daniel's house with a group of very quiet, attentive Boy Scouts. Our group listened to Mrs. Daniels while she told us details about the hopes, hardships, and joys of the newcomers who came to live here in the 1830's. We saw surveyors' tools which helped (?) the Potawatomi Indians get 15 cents an acre for land around here. We learned the origin of the expression "the latch string is out."

One of the Scouts got to hold an enormous, old heavy axe used to cut wood for a house. No push-ups needed for the owner of that tool to keep fit! We saw an 1899 lady's bathing suit—a complete cover-up job. I didn't model it, but I did put on a sunbonnet with the flap in the back—worn to keep complexions fair and all that.

As we gazed at an old American flag that flew in downtown Arlington Heights, on the day Lincoln was shot, we counted the stars. We asked how many states were in the Union in 1865—as many as represented by the stars?

The impact of history was there as we grasped some of the little details that showed how and why our village grew to be part of history in Illinois.

But that morning we were down in the crowded basement of Mrs. Daniel's home. A wealth of meaningful, old items —donated by generous Arlington Heighters — was carefully packed and in boxes, or sitting in groups on the floor all about us. There was no room in which to see them all!

A Museum would give such room — proper space in which many children, young people and adults would have a chance to see, to feel and to hear about the wonderful, collection that the Historical Society has. In a small but meaningful way, this could make history come alive.

Policeman Full of Praise For Firemen

I don't know how acquainted the citizens of Addison are with their Fire Department but with any knowledge of them at all I'm sure that you must be just as proud of them as I am.

In the four years that I've been with the Police Department I have experienced quite a few fire calls and had the pleasure of watching these men work. It's nothing but amazing, the interest each and every man shows in their job as a fireman and toward their department.

They started out years ago on the right foot and have done nothing but traveled the road to progress. Can one realize how many free man hours have been donated and the work that had to be done to reach the top ranks? I have a vague idea and I'd like to congratulate all of them, past and present.

Child Guidance Center Could Answer a Need

You're a reasonably sane mother and you've taken the kids out for a quiet afternoon of shopping. Things go well until the seven-year-old demands a box of particularly noxious cold cereal. When you explain that it gives him a rash and wouldn't he rather have another brand of cereal, he says "YECH" and begins to whine.

Then the four-year-old makes a break for a neatly stacked display of dog food. Before you catch her, the display topples and you've lost your cool.

All of which is followed by a swat on the seven-year-old's behind and a too loud scream of disgust at the seven-year-old to please keep his mouth shut. Then you notice 200 sets of eyes focused on you with the same look in them "Shameful woman. Bet she beats them at home."

Many of the parents I see in the schools find their homes in a similar state of chaos and upheaval. Many frankly are at their wits end trying to psyche their kids out to maintain some peace and quiet in the home. As one parent said, "My home is like a re-enactment of Pork Chop Hill only we're the bad guys."

To help parents in our community with similar management problems several interested parents have discussed organizing a community child guidance center.

The model they intend to use for the center would be based upon the very successful community child guidance centers organized by Dr. Rudolf Dreikurs, a noted Chicago psychiatrist and author.

Credits Addison Firemen with Saving Her Life

My husband and I wish to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to the Addison Volunteer Fire Department for the efficient way in which they handled a call from us on March 24 at 11 p.m.

It was a defect in the furnace that filled our house with smoke in less than 10 minutes.

I suffered an acute coronary due to lack of oxygen and smoke inhalation. If the firemen had not insisted that I take oxygen, I probably would not be writing this.

Dr. Dreikurs suggests that many parents can be helped at once by observing the counseling of a single family. He notes that such an approach is not only effective, but is also inexpensive and well suited to such a community as ours where we have litttle access to more orthodox treatment settings.

To demonstrate the Dreikurs approach, several of his associates have been invited to participate in a family counseling session. This free demonstration will be held Monday, May 16, at 8:15 in the Hoffman Estates Village Hall and is open to the public.

With the support of your interest and attendance at the meeting we can hope that a low cost child guidance facility for you and your children can be established in our community by this fall.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMER

From Oscar Fretz, Salford, Pa.: I remember in the old days people made natural ice from ice ponds and placed it in small ice storage houses.

Ice was often cut twice in a winter when it got 12" to 18" thick. The men would go onto the pond, bore a hole, and then start sawing out blocks that would weigh about 200 pounds each. The blocks were pulled up a wooden ramp into the storage house and then packed with sawdust.

The ice storage houses were usually about 20 feet square and some were 30 feet high, with a 10" thick insulated wall of sawdust.

The ice kept well all summer. Each morning several blocks would be taken out, washed and loaded on the ice wagon. We lived near a man who had a small dairy farm and also an ice pond. He sold both dairy products and ice on his route. This man was very particular, and kept his ice pond clean. Still, we boys could not resist the temptation to swim in the pond, which was behind the farm.

When the old Dutchman came home from his route, he always checked the pond. If we had sneaked in to swim, he came running toward us, bellowing like a bull. We would dash for the cover of the woods, usually leaving behind a sock or some other piece of clothing.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Stevie Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cain, 536 S. Waterman, has just wound up one of the biggest weeks in his young life. First, his parents gave a supper party for his fourth birthday May 4. Celebrants in addition to his sisters, Cathy and Laurie, were family friends, the Richard Bower family of Wheeling.

Before the glow of the celebration wore off, the Cains were on their way to Milwaukee for the wedding of Barbara's brother, Wayne Henn of that city. The role of ringbearer was assigned to Stevie; his mother acted as a bridesmaid.

Mrs. Emma Westman, 520 S. Forrest, is home after spending most of the winter in Hot Springs. Headquartered at the Palace Apartments, Mrs. Westman, a deaconess emeritus of the First Christian Church of Arlington Heights, spent her time at the famous resort writing the meditations which will eventually be used in the Sunday church bulletins.

LAST FRIDAY she and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Westman, with whom she makes her home, were guests at the mother-daughter banquet given at the church by the Christian Women's Fellowship.

Cynthia Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, was hostess at a baby shower in her home Thursday evening. Ten fellow employees at Northwest Community Hospital came to shower the guest of honor, head nurse of the pediatric department of the hospital.

When the guests at Debby Cook's 15th birthday party arrived at the Cook home, 525 S. Forrest, on Saturday, they were greeted by a scene reminiscent of Hawaii. To the strains of guitar music, the guests dined on food in keeping with the party theme. Among those present were school friends, Jane and Sue, Jackie Zeleski, Nancy Dunlap, Carol Zwitser, Jane and Karen Messerin, Jane Denne and Barbara Beck.

Debby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Cook.

ARLINGTON ACRES boasts many couples who chose the month of May to be married, among them Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons, who marked their 23rd anniversary May 1 by having dinner at Erne's Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling with close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Brown, 432 S. Phelps, treated themselves to a "sentimental journey" Saturday, when they went dining and dancing at Willowbrook in Western Springs, where they had celebrated several earlier anniversaries. They were marking eight years of marriage May 3. Joining them for the evening were long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Palicka of Lisle.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, were married 29 years May 8. Their daughter, Cherie, who lives in Chicago, spent the day with her parents and helped them celebrate Mothers' Day as well as their anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. A. E. Dassonville were congratulated on their 33rd anniversary May 8 at a dinner for family members Sunday at their home, 428 S. Phelps.

Tracy Kulisch, 3 May 2, thoroughly enjoyed being the center of attention at the dinner which her parents, June and Harry, gave for her the day before. Maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Muenow of Park Ridge were among the guests serenading Tracy.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served the following afternoon to Kevin and Kelly Donovan and their mother, next door neighbors as well as good friends.

The end of the bowling season is bringing a rash of bowling banquets, starting with that of the league in which the Kulisches bowl. The Monday Night Moose Mixed League held its banquet Saturday at the Moose Lodge in Des Plaines. Harry, who has bowled with the league since it started, wound up as a member of the first place team for the first time, and is the proud possessor of a trophy to prove it.

Arlington Acres has its share of women bowlers, many of whom bowl with the Early Birds League on Tuesday afternoon. Their end of the season luncheon was held Tuesday of last week at Ehlen's Green Tree Inn in Bensenville. Area bowlers who enjoyed their last get-together until September were Vicki Schmidt, Esther Farina and Marie Marshall on the first place team, Marj Ashbrook, Vonnie Donovan, Charlotte Hermanson, Rosemary Burke, Mayme Ehlen and Peggy Yowell. Neighborhood league members unable to attend were Cece Chappell and Louise Johnson.

THE YMCA Wednesday Morning Ladies' League has two members in the area, Chris Gryzik and Sharlene Wright, who went to the league luncheon at Old Orchard Country Club on Wednesday of last week.

Dinner-of-the-Month Club held its May get-together Saturday, meeting first at the home of the Howard Schulzes in Des Plaines. The Al Mays of Hawthorn Woods and the Roy Stoehrs of Arlington Acres joined the Schulzes for cocktails and dinner at Bino's in Franklin Park.

Many happy returns of the day are wished Robert De Stephanis, 532 S. Waterman, who was 17 May 6.

The Charles Miners, 421 S. Gibbons, spent the weekend in Miller, Ind. They visited Arlyn's father, Charles Lustgarten, who spent three weeks in the hospital following surgery, and is now recuperating at home. (A

PTA Cites Teacher

The next meeting of the Dryden PTA of Arlington Heights will be the annual teacher recognition tea on Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the school. A former teacher, Miss Lois Theis, will be presented with a life membership to the PTA in appreciation of her service at Dryden. She is presently doing graduate work at a University in Minnesota.

The instrumental students under the direction of Mrs. Drury will perform. Officers for 1966-67 will be installed. (A

Shaw Comedy of Ideas on Arlington's Stage

Students Present 'Major Barbara'

It is not money, but the lack of money, that is the root of all evil. At least that is the theorm explored in George Bernard Shaw's "Major Barbara." The comedy of ideas is set for Thursday through Saturday, May 19-21, in Arlington High's Little Theatre.

The director, Douglas K. Murphy, describes it as "one of the most senior plays in years." With one sophomore and two juniors completing an otherwise senior cast, the play has one of the highest percentages of seniors since the senior plays gave way to all-school plays twelve years ago, reports Murphy.

SET IN 1905, "Major Barbara" comically explores some of man's most serious problems — war, charity, salvation, and poverty. The title role is Barbara Undershaft, a daughter of wealth, granddaughter of an earl, who has become a major in the Salvation Army. She invites her father, a multi-millionaire maker of war weapons to visit her Salvation Army surroundings and observe her work. Her father agrees if she will agree to visit his "death and destruction factory."

The plot becomes a battle between the father and daughter in their tug-of-war in ideals.

In the role of Major Barbara is Susan J. Stratton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Stratton, 410 N. Carlyle Pl., Arlington Heights. A senior, Susan previously had roles in "Once in a Lifetime," "Blithe Spirit," "The Philadelphia Story," "The Music Man," and "Bye, Bye, Birdie."

Portraying the father is senior Douglas A. Olipra, also a veteran thespian at Arlington. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Olipra, 702 W. Maple, he previously appeared in "Once in a Lifetime," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," "Othello," "The Admirable Crichton," and the musical, "The Fantasticks."

Wife of Andrew Undershaft is Lady Britomart, who has been separated from her husband since her three children were babies, played by senior Karen McNeeley. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. McNeeley, 605 S. Dunton, Karen previously appeared in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Othello," and "The Admirable Crichton."

BROTHER OF Barbara is moral, stuffed-shirt Stephen Undershaft, played by senior Lee Combs. Having appeared in "Othello" and "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," Lee is the son of Mrs. Florence Combs, 622 S. Dryden.

The high-toned sister of Barbara, who wishes to live as one of the upper classes, is Sarah Undershaft, played by senior Donnice McReynolds. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McReynolds, 538 S. Lincoln Ln. Her preivous appearance was that of the leader of the rock-and-roll fans in "Bye, Bye, Birdie."

Newcomer to Arlington High School is Harry Tennant, who plays Barbara's fiance, also a member of the Salvation Army. One of two juniors in the cast, Harry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tennant, Sr., 119 S. Kaspar. Harry appeared in "The Male Animal" while a student at Birmingham Seaholm High School in Birmingham, Michigan.

As one of Barbara's tougher customers at the Salvation Army shelter, senior Tom Jacobs portrays Bill Walker. Completing a year as president of the Student Council, Tom has also previously appeared in "Once in a Lifetime," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "The Admirable Crichton." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Jacobs, 636 S. Pine.

SENIOR DONALD Grote is cast as Charles Lomax, fiance to Sarah. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Grote, 905 N. Fernandez, Don previously appeared in "Othello."

Underclassmen are represented by one sophomore, Stephen Busch, son of Mrs. Betty K. Busch, 119 S. Evergreen. Having served as the assistant to the director on "Othello," and on numerous stage crews, Steve is making his first acting appearance.

As Peter Shirley, a victim of unemployment, is Gary Fichter, a senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Fichter, 123 S. Kaspar. His previous appearance was in "The Admirable Crichton."

As a young Salvation Army worker, Jenny Hill, is Rebecca Balding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Balding, 26 N. Salem. "The Admirable Crichton" is her previous production at Arlington. At Shawnee-Mission West in Overland, Kansas, she appeared in "Call Me Madam," "Teahouse of the August Moon," and "Our Town."

AS A MUNITIONS worker, Bilton, Bruce Elliott plays his third role in his senior year. He was featured in "The Fantasticks" and "Oklahoma!" Previous to his senior year he was in "The Music Man" and "Bye, Bye, Birdie." At Belfry Theatre, Williams Bay, Wisconsin, he was in "The Fantasticks" and "Once Upon a Mattress." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lang Elliott, 641 S. Burton.

A Salvation Army commander is Mrs. Baines, played by senior Kris Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Swanson, 316 S. Yale. Kris previously appeared in "Once in a Lifetime," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "Blithe Spirit."

The other junior in the cast is James Sergey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam M. Sergey, 203 S. Harvard. He was also in "The Phiiadelphia Story."

Technical director is Mrs. Vernell Doyle. Director of ticket sales and house manager is Miss Lyovonne Trad. Designer for the posters is Mr. Fritz Michaelis, member of the Art Department.

Tickets at $1.00 will be on sale at the door and in advance by all cast members. The opening night curtain is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday curtains are at 8 p.m. (10Y

Directors are Miss Maribeth Kirchhoff, vocal; Boyd White, vocal and Frederick Schmoyer, instrumental.

Tickets are 50 cents and will be on sale at the box office.

Academies Deadline

Appointments are now being considered in Illinois for appointments to the United States Military, Naval and Air Force academies. In addition, Illinois is allotted 15 appointments to the Merchant Marine Academy.

Any young man residing in Illinois who will be between the ages of 17 and 22 on July 1, 1967, may compete for one of the appointments. Each academy class begins on July 1 of each year. It takes about one year to screen applicants.

If a young man wishes to compete for nomination to the academies for the class beginning July 1, 1967, he must apply before June 1, 1966.

THIS MEANS that juniors should apply now so that if they are appointed, they will not have to wait one year before entering one of the academies.

All applicants who apply before June 1 will be scheduled to take the Academy Designation Examination on July 11. All applications received after June 1 will be deferred until next year.

Interested high school juniors are asked to confer with their college counselors in their respective high schools for further information. (15Y

Mountain Lodge Is Post-Prom Location

A trip to the Chestnut Mountain Lodge, overlooking the Mississippi River near Galena, Illinois, will be the place for the after-the-prom activities of junior and senior students of Forest View High School.

This "Fun Galore" weekend, starting May 20, will cost each couple $30. After the prom the students will take buses from Forest View to Hinsdale where they will board a Burlington special train.

Departing time will be 2:30 a.m. and to keep the students in a merry and swinging mood, music, food, games, and prizes will entertain them.

"The Unleashed," a Forest View combo, will provide the music.

Arrival at Galena will be the signal for a ski lift, which will take everyone up to the lodge for a buffet breakfast. Activities at the lodge will include swimming, dancing, hiking, baseball, horseshoes, hay rides, and tandem bicycling.

To top an already beautiful day, there will be a trip on the Mississippi River. Everyone will board a large glass bottom river boat for a ride to South Savannah, Illinois.

There all will debark and again board the Burlington special train back to Hinsdale.

THE ENTIRE trip is covered by special insurance and provides chaperones and a nurse. It is sponsored by the "Parents After-The-Prom Club of Arlington Heights, Inc." a nonprofit organization including parents of juniors and seniors.

Applications for tickets must be signed by parents of both the boy and his date. Tickets may be picked up from the Arlington Heights National Bank, 14 E. Campbell Street, Arlington Heights.

Students are requested to obtain their tickets as soon as possible because the trip is limited in the number of accommodations. (10Y

411 Pupils Take Part in Project

About 411 freshmen and seniors at Sacred Heart of Mary High School are about to take part in one of the largest and most important educational projects in history, involving about 100,000 students in four states.

The project, SCOPE (School to College: opportunities for Post-Secondary Education), was planned and is being carried out by the Center for the Study of Higher Education, University of California, Berkeley, in cooperation with the College Entrance Examination Board.

In Illinois, Sacred Heart of Mary is one of the 16 nonpublic schools participating in the program along with 51 public institutions.

If young people are to have good educations, staff, advisory committees of educators must know more about the decision they make concerning their education, careers and vocations, and the kinds of factors which influence their choices.

THE CENTER will follow students in California, Illinois, Massachusetts and North Carolina over a five year period in order to understand more about school and home influences; about student attitudes and opinions as they develop and change over time, as well as about the kinds of educational and career information available to students.

Since little is known about these important areas, the SCOPE findings will be helpful to students, counselors, and educators generally. The SCOPE staff will make available by publications and conferences the important things which are learned from this project, but will protect the privacy of individual students and schools.

The project has received the endorsement of Ray Page, superintendent of schools in Illinois. (10Y

Student Historian Honors for Three

Three Prospect High School juniors have been named "Student Historians of the Year" by Illinois History Magazine.

The students are Jeff Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bates, 1317 Campbell, Arlington Heights; Roger Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Meyer, 115 S. Elm, Mount Prospect; and Bobbi Butz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butz, 807 Dresser Drive, Mount Prospect.

The students were chosen on the basis of articles which they submitted to the magazine. Jeff's article, "Much Quoted Myths," appeared in the February issue. Roger's "Atomic Electricity," appeared in the March issue, and Bobbi's "A Great Librarian" will be printed in the May issue of the magazine.

THESE THREE students, their teacher, Alex J. Schmidt, and other students who have had articles published in Illinois History will attend award ceremonies at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield on May 19.

There the student historians will receive certificates of achievement from Gov. Otto Kerner, and the winners of the cash awards will be announced.

Afterwards the students, their teachers and their parents will attend a reception at the Executive Mansion.

Illinois History is a publication of the Illinois State Historical Society and is printed eight times a year. It publishes articles submitted by students from junior and senior high schools throughout the state.

Timely Gesture

Four graduates from the Palatine area won't have trouble keeping appointments for some time to come, thanks to the gesture of a Palatine jeweler, Ray F. Soucie.

Each won a watch merely by walking into Soucie Jewelers and signing his name and address on a registration card.

"This is my way of congratulating the young people of this village upon their graduation from either junior high school or high school," Soucie said. "There are no strings attached to the gesture whatsoever."

WINNER OF THE man's watch was Clinton Prahl, 129 N. Dean Drive, Palatine. He will graduate from Palatine High School. Winner of the lady's watch was Nancy Dempster, 742 N. Williams Drive, Palatine. She is also a graduate-to-be of Palatine High School.

Winner of the boy's watch was Thomas Madors, 437 N. Inverway, Palatine. He is in the eighth grade at Paddock Junior High School. Winner of the girl's watch was Cynthia Postle, 864 Sterling Road, Palatine. She also is an eighth grader at Paddock Junior High School.

Soucie's drawing was at his jewelry store in Palatine on May 2. (10Y

8 Admitted To Carthage

Eight students from three area high schools have been admitted to Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis.

Six of these high school seniors are from Arlington High School. They are Jerry Lee Hahnfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hahnfeld, 505 W. FROM RIDGE PARK

On April 30, the Henry Bellitos, 833 N. Patton were feted at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. B. Burton in Wauconda, with cocktails and dinner in honor of the Bellitos' 25th wedding anniversary. The following day, the family congratulated Dolores' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green of Evanston, on their 47th wedding anniversary with Simonini's Restaurant the scene of the celebration.

Guests started arriving at 3 p.m. April 30 at Pat and Robert Brud's home, 1705 W. Oakton, for dinner and a family celebration for the 45th wedding anniversary of Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brud of Chicago. Guests included the George Swiech family of Northlake, John Swiech family of Mount Caroll, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Konowalik of Chicago, and the Don Arnold family of Des Plaines. Including the grandchildren and great-grandchildren, there was a total of 55 thre for the doings.

RANDY FISCHER, 917 N. Patton, son of the Norman Fischers, was confirmed at St. Peter Lutheran Church on May 1. After the services, a family celebration was held. Included were Adeline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hoffmann of Chicago, brother, Rev. and Mrs. Albert Hoffmann, sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Brautigan of Chicago, and Norman's brothers, the Carl Fischer family of Oak Park and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fischer of Chicago.

The Vincent Cunninghams, 802 N. Harvard, celebrated their May 1 wedding anniversary with dinner at the Glenview Country Club on April 30. They were accompanied by Lorraine's two sisters and their husbands.

The Al Kleins' latest addition to the family, James Albert, was christened at St. James Church in Arlington Heights on May 1. A family party was held at their home, 1003 N. Kennicott, after the services and guests included the baby's godparents, Al's sister and her husband, Bob and Louise Albano, the senior Kleins, Mr. and Mrs. Al Klein of Blue Island and another sister, Jerry and Maryann Gustavson and family of Blue Island. There was a total of 20 grandchildren keeping the grown-ups hopping.

MRS. NEWMAN Cryer, 1007 N. Kennicott, was treated royally by her son, Paul, when she and two friends, Mrs. Mary Witt and Mrs. Jamie Truelove, went to the University of Illinois in Champaign on April 29. It was the annual Mother's weekend and as guests of the students they were treated like queens during the busy weekend. Friday night Dorothy was Paul's guest at a performance of "Little Me" put on by the students. Afterwards there were refreshments at the Phi Kappa Tau House where Dorothy was staying. Saturday evening, after shopping and a visit to Lincoln Square, they went to a song contest between the sororities and fraternities in which their sons were entered. After some dancing at the house following the contest, the mothers were serenaded by the boys until early Sunday morning.

On May 3, Dorothy invited some close friends of Jean Kunberger over for a kaffee klatsch. Bearing unlabeled canned goods were Marge Dunne, Ruth Witthoeft, Shirley Winkleman, Madeline Keller, Claire Remer, Mickey Kubik, Laverne Swenson and Nan Stocking.

Jean and Harry Kunberger and their family will be doing some visiting before settling down in Barrington Park after they leave 926 N. Kennicott, where they would have lived for 15 years this June. Jean and the children will be visiting the Lauers in Birmingham, Mich., former Arlington Heights residents, and Jean's sister, Jan Stringer in Saginaw.

BERENICE AND Elmer Carlson entertained Elmer's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dippert, when they came for a visit from Rapid City, S. D.

It was the Dipperts' 25th wedding anniversary and in the way of a celebration, Berenice and Elmer had a family get-together at 1711 W. Oakton. Guests included Berenice and Elmer's daughter and her husband, the Ed Olsons of Hanover Park, Elmer's sister and her husband the George Randalls of Chicago, and his brother, the Clarence Carlsons of Roselle.

Laurie Kaufmann, 806 N. Harvard, celebrated her 10th birthday April 30 when her mother, Mrs. James Kaufmann, cooked spaghetti and served an Italian style meal to the luncheon guests. It was topped with a birthday cake after which the children played games.

The Vince Lane family, 923 N. Race, enjoyed a smorgasbord in Lake Zurich on April 27 to celebrate Steve's 15th birthday.

The Merle Paul home at 815 W. Oakton was empty on Mother's Day, as they went to Harvard, Ill., to spend the day with Florence's mother, Mrs. Louise P. Lemker. They were the guests of Florence's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lemker.

RUTH AND Richard Platt, 806 N. Kennicott, were happy to receive the news that their son, Jeff, was awarded an art scholarship for Illinois Wesleyan in Bloomington for next fall.

Don Barnak, 10-year-old son of the Walter Barnaks, 916 N. Fernandez, came home from McCormick Place on May 8 proud owner of two blue ribbons. In the state olympic contest sponsored by the Illinois Music Assoc. of Chicago, he won first place for an accordion solo on Saturday and on Sunday the band he played in won and he received a blue ribbon. Don's age placed him in the junior elementary group for his first time out.

The George Wojtkiewicz family were guests of Joan's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rhode in Norridge Park, for dinner on April 29. On April 30, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Petersen of Chicago were guests at 920 N. Ridge.

Ridge Parkers extend a welcome to Edna and Patrick Marsh who moved from Grosse Isle, Mich., to 939 N. Salem this past month. Mr. Marsh is a greenhouse sales engineer with Lord and Burnham in Des Plaines.

FROM SHERWOOD

After 27 years at 1106 Clarendon, Jim and Jackie Wood have taken up farming near Oxford, Wis. Jim has been retired and is now going into something a little different. They've been traveling back and forth since last fall and are now going to make the move permanent. Their mailing address will be the Wisconsin Dells.

The Donald Putziers are home at 1144 N. Harvard after 10 days in Florida. Flying down, they visited his mother, Mrs. Ed. W. Putzier in Clearwater. Everybody enjoyed the swimming except their daughter, Julie, who picked the wrong time to break her arm; two days before they left on their vacation. She did, however, enjoy their visit to Weeki Wachee for the underwater show.

MRS. DOROTHY Faust, 1314 W. Clarendon, and Mrs. Lucille Rademacher, 1105 N. Princeton, kept each other company when they went to Champaign on April 30. They went to the University of Illinois for Mother's Day weekend. Dorothy was Patty's guest and Lucille was Janice's. A highlight of the visit was the student production of "Little Me."

Sherwood women ended their bowling season with a luncheon at Rolling Green Country Club on May 5. Prizes for first place were taken by the Elm team. New officers elected for the 1966-67 season are: president, Evelyn Brogan, vice president, Marian Atwater; secretary, Genie Sundstrom; treasurer, Winnie Irmin, and sergeant-at-arms, Frankie Brinson.

Members of the Sherwood Bridge Group held their dinner at the Carousel Restaurant on May 7 and announced winners for the year: first, the Robert Choderas, 1216 Marian Road; second, the Robert Brinsons, 1102 Burgoyne Road, and third, the Frank Sullys, 1117 Watling Road.

Those attending were required to wear a hat representing a song title. Marilyn Helfers, 1215 Watling, won for her creation "A Lonely Little Petunia in an Onion Patch" and Dr. Don Jessen, 1212 W. Clarendon, won for his work of art "Old Grey Bonnet With a Blue Robbon On It." Judging the contest were Jack Burgess, 1218 W. Clarendon, Bert Joost, 1202 Burgoyne Road, and Frank Sully.

The weekend of April 30 the Wilbur Pownalls, 1105 N. Patton had as houseguests Gladys' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wilton of Minneapolis, former Arlington Heights residents.

Mrs. Robert Bronwell, 1117 Burgoyne Road, attended the IFWC convention at the Sherman Hotel as a delegate on May 5, when Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson was installed as president.

A family celebration followed Cindy's confirmation at the Methodist Church in Arlington Heights on May 8, with relatives from Janesville, Wis. and Chicago included. (A

Cold Weather Fails to Dampen Mother's Day Spirits

The unseasonably and unreasonably cold, wet weather which has inflicted itself upon midwesterners these first two weeks of May did little to dampen the spirits of Arlington Heights as they celebrated Mother's Day by opening their homes and paying calls.

The Albert Colianni family, 531 S. Fernandez, spent Sunday visiting in the Lanark home of Mrs. Colianni's sister and family, the Melvin Reinders. They were accompanied by Mrs. Colianni's mother, Mrs. Huldah Olson of Chicago.

Fred Emig Jr., a freshman at Quincy College in Quincy, spent Mother's Day weekend with his parents, the Fred Emigs, 1019 N. Highland.

A weekend guest in the Paul Barnes home, 702 S. Dunton, was their nephew, Robert Johnson of Dunkirk, N. Y., a freshman at Purdue.

THE LEON WEBSTERS, 5 W. Olive, left by plane on April 30 for a trip south. Mrs. Webster spent six days visiting friends in Atlanta, Ga., while Mr. Webster traveled on to Miami to attend a convention. He joined Mrs. Webster in Atlanta before their return home Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. T. William Jones, 1309 Leona Terr., have been entertaining a recent houseguest, Mrs. William Hughes of Carnarvon, North Wales.

Spending the weekend in Lansing, Mich., with their daughter and family, the Francis Websters, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halama, 825 S. Highland. The highlight of the weekend came Sunday, when they witnessed the christening of their 2½-month-old grandson, Robert Wayne, at Westminster Presbyterian Church. Four generations were present at the christening, including the baby's great-grandmother, Mrs. Berniece Webster, and his paternal grandparents.

Saturday evening dinner guests in the Forrest Wolf home at 119 Pear Tree Lane were the R. C. Deckers and the Albert G. Isaacs. On Tuesday evening, the Wolfs celebrated Mr. Wolf's birthday by going out to dinner and a performance of "Hello, Dolly."

A BUFFET dinner for 27 was held May 1 in the Harry Knaack home at 202 W. Euclid, following the confirmation of their son, Scott, at St. Peter Lutheran Church. Among those present were Scott's paternal grandparents, the Harry H. Knaacks of Long Grove.

On April 18, the Knaacks' daughter, Patty, celebrated her fourth birthday, although her party was held several days prior to her natal day. In attendance to enjoy games, cake and ice cream were her cousins, Heidi, Jeffery, Heather and Holly Weiland of Deerfield, and several friends.

Kimberly Knaack was 6 April 30 and celebrated at a party a few days in advance. In addition to her cousins, Kimberly was the youthful hostess to a group of girlfriends.

MAY 6 marked the 11th birthday of Karen Knaack, who entertained five girlfriends at a luncheon in the Knaack home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, 19 N. Pine, traveled to Ann Arbor, Mich., on April 29 to attend the graduation of their daughter, Kathie, from the University of Michigan. Kathie, an English major, received her B.A. degree.

Mrs. Baker reported that Linda, a sophomore at Kalamazoo College, is currently on her work quarter, which she is spending in New York City as an employee of the American Field Service.

JEANNE GUTRU, a TWA hostess, brought back live lobsters from Boston for her dad's birthday dinner in April. Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, 520 S. Pine, were dinner guests.

The Clark Gutrus of 531 S. Pine spent the May 1 weekend in Springfield, visiting with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gutru of Wichita, Kan., who were attending a convention.

Mother's Day meant a family reunion at the Ralph Clabaughs 510 Beverly. James was home, having completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., before going into Army Officer's Candidate's school, and Judy and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Doman, are here from Devon, Pa., to see her parents and brother.

Mrs. Clabaugh is busy with plans for the Northwest Community Hospital First Annual Benefit Ball to be held Saturday. A former president of the auxiliary, she is advisory assistant to Dr. C. Soter, chairman.

MRS. SHIRLEY Schneberger, 319 Burton, recently returned from a Caribbean cruise with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Laurin. Sailing on the Norwegian ship, Meteor, they visited Grenada, Martinique, Guadeloupe and saw many small islands where natives and crafts are still primitive.

Scott Schneberger graduates from Arlington High School this June and he and his mother are moving to 502 Shadywood, Elk Grove Village.

Lake Lawn, Delavan, Wis., was the destination of a group of Arlington residents for the May 1 weekend. The Bert Johnsons, 415 Grove, and members of the L.O.F. Club relaxed, swam and golfed. Fellow fun lovers were the Ed Davidheisers, Bob Fredericks, Walt Simons, Bob Starrs and the Don Wilsons.

"Since all my relatives are out of town, we get together when spring weather arrives," said Mrs. Arnice Basil, 427 Windsor.

Her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Peterson of Long Branch, N. J., visited in April to be joined here by her sister's son and family from Rockford, the Bryan Allans.

ON THE MAY 1 weekend, the Basils and daughter, Joanne, went to Lansing, Mich., to visit Mrs. Basil's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William Jensen. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jensen of Escanaba, Mich., will arrive here the end of May.

John Kellin, 105 Stratford, will be 9 May 14 and he will entertain at an outside luncheon, weather permitting, and then on to the movies.

Walter Kieseg returned from a business trip to Honolulu, Japan and the Bahamas in time for Mother's Day and Louise Kiesig's seventh annual Derby Day party on May 7 at 1709 Kensington.

This party is an eagerly anticipated event. It starts with the derby and lasts well past midnight with a buffet included.

Everyone will be sorry to see the Ray Krekels of 214 Gibbons move to San Francisco when school is out. Kim is at Miner Junior High and Vince, Steve and Rickey are at Windsor School.

The Harvey Hoths were welcomed by a housewarming party the very night they moved from 1305 Kensington to 1400 N. Dryden; however, the Hoth children were complete with mumps on moving day. (A

Business-Clergy Relationship Topic

"Bridging the Gap Between the Business World and the Clergy — A Pilot Study" will be the topic of a talk by Charles Kallander Sunday when he meets with the United Fellowship of the Arlington Heights United Church of Christ.

Kallander represents the Chicago City Missionary Society and for two-years has been working on the Chicago industrial project which is an experiment run by the society to help to give direction to clergy in serving the business world. Kallander is a graduate engineer who has worked in industry and has studied two years at a seminary.

THE PROGRAM includes a co-operative dinner at 7 p.m.

Prior to Kallander's talk, new officers will be installed by the outgoing president, Mrs. Kirke White. They are: Mrs. Donald Swanson, president; Mrs. Russell Gardner, vice-president; Mrs. Carl Scheske, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Englehart, treasurer. (A

MORSE INVENTS WORLD'S FIRST METHOD OF RAPID DISTANCE COMMUNICATION

Of all the famous inventors in our history, none had a more unlikely background than Samuel F. B. Morse.

He started out—not as an inventor—but as an artist. He was a portrait painter and taught art at New York University.

Morse didn't give up painting until he was 46 years old. Then he turned to inventing and developed the telegraph seven years later.

Morse sent the first telegraph message from Washington, D.C. to Baltimore May 24, 1844. The historic message was: "What hath God wrought".

To appreciate the importance of the invention of the telegraph, one must realize that up to that time there was no way in the world to communicate instantly from one point to another of any distance.

Thus, Morse's telegraph stands as the first of the great modern communication systems developed on earth.

Arlington Greens

Women's Bridge, sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Assoc., played the final game of the season on Thursday in the A. J. Tomaso home, 635 E. Clarendon. High scorers were Ann McLean, 3290; Jean Waffle, 3160, and Marge Bengal, 2860. Both the women's and men's groups presented the Tomasos, hosts for the past year, with a door knocker for their new home. The Tomasos plan to move from the Greens early in summer.

A meeting of the Arlington Greens Assoc. will be held at Olive School on Tuesday, May 17, beginning at 8 p.m. All residents are invited to be on hand to help elect officers for the coming year and meet the newcomers to the neighborhood.

RECENT GUEST in the Angelo Pettenuzzo home on N. Dryden was her sister, Miss Dolores Zanetti of Marina Del Rey, Calif. A motor trip from the West Coast during Easter vacation began the two-week visit with her sister and family and other relatives in the Chicago area.

Leaving the Greens last week were the Joseph Readings of N. Hickory. They moved into the family home at 1142 late last summer, after her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly, transferred to Kansas City, ending a 12-year residence in the Greens. New home for the Readings is in Willow Springs.

Jennifer Joan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chase of E. Clarendon, was christened in St. James Catholic Church on Mother's Day by the Rev. Robert J. Hinterberger. Godparents were cousins, Kenneth Bauer of E. Euclid and Mary Jo Herff of North Pine. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Chase of S. Arlington Heights Road and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Obrest of North Pine were guests at the afternoon party to mark the occasion.

ABOUT TO move from the Greens are Doris and Ken Jennings, who will end their 13 year residence at 1137 N. Beverly Lane today. Their new home is in Northbrook, at 3025 Crestwick Lane.

A flight back from Granville, Ohio, on Sunday evening ended a Mother's Day weekend visit with their daughter, Sandy, at Denison University for Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson of East Olive. The previous week they returned from an eight-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Dash in Carmel, Calif., accounting for most of the 6,600 miles they covered beginning in mid-April. Easter weekend at Lake Lawn at Delavan, Wis. began their trips, with Sandy finishing up spring vacation and returning to classes. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson motored to Lancaster, Pa., for a three-day stay to attend the train collector's convention, before their trip to the West Coast.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD Julie Carson of North Hickory celebrated her birthday Saturday afternoon. In keeping with the spring motif, violets bedecked her individual birthday cakes served to Kathy Eidler, Kathy Walberg, Valerie Farnan, Patti Shannon, Eileen Hoffman, Cindy Patti, Jane Henricks, sister Jennifer, Stacey Rabe and Karen Tyrell. Games and party-fare rounded out the afternoon of celebrating.

James Nelson of East Oakton Street, an eighth grader at St. James School, was chosen as one of the Supreme Grand Knights at the Knights of the Altar Investiture at St. James Catholic Church on Sunday. The ceremony was attended by parents and relatives of the more than 150 altar boys who received pins and certificates.(A

Ordinance 0-66-6

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF A WATERWORKS SYSTEM AND A SEWERAGE SYSTEM, COMBINING SUCH SYSTEMS INTO A COMBINED WATERWORKS AND SEWERAGE SYSTEM OF THE VILLAGE OF BUFFALO GROVE, ILLINOIS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF $780,000 WATERWORKS AND SEWERAGE REVENUE BONDS OF THE VILLAGE TO PAY THE COST OF SUCH CONSTRUCTION, EXTENSION AND IMPROVEMENT, SUCH BONDS TO BE PAYABLE SOLELY OUT OF THE REVENUES OF SUCH SYSTEM.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF BUFFALO GROVE, COOK AND LAKE COUNTIES, ILLINOIS, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Pursuant to Division 139 of Article 11 of the Illinois Municipal Code, approved May 29, 1961, as amended (the "Act"), the Village of Buffalo Grove, Cook and Lake Counties, Illinois (the "Village"), determines and declares it to be necessary for the public health and welfare of the Village to construct, operate and maintain a combined waterworks and sewerage system in the Glen Grove Subdivision of the Village, such facilities consisting of a water plant including mains, wells, pumps, purification facilities, controls and appurtenances and system of sanitary sewer mains, lift station, and appurtenances in accordance with the preliminary plans and estimates dated April 28, 1966, prepared by John Dudley Hooper, an engineer employed by the Village (the "Engineer"). Such waterworks system and such sewerage system shall be owned and operated by the Village as a combined utility, known as the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System of the Village (the "System").

Section 2. The preliminary plans contemplate that the waterworks system will be constructed in two consecutive phases. The estimated cost of constructing the System, including engineering, legal and other expenses and interest cost incurred during construction and the period ending six months after May 1, 1967, the estimated date of completion of construction of phase one of the waterworks system (hereinafter the "Estimated Date of Completion"), as prepared by the Engineer and as hereby estimated, is the sum of $780,000. It is advantageous in and to the public interest that the Village borrow the sum of $780,000 and issue Bonds hereinafter described in evidence thereof. The period of usefulness of the System is determined to be forty years or more from the date of completion of construction of the System.

Section 3. For the purpose of paying the cost of constructing the System as aforesaid there will be issued and sold revenue bonds of the Village to be designated Waterworks and Sewerage Revenue Bonds, Series 1966 (hereinafter called the "Bonds") in the principal amount of $780,000, which Bonds shall be dated May 1, 1966, be of the denomination of $5,000 each, be numbered consecutively from 1 to 156, inclusive, bear interest at the rate of not to exceed 5½% per annum, payable November 1, 1966 and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of May and of November in each year, and mature serially as follows:

Maturity Date (May 1)	Principal Amount	Maturity Date (May 1)	Principal Amount
1969	$10,000	1978	$40,000
1970	10,000	1979	45,000
1971	25,000	1980	50,000
1972	30,000	1981	50,000
1973	30,000	1982	55,000
1974	30,000	1983	60,000
1975	30,000	1984	65,000
1976	30,000	1985	70,000

		1987	50,000

The Bonds or any of them shall be redeemable at the option of the Village at any time prior to maturity at par and accrued interest to the date set for redemption. If less than all of the Bonds are called for redemption at any time, the Bonds shall be redeemed in the inverse order in which they mature. If less than all of the Bonds of any maturity are called for redemption, then the Bonds of such maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any reasonable manner.

Notice of redemption of any of the Bonds prior to their maturity shall be given by registered mail to each holder of registered bonds at the address shown on the Registrar's books and as to all other holders by one publication in the BOND BUYER published in the City of New York, New York, or in the event it ceases publication, then in a financial newspaper published in the City of Chicago, Illinois, at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption thereof when the date of redemption coincides with an interest payment date, and when the date of redemption does not coincide with an interest payment date, by an additional publication not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days prior to the date of redemption, and by filing such notice with the paying agent of the Bonds at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption.

All such Bonds called for redemption shall cease to bear interest from and after the date set for redemption.

Section 4. Both principal and interest of the Bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Illinois. The Bonds shall be signed by the President and attested by the Village Clerk and the interest coupons attached thereto shall be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and said Village Clerk, and such officials by the execution of the Bonds shall adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on such coupons.

The Bonds, together with interest thereon, shall be payable solely from the revenues derived from the System and shall not in any event constitute an indebtedness of the Village within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation.

Any of the Bonds may be registered as to principal at any time prior to maturity in the name of the holder on the books of the Village in the office of the Village Treasurer, such registration to be noted on the reverse side of the Bonds by the said Treasurer and thereafter the principal of such registered bonds shall be payable only to the registered holder, his legal representatives or assigns. Such registered Bonds shall be transferable to another registered holder or back to bearer only upon presentation to the Treasurer, with a legal assignment duly acknowledged or approved. Registration of any Bonds shall not affect negotiability of the coupons thereto attached, but such coupons shall be transferable by delivery merely.

Section 5. Such Bonds and coupons shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS COUNTIES OF COOK AND LAKE VILLAGE OF BUFFALO GROVE
WATERWORKS AND SEWERAGE REVENUE BOND
SERIES OF 1966

Number $5,000

The Village of Buffalo Grove, Cook and Lake Counties, Illinois, for value received, hereby promises to pay to bearer, or, if this bond be registered as hereinafter provided, then to the registered holder hereof, solely from the revenue derived from the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System of the Village, as hereinafter set forth and not otherwise, the sum of Five Thousand and no/100 Dollars ($5,000.00) on ..... 1, 19...., together with interest thereon from the date hereof until paid at the rate of five and one-half per cent (5½%) per annum. Interest shall be payable on November 1, 1966, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of May and of November in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in lawful money of the United States of America, at Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Illinois.

This bond is issued for the purpose of defraying the cost of constructing the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System of the Village, and is payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of such system and shall not in any event constitute an indebtedness of the Village within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation.

This bond is one of an authorized issue of bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $780,000 of like tenor and effect, except as to number and maturity, issued pursuant to an ordinance adopted by the Village under the authority of Division 139 of Article II of the Illinois Municipal Code, approved May 29, 1961, as amended. Under such ordinance and Division 139 all revenue received from the operation of the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System of the Village shall be deposited in a separate fund, designated as the "Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund," to be used only to pay the cost of maintenance and operation of the system, to provide an adequate depreciation fund, to pay the principal of and interest on the waterworks and sewerage revenue bonds of the Village issued under the authority of such Division 139, all of which shall be recorded in the special accounts created by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of these bonds and subject to annual audit.

The Village reserves the right to call for redemption at any time prior to maturity any or all of the bonds at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest at the coupon rate to the date fixed for redemption. Notice of the call of any of the bonds for redemption shall be given by mailing notice by registered mail to each holder of registered bonds at the address shown on the Registrar's books and as to all other holders by one publication in the BOND BUYER published in the City of New York, New York, or in the event it ceases publication, then in a financial newspaper published in the City of Chicago, Illinois, at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption thereof when the date of redemption coincides with an interest payment date, and when the date of redemption does not coincide with an interest payment date, by an additional publication not more than thirty nor less than fifteen days prior to the date of redemption, and by filing such notice with the paying agent of the Bonds at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for redemption. Bonds called for redemption in such manner shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption if the paying agent has funds on hand to redeem such bonds.

If less than all of said bonds are called for redemption at any time, the bonds shall be redeemed in the inverse order in which they mature. If less than all of the bonds of any maturity are called for redemption, then the bonds of such maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any reasonable manner.

It is hereby certified and recited that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and by the statutes of the State of Illinois to exist, be performed or happen precedent to or in the issuance of this bond exist, have been performed and have happened, and provision has been made for depositing in such Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund revenues received from the operation of the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System, to be applied in the manner hereinabove set forth. It is hereby covenanted and agreed that the rates charged for water and sewerage service shall be sufficient at all times to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of the Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System, to provide an adequate depreciation fund therefor, to pay the principal of and interest on all waterworks and sewerage revenue bonds issued by the Village under the aforesaid Division 139, to maintain the special accounts created by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of these bonds and to have such special accounts properly audited at least once each calendar year.

This bond may be registered as to principal only in the name of the holder in the Bond Register of the Village in the office of the Village Treasurer, and such registration shall be noted hereon by the Treasurer on the back hereof. If so registered, this bond may be transferred by the registered owner in person or by attorney upon presentation of this bond to the Treasurer with a written instrument of transfer on a form approved by the Treasurer and executed by such registered owner. If this bond be so registered, the principal shall thereafter be payable only to the person in whose name it is registered, unless this bond shall be discharged from registry by being registered as payable to bearer. Such registration shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons, but such coupons shall continue to pass by delivery.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Village of Buffalo Grove, Cook and Lake Counties, Illinois, has caused this bond to be signed by its President, its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and attested by the Village Clerk, and the coupons hereto attached to be signed by facsimile signatures of such President and Village Clerk, which officials, by the execution of this bond, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on such coupons, all as of the first day of May, 1966.

Section 6. For the purposes of this Ordinance the following words, terms and phrases shall have the following meanings:

(a) The words "Gross Revenues" shall mean and include all income, revenues, connection charges and receipts received directly or indirectly from the initial and continued use and operation of the System, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any interest received on deposits and any income or profits realized from the sale of investments, if any, made with revenues of the System.

(b) The phrase "Expense of Maintenance and Operation" shall mean all costs reasonably incurred in connection with the operation, use and maintenance of the System, including (i) repairs (other than capital improvements) necessary to keep the System in efficient and economical operating condition, (ii) premiums for insurance hereinafter required to be carried on the System, and (iii) generally all expenses (exclusive of depreciation), including without limiting the generality of the foregoing salaries, wages, cost of materials, supplies, power, billing and collection costs and administrative costs, which under good accounting practice are properly chargeable to and are reasonable and necessary for the efficient maintenance and operation of the System.

(c) The term "Net Revenues" shall mean the excess of the Gross Revenues over the Expense of Maintenance and Operation of the System.

(d) The term "Connection Charge" shall mean any fee paid for connecting users to the System.

(e) The term "Village Board" shall mean the President and Board of Trustees, the governing body of the Village.

(f) The term "Debt Service Requirements" shall mean the total of all payments of interest and principal which shall be due and payable in any period of twelve consecutive months other than payments of principal on Bonds called for redemption prior to maturity.

Section 7. The Village covenants and agrees with the holders of the Bonds and coupons that so long as any of the Bonds shall remain outstanding and unpaid either as to principal or interest:

(a) The System shall be operated on a fiscal year basis, beginning on the first day of January and ending on the last day of December of each year. After the issuance and delivery of any Bonds issued under this Ordinance, the Gross Revenues from the operation of the System shall be set aside upon receipt thereof and deposited in a national or state bank in Illinois in a fund to be designated as the "Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund." Such fund shall be used for the following purposes only: (i) to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of the System; (ii) to provide an adequate depreciation fund; (iii) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued by the Village under the provisions of Division 139 as aforesaid; and (iv) in furtherance of the aforesaid purposes to establish and maintain the special accounts hereinafter provided.

(b) The entire Gross Revenues of the System shall be deposited daily as received in the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund. On the first business day of each month the Gross Revenues so deposited in the preceding month shall be transferred to and deposited in the following special accounts in the order named for the purposes and uses hereinafter provided:

(1) Operation and Maintenance Account. Upon the issuance of any of the Bonds and receipt of the purchase price therefor, there shall be deposited in this account an amount sufficient to establish a balance therein at least equal to one-sixth of the reasonably anticipated Expense of Maintenance and Operation during the first twelve months that the System or any part thereof shall be in operation.

On the first of each month after the System or any part thereof shall have been placed in operation there shall be transferred from the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund and deposited in this account such amount as may be required to establish or reestablish a balance in such account equal to one-sixth of the reasonably anticipated Expense of Maintenance and Operation during the succeeding twelve months.

Amounts so deposited in this account shall be used solely for the payment of the Expense of Maintenance and Operation.

(2) Bond and Interest Account. Upon issuance of any of the Bonds and receipt of the purchase price therefor, there shall be deposited in this account (i) any premium and all accrued interest paid upon the delivery of such Bonds and (ii) all interest which shall accrue on such Bonds during the period commencing on the date of delivery of the Bonds and ending six months after the Estimated Date of Completion less any premium or plus any discount properly amortizable during such period.

Each month after the aforesaid period, there shall be deposited in this account an amount not less than one-twelfth of the Debt Service Requirements which become due and payable in the period ending twelve months subsequent to which the deposit is made.

All moneys in such account shall be used only for the purpose of paying, when due, the principal of and interest upon the Bonds.

(3) Bond Reserve Account. There shall be transferred from the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund and deposited in this account (i) each month during the period beginning not later than six months after the Estimated Date of Completion and ending December 31, 1969, the sum of $100, and (ii) each month thereafter the sum of $300, or (iii) such greater amount in any such month as the Village Board may hereafter determine.

The amounts in such account shall be used only to meet Debt Service Requirements when there are insufficient funds available from any other source at any time to pay such Debt Service Requirements as they fall due; provided, however, at any time the balance in such account exceeds by $5,000 the Debt Service Requirements of any subsequent fiscal year, such excess over such Debt Service Requirements shall be used for the redemption or purchase and retirement of the Bonds.

(4) Depreciation, Improvement and Extension Account. There shall be transferred from the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund and deposited in this account (i) each month during the period beginning on the first day of the month after the Estimated Date of Completion and ending December 31, 1969, the sum of $100, and (ii) each month thereafter the sum of $300, or (iii) such greater sum in any such month as the Village Board may hereafter determine. The moneys in such account shall be permitted to accumulate to provide such reserve for depreciation as the Village Board may deem adequate; provided, however, the moneys so accumulated may be used as needed from time to time to pay (i) for any repairs and maintenance of the System if the amounts deposited in the Operation and Maintenance Account are insufficient for such purposes, or (ii) for improvements and extensions of the System as may be authorized by the Village Board; and provided further, that if at any time the balance in the Bond and Interest Account shall be insufficient to meet the Debt Service Requirements as they fall due, then any moneys accumulated in this account shall be used as required to pay such Debt Service Requirements.

(5) Surplus Revenue Account. There shall be transferred from the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund and deposited in this account each month any revenues remaining in such Fund as of the first day of such month after providing for all of the transfers therefrom and deposits in the accounts numbered (1) through (4).

At the end of each fiscal year funds in this account shall be transferred to and deposited in any of the prior accounts numbered (1) through (4) in which there may then be a deficiency. Any balance of funds remaining in the Surplus Revenue Account shall be transferred and deposited in the Bond Reserve Account until an amount equal to the Debt Service Requirements of any subsequent fiscal year is accumulated therein. From any remaining balance in this account an amount up to but not in excess of the sums received as Connection Charges during such fiscal year shall be transferred to and deposited in the Depreciation, Improvement and Extension Account or to the Bond Reserve Account as the Village Board may determine. Any balance remaining in the Surplus Revenue Account after all of the aforesaid transfers and deposits have been made may be transferred to and deposited in the Depreciation, Improvement and Extension Account or used for any lawful corporate purpose, as determined by the Village Board.

(c) The Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund and funds in each of aforementioned accounts shall be deposited in banks or trust companies in Illinois designated by the Village Board and secured by direct or fully guaranteed obligations of the United States of America to the extent that the deposit exceeds the limits of the deposit guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Such bank accounts shall be separate from all other Village bank accounts.

(d) Moneys in any of the accounts not required for expenditure within ninety days of the date of investment, may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America maturing not less than fifteen days prior to the date on which moneys in such account will be needed, but in no event more than five years from the date of investment. Income or profit from such investment shall be deposited when received in the Village of Buffalo Grove Waterworks and Sewerage Fund.

Section 8. While any of the Bonds are outstanding, the Village will not issue any other bonds or obligations of any kind or nature having a lien on the facilities, property or revenues of the System, except as provided in this section.

(a) The Village may issue additional bonds if additional funds are necessary to pay the cost of construction of the System, as provided in Section 1 of this Ordinance, and the need for additional funds shall be evidenced by a certificate of an independent consulting engineer, setting forth:

(1) The total cost of construction of the System, including engineering, legal and other expenses and interest cost incurred during construction and the period ending six months after the Estimated Date of Completion;

(2) The amount of funds necessary to complete the construction of the System described in Section 1 of this Ordinance; and

(3) The amount of funds available therefor.

Such certificate shall be approved by the Village Board and shall be made of record in the proceedings of the Village before such additional bonds are authorized and issued; or

(b) Such additional bonds may be issued to provide additional funds to construct improvements, replacements and extensions of the System or for the acquisition of an additional waterworks or sewerage system or any combination thereof, or for the purpose of refunding any of the Bonds and any additional bonds as may be issued hereafter pursuant to this Section 8, which are due or redeemable within three months of the date of issue of the refunding bonds or for any combination of such purposes, but only if the Village shall have complied with the following requirements:

(1) The amounts required to have been deposited in the respective accounts (1) through (4) of Section 7(b) of this Ordinance, up to the date of authorization of such additional bonds, shall have been deposited in such respective accounts.

(2) The Net Revenues of the System for the fiscal year then next preceding, or the average annual adjusted Net Revenues of the System for the two then next preceding fiscal years if adjustment has been made as herein provided, have been not less than 135% of the maximum annual Debt Service Requirements for any succeeding fiscal year on:

(i) all bonds then outstanding payable from the revenues to be derived from the operation of the System; and

(ii) the additional bonds then proposed to be issued payable from such revenues.

Net Revenues for the purpose of this subparagraph (b)(2) shall be evidenced by an audit of the independent certified public accountant who made the last audit of the System, or if that accountant is not available then by another such accountant who shall follow accounting principles consistent with such last audit.

In the event the rates and charges in effect at the time of issuance of any such additional bonds (the "Effective Rates") shall differ from those rates and charges in effect during either of the two immediately preceding fiscal years, then the Net Revenues referred to in this subparagraph (b)(2) shall be adjusted to reflect for each of the two immediately preceding fiscal years (i) the change in Gross Revenues if the Effective Rates had been in effect during all of each of such years and (ii) any known changes in Expense of Operation and Maintenance if such known changes had been in effect during all of each of such years. Any such adjusted Net Revenues shall be evidenced by the certificate of an independent consulting engineer employed for that purpose, which certificate shall be approved by the Village Board prior to issuance of the additional bonds and filed with the Village Clerk.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the Village may issue bonds to refund any of the Bonds or additional bonds as may be issued pursuant to this Section 8, which are due or redeemable within three months of the date of issue of the refunding bonds and for the payment of which no other funds are or will be available at the maturity or redemption date thereof.

(d) Any additional bonds issued pursuant to this Section 8 shall be sold at not less than par, shall be of an equal basis in all respects with the Bonds, shall share ratably and equally in the revenues of the System, shall be substantially similar to the form set forth in Section 5, shall provide for semi-annual payment of interest on May 1 and November 1, and shall mature serially on May 1 of any year in such amounts as the Village Board shall have determined will not jeopardize the satisfaction of Debt Service Requirements of any previously issued and outstanding bonds payable from the revenues derived from the operation of the System or extensions thereof or additions thereto, which determination by the Village Board shall be supported by a certificate, approved by the Village Board and filed with the Village Clerk, of an independent consulting engineer.

Section 9. The Village hereby covenants and agrees with the holder or holders of the Bonds herein proposed to be issued, or any of them, that it will punctually perform all duties with reference to the System required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois, including the making and collecting of sufficient rates for water and sewerage service, and segregating the revenues of the System and the application of the respective accounts established by this Ordinance; that it will not sell, lease, loan, mortgage or in any manner dispose of the System, including any and all extensions and improvements that may be made thereto, until all of the Bonds shall have been paid in full, both principal and interest, or until provision shall have been made for the payment of all the Bonds and interest thereon in full, provided, that the foregoing shall not prevent the Village from disposing of any property which in the judgment of the Village Board is no longer useful or profitable in the operation of the System, nor essential to the continued operation of the System (the receipts from the disposition of any such property to be deposited in the Depreciation, Improvement and Extension Account hereinabove established in Section 7); that it will maintain in good condition and continuously operate the System and maintain insurance on said properties of the same kind or kinds which would normally be maintained by a private company engaged in a similar type of business or as recommended by an independent consulting engineer employed for such purpose (the payment of premiums on any such insurance to be deemed an operation expense and paid from the revenues of the System); that it will require that proper connections to the System be made wherever water or sewerage service is available; and that all waterworks and sewerage properties hereafter constructed or acquired by the Village shall be included in and operated as a part of the System.

Section 10. Provisions of this Ordinance shall constitute a contract between the Village and the holders of the Bonds, and after the issuance of the Bonds no changes, additions or alterations of any kind shall be made hereto in any manner except in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, or until such time as all of the Bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid in full, or unless and until provision shall have been made for the payment of all the Bonds in full. This Ordinance may be modified or amended by supplemental ordinances with the written consent of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Bonds which are outstanding at the time such consent is given, except that if any such modification or amendment will by its terms not take effect so long as any of the Bonds remain outstanding the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity or the principal of the Bonds or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the redemption price thereof or any rate of interest thereon or make any modification or amendment of this section, without the consent of the holders of all the Bonds.

Section 11. Immediately upon the receipt of the proceeds derived from the sale of any Bonds the Village Treasurer shall deposit (i) in the Bond and Interest Account any premiums and all accrued interest received from the purchaser and the amount of interest which shall accrue upon such Bonds during the period commencing with the date of delivery of the Bonds and ending six months after the Estimated Date of Completion and (ii) in the Operation and Maintenance Account an amount sufficient to establish a balance therein at least equal to one-sixth of the reasonably anticipated Expense of Maintenance and Operation during the first twelve months that the System or any part thereof shall be in operation. The balance of the proceeds shall be deposited by the Village Treasurer in the "Village of Buffalo Grove Combined Waterworks and Sewerage Construction Account" which is hereby created. Such account and the funds therein shall be kept separate and apart from all other funds of the Village and deposited in a bank or banks, meeting the requirements of paragraph (c) of Section 7. The funds in such account shall be held and used solely to pay the cost of construction of the System, including engineering, legal and other expenses and interest cost incurred during construction and the period ending six months after completion of construction, and shall be held for the benefit of the Village for the purposes herein provided and for the benefit of the holder or holders of the Bonds hereby authorized as their interests may appear. Such funds shall be withdrawn and disbursed from time to time by the Village Treasurer only upon submission to him of:

(a) A duplicate copy of the order signed by the President and the Clerk, or such other officers as may from time to time by law be authorized to sign and countersign orders on the Village Treasurer stating specifically the purpose for which the order is issued and indicating that the payment for which the order is issued has been approved by the Village Board;

(b) Each order on the Village Treasurer for payment to a contractor or contractors for work done in connection with the construction of the System shall also be accompanied by a certificate executed by the engineer in charge of the construction of the System stating the nature and extent of the work completed and that the amount thereof is due and payable pursuant to the terms of a contract approved by the Village Board; and

(c) Waivers of mechanics liens duly executed by the contractor or contractors and all parties who may assert liens through him or them and approved by the engineer in charge of construction.

Within sixty days after completion of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, and after all costs have been paid in connection with the construction thereof, the engineer shall certify to the Village Board the fact that the System has been completed according to plans and specifications and contracts approved by the Village Board. Upon approval by the Village Board of the completion of the work based upon the engineer's certificate, and after all costs have been paid, the President, the Village Clerk and engineer shall execute a certificate and file it with the Village Treasurer certifying that the work has been completed in accordance with plans and specifications and that all costs have been paid. If at any time thereafter any funds remain in the Construction Account, such funds shall be transferred to the Bond and Interest Account if needed to meet Debt Service Requirements for the current fiscal year and if not so needed such funds shall be transferred to the Depreciation, Improvement and Extension Account.

The cost of engineering, legal and financial services, the cost of surveys, designs, soundings, borings, rights of way and all other necessary and incidental expenses shall be deemed items of cost of construction of the System.

If the Village Board shall determine at any time that the amount of proceeds in the Construction Account is in excess of the amount necessary to meet authorized expenditures therefrom during the next ensuing ninety days, it may by resolution direct the investment of such excess in direct obligations of the United States of America maturing not less than fifteen days prior to the date on which the excess funds will be needed, but in no event more than five years from the date of investment. All such investments as well as income and profit therefrom shall be held separately and solely for construction of the System. As and when construction funds are needed, a sufficient amount of such investments shall be sold and converted into cash and deposited in the Construction Account.

The proceeds of the sale of the Bonds (including all obligations held or investments thereof and the proceeds of such investments) shall be applied as provided in this section, and pending such application shall be held for the further security of the holders of the Bonds until paid out or transferred as herein provided.

Section 12. The System accounts shall be audited at least once in each year by a recognized certified public accountant, and such audit shall be open for inspection at all proper times to any taxpayer, user of the System, or holder of Bonds issued under the provisions of this Ordinance. Reports of the operation of the System shall be furnished the Village Board quarter-annually, and copies of the reports, as well as the annual audits, shall be promptly mailed to the paying agent, the principal underwriter, if any, of the Bonds and summaries thereof shall be furnished to any holder of Bonds upon request.

Section 13. If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any of the other provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 14. This Ordinance, after its passage and approval, shall be published once in the Wheeling Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village, and if no petition is filed with the Village Clerk within twenty-one days after such publication, then after the expiration of such twenty-one days this Ordinance shall be in effect. But if, within such period of twenty-one days, a petition is filed with the Village Clerk signed by electors numbering 15% of the number of electors voting for President of the Village at the last preceding general municipal election asking that the question of constructing, operating and maintaining the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, be submitted to the electors of the Village, the Village Board shall call a special election in the manner provided by law to vote upon such question. If a majority of the voters voting upon such question at such election vote in favor of constructing, operating and maintaining the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, then this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect, but if a majority of the votes cast are against constructing, operating and maintaining the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, then the Village shall proceed no further under this Ordinance.

Passed by the President and Board of Trustees this 28th day of April, 1966.

THE WINNER of Mother's Holiday trip to San Francisco—Mrs. Iona Collignon, 716 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce executive manager Chuck Alft drew the winning name, as Bernie Wood, proprietor of Ma & Pa's Country Candy store; and John Bowen of Bowen Hardware, retail chairman, smile approvingly.

Mrs. Collignon Wins San Francisco Trip

Mrs. Iona Collignon, 716 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, has been selected the winner of Mother's Holiday trip to San Francisco, winning a round trip for two, a two night stay in the west coast city, a special tour package, and $100 in spending money.

Almost 30 retail merchants of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce combined efforts to offer this attractive prize as their way of saying 'thanks' to the shoppers of the area for the year-round support accorded local merchants.

AMERICAN AIRLINES cooperated in the venture, working with the retailers. Mrs. Collignon will have two round trip first class accommodations on American Airlines Astrojet to San Francisco at her disposal.

Wayne Griffin Travel Agency also cooperated, providing a special tour package that will give Mrs. Collignon her choice of four different tours in the west coast city. Retailers also promised Mrs. Collignon $100 prize money.

The merchants also gave a long list of special gifts to Mrs. Collignon, providing her with a full travel outfit. (B10

High School District 214 board members played the naming game again last Monday night.

The score: for Winston Churchill High School, 3-3. For Thomas H. Briggs High School, not even a chance to score.

Churchill High, the name proposed last week by Dr. Frank J. Smith at fellow board member Richard Bachhuber's suggestion, drew a tie vote when the motion for the name's adoption came up.

Favoring the name were Dr. Smith, Bachhuber and Mrs. Leah Cummins. Against that name were Board Pres. Hal Armstrong, Arthur Aronson and William Griffith. T. Earl Thompson, the board member who might have cast the deciding vote, was absent Monday.

BRIGGS HIGH School was proposed as an alternative by Griffith, who said he'd consulted a history of U.S. education in making the suggestion.

He said Briggs, now professor emeritus at Columbia University, had been among educators who drew up the "Seven Cardinal Principles" which still form the foundation for U.S. secondary education.

Griffith's motion did not even draw a second.

With the board split, the "Name the Sixth School" game will be played again May 23.

Scout-o-Rama Participation Slated for 100 Local Units

With a record 104 Boy Scout, Cub Scout and Explorer units from this area participating, the Northwest Suburban Scout Council's 1966 Scout-O-Rama this weekend is expected to surpass all previous events at O'Hare Field.

With almost 250 units in the council taking part, general chairman Harold Byron Smith Jr. says about 15,000 boys and adult leaders will put on the two-day show which runs from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

Jimmy Durante Coming to Saturday's Hospital Ball

Jimmy Durante will be an honored guest at the Northwest Community Hospital Benefit Ball this Saturday night, May 14, as almost 1,000 persons enjoy the evening, dining, dancing and helping the hospital through attendance.

Several months have gone into planning for the affair. Decorations have been made, two bands have been signed, food has been ordered, and special entertainment organized. Everything was reaching a climax last wek when word was received that the one and only "Schnozz" Durante would stop in at the affair.

DURANTE is rated one of the top performers of the entertainment worlu. His jokes, his songs, his mannerisms are copied far and wide. His appearance at Saturday's affair will provide the climax for the many, many hours of work put forth by the committees planning the affair.

Hospitality hour at the Benefit Ball at Arlington Park Race Track will start at 6:30 Saturday. First band for the night will provide good listening through the iriendship hour and the delicious buffet dinner at 8:30.

LOU BREESE and his band will appear at 9:30 for a full evening's dancing. In between dances Phil Georgeff will provide the running commentary of four great stakes events, via big theater screen, as patrons play their hunches with play money.

Special guests will be introduced during the evening, too, with senators, representatives, congressmen and mayors a-plenty on hand. Durante will also appear, a fitting climax to the evening, as well as many other radio and TV stars.

Dress is optional for the affair, with some tickets still available by calling 253-1000. Cost is just $15 per person (B10

Ordinance No. 430

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE ELK GROVE VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE RELATING TO MULTI-FAMILY APARTMENTS.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Counties of Cook and DuPage, Illinois:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Elk Grove Village Zoning Ordinance be and is hereby amended to read as follows:

Article IX
"A-2" Multi-Family Apartment District Regulations

Section 1. Interpretation. The regulations set forth in this Article or set forth elsewhere in this Ordinance when referred to in this Article are the district regulations in the "A-2" Multi-Family Apartment District.

Section 2. Permitted Uses. No use not specified hereunder shall be permitted.

A. Multi-Family apartments not exceeding 20 per acre provided same are:

(1) Developed and constructed in accordance with an approved plat as provided for herein;

(2) Provided that the number of bedrooms to be developed not exceed an average of forty per acre;

(3) Provided that the number of three bedroom apartments not exceed an average of 10% of the total apartments;

(4) Provided also that in no platted area shall the number of apartments exceed 20 per acre.

In the event the developer provides more than 10% of three bedroom units then the density requirement shall be limited to twelve (12) units per acre. In the event that the developer provides for the construction of four or more bedroom units then the density requirement shall be limited to eight units per acre.

B. Institutions of a religious, educational, eleomosynary or philanthropic nature, but not penal or mental institutions.

C. Hospitals and clinics, except for animal hospitals, or mental hospitals.

D. Accessory buildings and uses customarily incident to any of the above including garages, parking lots and facilities, club houses, parks and recreational facilities and utilities.

Section 3. Plat Requirements.

A. Purpose. The purpose of the plat is to designate with particularity the building site, the land to remain as open space, the land to be used for parking and accessory uses so as to assure both the village and future owners of the orderly development of land in compliance with a plan and Village ordinances.

B. Specific requirements to be shown on the plat.

(1) Such information as is necessary to satisfy the requirements of the Subdivision Control Ordinances of the Village as well as the Plat Act of the State of Illinois.

(2) Specific designation of the land to be used for building sites, parking areas, open space areas as well as accessory uses.

(3) The height and bulk of all structures.

(4) Such language of restriction, dedication and covenant as are deemed necessary to assure compliance with all subdivision control regulations as well as to guarantee compliance with the plan as submitted.

(5) No more than 35% of the ground area shown on the plat shall be permitted for building site purposes. All structures shall be required to be located on a building site. The balance shall remain for open space, parking, public rights of way and the like.

(6) The developer, on the plat, shall provide for a minimum of 1½ car off-street parking for each apartment.

C. Procedure for Approval of Plat. The procedures provided in the Subdivision Control Ordinance of the Village shall be followed in the submittal and approval of the plats provided for herein. Final plats shall, upon approval, be filed with the Village Clerk and recorded with the County Recorder of Deeds in the County wherein said land is located.

D. No building, public improvement nor occupancy permit shall be issued until a final plat in compliance herewith, for the area within which the permit has been approved by the Village.

Section 4. Height Regulation. No building shall exceed three stories nor 35 feet in height except as provided in Articles XV and XVI hereof.

Section 5. No building shall be closer to another than a distance to be determined by the height of a taller building. In those instances where the sides of the buildings facing each other are windowless then the distances above required may be reduced by one-half. All such distances shall be measured from the foundation line.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

PASSED this 3rd day of May, 1966.

APPROVED this 3rd day of May, 1966.

Wheeling High Student At Youth Corps Session

When Washington officials start evaluating the Neighborhood Youth Corps rules and suggesting possible changes, they'll be taking into account suggestions made by enrollees like Wheeling High School student Scot Fred Hudson.

Hudson, a Prospect Heights youth, was one of 50 some students who attended a Neighborhood Youth Corps national conference last week at St. Louis, Mo.

He and George Theodore, Wheeling High School teacher who is director of the local NYC program, represented High School District 214 at the conference.

For Theodore, the conference included speeches and a chance to evaluate the NYC from a director's point of view.

HUDSON'S conference time included a no-holds-barred evaluation session in which he and other NYC students, drawn from the 50 states and two U.S. possessions, told what the federally-financed employment program meant to them and what they thought could be improved about it.

It also included, Hudson says, a choice of "a ball or a ball game."

"I was going to the ball game at first," Hudson explained, laughing. "But then a couple other NYC students — girls — persuaded me to go to the dance instead."

Hudson, who is 20, could have told the federal officials about another pioneering District 214 program, too. The native Nevadan is enrolled in the Wheeling program for dropout returnees.

HE WILL graduate from Wheeling this June after completing high school requirements this year under a special program tailored for returnees and taught by Theodore and Val Erickson.

Hudson, who has supported himself partly through the NYC work, plans to enroll at Kendall Junior College next fall. An aide in the biology department at Wheeling this year, he will major in science. (B10

Aircraft to Salute Scout-O-Rama Opening

Scout-O-Rama, the Midwest's largest show for boys of all ages, will get off to a flying start Saturday. Promptly at 2 p.m. as aircraft fly in salute overhead, participating units will mass 250 troop flags to the martial music of the 566th Air Force Band.

Scout-O-Rama will be declared open by its general chairman, H. B. Smith Jr., executive vice president, Illinois Tool Works. Also present at the opening of the two-day Scout spectacular will be Marlon Johnson, FBI chief in the Chicago area; Harry Voikman, NBC's weatherman; Sheriff Richard Ogilvie, Traffic Officer Ed Peterson, who will arrive in the WGN helicopter; Rudy Bukich of the Chicago Bears, and Gen. Howard T. Markey, commander of the 126th Air Refueling Wing of the Illinois Air National Guard.

TICKET SALES to the giant show are going well, according to V. T. Fishburn, general ticket sales chairman, who added, "Scouts derive direct benefit from Scout-O-Rama tickets sold. Each Scouting Unit receives a 30 per cent commission for tickets sold and is then able to purchase troop camping equipment. Balance of Scout-O-Rama proceeds goes to support the Northwest Suburban Council's six camping areas."

Scout-O-Rama will cover every aspect of Scouting; more than 250 booths and an estimated 14,000 boys combine skills and exhibits in a unique display of scouting crafts and skills.

In discussing the role of Scouting and Scout-O-Rama in the life of the Scout, Smith made this comment, "Last year while visiting several of the booths at Scout-O-Rama it became apparent that boys enjoyed telling spectators of their activities. My reaction to all this was one of pride in our boys because you could hear confidence in their words and see a sense of accomplishment in their faces." (B-10

Delivery of New Phone Books to Begin Saturday

The 1966 edition of Illinois Bell Telephone's directory—again featuring the front section of local listings introduced last year—will be distributed starting Saturday to homes and businesses in the Arlington Heights-Mount Prospect - Palatine-Elk Grove Village area.

The new look in telephone books is called the "3-in-1" format, according to Illinois Bell Mgr. Ed Hardy, because it incorporates "three directories in one cover:"

1. Local white pages.
2. Local yellow pages.
3. Regional white pages.

This format is part of an over-all suburban directory improvement program initiated at a cost of more than a million dollars, Hardy said.

"OUR IMPROVEMENT program," he noted, "recognizes the needs and wishes of suburban customers for an alphabetical section listing only telephone numbers in their local area."

Hardy said the communities included in each alphabetical section are shown on the back cover. For those whose calling needs extend beyond their suburban region, other regional and sectional books as well as the Chicago directory are available free through Illinois Beli business offices.

Another improvement makes the introductory pages that guide telephone customers in dialing their local, long distance, service and emergency calls. These first few pages of the book are a source of helpful information covering just about every calling situation."

A HANDY CARD for frequently called numbers, with spaces for such emergency numbers as fire, police and doctor, is attached just inside the front cover. The perforated card can be detached easily and placed near the telephone for quick reference.

School Art On Display Two Months

Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect school children's art will be on display at the Illinois State Museum galleries this month and next as part of a statewide school art exhibit.

Forty-four areas of the state are represented in the display, which is jointly sponsored by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Illinois Art Education Association and the state museum.

Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, says the exhibit will be on display through June 30.

THE WORK included in the show includes painting, sculpture, pottery prints, weaving and fabric design, and indicates the kinds of art programs which exist in the state's public and private schools.

Supt. Page, in viewing the show, commented, "The development of the ability of children and youth of all ages to express their ideas visually is a major part of the total education program. The development of such cultural programs in schools, as well as in adult and community activities, should be a goal for all citizens in Illinois. (ACME

Poison.

"The Poison of asps is upon their lips."
— Psalms 5:9

It is possible for an individual to become so righteous that the rest of the world appears out of step.

Nearly all of us are acquainted with some individual who is never known to say a kind word about any living soul, whose tongue is "poison".

The Apostle Paul warned the Romans of the danger of too much righteousness. When we put ourselves upon a pedestal, we feel the only way to stay there is to knock others down.

It is not the Christian way to unthinkingly criticize others, to indulge in fault-seeking, to ridicule, to call attention to shortcomings and weaknesses.

The Christian looks for the good, searches for a kind word to say, and says it whenever possible.

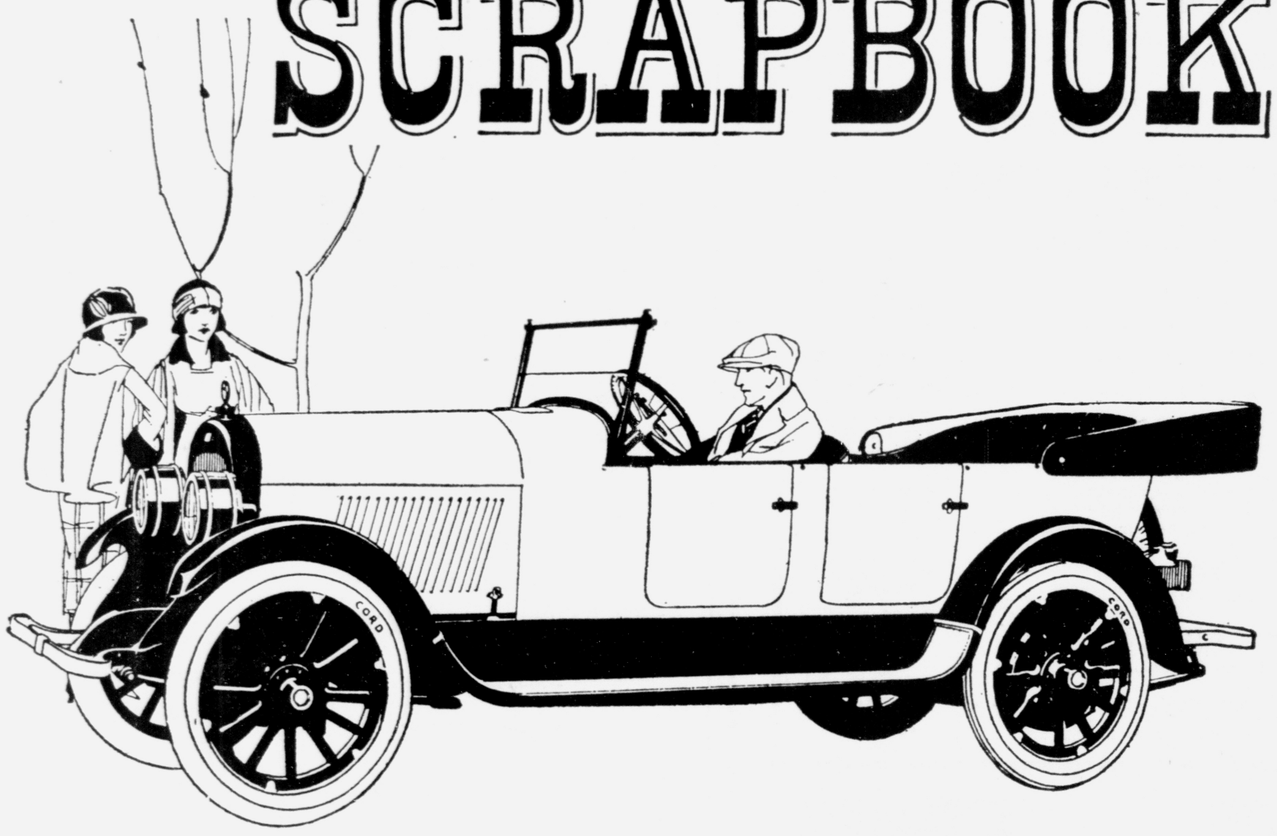
Classic Car SCRAPBOOK



THE 1922 LEXINGTON

There is only one safe way to buy a car in 1922 —

Look beyond its beauty and ask this question — "How well preserved will its chassis be in 1925 and later?" Also —

"How well will it maintain its efficiency?

How low will the upkeep be every hour and mile of those years?"

That is the test that changed conditions have imposed upon the motor car industry. The time has come when people want to buy a car that will make them want to keep it because it stays young.

The new Series 'U' Lexington meets those requirements in excess of previous standards. It is not a new emergency-model built as a matter of expediency to meet a sudden trade condition. It is a pre-determined product, a logical fruition of a definite program — worthily achieved!

It reflects everything which Lexington and its allied group of factories have been trying to accomplish for years.

And this strictly high-grade car could not have originated in any other way except from our "factory-community" system that controls the source of supply and quality of workmanship, and effects vast economies.

These self-contained manufacturing units, coordinated as though under one roof, protect the quality of this car and give it the earmarks of individuality.

Recreational Services Cited As Retirement Community Must

Besides offering attractive, well-designed homes, today's adult community must also supply a wide range of recreational facilities and special services, the developer of Willow Lake Estates in Elgin reports.

According to Samuel R. Danca, "A developer simply can't install a couple shuffleboard courts and then call his subdivision a 'retirement community.' Instead, every facet of the master plan must reflect the special needs of the adult market."

Danca is president of Willow Lake Estates, a 130-acre adult community of mobile homes north of Elgin.

"When this community was laid out three years ago, the lake as well as a heated swimming pool and a complete recreation center were major elements in the master plan. The new heated pool was opened last summer and work has started on a $250,000 recreation center for residents. The community now has more than 80 homes and is taking shape around a lake that is alive with bass and trout and is complete with beach, docks and row boats," Danca said.

RESIDENTS AT Willow Lake Estates purchase their mobile homes from Danca, then rent their lots. All of the services and recreational facilities are included in the rental figure.

The typical home at Willow Lake is 20 feet wide and 48 feet long and features a modern, convenient kitchen with color-coordinated, built-in appliances. Homes have attractive bathrooms with colored fixture and some of the larger homes have a half bath off the master bedroom. Mobile homes may be purchased unfurnished, although the kitchen range and refrigerator are included as standard equipment.

Noted Danca, "Our experience has shown that visitors to Willow Lake are usually amazed at the spaciousness and the design features of the modern mobile home. We find, too, that many visitors are very much interested in the recreational facilities and special services we offer. Semi-retired people want freedom from many of the chores associated with owning a home.

"Our residents appreciate the special services they receive, including lawn care, snow removal, street cleaning and a free shuttle station wagon to shopping and the train station," he added.

WILLOW LAKE is in the corporate limits of Elgin, wth city utilities underground. All homes are on enclosed foundations and have the use of a master TV antenna.

Homes are priced from $6,450 and prices include placement on enclosed foundation, concrete driveway, aluminum carport, utility building, merion sod and shrubs. (RE

AERIAL VIEW shows how unique adult community of mobile homes is developing near Elgin. Note 23-acre lake at left, with peninsula which will hold 20 homes. In foreground is $50,000 heated swimming pool. The new Recreation Center is being built approximately halfway between the left edge of swimming pool and bridge leading to the island. Shown on foundations are 76 homes, with 12 "halves" as they arrive from the factory. These will be assembled into six homes, each 20 feet wide. Willow Lake Estates represents an investment of more than $1.5 million. When completed, it will contain 550 homes.

60 Young Auto Mechanics Vie in Trouble Shooting

Sixty students from 30 Illinois high schools will roar into competition Saturday at Willowbrook High School, Villa Park, in an effort to win part of the $75,000 in college scholarships being offered in the National Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest.

The competition will be the first of two in Illinois. School instructors select their own teams on the basis of skills demonstrated by students in their regular automotive mechanics classwork.

Competition is divided into two classes, vocational school students and industrial art students in the high schools. Each two-man team is assigned to a car in which up to 20 different malfunctions have been secretly placed.

The first team to correct all the malfunctions and restore the car to perfect running order is the winner, and is given a trip to the national finals at Detroit for a chance at the scholarships and other prizes.

Starting in April and continuing to June, nationally there will be 61 local contests in 37 states involving 1,700 public schools.

The program will reach a climax on June 20, 21 and 22 when the winners of local contests will go to Detroit to compete in the National Trouble Shooting finals at the Michigan State Fair Grounds.

Last year in competition at Memorial Stadium, Joliet, first place in the industrial arts division went to Dan Anderson and Ron Behnke, students at Glenbard East High School in Glen Ellyn. They required only 40 minutes to locate and repair all the hidden problems.

Top winners in the vocational arts division were Wayne Fiene and Mike Kukovac of Willowbrook High School. They found and fixed the problems in 31 minutes.

Teams work against the clock and other teams with a minimum of tools and under the watchful eye of trained technician observers. The contending teams compete simultaneously, analyzing, detecting and correcting bugs in a 1966 Plymouth automobile provided for the contest by Plymouth dealers. (VC

Kost to Give Budget Counsel

Calvin E. Kost, 326 Aston Lane, Hoffman Estates, has been named a member of American Airlines management information staff, according to Charles S. Downey, controller for the airline in Chicago.

Kost, who joined American Airlines in 1958, will be headquartered at O'Hare international Airport. His responsibilities will include counsel and assistance with budget preparation pertinent to cost analysis of the airline's Chicago operation. (BB

More 'Living Room Atmosphere' for Kitchens

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

While the kitchen has become less a setting for sociability, it is being designed with more "living room atmosphere."

Wooden cabinets have Mediterranean or French provincial "furniture" looks. Color mellowed with the richness of dark or the rich color wood has become the earmark of today's kitchens.

The price tag of the home often can be judged by a peek at the kitchen. The less elaborate the kitchen is in terms of cabinets, floor tile, and lighting fixtures, the less expensive the house is apt to be.

THREE TRENDS appear after visits to area model homes:

Women will find more use of wood paneling; a terrazzo look appears in vinyl tiling for floors and sinks and appliances are color coordinated.

While formica counter tops usually are in plain colors, some builders are beginning to use subtly patterned, laminated tops that round over the sides of the cabinet.

The philosophy seems to be that if the working area is bright and gay enough, the area does not need to have a window for light and a view.

In the Centex-built homes in Elk Grove Village, for example, many of the homes still are designed with a window above the sink. Miller Builders in the Surrey Ridge subdivision of Arlington Heights prefers to locate the sink in a windowless area. Bay windows and a back door with window are used near the dining nook opposite the counter working area.

In Airy Trace subdivision in Arlington Heights, Realcoa has added visual interest above the sink in one model by using a blackboard and bulletin board. This gives the space a utilitarian aspect but allows variety and color in the form of the clippings that might appear there.

IN SPITE of the dining room's return to favor in homes, the majority of kitchens also contain a dining nook. Its size, however, indicates some builders continue to view this area for just breakfast or lunches, when the whole family may not dine together. Some layouts almost demand the use of round tables if the area is not to look cramped.

Lighting in the kitchen usually depends on some form of window as well as artificial light. Most kitchens have fluorescent lights above the sink. An adjustable overhead copper or black wrought iron lamp often is used above the dining area. These lights usually reflect the early American or Mediterranean theme of the kitchen.

Elk Grove Village homes have a different overhead lighting concept. The homes have a rectangle of light framed in wood that matches the cabinets. The effect is one of softer light placed over a wider area.

In higher priced homes, builders tend to use wallpaper in the kitchens, and the sink color often is coordinated with the wallpaper. The designs tend to encourage a feeling of lightness and airiness. Some patterns reflect a theme.

KITCHENS CONTINUE to be located at the back of the house though they may be at an upper level in a tri-level home. Their interior location always is adjacent to a dining room. Some may be placed near a family room, making it easy for a mother to check on her children.

The Marquette model in Elk Grove Village has an open space above the stove so a woman can observe what is happening in a dining room and also pass things through this opening. An Airy Trace model puts an opening above the sink and allows the woman to look into the family room.

Frequently, a woman will show the most interest in counter space when she views a kitchen. Most kitchens provide the counter space efficiently, often through an L layout. The dishwasher is part of "standard" equipment in new homes. It is built in so the top can function as counter space. The oven part of stoves is built in the wall at easy reaching level. The stove's cooking grills are located elsewhere and cabinet space replaces the oven space of the conventional stove.

The island form of providing counter space and cabinet storage is not popular in today's design. Bar counters used for eating area and a room divider are found in older homes. Perhaps the counter's impracticability as an eating area influenced the abandonment of it as a design.

The pantry, once sneered upon as part of grandmother's kitchen, has come back in style.

THE "APPLIANCE look" of kitchens is gone. The ability to color coordinate appliances with the general decor has helped. The stainless steel sink seems in less favor these days, perhaps in the attempt to get away from the sterile look.

Floors in kitchens are subdued with an attempt for naturalness. They tend to be light colored to offset the darkening by wood and colors of countertop and appliances.

None of the homes show the new carpeting developed especially for kitchens. While this is considered an excellent sound absorber, some builders apparently believe the woman is not ready for this luxuriant look. If she wants this, she is expected to provide it.

The average woman may cook with convenient package and frozen foods and therefore spend less time in the kitchen. But builders show this time should be spent in warm, homey atmosphere.

Oil Salesman Takes Course In Supervision

Jack Knotek, 1125 Kitson, Palatine, dealer sales supervisor for Humble Oil & Refining Co. in Chicago, completed the advanced phase of the company's course "Effective supervision" at Boulder, Colo., last week.

Knotek participated in the program as one of 30 marketing representatives especially selected from Humble's 16-state Central Enco Region.

Knotek was one of the original group to complete the advanced course which was conducted last week for the first time by Humble. He and other participants in the program had completed preliminary phases during the past year. (BB

Hughes Speaks to Batavia Rotarians

Russell P. Hughes Jr., 210 E. Orchard Lane, Arlington Heights, managing partner of Russell Hughes & Company, certified public accountants, with offices in Chicago and Elgin, spoke recently to Batavia Rotarians on the subject of how to read the economic signals in order to project small firm growth.

Hughes said, "America's image of the truly successful businessman is inevitably associated with the huge, powerful, and sprawling business empire. Yet it is the small businessman with anywhere from 2 to 100 employees, who is the backbone of our economy and as well the economies of most countries of the free world."

Hughes is a graduate of Denver University. He is incoming chairman of the Illinois Society of CPAs' Public Service and Information Committee, and a member of the American Institute of CPAs.

He also serves as secretary and member of the board of directors of the Elgin Rotary Club and as secretary-treasurer of the Fox Valley Credit and Financial Management Group.

FRANCIS A. KUNZ

Kunz Named Facilities Supervisor

Francis A. Kunz, 1004 W. Grove St., Arlington Heights, has been promoted by Illinois Bell Telephone to facilities supervisor in the Suburban Area Traffic Department in Chicago.

He will be responsible for determining equipment needed for dial offices in west suburban communities.

Kunz was previously a facilities assistant in Skokie. He joined the company in 1946 and has held various assignments in the Suburban Area Traffic and Plant Departments.

A NATIVE OF Chicago, Kunz attended Wright Junior College.

He and his wife, Edwardean, a former stenographer with the Telephone Company, have five daughters and two sons.

His two brothers, Ronald, Peach Tree Lane, Elk Grove; and Robert, Fox River Grove; are also employed by Illinois Bell. (BB

Carlson Reports Reliance Progress

Insurance in force in excess of $243,000,000 at the end of 1965 highlighted the report made by Mr. H. O. Carlson of Inverness, president, Reliance Life Insurance Company of Illinois, at the annual meeting of stockholders held on April 25.

Carlson accounted for this substantial increase by explaining that in April of 1963 a five-year program of rapid development was undertaken by management. At the end of three years of the five-year program, the company is one year ahead of schedule in its planned expansion.

Carlson attributed this fine record to several things, among them the expansion in the credit insurance market, where, in 1965, the company's net profit contributed to the expense of expanding other lines of new business.

The most important development during 1965, Carlson stated, was the introduction and development of a new division called Group Purchased Ordinary. G.P.O. promised and produced over $5,000,000 of paid-for ordinary insurance in the last six months of 1965.

The first quarter of 1966 has continued unabated the expansion shown in 1964 and 1965. First quarter 1966 reports indicate a net increase in Ordinary of $5,300,000 and an over-all increase of over $15 millions.

Carlson stated that goals for 1966 include insurance in force in excess of $300 millions. He concluded with the statement that 1966 should be the most significant year in the history of Reliance Life. (BB

Interstate Reports Record Successes

Interstate Department Stores, Inc. enjoyed record results for the year ended Jan. 31, with profits up 34 per cent and sales 12.7 per cent ahead.

Net earnings amounted to $7,934,000, equal to $2.40 per share on 3,297,954 shares outstanding, compared with $5,922,469, or $1.90 on 3,112,749 shares, for the previous year.

Sales totaled $433,632,000 against $384,867,747.

SOL W. CANTOR, president, noted that this was the seventh consecutive year in which the company established sales and earnings records. Interstate's 1965 net was equal to 1.8 per cent of sales, the company's best performance to date, and compared with 1.5 per cent in 1964.

Cantor attributed the results last year to higher sales on a store-for-store basis and the opening of new stores.

Interstate will add a minimum of 12 new stores during 1966, Cantor reported. Two Topps stores already have come into operation since the beginning of the current year, and three more are scheduled for opening in May. Five additional Topps stores are planned for the fall, as well as two White Front stores. (BB

At St. Catherine

Leslie Joan Rea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Rea, 2047 Evergreen Ter., Arlington Heights, has been awarded a U.S. Government Grant to participate in the overseas National Defense Education Act Institute for advanced study to be held this summer at Rennes, France. The institute is conducted by The College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education.

Leslie, who will be graduating from the University of Minnesota this June and teaching in the fall, is one of 60 teachers from 20 states, Korea and the Hawaiian Islands to be selected in a rigorous nationwide competition.

Participants will spend nine weeks in France from June 17 to Aug. 19. They will spend three weeks in travel and six in concentrated study at Rennes, the historic capital of Brittany, now a large city in full economic expansion.

The institute, the most advanced of five NDEA Institutes in France this summer, is designed to meet the teachers' needs for extensive knowledge of subject matter and for increased competence in the use of new methods and teaching materials. (10CC

At Illinois

Lois Eileen Earhart, 241 S. Center St., Bensenville, is among the 40 University of Illinois coeds honored at the annual senior tea of Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman women's scholastic honor society recently.

The senior women received certificates of merit for earning a 4.5 grade point average (on a 5-point scale) during seven semesters of academic work. (5CC

At Iowa

University of Iowa students ranking highest in their classes with cumulative grade-point averages of 3.0 or higher in all their college work out of 4.0 system were listed in the Honors Program and invited to the Honors Convocation ceremonies held at MacBride Hall recently. This was held during the Mother's Day Weekend celebrations.

Kathleen Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Dunn, 34 Woodcrest Lane, Elk Grove Village, with a 3.38 average, was included among the honored freshmen and extended congratulations by President Howard Bowen.

At Macalester

Christine Brown of Arlington Heights has been appointed a resident counselor at Macalester College for the year 1966-67.

Students are selected on the basis of their interest in others, maturity, extra-curricular activities, friendly disposition, and leadership.

A 1964 graduate of New Trier Township High School, Miss Brown is presently a sophomore majoring in sociology at Macalester. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Linas H. Brown, 704 E. Joles, Arlington Heights.

Many More Books in Dunlop's Future

Author Shares Thoughts on Writing, Living

by Joan Lorenson
Staff Writer

In a quieter period of history, Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, Arlington Heights, believes he might not have become a serious writer.

Post-World Warr II restlessness after OSS duty in Burma and China made Dunlop decide against following his inclination to be a musical composer. "I had to be nearer the mainstream of life," he recalls. Music was a step too removed. "I had a direct concern with what was going on in the world."

Though Dunlop describes a circuitous route to writing for a living, he was the author of a hardback book, "Doctors of the American Frontier" released last year by Doubleday & Co. He is under contract for five different books and negotiating for a sixth. Some magazine articles may be offshoots of this work.

Before entering the book field because "it gives more meaning to a writer's work," Dunlop wrote magazine articles that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest, Today's Health, McCalls, Popular Mechanics, American Home, and the defunct Colliers. He built a reputation as an expert in travel and frontier history.

HE IS AUTHOR of three travel guides: the Rand-McNally Travel Guide, the Texaco Touring Atlas, and the Sinclair travel guide.

Dunlop writes during the day in a windowed study area of his Spanish-style home. Once he disciplined himself to write mornings because he was freshest but now he writes any time during the day. He confessed if he feels "jaded," he catnaps and returns to work. Evenings are saved for leisure and other activities unless an emergency requires him to write.

"Because of the Scotch blood in me" Dunlop types his work on the back of galleys returned from his publisher. Increasing demands on his time mean he depends on his wife, Joan, or an outsider to type his final manuscript. But he makes corrections up to the time of printing.

Dunlop, who has an aura of warmth and courtesy, considers it natural to write seriously while living in a suburb like Arlington Heights. Living in "an intellectual ghetto" and associating with writers and artists is not his choice. As a writer he believe he gains from living in a community with a variety of people. His neighbors accept his occupation matter-of-factly.

HE THOUGHTFULLY said he probably can enjoy his contacts with creative people all the more for being away from them. Creative people, stimulating and exciting, can be nerve-wracking because of continually "sparking off ideas," he observed.

Dunlop also considers a suburban community a good place to raise his four children.

He has lived in Chicago and New York City including a six-month sojourn in Greenwich Village.

A third grade teacher in Oak Park is credited with first recognizing Dunlop's writing talent. She asked if she could read to the class her student's humorous account of a family trip to Detroit. Later Dunlop received prizes and recognition for fiction and poetry. However, he majored in history at Northwestern University.

IN A quietly assured manner, Dunlop said he will produce a major work of fiction in the future. That future achievement will have greater stature, Dunlop hopes, because he has tried to develop "as a man and a human being" and then as a writer. He does not believe that writers should sacrifice everything to writing.

Dunlop's philosophy of being a man first, writer second, colors his viewpoint toward his family. He spends time with his children, explaining simply that their childhood and youth are fleeting; he will be a writer later, too.

Dunlop's professional responsibilities require traveling. But he rejects any exotic junkets if they do not contribute to his work. He and his wife have agreed she will stay home with the children except for an annual trip. The whole family travels with him once or twice a year. This year they will make a trip to the Southwest.

As scoutmaster for a troop of 42 boys, Dunlop gives to the community and the youth for which he has affection. It also is not strange that a juvenile novel about a doctor and a boy in Dodge City is in his future planning.

AS A WRITER and former teacher of writing workshops, Dunlop advises young writers that this career takes not only ability but hard work. Youthful writers often ignore the importance of research. "You have to have a story to tell," he declared.

The files of bulging folders attest to Dunlop's painstaking research. He recalls while writing Periscopes for Newsweek, an editor told him "You're paid to be a reporter, not a smart aleck."

Hamlin Garland, author of such books as "Main-Traveled Roads," and "A Son of the Middle Border" influenced Dunlop's writing. Many of the thoughts, words, and style imbedded themselves in his boyhood memory, Dunlop realized some years ago. Dunlop chose Garland as his subject in one of a series of articles on creative figures of the Midwest. As a result, he was asked to write the inscription on a marker dedicated to Garland in West Salem, Wis.

Dunlop uses poetic devices and fiction techniques in his writing of non-fiction. He considers Truman Capote's "In Cold Blood" a "landmark in the development of American literature." He adds that what might be considered a breakthrough to the reading public is not new to writers. But because of Capote's success, others will experiment further, faster, Dunlop said. He sees James T. Farrell and John Steinbeck as naturals to use this technique.

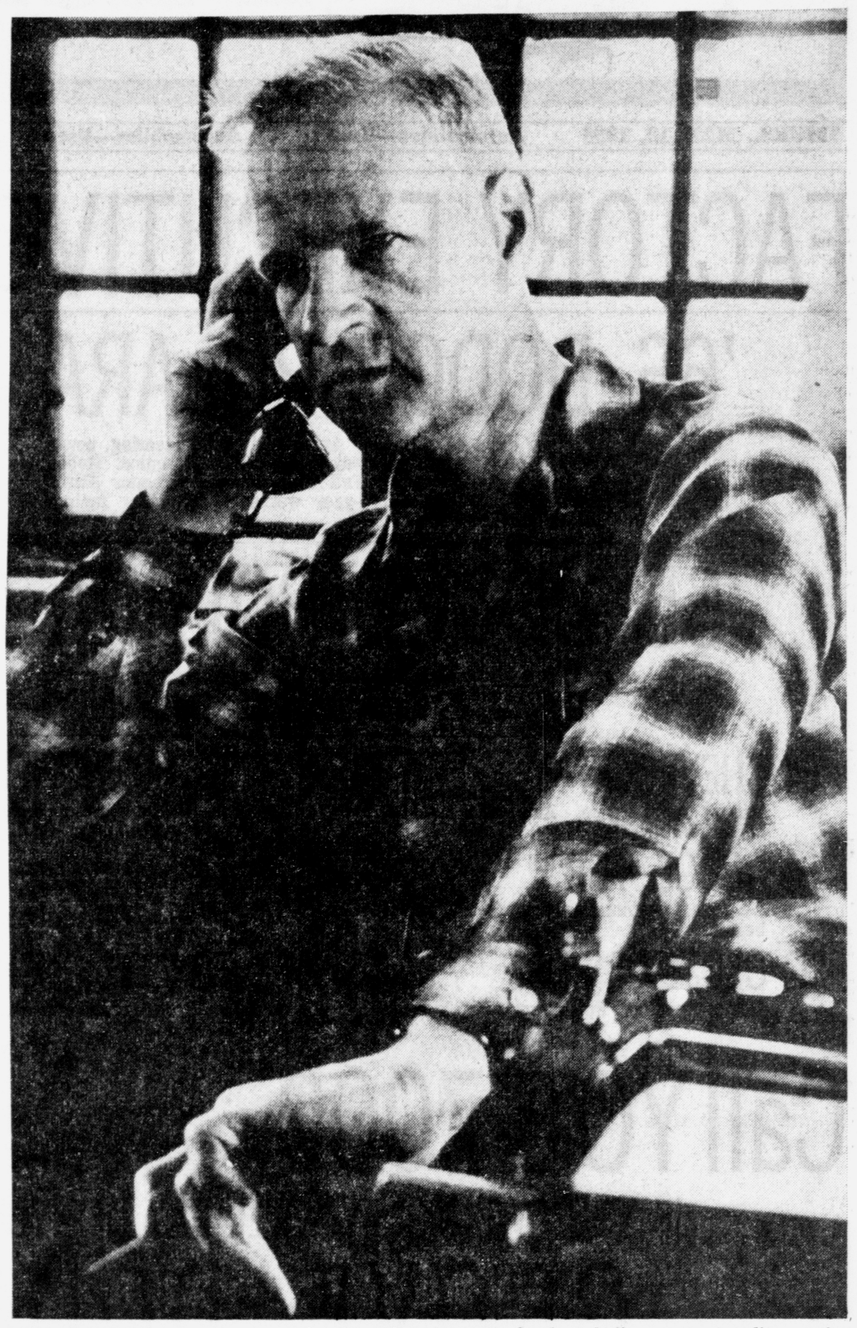
"THE AMERICAN magazine article is as literary a form as the short story," Dunlop said. It requires as demanding a technique.

As a father, Dunlop will not push his children into writing careers. His role is to "give them emotional balance, love of people, character, and decency." They will be aware that writing is a career not making someone rich nor poor.

Dunlop observed that the teaching of literature and language arts in the school system often is dependent on the great teacher, not necessarily the curriculum. "We haven't gotten children in a real learning mood," he suggested. People carry from their own childhood a mixture of nostalgia and repugnance for their schooling, he added. The classroom environment still hasn't become compatible with learning and often is "stultifying and suppressive," too often overemphasizing behavior. Dunlop has a daughter in high school, a son in junior high school, and two sons in elementary school.

DUNLOP VIEWS the Midwest as "the right climate for writers and creative people." Chicago has a serious school of striving writers. The Arlington Heights area, according to Dunlop, has more than a dozen writers.

Dunlop has rejected college teaching jobs in the belief "once you teach on that scale, you no longer can write." He does not hesitate, however, to help others who may go farther because they begin younger. This is considered the writer's natural contribution to "improvement and development of society." (A15



EDITORS' CALLS are an accepted part of the life of author Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, Arlington Heights. Dunlop, an untemperamental writer, admits he gets irritable if crossed creatively but believes most editors give helpful suggestions for changes. He has the enviable record of receiving only two rejection slips in his free lance career.

Public Invited to See St. Alexius Hospital

Officials at St. Alexius Hospital, 800 W. Biesterfield Road, will mark completion of their new $7 million building with an open house Saturday from 1 p.m to 6 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The public is invited.

Visitors will be taken on a tour of patient rooms, pediatrics, obstetrical and nursing departments, emergency and laboratory facilities and kitchens. Members of the hospital's women's auxiliary will serve as tour hostesses, and department supervisors will explain operation and uses of major equipment.

Dedication of the new hospital will not take place until June 12. The first patients will be admitted shortly thereafter. Open house is being before dedication to allow a more complete tour of the facilities.

BOTH DEDICATION and the open house will come during the Alexian Brothers centennial commemorating the opening of the first hospital in Chicago.

Completion comes after a series of delays forced postponement of the hospital's opening from December.

Open house guests will receive souvenir brochures, centennial commemoration leaflets, and a set of simulated blueprints.

The open house will be followed on May 21 with a dedication gala dance to be held on the ground floor of the hospital. (A15

McCabe Hits Rival For 'Negativism'

James L. McCabe, Democratic candidate for election to the U. S. Congress from the 13th District, met the 13th District Congressional Democratic Women's Organization last week at the Long Grove Country Club.

Mrs. Robert Siebert, president of the group, said, "It's about time that the voters in the 13th District fully realize the difference between the kind of representation they have been receiving in Congress and the proper representation they should have.'

Donald Rumsfeld, Republican, is the incumbent.

IN A BRIEF address, McCabe said, "In 1964, the nation voted in unequaled unanimity for President Johnson, and backed him up with a Democratic majority because they wanted the kind of results spoken about throughout the campaign. Illinois was not an exception.

"Since that election year, far reaching legislation has been passed into law favorably affecting virtually every segment of our nation. We have already enjoyed the benefits of a reduction in taxes; children now in school and future students will benefit from sophisticated educational electronic equipment, better text materials, and over-all superior teaching methods as a result of the Education Acts; anti-poverty legislation will prove-out to help those poor souls that need the help most; our beloved senior citizens can now rest easier knowing they have the security of Medicare; and, although it took a century to accomplish, we should be proud of the fact that every American now has the civil rights guaranteed by the document framed by our farsighted forefathers—the U. S. Constitution.

"DESPITE THIS outstanding progress, participated in by virtually all of the nation's congressional representatives, the 13th Congressional District of Illinois sent a person to Congress who has consistently represented the negative position in many of these programs rather than assuming the position of leadership which rightfully belongs in the townships of Niles, Northfield, Elk Grove, Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine, New Trier, and Evanston.

"People of the 13th Congressional District of Illinois can be proud of the fact that educationally, economically and socially, we are rated as number one in the nation. In view of this, it's incongruous to be considered at a lower level civicly.

"The 13th District deserves a forceful spokesman and a representative who will correctly reflect the views of the voters in order to place itself in its rightful position of leadership," McCabe emphasized.

In concluding his remarks, McCabe thanked the Democratic Women's Organization for inviting him to their luncheon, and asked for their total support.

Founded approximately seven years ago, the women's group was created for the sole purpose of working for and attaining election of Democratic candidates. (B10

Merriam to Head Ogilvie Committee

Robert E. Merriam, former deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, has accepted the permanent chairmanship of the All-Cook County Committee To Elect Richard B. Ogilvie President of the Cook County Board.

Merriam, who in 1955 came closer to victory in Chicago's mayoral election than any Republican in 35 years, will oversee citizen activities for the Ogilvie campaign.

Offices are in Room 1108, 77 W. Washington Street, Chicago.

"DICK OGILVIE'S candidacy has great attraction for the independent voter," Merriam declared. "The Committee will coordinate the efforts of these independents, disillusioned Democrats and Republicans in a county wide effort to emphasize the importance of the County Board presidency.

"It is a very tough job. But Dick Ogilvie has proven that he is the right man to tackle a tough job." (B10

Red China Study Is Set for Local LWV

Local League of Women Voters work during the next year will include planning a new "This is Arlington Heights" booklet, surveying intergovernmental problems, and studying U.S. relations with Red China.

The study of Red China, an extension of earlier LWV studies in the area of foreign policy, was selected last week at a national league convention in Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Frank Moore, local LWV president who attended the Denver meeting, said that League delegates from throughout the nation voted to extend present LWV work on water resources and equal opportunity in education and employment.

ATTEMPTS TO have the national league take on new studies of Congressional reform and equal opportunity in housing were defeated by delegate votes.

Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the new U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Affairs, was a speaker at the conference that day. He commented that the LWV action on the fair housing topic was "something less than he had expected."

The two local LWV topics, publication of a "This Is Arlington Heights" information and a survey of metropolitan problems, were selected at the league's annual meeting.

LOCAL League members also voted to retain as "continuing responsibilities" — League lingo for watchdog items — three topics: support of the village manager form of government in Arlington Heights, support of economical and efficient budgeting and wise expenditure of Wheeling Township income, and support of efforts to establish an official human relations commission in Arlington Heights.

Elected as local LWV officers were Mrs. William Trevor of Rolling Meadows, second vice president; Mrs. Ernest Beal of Mount Prospect, secretary; and Mrs. Joseph McIntyre of Hoffman Estates, treasurer.

Elected directors include Mrs. Robert Korte of Arlington Heights, chosen for a one year term; and Mrs. John Muller of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Tom Lunak of Des Plaines and Mrs. W. J. Marier of Arlington Heights, elected to two-year terms. (ACME

School Bus Monopoly Criticized

Three Elk Grove Village residents—an accountant, a minister and an engineer—spoke at High School District 214's board meeting Monday to urge diversification of bus services.

The accountant, David Carlson, charged that the school district should be receiving better than double the payments made by Cook County School Bus Company for late bus runs.

The CPA commented that the bus company has "misunderstood" its contract in paying $6.30 for each late morning or evening run, instead of the $12.50 due for each late run or $25 due for each run late or missed both morning and night.

The minister, the Rev. David Crail, said he was concerned about ethics shown by both the bus company and school district in allowing sale of school-purchased gasoline, in not doing more to prevent speeding by drivers, and "glossing over of facts," and in encouraging monopolies.

The engineer, Barton Hoglund, said in weighing "allegations and rebuttals" regarding Cook County School Bus Co. service he had come to the conclusion that a "potentially dangerous situation" exists.

All three urged the district to seek a "second source" of bus service.

That same course has been urged by Mrs. Leah Cummins, board member from Elk Grove Village.

The three were among citizens who asked Mrs. Cummins to meet with them Friday to discuss school bus service.

4-H Club Wins Skit Contest

Mt. Arlington B. G.'s 4-H Club was one of six winners in the recent "Share-the-Fun Night" competition for which each 4-H club in the North Cook County area prepared and presented an act.

The Mt. Arlington entry was an Indian skit entitled "The Dance of the Evil Spirit."

The group then went on to the contest with south Cook County, but did not place among the top three winners there.

Peggy Sidor of Mt. Arlington B. G.'s won the north Cook County competition for master of ceremonies, and placed second at south Cook County. (A

Another Step Taken On Thomas St. Paving

Thomas Street improvement went forward another notch Thursday when the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) passed on adhering resolution on the paving of a two-block portion lying within the village.

The BOLI resolution calls for paving the south half of Thomas Street between Arlington Heights Road and Dunton Avenue.

Their project goes before the village board next Monday.

THE TWO-BLOCK half street is considered a bottleneck in plans to improve the entire unpaved portion of Thomas Street between Arlington Heights and Wilke Roads.

Parts of Thomas Street—north halves where it abuts unincorporated areas—are under the jurisdiction of the Wheeling Township road commissioner.

Township officials have indicated a willingness to pave their portions of Thomas Street in conjunction with the village portion.

The problem is that the village's special assessment project must go through time-consuming legal proceedings before being approved in court.

BOLI Pres. Sam Rudder indicated at Thursday's hearings that even if everything went smoothly, work on the two-block section wouldn't start until September.

THERE WAS ONE objector at Thursday's hearings.

Wenzel Stubner, 75, 9 E. Thomas St. told BOLI members that his house was built so close to the street that if it were paved it would take his front yard away.

He also complained that he will have to pay for an improvement that he won't be using. (A Hospital Secretary 'Employe of the Year'

Shortly after Lutheran General Hospital opened in 1960, Mrs. Harry Mendenhall of 2120 Woodland, Park Ridge, volunteered her services. When she agreed to help out by taking the secretarial position in the pastoral care department for several months, she had no intention of becoming a permanent employe.

The months have grown into years, however, and this year Mrs. Mendenhall has been named Lutheran General's "Employe of the Year."

"We are very proud to bestow the title on such a deserving person," said Robert J. Nast, administrator. "She does her job with a quiet efficiency that is a credit to her department and the whole hospital.

"EVEN THOUGH her office is often crowded with clergy and relatives of patients and the phone rings almost continuously, Mrs. Mendenhall is always pleasant and courteous. Her warm smile is often a source of comfort to visitors."

One of Mrs. Mendenhall's primary duties is keeping up-to-date five card files which aid area clergymen in ministering to patients. She also spends a great deal of time phoning to notify clergymen that members of their congregation are in the hospital.

Other duties include scheduling appointments for hospital chaplains, sending out mailings about the various seminars and institutes which pastoral care offers to the community, and preparing material for the clinical pastoral education program which is supervised by the department.

"Mrs. Mendenhall always manages to keep things in order no matter how confused they get," said Pastor Lawrence Holst, head of pastoral care. "Her enthusiasm is contagious, and her willingness to put in extra time is deeply appreciated. We certainly couldn't get along without her." (ACM

Lay Group Dinner, Dance Set

The second annual dinner dance of the De Andreis Family will be held Monday, June 6, at the Martinique Restaurant in Evergreen Park, according to Gene White, 1745 S. California, Palatine, president of the organization.

The De Andreis Family is a lay group whose members play a vital role in the training of future Vincentian priests by bringing the practical experience of laymen of all faiths into the theoretical studies of the seminary and serving, in effect, as a supplementary faculty. It also sponsors the annual dinner dance to raise funds to support the De Andreis Seminary in Lemont, Ill.

Named in honor of Rev. Felix De Andreis, C.M., a pioneer American Vincentian priest responsible for founding in 1818 one of the first seminaries in the United States, De Andreis Seminary is a four year school of theology at which Vincentian Fathers are educated during the last four years of their studies for the priesthood. A TENSE MOMENT in "Major Barbara," George Bernard Shaw's comedy of errors, is rehearsed by Arlington High School students. The play, under direction of Douglas K. Murphy, will be presented in the Little Theatre May 19, 20, and 21. Shown in rehearsal are (left to right, seated) Carol Brouwer and Gary Fichter, (left to right, standing) Becky Balding, Tom Jacobs, and Steve Busch. (ACM

To Be Named For Editor

The Little Theater at Arlington High School will soon bear the name of the late Helene Bristol.

A recommendation that the Little Theater bear Mrs. Bristol's name was approved at the High School District 214 board meeting Monday.

Plans are being made now to have a memorial plaque installed at a ceremony honoring Mrs. Bristol, who was Paddock Publications education editor until her death in late December.

The recommendation to honor Mrs. Bristol was included in a report by an administration-board-teacher committee to name school libraries, theaters, athletic fields and gymnasiums.

The committee, headed by Jack Martin, assistant to the superintendent, suggested that guideline for selection of names would include preference for individuals who were local residents, retired or deceased, and in some way directly connected with education.

Homeowners Urged to Think, Observe

Wanted: Imagination in Landscaping

by NANCY ANDERSON
Staff Writer

"Everybody can be a landscape man, you know."

And the fact that homeowners aren't—or don't at least try to be—disturbs Palatine landscape architect Harold O. Klopp, who has an office in Arlington Heights.

"Each of us is an individual," he points out. "And if people were to establish in their own minds what they want, instead of buying a bunch of evergreens because that's what everybody's doing, they'd come out a lot better. But they follow tradition without doing too much thinking."

Although he disagrees with Klopp about what people are doing, nurseryman Carl Klehm of Arlington Heights agrees, "The missing factor is imagination" when it comes time for homeowners to plan their landscaping.

KLOPP ASSERTS, "People have given up a good many traditional things — say from the 1930's — except landscaping. They're driving Thunderbirds, but they have Model T landscaping. The standard plan, with two tall evergreens and four shrubs, looks like two semicolons with four periods in between."

Not so any more, says Klehm. "I think a few years ago there were predominantly evergreen plantings, but one of the big modern trends is to combine flowering shrubs and trees for a year-round effect, giving color and interest. I disagree that people are traditional. I think they're looking for new ways, new ideas."

Klehm's description of the landscape planning process also differs with that given by Klopp.

"I'd say they go to some nursery, where they sketch out a real rapid plan that uses front planting of a great deal of evergreens and not too much consideration of esthetic planning," contends Klopp.

He recommends more attention to "the line of esthetic landscaping - bring out the esthetic value of the house, and not hide it."

AT HIS NURSERY, Klehm says, "We have them bring in a plan and maybe a few pictures, list how they want to live and what to expect from the outside area, then accomplish this as imaginatively as possible."

A major concern is to "try to combine the indoor and outdoor use, so that we have proper land and property use."

The added cost of landscaping may seem steep to some new homeowners already carefully balancing their budget to make payments, but it really isn't an inhibiting factor, says Klehm.

He points out that the same landscaping designs can be created or accomplished at varying costs, depending upon the size of materials.

"What people don't realize is that when you buy plants, you buy time. The diference between a two-inch tree and a six-inch tree, for example, may be 10 to 12 years."

LACK OF TIME, for tending a yard as well as for lots of other things, is an inhibiting factor when it comes to landscaping.

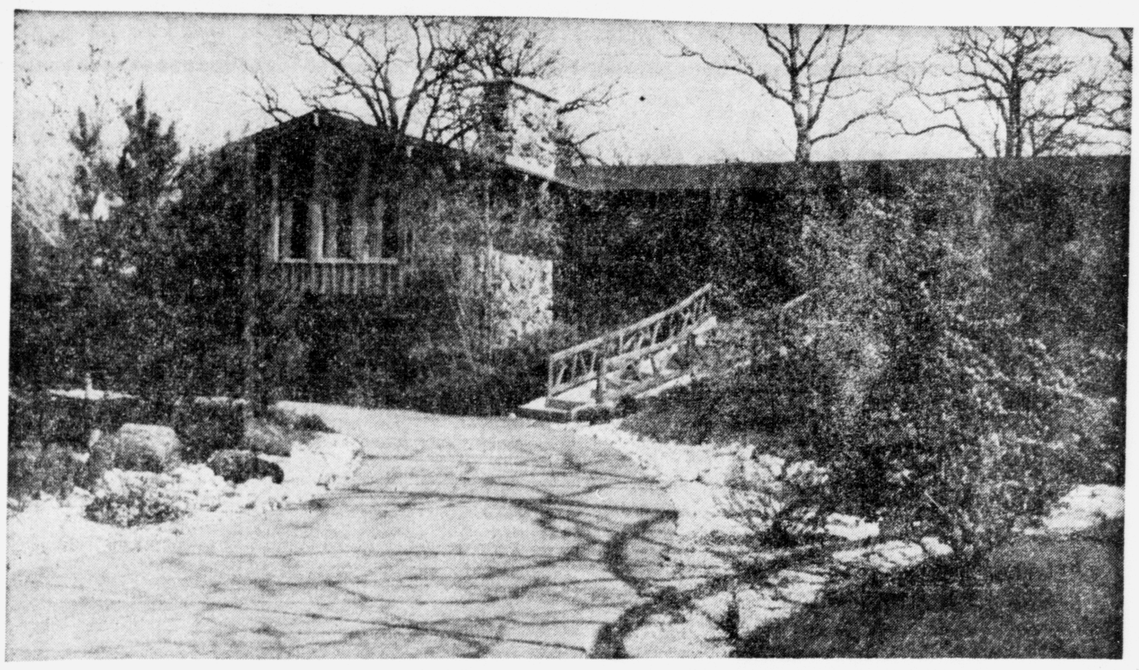
Klopp says, generally, that after getting their plantings in, homeowners put in the lawn, then do as "little as possible, because people don't want to spend time maintaining."

And, Klehm notes that people now are buying much more "finished" material than in the past. "I think maybe people have more money, and they're more impatient."

A little more patience - combined with imagination - and people might do better on their landscape planning.

FOR IDEAS, Klopp recommends "thinking and observing. There are articles in magazines, adult education courses, garden walks like that planned for Plum Grove Estates later this month."

But many people don't observe, Klehm notes. "We're cliff dwellers now. People just don't see what's there." He bemoans "one of the greatest lacks in our educational system, that we don't learn about and know about what we have naturally." (SS



GOOD WAY for homeowners to get ideas for landscaping is through home and garden tours such as that planned by Plum Grove Auxiliary on Thursday, May 26. Among the homes on the tour will be the one pictured above, owned by the Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dasara in Plum Grove Estates. (Staff photo)

Plan Celebration

May 22-28 has been officially designated as Realtor Week, and the 690 members of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors have made extensive plans for its celebration, said Ralph H. Bruns, the Board's president, today.

He announced a schedule of events as the Realtors in this area join with their more than 82,000 colleagues across the nation in directing public attention to their calling and the special character of the services they render.

"A Realtor is not 'just a real estate man,'" said Mr. Bruns. "He is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict code of ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Bruns said Realtors took their code of ethics seriously.

"It was one of the first adopted in the history of American business," he declared. "Under its 30 articles, covering all aspects of a real estate transaction, the Realtor pledges fair treatment and the full scope of his real estate knowledge to both contracting parties—buyer and seller."

He added that Realtor is a coined term and service mark registered with the U. S. Patent Office under the trademark laws and as such should always be capitalized. It may be used only by members of NAREB.

THE THEME OF 1966 Realtor Week is contained in its slogan —"Moving Up? Settling Down? See a Realtor"—announced Bruns.

"The slogan underscores the quality of one of the Realtor's services in finding a larger or better home for an expanding family or a first home for a family," he explained.

"Two thirds of American families own their homes, a proportion unrivaled virtually anywhere in the world," he continued. "The advantages of home ownership—financially, in convenience, and in security—are obvious. With the many forms of financing available today, any family can invest in its future by 'moving up or settling down.'"

The Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors was founded in 1944. Its parent group, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, was founded in 1908. With ofiices in Chicago and Washington, NAREB furnishes Realtors with the latest information in real estate developments, mortgage rates, economic trends, and other business factors. (RE

Expanded Facilities Improve Standard Bathroom Design

By T. WILLIAM SWINFORD
Staff Writer

Has someone, in this age of innovation and invention, come up with a new way to flush water closets (toilets)?

Apparently not, said Jim Goldberg, architect with the Hoffman - Rosner Corp., builders of Hoffman Estates formerly known as F & S Construction Co.

He noted that some contractors are beginning to hang water closets from walls, rather than use the time-tested unit placed on the floor, but added, "These units are terrifically expensive. In addition to the extra cost for the facility, the wall meeds extra bracing."

He noted that innovations in bathroom planning "probably come more in the area of design with more built-in sinks, ovals and countertops, rather than free-standing sinks."

IN ADDITION, "The use of better floor and wall tiles (ceramic rather than plastic), is coming into wider acceptance."

He said Hoffman-Rosner Corp. is using ceramic tile in shower and tub areas now, and will probably be using it throughout the bathroom in the future. "It is something that is coming," he said, "and is done now generally in custom and higher priced housing."

Have you ever noted upon stepping out of a good hot shower or tub that the bathroom temperature seems very low?

Goldberg siad it is easy to warm up the bathrooms. "We design them to carry slightly more heat than the rest of the living area, which is generally 72 degrees. Many bathrooms today are enclosed with interior walls, which means there is little or no heat loss due to exchange with exterior wall temperatures."

He mentioned, "It isn't uncommon for extra heaters to be put in the bathrooms, but it isn't generally done in project work."

Goldberg said, "We're beginning to get into a higher degree of finish and design also with regards to mirrors, medicine chests, and lighting."

CONTRACTORS are beginning to use more framed mirrors rather than the surface mounted medicine cabinet. Normally the cabinets are mounted to the side now, with a large mirror and lights over the lavatories.

Goldberg indicated contractors have gone to a moderate use of wood paneling in powder rooms and half-baths without tub or shower facilities. "This creates quite a rich effect," he said.

One new thing Hoffman - Rosner is doing on some homes is a bathroom - closet - dressing area.

This is generally a small room between two other rooms, such as the bedroom and bathroom.

"We have done this very successfully in some homes," Goldberg said.

He mentioned also that some linen closet facilities are being placed in the bathroom behind doors, but "this is not generally a trend."

THE PLUMBING — Heating—Cooling Information Bureau, 35 E. Wacker, Chicago, asks, "Have you ever thought of bathroom fixtures as 'furniture?' "

It answers its own question with, "If you're like most of us, the answer probably is no. We tend to think of the bathroom as being 'equipped' with a tub, lavatory and water closet instead of 'furnished.'

"This is probably a carry-over from the days when bathrooms were strictly utilitarian and consisted of three white fixtures in a basic style," the bureau continues.

"Today, however, you can get fixtures not only in dozens of colors but also dozens of styles. You can have the pleasure of designing and furnishing your new bathroom.

"IN THE case of water closets, for example, you can choose between floor-mounted and off-the-floor types, with many styles available in each." This note from the bureau served to corroborate Goldberg's advice on building innovations in bathrooms.

The bureau continued, "You can get single, double and even triple-bowl lavatories, with or without countertops and with or without storage space beneath—all designed like pieces of furniture."

The bureau noted, "It's literally impossible to summarize the variety of your choice in fixtures, accessories and in wall and floor coverings. The wise thing to do, if you're planning to remodel or add a bathroom, is to visit the store of a plumbing contractor who specializes in bathrooms.

"He'll have enougn examples on display to give you a good idea of what's available, and will show you the full-color product literature available from manufacturers."

Center of Activity

Family Room - A 'Must'

"You can't build a home without a recreation or family room."

That's the opinion of many families and builders—Russ Miller of Orchard Lake Homes, Inc., in Wheeling indicated that a big majority of the people looking for homes in the area want and almost demand recreation rooms.

A check of other developers in the area confirmed Miller's statement. Builders are planning huge family or rec rooms in five out of six homes.

Builders also said living rooms are shrinking in size because of the added space now being provided in family rooms. "The center of activity is now in the recreation room; not the living room as it was in yesteryear," one salesman said.

There are some complaints about the small living rooms, but "they are really used less now," another salesman stated.

HOUSEWIVES tended to agree that the "center of home life" is now in the recreation room. One in Wheeling commented, "Living rooms are too plush, you just don't feel comfortable there."

An Arlington Heights mother, Mrs. Edward Rateike, said, "We use ours a lot because it's right off the kitchen and handy" She lives in a ranch-type home.

She continued, "Now we use the living room for guests and entertaining." This is the first home with a recreation room the Rateikes have owned.

Another reason why the recreation room is used so much, continued Mrs. Rateike, is that the patio and back yard are both just off the rec room. In the summer it makes it all very convenient, she said.

WHAT DO FAMILY rooms look like?

Well, they are quite large, among the biggest rooms in the house, builders say. The homes built by Orchard Lake in Prospect Garden in Wheeling have rec rooms primarily 13 by 20, with some as large as 24 feet long.

Most of the homes in Prospect Gardens are split-level, said Miller, and the recreation rooms are on the lower level behind garages or under the bedrooms.

The rec rooms in the subdivision, located just off Elmhurst Road two miles north of Randhurst Shopping Center, have radiant heat which is under the floor.

"A baby can lie on the floor and be comfortable," according to Miller.

FIREPLACES in the recreation rooms also are becoming really popular, Miller said. About three-fourths of them have fireplaces now, he said.

Paneled walls in the rooms are a big selling point. According to Miller, all family rooms have at least one wall paneled. To have all walls paneled makes the room look "like a dungeon," builders say.

Thus it's best to have one or two walls paneled, but plastered walls are also a must, Miller said. Some have paneling about half way up which extends all the way around the four walls.

Many rec rooms also have sliding glass doors leading to a patio or backyard.

And most are brightly decorated and casual. Many have Danish modern or contemporary furniture. The main reason for this is the sturdiness, one woman commented.

STANDARD equipment in rec rooms today includes a bay, TV of course, and perhaps a radio or inexpensive record player. Other things often found in rec rooms are pool or ping-pong tables.

Some even follow a Western theme, with guns, skins, and ranch brands.

Others follow a medieval theme, with swords and armour.

Apartments Are More 'Homelike,' Designed for Spacious Living

by HOWARD HARMENING
Staff Writer

Designers and builders are generally trying to make apartment dwellers in the northwest suburbs feel like they're living in a house.

"Twenty to 30 years ago," reports Ronald Benach, president of 3-H Homes, Inc., of Rolling Meadows and Hanover Park, "apartment were built either very small purely as living quarters or very large and luxurious."

"Today," he adds "the normal apartment is being designed for spaciousness, with space equivalent to that of homes in many cases."

Benach, whose firm is constructing a 108-unit apartment complex in DeKalb also, points out that the inclusion of air conditioning has become almost a must in modern apartments.

"MOST LENDERS today also won't even consider financing larger units such as three-bedroom apartments unless the plans include foyers," he continues.

John Bergeson, an architect with Robert Babbin & Assocs. of Chicago, which has designed apartment buildings in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Evanston and Des Plaines, also indicates a trend toward plans which include "attractive entrances into apartments with most rooms leading off it separately."

Bedrooms are generally smaller today," Bergeson says, "but there's a tendency to make the living space larger. Builders and tenants also want better views with bigger windows.'

New apartments are also being designed with "better, more efficient plumbing," reports Bergeson. "Kitchens are being built with more surface cooking units, garbage disposals and better lighting."

The number of cabinets in the kitchen also is increasing. "In many cases," says Merlin Markiewicz, builder of Shalamar Apartments in Arlington Heights, "a tenant can get more cabinets in an apartment than in a $30,000 home."

Markiewicz disagrees with Bergeson, however, in that he detects a trend in apartment designing toward larger bedrooms.

WHAT KIND OF floors will modern tenants walk on? Both Benach and Markiewicz think more and more apartment units constructed in the future will include carpeting in living areas.

"Carpeting is not only more cheerful for the tenant," explains Markiewicz, "but it also decreases noise."

More and more plans for two-bedroom and three-bedroom units, both builders agree, are also including up to two bathrooms with a high-quality tile.

"Electric heat is making some inroads in apartment building," continues Benach, "but not too much in the Chicago area."

Markiewicz explains that more apartments don't include electric heat because possible tenants "don't like that big bill in January. There's generally a tendency to stick with gas heat at present."

MANY COMPLEXES also now include pools, barbecue facilities and private parking, says Markiewicz. "In a project, the tenant often gets more than the private homeowner does," the builder adds.

Benach reports that interior walls are generally being painted white by builders, with tenants expected to lend color to their home with their furniture and accessories, but points out there's also a trend for builders to panel more apartment walls.

Stains on woodwork tend to be from "light to medium shades," he continues, "with the naturalness emphasized to create an indoor-outdoor atmosphere that you'd find a house."

Apartment builders also try to set off a dining area to make it something distinct from the living room, but open to the kitchen, he says.

THE USE OF built-ins in the kitchen appears to be a design feature dependent on the builder himself. Benach says there's a trend toward greater use of built-ins, while Markiewicz sees the saturation point reached.

"The refrigerator and range aren't built in at the Shalamar apartments," explains Markiewicz, "they're just set in. It's easier to clean and better for maintenance."

The number of bedrooms in a unit remains a variable also among builders and architects and depends on the market. Benach, however, sees a trend for more three-bedroom units to be built in the Chicago area.

The 188-unit Shalamar complex includes one-bedroom and two-bedroom units.

WHAT ABOUT draperies? Benach believes more builders are going to think of drapes like many now think about carpeting. "They very definitely have to be included."

Most builders still steer away from having washing machines and dryers in individual apartments, housing washing facilities "in a common area because we're still fighting a space problem," Benach explains.

Space for Luxury - More Bedrooms, and They're Bigger

by GENE NOJEK
Staff Writer

Bigger bedrooms and more of them is what area builders are putting into new homes.

The trend is away from three bedrooms and toward four bedrooms in new homes being built in the Arlington Heights area.

Along with this trend is a new development, called the master bedroom suite.

Home builders contacted in Arlington Heights say most homes being built in the $35,000 and over class have four bedrooms.

This is in response to demands by buyers. "People are becoming more space conscious," said Art LaVallie, sales manager for Mor-Well Builders of the Elsinore subdivision. "They want the luxury of a lot of space."

And four-bedroom homes are not necessarily being sold to large families. Most of them are going to small families with two or three children.

They really don't need the four rooms for sleeping, LaVallie explanied, but they want the extra room as a guest room or to convert into a den or study.

FOUR-BEDROOM homes are also in the below-$35,000 class. In that case, the emphasis is usually on use and need rather than just luxury and the rooms are smaller.

Another factor in the number of four-bedroom homes in the area is the influx of out-of-towners who locate here because of the nearness of the Northwest Tollway, O'Hare Field and industry, said Al Kaplan, sales manager in the Ivy Hill subdivision built by Meister-Neiberg Co., Inc. "Being from other parts of the country," he said, "they get a lot of out-of-town visitors and need the extra space."

He added that many area buyers are subject to transfer to other areas and wish a house that can be resold easily. Four-bedroom houses are now popular sellers.

THE MASTER bedroom suite is an elaboration on the bigger bedroom theme.

The suite is designed to be much more than just a large bedroom. Included in it are a large sitting room, dressing area, vanity area, and compartmentalized master bath. The whole suite is closed off from the rest of the house by double doors.

The concept behind the master suite is to create an area which is exclusively for the adults, explained William Alter, president of Real Estate Co. of America, builders of Airy Trace.

The master bedroom suite is one area of the house designed specifically to be a private compartment for the adults of the family to get away from the noise and racket of the rest of the house.

This goes back to the increasing specialization of different areas of the home. The family room with its fireplace is used by the whole family. The recreation room is a place for activity. The living room has now become a strictly formal area and is much smaller than it formerly was.

THE MASTER SUITE is the one area exclusively for adults, said Alter. Its sitting room goes one step beyond the recreation room: it's a place for relaxation for the parents in opposition to "activity" recreation.

In the suite, adults can close off the rest of the house and, in the sitting room, have a private compartment to themselves to read or watch their own TV programs. It's a place children have no reason to be in because they have their own areas of the house.

The size of the master suites being built lead many couples who see them to comment that they are as large as their entire apartments when they were first married. Total areas of these suites range from around 400 to over 500 square feet, depending on the builder and model.

The idea of the master suite, noted Alter, goes back to the French boudoir, which provided a large bedroom area that could be used for other activities besides sleeping. Now, he said, it's being revived in terms of modern concepts of living and today's pace, where adults of the house need a private area for relaxation.

Future modifications of it could include more space and more privacy, and customizing to fit individual families.

Luxury is the prime consideration people are looking for in bedrooms and the spacious suite, according to the comments of several builders.

"Homes built after the war were basically a shelter with a roof over it that you could call your own," said LaVallie. Now, a home is no longer just a shelter. Buyers want the luxury of space, convenience and privacy.

NOT ALL builders entirely agree with the concept of the master suite with a sitting room.

It's not practical, said John K. Stoltzner of Stoltzner and Associates. "I don't think parents are going to shut themselves off from the rest of the house while the kids are running around."

The sitting room, he feels, "is a luxury which not all people are willing to pay for.It looks good in magazines or models but when it comes to furnishing and using it, it's a different story. People don't need it and it's extra square footage they'll be paying taxes on but not using."

Stoltzner says he puts his emphasis on use and not luxury and notes, "We can't do anything with bedrooms but make them bigger." And he finds, with or without the master suite, size is the main thing people look for in bedrooms and most houses he sells have four bedrooms. (SS MASTER BEDROOM SUITE as seen in the "Heritage" model in the Airy Trace subdivision of Arlington Heights includes a sitting room (at right) separated from oversize bedroom by an ornamental room divider, compartmentalized master bath and dressing area. Its concept goes back to the idea of the French boudoir, said William Alter, president of the Realcoa, who are builders of Airy Trace. It provides a private compartment for adults of the family to relax, read or watch their own programs on TV. (SS

Home Realty Development Is Planned

Home Realty of Palatine goes with the trend.

A planned development of 100 to 175 acres is on the drawing board for a site similar to the Rand Baldwin project.

Low density multiple family together with residential and commercial will be laid out to please even the most meticulous of planners.

ALL-AROUND recreation al facilities are included which will help take pressure off the Public Park of Palatine. Home Realty is not just a real estate firm, but a holding of Werd Builders, Robert Heinze Law Office, the brokerage and TIC Engineering. They have complete facilities for sales; promotion of; and construction of single family dwellings, commercial, and industrial units to planned complexes.

An additional service of Home is the consultant board composed of legal, engineering, and construction departments. This service is particularly adaptable to investors or investment groups.

A thorough analysis is given to your problem and if your need does not fit that which Home has in its listings, they find it. RE

Realtor Executive To Attend Seminar

Doris Kendzie, Executive Vice President, Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors attended the 23rd annual Seminar of Real Estate Board Administration conducted in Chicago by the Executive Officers Council of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

More than 200 board executives from throughout the country were registered at the Pick-Congress Hotel for the meeting, which began May 1 and will continue through May 6.

EXECUTIVES studied new methods of improving the service provided by real estate boards to the benefit of the public and the board members.

Informal interchange of personal experiences through discussion groups and workshop sessions was the principal form of study, and additional information was presented in practical classroom meetings. Top authorities in the field offered training designed to help registrants find solutions to day-to-day problems in real estate board operation. (RE

Boehm Elected By Chicago Rotary

E. W. BOEHM JR.

Inverness resident Edward W. Boehm, Jr., newly elected vice president of the Rotary Club of Chicago will officially take office July 1, H. Stanley Wanzer, president, announced today.

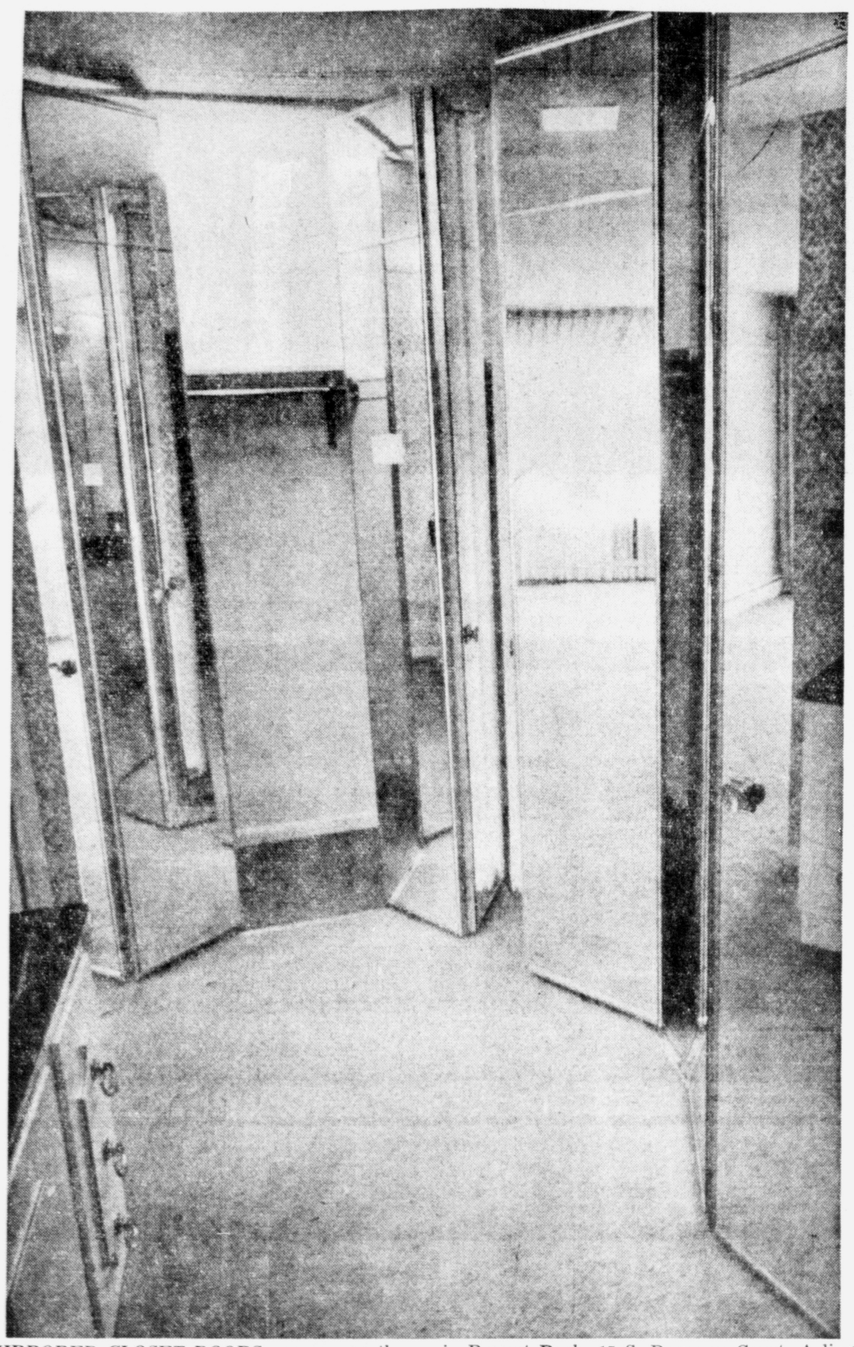
New Closets Combine Space, Eye Appeal



MIRRORED CLOSET DOORS are among the many innovations builders use to dress up the age-old hole-in-the-wall. Condominiums in Regent Park, 15 S. Regency Court, Arlington Heights, feature this closet design for both beautifying and functional purposes.

by DAVE CRIPPEN
Staff Writer

Builders nowadays are making a good case for closets.

To transform what is basically a hole in the wall into an attractive and spacious storage area is a difficult task. But developers of homes and apartments are coming up with designs that combine maximum space with eye-appeal.

Typifying what has been done to liven up closets are designs utilized in Regent Park, 15 S. Regency Court, Arlington Heights. Regent Park, constructed by United Development Co., features the latest in condominium and townhouse living. To assure the complex lived up to the claim "spacious living," the developers took great care in providing roomy and easily accessible closets.

ALL CLOSETS—EVEN the kitchen broom closet—are built from ceiling to floor. This provides a minimum closet height of about seven feet.

All clothes closets are hidden from view by a sliding bi-fold door. Especially unique are the master bedroom closets which feature the sliding mirror-covered panels.

Closet width varies from eight to 12 feet. Depth averages four to five feet.

Some master bedrooms in the condominiums feature extra closets by providing "wrap-around" design. This design locates two mirrored closets adjacent to a common corner of the room giving added space.

Fred Peterman, Regent Park sales manager, explains that women especially like the floor-to-ceiling mirror-covered doors. They serve a double-purpose function and add considerable beauty by brightening up the room, according to Peterman.

THE BROAD, specious hall closets in Regent townhouses also appeal to the housewife. Large shelves spanning their six-foot width give plenty of room for towels and linen. Next to the full-size linen closet is a narrow door that opens into a "double-access" storage closet. The space is termed "double access" because in addition to the hallway door there is another door in the master bedroom bath, located the other side of the hallway wall.

"In effect this arrangement saves the housewife many steps," said Peterman.

Linen closets in the condominiums are equally as specious, though there are no double access units.

Lengthy entry hall closets give plenty of room for coats and hats. Gracious, louvered bi-fold doors blend discreetly with decor of hall and living room.

CONSIDERABLE attention has been devoted to the closet door color. Some of the doors are richly painted with a hard enamel coat. Others bear a deep stain that brings out the beautiful hardwood texture of the door.

Despite the success United Development has achieved with designing practical, yet attractive, closets, Peterman still admits there are limitations on what can be done.

"I don't think you can call any closet glamorous," he says. "They have to be practical but accessible."

But Peterman also stresses that in his more than 10 years of home selling experience, he has seen marked improvements in closet design. He claims the ever-increasing size of the average American's wardrobe demands that new homes provide plenty of closet space.

In addition, notes Peterman, Americans have a habit of accumulating many items that, because of their frequent use, must be stored someplace which is easily accessible. This place is usually the closet, he says.

THUS THE philosophy—if it can be called that—behind closet design is to provide maximum closet space with a concealing facade. To meet this challenge, home-designers must utilize their talents to the utmost.

Many builders admit the closet is a natural eyesore of home design. If it is, they at least are doing a good job of deceiving the eye. (SS

Seeburg Corp. Leases Building In Centex Park

The Musical Instrument Division of Seeburg Corp. has leased a 22,500-square-foot building in Centex Industrial Park adjacent to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport for its new corporate headquarters.

Located on a 65,000-square-foot site at 2333 Arthur Ave., Elk Grove Village, a portion of the building will be utilized as a warehouse for Kay Musical Instruments, one of the divisions's operations, whose manufacturing plant is located on the same street in the nation's fastest growing industrial park.

Sole broker for the real estate transaction was Howard G. Krafsur of Bennett & Kahnweiler, developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park. (BB

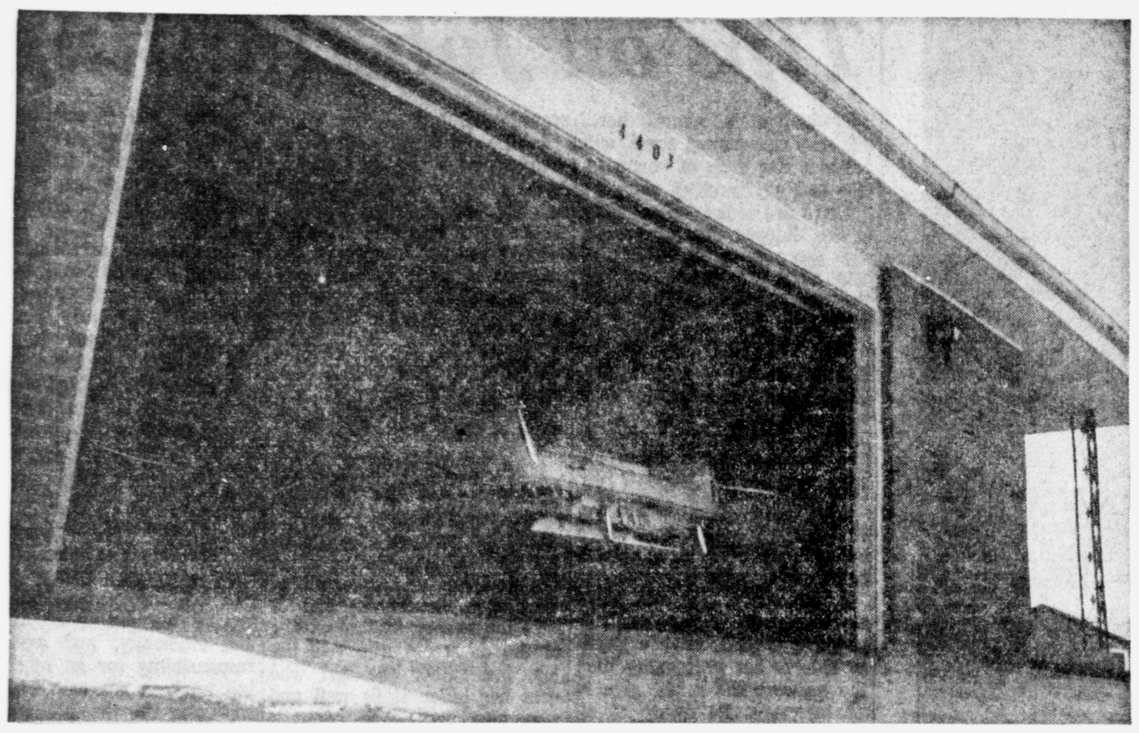
Two-Car Garage Standard for Most Homes



SPACIOUS GARAGE—A garage is more than just a place to store a car. This garage belonging to a Rolling Meadows resident was custom built and is large enough for two cars and the owner's boat. It also has storage area for tools and kids' bikes. While such large garages are a growing trend, the "normal" size is the two-car garage. This is the type built by most subdividers and individual contractors. (Staff photo)

by DAN PRIBILSKI
Staff Writer

A garage is not just a place to put a car.

A garage is a storeroom, a play area, sometimes a man's workshop and even now and again a utility room for the wife.

So while many, many people own two cars, many others do not and that place for the second car is put to good use.

The "place for the second car" is today taken for granted.

Normal construction of homes today includes as standard a two-car attached garage. The three-car garage is still a custom item built on contract.

Occasionally a 2½-car garage is built by a subdivider.

This occurred recently with John K. Stoltzner & Associates. The firm built a 2½-car garage because "architecturally it worked out that way," said the company's superintendent, Adolph Guenther.

BECAUSE A GARAGE is a standard feature on all new homes, the individual garage building business has dropped off.

Warren Abbs, head of Abbs Construction Co. in Palatine, said, "Garages used to be 90 per cent of our business. Now, it's room additions. We build 15 or 20 garages a year."

Most people, Abbs said, want a two-car garage. Requests for three-car garages are rare.

The usual two-car garage, Abbs said, is 20 by 22 feet. This allows for a work and storage area. A minimum two-car garage, he said, is 18 by 20 feet.

WHAT CONSTITUTES a garage today is determined by today's automobiles, wide and long.

The pre-World War II garage is something of a marvel because it is very small and generally looks like a shoe box rather than an architecturally integral part of a home.

The garage is attractive with fine overhead doors rather than the old-fashioned hinged swing-out type.

Abbs commented that the sectional overhead door is the one most used today.

"The sectional door gives less trouble over a period of years than the one-piece one," Abbs said.

The man who wants the ultimate in a garage today can get the remote controlled door mechanism to open the door from the car.

If a bike or the kid's toys aren't in the way, a driver today need never step out of his car until he is in the garage.

SOMETIMES A homeowner who wants to build a garage or expand the existing one will run afoul of a community's zoning laws, such as the setback requirements.

The man who might want to go from a two-car to a three-car garage will find that his garage is not "expandable" because of the lot line setbacks.

But generally, Abbs said, when a completely new garage is built, no trouble exists.

He did comment that in his opinion some of the municipalities' zoning laws are "ridiculous." (SS

Adding a Porch? Small Building Firms Do the Work

by JACK NEUKOM
Staff Writer

Most architects are leaving the design of an enclosed porch up to the small builder—at least that's the story in the greater part of the northwest suburban area.

"It's part of the over-all phase that is really beyond most architectural offices," reported a spokesman at Charles T. Cederholm, architects, 718 E. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect.

"It's such a small project that an architect can't devote enough time to it to make it worthwhile, either for himself or for the homeowner," he said.

A Mount Prospect contractor who gets into all areas of home construction said, "Enclosing screened-in porches is not as popular as it used to be. Now the family room addition is the big thing in the industry."

Making the statement was Ben Trapani, owner of Bennett P. Trapani, construction company with offices at 6 W. Northwest Highway in Mount Prospect.

Trapani did report on a porch enclosing job he had last year, a job that he feels was not adequate for this section of the country.

"WE USED a corrugated material for siding around redwood doors and posts," Trapani said. "I had advised the homeowner against the corrugated material, but he wanted it so we used it. The construction would have been fine in an area with a climate like Florida, but not up here. Too much condensation built up."

When asked about jalousied windows, Trapani said they were another item fine for Florida, but not for this area. "We have installed jalousies, but have had to use storm windows with them," he said.

The builder pointed out that his firm now recommends wood casement windows or awning-type windows with screens for porch enclosures or additions.

A job that Trapani feels quite proud of was completed several years ago by his firm. It involved an enclosed porch at 408 S. Wa-Pella Ave. that was done at the same time the house was built for the Edmund G. Bradys.

"It has a cathedral-type ceiling using well-seasoned heavy timbers for beams. The roof is of 2 x 6 tongue and groove lumber to give it a more open effect," Trapani said. "We also did a similar job at St. Raymond's Rectory—a small porch with a high exposed ceiling."

TO FRANK Bachmann, owner of Bachmann Construction & Supply Co., 888 E. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect, the porch enclosing business is "quite an active thing."

Bachmann, who specializes in enclosed porches, told of a new product being marketed through his company that "makes it easy for the homeowner to enclose an open porch himself.

"It's all prefabricated," Bachmann said," and makes a real nice enclosure for not very much money."

The prefabricated product Bachmann told of consists of permanent self-storing window units and is manufactured to a particular porch's measurements.

He did emphasize that it's more for summer porch enclosures, but could be converted to year-round use with the addition of insulation and other work.

"THE TREND today is toward sliding patio doors for porch enclosures," Bachmann reported, but other contractors emphasized this is for porches being built right along with a new home, not for enclosing an old open porch.

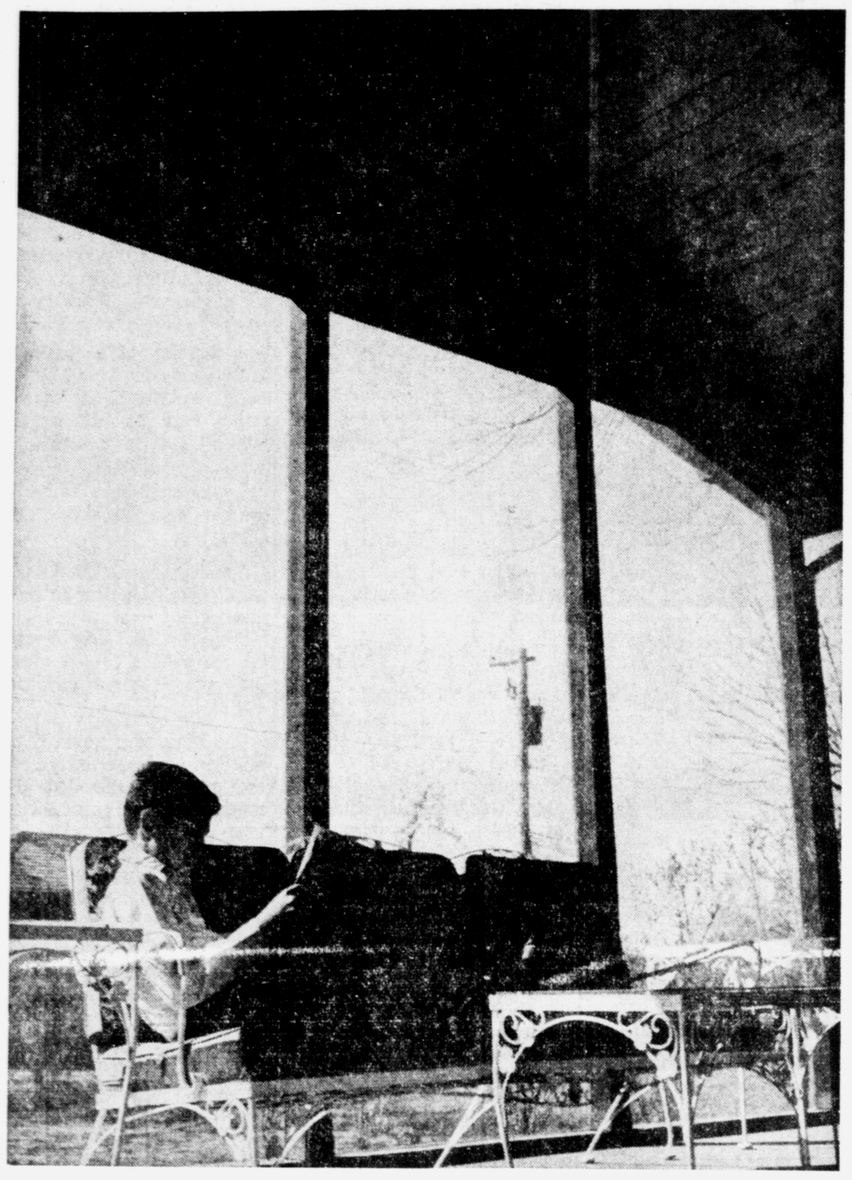
A spokesman at the Building & Remodeling Corp., a subsidiary of Wille Lumber, Inc., 100 W. Northwest Highway, Mount Prospect, said his company still encloses former screened-in porches, but "we're using mostly aluminum or composition siding now instead of wood."

These new materials don't have to be painted—"all it takes is a garden hose and plenty of water," he said.

The Wille Lumber spokesman also pointed out that homeowners come to the building materials supplier or to the contractor for ideas on enclosing or adding on a porch.

WHICH WAS precisely what the architect said when interviewed: "It's a job being taken over by small builders."

"We could come up with some very ingenious-looking ideas on enclosing a porch," the architect said, "but we just can't devote enough time to these things. We have to have bigger jobs to keep our offices going." (A-15



MIKE BRADY likes the restful atmosphere of the enblosed porch at his parents' home, 408 S. Wa-Pella Ave., Mount Prospect. The beamed ceiling and full-length windows give the proch an open effect which is not typical of most porches. The porch and home was the work of the Trapani Construction Co. in Mount Prospect. Office Expert Gives Tips on Job-Hunting

Graduation is almost here, and with this annual event, will come a new crop of young ladies looking for office work.

There are many job openings in the Chicago area. However, with the greater availability of help after graduation, employers can afford to be more selective.

FOR THE GIRL who will be looking for her first job Mrs. Ethel Cross, vice president of Workman Girls, a firm specializing in providing temporary office workers, offers these six suggestions.

1. The very first impression will be made by appearance, so be clean and neat. Wear a dress befitting an office.

2. The way a girl acts when she thinks she is alone and her guard is down is often a greater clue to her personality than the answers she might give in an interview. Be aware at all times that you are on display.

3. Fill out the job application neatly and accurately. Be ready with references, and your social security number.

4. When you are called in for your interview, sit up straight, speak clearly and look directly at the interviewer. Do not smoke when being interviewed!

5. If you try to impress the interviewer other than by acting natural and being yourself, it will show through. Don't try it!

6. When the interview is over, thank the interviewer for the opportunity of discussing the job and leave.

MRS. CROSS SAYS that most employers call for a typing speed of 50 words a minute, stressing accuracy. Stenographers need to know composition and spelling as thoroughly as they know shorthand. And it isn't the beauty contest winner or the debutante who gets the job, but rather the girl who uses her office skills well and who also uses good common sense in dealing with everyday problems.

"Today's secretary is a far cry from the pioneer "typewriter"—the name given to both the girl and the machine in early days—in status, responsibility, working conditions and benefits," Mrs. Cross states. "The pioneer secretary was crashing a man's world and believe me, the men moved over reluctantly. The early secretary took dictation, typed on primitive machines, kept the books, and cleaned the office—and all on a salary of ten dollars a week. Business life today has certainly improved for women."

Today, Mrs. Cross maintains, the girl who wants to get ahead and earn her boss' respect must take pride in handling details like his appointment calendar, greting his guests courteously and efficiently, and assuming responsibility for as much detail work as she can. The girl who can fill the bill will be sought after in today's market and good pay and pleasant surroundings will be her just rewards. (BB ELEGANCE IN DINING is enjoying a revival among home buyers in northwest suburbs. An example of the new separate dining rooms increasingly popular in new homes is this formal room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Niedert in Plum Grove Estates. Increase in formal entertaining and a revived interest in family dining are credited for much of the new trend toward dining rooms. (Staff photo) (RE

Dining Room Makes Dramatic Comeback

The newest trend in suburban living is the return of an old tradition — the family dining room.

Homeseekers have reversed a post-war trend which saw most smaller homes designed without separate dining rooms or areas. The shift began in earnest five years ago, and today it is not uncommon for Realtors and builders to emphasize a dining room as a special feature in a home.

The dramatic change is reflected in the display and classified advertising columns of Paddock Publications Real Estate Section. Last week's issue, for example, featured a total of 284 homes; nearly 30 per cent emphasized separate dining rooms or dining areas as an important asset of the home.

Of 86 homes listed by Realtors in the display advertising columns, 40 per cent mentioned dining rooms.

A decade ago, less than half that many new homes would have included dining rooms.

MOST REALTORS agree that a dining room is making a difference in a buyer's attitude toward the home.

"In addition to requests for spacious kitchen dining area, customers are demanding separate dining rooms," explained Terry Fitzpatrick of Robert L. Nelson Realtors.

He traced the gradual shift in home buyers' needs from the dining room only with the kitchen reserved as a place to cook and breakfast in, to the demand for kitchens only, with an area in the kitchen set aside for dining purposes. "Today the home buyer is specifying both separate dining room and dining area in the kitchen."

Thomas O. Grisell of Baird and Warner Inc. said the importance of a dining room is related to the price range of the home desired. "The specific request for a separate dining — and home builders' inclination to include them in current designs — begins at about $28,000. Since homes in the $28,000 and up range are being designed to meet public demand for separate dining rooms, it's conceivable that lower-priced homes will eventually be designed similarly, if the trend continues."

Grisell said some of the impetus for dining rooms is because people have dining room furniture.

"Most people today are buying dining room furniture routinely, assuming their home will have a room for it, rather than discovering their new home has a dining room and then shopping to furnish it."

JOSEPH SCHNELLER, president of Schneller Furniture Co., Arlington Heights, agrees with Grisell's observation on dining rooms in larger homes but said his experience has been that dining room furniture is usually the last to be purchased. "Couples tend to buy better quality in dining room furniture."

The national trend toward elegance in dining is shown locally in the number of chandeliers sold for dining rooms, explained Schneller. "People are entertaining more formally. More and more, the trend is for families to eat regularly in the dining room. The average set we sell has gone from six to eight seatings."

What's behind the trend to dining rooms?

A reporter interviewed seven couples looking at model homes in Arlington Heights Sunday. All but one specified a separate dining room or formal dining area as a "must" in their new home.

The lone exception was Mrs. Martin Esker, a resident of Sandburg Village on Chicago's Near Northside. "We don't care whether there's a dining room or not, just so we get in a house! Apartment living is for the birds."

Mrs. Esker, who expects her first child in August, has lived in an apartment since she was married in 1964.

BUT DINING rooms ranked high with other prospective home buyers:

—Now living in a 3-bedroom apartment at 5458 N. Kenmore Ave., Chicago, Mrs. David Mather said her husband has been promoted to a new sales position with his firm. "He'll be required to do some business entertaining at home, and a dining room will be absolutely necessary."

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Swanson want to move from their ranch home in Morton Grove. "We have a small dining alcove, but it's not enough for four children. We have to eat family meals in the ktichen. We want a dining room to properly teach eating habits to our children; you can't do it in a kitchen."

—Mrs. Lois Madsen agreed. "It's important to have a dining room for children. Too many children grow up thinking that gracious dining is being jammed around a kitchen dinette table."

—Echoing the complaint of many suburban hostesses was Mrs. Dorothy Bates, whose first home has two-bedrooms and no dining room. "We can't entertain in the living room. The table has to be set up and cleared in the center of the room. It's hard on me and uncomfortable for guests. We can afford a larger home now, and aside from more bedrooms, I insist on a dining room."

—Recently transferred to Chicago from Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overbey are looking at homes with dining rooms because "we both grew up in homes with dining rooms, and we regard it as a necessary part of family life."

—Most emphatic of all was house-hunter Ed Reneski of Northlake. Tired of his small two-bedroom bungalow, he's firm about a dining room in his new home. "We can live like civilized people again!"

Sees Condominiums Gaining Popularity

There's a subtle change occurring today in the home-buying habits of Mr. and Mrs. America.

It's a trend toward condominium apartment-home ownership, according to Fred Peterman, director of sales for United Development Co.'s Regent Park subdivision in Arlington Heights.

To keep pace with the trend, United plans five condominiums in Regent Park, three of which are in construction and should be ready for occupancy this summer, and the other two on which work is slated to get under way within a few weeks.

PETERMAN admits the condominiums originally went over big in the city because they offered a home to those who wanted to be "in the thick of things." The city condominium, according to Peterman, "let the city inclined owner have his cake and eat it, too, because it provided home ownership along with proximity to glitter."

Now, says Peterman, the suburban condominiums are "really catching on." And, he asserts, there are several reasons.

"We have managed to sell units to those who have tried the city life but have found their social patterns tuned to the ways of the suburbs. They like the conveniences of the condominiums and are buying in the suburbs because that's where they have their friends and other ties. (This trend sort of belies the argument, 'wait until the kids grow up and we'll move back to the city.') Most suburbanites have become used to more living space and they can usually find more living space in the condominiums in suburbia since city property usually commands higher costs. Also, most city condominiums are built on land that requires much work clearing previous construction."

Peterman says suburban condominiums, such as those in Regent Park, also provide the open space and clean air of the country so lacking in the big city. And, he notes the condominium home offers the owner a tax saving feature.

"IN A CONDOMINIUM," he says, "you actually own your apartment-home just as you would an individual house. Thus, you can buy, sell or mortgage your apartment independently and, as with single home ownership, receive savings on your income tax, as well as build up a substantial equity over the years."

In another aspect, Peterman claims the resale of condominiums are "gaining strength." He cites statistics which he says reveal that "most owners have profited in resales."

Peterman contends buying a condominium is just like purchasing a single family home. "The buyers should be just as selective. They still need a good location that will give them easy access to shopping facilities, schools, loop transportation, quick access to O'Hare Field and other family needs."

"Proper location is important to the success of any development but it's especially so in condominiums. People want to satisfy the need to live among the trees and the quiet of residential neighborhoods. They get the feeling of home ownership through the residential surroundings offered by the suburbs."

DESIGN AND space also are important, according to Peterman. And, he says, since suburban condominiums incorporate good design and actually provide more living space than its city counterpart, they're coming more and more in favor with buyers who previously were homeowners.

Regent Park, situated on Kensington Road just a half mile from the Randhurst shopping center, offers beautifully landscaped grounds, swimming pool, tennis courts, and a private seven-acre lake for boating and fishing.

The Regent Park condominium owner can enjoy his leisure time without worrying over the upkeep of his unit since complete maintenance of grounds and recreational facilities is provided. This includes grasscutting, tree and shrub trimming, and snowplowing of walks and driveways. Exterior painting and maintenance of the buildings' common elements (halls and elevators) are covered in the monthly mortgage payments.

Regent Park condominiums sell from $26,900 to $33,450. Three-story in appearance in front and four-story in the back, the buildings include 13 units, with no more than four units per floor. They include one, two or three bedroom units and have 1½, 2 or 2½ baths, airconditioning, oven/range, dishwasher, patio balconies, spacious living room-dining room areas, and private inside parking facilities.

Walgreen Earnings, Sales Set Records

Walgreen Co.'s sales and earnings climbed to record highs in the firm's second fiscal quarter ended March 31st, reported C.R. Walgreen, Jr., chairman of the board, and A. A. Borg, president.

Sales and earnings for the first half of its fiscal year also broke records, they added.

In its quarterly report to shareowners, Walgreens reported sales and other store income of $108,861,924 in the second quarter as against $97,292,280 in the comparable quarter last year, a rise of 12 per cent. Earnings climbed $1,349,456 or 44 cents a share for the three months as compared to $1,097,248 or 35 cents a share in 1965, an overall profit increase of 23 per cent.

FOR THE SIX months ended March 31, sales totaled $246,452,072 as against $218,542,806 in the comparable six months a year ago, up 13 per cent. Six month earnings soared 33 per cent, amounting to $5,002,846, equal to $1.62 a share in the period, an increase from $3,751,519, or $1.21 a share in the corresponding six months a year ago.

Now filling over one million prescriptions per month, Walgreens also set a new record in prescriptions filled for the first half of its current fiscal year with an 18.5 per cent increase compared to the same period last year. (BB

This Lovely Colonial Home in Barrington is Completely Furnished and Landscaped for Your Inspection

THIS ONE IS COLONIAL . . . with all the word implies. There's a raised brick entry, a fireplace with a lovely mantel, and bookshelves. It has a separate dining room as well as eating space in the kitchen.

KITCHEN HARDLY DESCRIBES IT . . . It's a kitchen-family room combined, comfortable and attractive. We could tell you about the beamed ceiling, the paneled walls, the knotty pine cabinets and with every appliance you could wish for — but seeing all this is what counts.

FIRST FLOOR UTILITY and MUD ROOM . . . with a lavatory — a full basement and more storage in the ample two-car garage.

UPSTAIRS . . . are four (4) good sized bedrooms and two ceramic tile baths — one with double bowls. All the bedrooms are cross-ventilated with large closets and hardwood floors. Best of all — the master bedroom has its own dressing room and compartmental bath.

WE'VE FURNISHED AND DECORATED IT . . . as though it belonged to people who love it. We've even built a fence and a Colonial gate around the patio and landscaped the entire house.

HOW IS IT BUILT . . . Our over 20 years of building experience and our reputation back the quality of construction. Come see for yourself — as you always have.

THE ESSEX, an intriguing tri-level home influenced by early American and rural French cultures, is one of the models now on display in Cambridge, located on Dundee Road a mile west of Route 83. The upper level has three bedrooms including a master bedroom with its private entrance to the full bath. The second level has a family-size kitchen, with dining area and a large California-style living-dining room combination. Six steps down are the very large family room, a fourth bedroom and another full bath. The Essex, with finished family room is priced $27,750.

Buyers From Across Country

Cambridge Response 'Enthusiastic'

Review of opening sales at Cambridge, the newest development of Richard J. Brown Associates, Inc., shows "many of our first sales were made to people who previously lived in areas scattered from coast to coast and who have been accustomed to dramatically different styles of homes and modes of living dictated by climate and environment."

Richard J. Brown, development firm president, continued, "I have been in the home-building field for years and should be used to surprises, but the manner in which these sales were made and the immediate, enthusiastic acceptance of our homes by people from all parts of the country was really unusual.

"Take for example one buyer from St. Louis who is a senior sales representative with a chemical firm," Brown said. "He and his wife wife spent part of a Friday afternoon at Cambridge, went back to their motel, then came back the next morning to sign a contract to purchase our tri-level Sussex model."

"ONE CALIFORNIA couple came into our models one Saturday morning and had filled out the final purchase agreement on our Essex model before 4:30 p.m. The husband, an airline maintenance controller, and his wife, were on their way back to California that night.

"Another California couple, a salesman and his wife, had been renting in Chicago for nearly a year and had shopped many developments," Brown said. "They inspected Cambridge in the morning and by afternoon had made their selection of a Kent model."

"A New York man, a senior analyst for a large firm, had been looking for a home for eight months and told me that he 'had seen them all,'" Brown continued. "He said his wife had told him so many times exactly what she wanted that after having seen the York model, all he was going to do was call her up and tell her to get ready to move.

"A man from Massachusetts, an operations manager, and his wife had been home hunting for over a year. They saw our Eton model and decided to buy it in less than one day.

"THE SALE that was most unusual of all," Brown concluded, "was to a methods - and - procedures man from Wisconsin who had been renting here for about a year. He brought a friend to Cambridge who was moving to Chicago from Wisconsin. What started out as just showing his friend around ended with the local man buying a York model, while his friend who came to look at homes returned to Wisconsin to bring his wife back to see Cambridge."

Cambridge offers five different homes with numerous elevation and floor-plan variations ranging from three to six bedrooms. Prices start at $25,900. The Cambridge community is being built on a 100-acre site formerly occupied by the Palmgren Wholesale Nursery.

According to Brown, every effort is being made to save the hundreds of trees on the property and the shrubs and sod will be used to provide complete landscaping for each home which, except for grass cutting, will be maintained for a year after occupancy.

Cambridge is located across the road from Arlington Country Club on Dunde Road (Route 68) just one mile west of Route 83. It has all modern facilities including underground wiring and is within walking distance of a brand new grade and junior high school, a modern shopping center and a new medical center. (REL

Promoted in Engineering

Edwin A. Robertson, 308 Landmeier Road, Elk Grove, has been promoted to assistant manager of the unit and frame equipment engineering organization at Western Electric's Hawthorne Works in Cicero. He was formerly chief of the printed wiring board department at the Montgomery division offices.

Robertson received his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Michigan State University in 1956 and his M.B.A from the University of Chicago under the company's tuition refund program.

He began his Western Electric career in 1956 at Hawthorne as a development engineer. In 1962 he became an engineering department chief and in January, 1964, headed the engineering and products results department at the 20 N. Wacker Drive division offices. He was transferred to Montgomery in April, 1965.

ROBERTSON IS active in the Hawthorne Club, an employee social, educational, recreational organization with more than 20,000 members. He was also chairman of the Representatives Committee in 1963 and Chairman of the Christmas Tree and Gift Distribution Program in 1964.

Robertson is a member of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Egnineers and a former Chicago Jaycee.

He and his wife, Rosemary, have two children, Rosemary and Valerie. (BB

McGough Promoted In Cost Accounting

Donald W. McGough, 1712 Sycamore Ave., Hanover Park, has been promoted to department chief in cost accounting at Western Electric's Hawthorne Works in Cicero. He was formerly a section chief in the accounting department.

Employed at Hawthorne since 1951, McGough received his B.B.A. in accounting from Northwestern University under the company's tuition refund program.

McGOUGH IS active in the Hawthorne Club, an employee social, educational, recreational organization with more than 20,000 members. He is also the Methods Committee chairman and Budget Committee chairman.

He and his wife, Judy, have three children, Scott, Deidra, and David. (BB

Like Custom Building

The custom - built home, formerly regarded as a luxury within the means of only high-income families, has now come into its own among middle-income families, thanks to the efforts of one pioneer Chicago-area building firm.

The 55-year-old Built Co., for years a builder of specification-built budget homes on one hand, and out - and - out luxury-type custom - built homes on the other, decided to make a depth survey of the custom - home market potential.

After extensive research and study among prospective home-seekers, it was discovered that there was a great desire for custom-built homes among the middle - income bracket. More and more of these families, it was learned, wanted homes that expressed their individual character, their tastes, and everyday interests, as well as fulfilling their own specific needs for space and privacy.

This clearly revealed that the middle - income group represents a tremendous market potential, particularly if custom homes could be offered at a reasonable cost.

"IN THE PAST," stated Best Built president Joseph Bergman, "middle - income families have been cautious about exploring the possibility of building a custom home. Mainly, people regarded the custom-built residence as costing far beyond their means," Bergman continued.

"As a result, these families have resigned themselves to settling for conventional, production-line houses in ready-built developments.

"Realizing this, we decided to step in and see how we could bring the custom home within the price reach of the average wage-earner."

Another interesting observation about the custom home buyer was brought to light when further studies showed that the idea of such a home was especially appealing to families planning to purchase their second home. Buyers in the market for a second home tend to look for specifics which they could not obtain in their first home.

SURVEYS ALSO bring out an important point to consider—the fact that custom-built homes can generally command 15 to 20 per cent more money on resale. The higher resale value is accounted for by the greater number of special features and the individualized craftsmanship that go into a custom-built home.

Through careful planning and purchasing, plus the fact that Best Built maintains its own lumberyard and mill, the firm has been able to design and build custom homes at a cost considerably less than most custom dwellings, without sacrificing quality. Best Built custom residences range in size anl degree of luxury from a modest home priced in the low five figures to the largest and most elaborate design depending upon the family's personal preference.

The Best Built firm was started by founder A. I. Lurya starting in 1911, building semi-finished "shell" homes. Lurya soon found himself building homes to the particular specifications of his customers, thus initiating his company into the custom home business.

From this modest beginning, Best Built has grown through the years into one of the largest and most successful construction companies in the Midwest. (Rel a splendid new life in the suburbs for the "liberated generation"

Finally. Freedom to begin enjoying life . . . without surrendering the luxuries and comforts of a fine, suburban home. Leisure time for entertaining. Leisure time for travel. Leisure time for simply relaxing. All yours, now—in Regent Park, the magnificent new residential setting built around its own private lake!

For less than you'd expect to pay for a comparable rental unit you can be an owner of one of Regent Park's spacious Town & Garden Homes or Condominium Apartments—and enjoy completely care-free living. You never have to worry about shoveling snow or cutting grass—a maintenance staff provides all of these services, including care of the grounds and recreational facilities (private swimming pool, tennis courts, and lake). All this luxury and leisure—plus growing equity and savings on your income tax, instead of worthless rent receipts!

TOWN & GARDEN HOMES feature 2 and 3 bedrooms, individual air conditioning, basements, wood-burning fireplaces, General Electric appliances, attached garages. Priced from $26,200. Complete monthly cost for 2-bedroom unit, after low, minimum down payment, is $210.00.

CONDOMINIUM APARTMENTS feature automatic elevator service to all levels including the lower level private garage, 2 and 3 bedrooms, individual air conditioning, carpeting, General Electric appliances, "patio" balconies. Priced from $26,900. Complete monthly cost, for 2-bedroom unit, after low, minimum down payment, is $216.95.

Regent Park in Arlington Heights

To see Regent Park's model townhouses and condominiums, take Rand Road (Rt. 11) or Elmhurst Rd. (Rt. 83) to Kensington (Foundry Rd.) at Randhurst Shopping Center, then west ½-mile on Kensington. Model homes are open from 10 A.M. 'til dark.

FOOD MAN OF THE YEAR—Dominick Di Matteo Jr. of Inverness, president of Dominick's Finer Food Stores, receives a trophy form Margaret Bonfield, publisher of Midwest Food News, during the special ceremony naming him "Food Man of the Year." This recognition is given to individuals who demonstrate outstanding merchandising ability coupled with personal humanitarianism outside of business life. The presentation was made at a luncheon attended by over 200 members of the Grocery Manufacturers Sales Executives, Jowl Club, and Chicago Food Brokers organizations. Dominick's Finer Food Stores are known for exceptional variety and selection of quality foods at money-saving low prices. Di Matteo Jr. is of the second generation of the 40-year-old family-owned business.

Campus Capers

At Illinois State

Albert Schon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schon, 215 S. Elmwood, Palatine, was named program director of WGLT-FM by the station's advisory board for the 1966-67 school year.

Schon is a freshman in English at Illinois State University, Normal.

At Morningside

Vicki Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bartlett, 2901 Campbell, Rolling Meadows, was recently initiated into the Morningside College chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, national foreign language honorary society.

At Western Illinois

Counselors have been selected to usher high school graduates to the campus of Western Illinois University, Macomb, next September.

Stephen Hey, 441 S. Highland Ave.; Ronald Oas, 621 S. Mitchell; and Nannette Rathsam, 905 N. Patton St., all of Arlington Heights, and Graham A. Stewart Jr., 3305 Pheasant Drive, Rolling Meadows, were carefully screened and chosen for their leadership, personality and academic qualities to be a part of the select group.

At Northwestern

Edward Organ Jr., who lives at 419 N. Maple, Mount Prospect, will receive the bachelor of business administration degree from Northwestern University on June 11, 1966. His degree will be presented as part of the Annual Commencement Exercises held at McGaw Memorial Hall on the University's Evanston Campus.

The B.B.A. program includes a well rounded group of basic professional subjects, plus a carefully integrated sequence of courses within a major business field. It also requires a substantial liberal arts background.

This is a noteworthy achievement on the part of Organ because he has earned his degree through evening study while he was gainfully employed full time during the day.

At Alma

Barbara Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everitt W. Horton, 1615 N. Patton Ave., Arlington Heights, has been named to the Dean's List for the second term at Alma College.

Miss Horton, a graduate of Thornton High School and a junior at Alma, had a 3.66 average.

At Denison

John R. Lindstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lindstrom, 824 S. Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights, has been chosen as student adviser at Denison University, Granville, Ohio.

Lindstrom, a graduate of Arlington High School, is a sophomore at the university.

At Beloit

Laurel L. Smith, Beloit College student from Mount Prospect, will be one of 60 students working off campus May 5-Aug. 10 in a college approved Field Term activity.

Miss Smith, a member of the class of 1968, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, 2 S. William St., will be working for the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Boston, Mass.

At Elmhurst

Linda Margaret Nelson, 1313 N. Rand Road, Arlington Heights, a student at Elmhurst College and a member of the Polyhymnia women's choral ensemble there, was with the singing group on their annual spring concert tour.

The 18-member group sang in 12 churches in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Miss Nelson, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Nelson.

At Coe College

Kathleen Coughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Coughlin, 144 N. Highland Road, Palatine, has recently been initiated into the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta at Coe College. Kathy, a freshman, pledged the sorority in the winter term of this year.

At Carroll

Laurel Grey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Grey, 817 N. Yale Ave., Arlington Heights, is one of five Carroll College women students named as members of Scroll, women's honorary leadership group.

Scroll members are recognized for outstanding scholarship (a grade point average of 1.80 or better out of a possible 3.00 points), leadership in college activities and loyalty and service to the college.

Miss Grey is a junior majoring in sociology and religion.

Grandmothers Meet May 20

Mount Prospect Grandmothers' Club will meet May 20 to hear final reports on the proceeds of the annual spring card party. This was the third such event sponsored by the club, and according to Mrs. Fay Carlson, president, it was deemed a great success.

Mrs. Betty Conway, ways and means chairman, was in charge of the party. Proceeds will go to local causes, including Clearbrook School for Retarded Children and a class for blind children in Wheeling.

The grandmothers meet at 1 p.m. in Mount Prospect Country Club the third Friday of each month. (S

JC-Annes Meet

Palatine Jaycee-Annes will hold their final meeting of the club year May 16 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William J. Payes, 652 Bennett, Palatine.

On the agenda will be an election of officers, a decision on a donation to Palatine Library and a choice of restaurants to make for the last outing of the year in June. (S

Nurse Alumnae To Take Office

Two area women have been elected to offices in the Alumnae Association of Lutheran General and Deaconess Hospitlas School of Nursing, Park Ridge. Mrs. Hubert Carlson of Mount Prospect has been named second vice president, and Mrs. Donald Harbeck of Wheeling will be corresponding secretary.

They will be installed at the association's annual spring banquet on May 20 at the Svithiod Singing Club, Chicago.

Another area woman, Mrs. Armando Perez of Mount Prospect, is serving her second year of a 2-year term as club adviser. (S

Inverness Club Hears Ensemble

At the May meeting of the Women's Club of Inverness, a group of area women who appear professionally as the Countryside Chamber Music Ensemble presented the afternoon program.

Miss Norma Nicholson, fine arts chairman of the club, gave a history of the special musi which they played.

IN THE ensemble are Joan Dunlop, violinist, who studied privately in Pennsylvania; Christel Sidentop, recorder, who majored in music at the University of Cologne, Germany; Nan Stocking, viola, who majored in music at Cornell College, and Helen Young, pianist, organist and harpsicordist, who studied privately in Illinois.

The group presented selections by Handel, Telemann, Bach and Scarlatti. (S

Plant Sale

Palanois Park Garden Club holds its annual plant sale tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Alfred Wedow, 138 S. Elmwood, Palatine. The sale begins at 6:30 and is open to the public.

A short business session will be held at the close of the sale, with Mrs. Fred Vrtis serving as co-hostess. (S

Officer Elections

Installation of new officers for 1966-67 will be the highlight of the meeting of Palatine Township Regular Democratic Women's Organization at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 18. Stop The Press

Our zealous editors do everything possible to bring the latest news to you, but we eventually have to call a halt, and start the press.

We built our reputation on giving readers the complete story, with all the background, presented in reliable fashion. We're proud of being known as "the accepted influence in the northwest suburbs."

Once in a while, though, one of our editors will have tears in his eyes, because somebody put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder, and did it right after deadline.

But we supply the crying towel and send him on his way, to develop the full story of what was in the right side pocket of the overalls in an effort to determine why the chowder turned green. Readers expect the full story in the Paddock paper, and we're determined to give it to 'em.

THE ACCEPTED INFLUENCE IN THE NORTHWEST SUBURBS

'Rigoletto' Is Lyric Group's Final Program

The Northwest Chapter of Lyric Opera of Chicago will conclude its 1965-66 program today (Thursday) with "Impressions from 'Rigoletto.' "

Lorraine Spiller will present the program at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Johnson on Plum Tree Road in Barrington.

Mrs. Thomas Johnson is the co-hostess. There also will be a business meeting for members.

Mrs. Spiller, a music graduate from the University of Cincinnati, has studied at the Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

Describing the program as "impressionistic," Mrs. Spiller explained, "We will present 'Rigoletto' as a rehearsal. This will give us an opportunity to go over some of the melodies and themes which have made this one of Verdi's favorite operas.

"Arias included in the afternoon program will be the well-known 'La Donna e Mobile,' 'Questa o Quella,' 'Caro Nome' (in Italian) and the quartet from the third act."

Mrs. Spiller will take the role of Gilda, Rigoletto's daughter.

RIGOLETTO, THE court jester, will be Earl Norstrum, better known as Dr. Norstrum, the dentist. He is a member of the Svithiod Singing Club of Chicago and the baritone in the Norsemen Quartet.

Paula Norstrum, his wife, will sing the part of Maddalina in the well-known quartet number. Mrs. Norstrum sang with the madrigal group when she attended Lake Forest College and was a member of the a cappella chorus at Northwestern University.

Both Norstrums are soloists at the Presbyterian Church in Barrington.

BOB DURNBAUGH of Chicago will have the role of the fascinating and irresistible Duke of Mantua. Durnbaugh majored in music at the University of Manchester in Indiana and is a singer with the Chicago Symphony Chorus.

Don Miller, a Barrington pianist and teacher, will accompany the singers and will play the introduction and the prelude. Miller has both his bachelor's degree and his master's from Northwestern University. Last year he studied at the Frances Clark New School for Music in Princeton, N. J. A partner in the Miller-Loerke Studio, he is choir director at the Presbyterian Church.

LOIS PALERMO, who narrated "Madame Butterly" and performed in "La Boheme," will be the narrator. Mrs. Spiller has also enlisted the artistic talents of two newcomers, Phyllis Peterson and Arlene Laudot.

Mrs. Richard Impey of Arlington Heights, Northwest Chapter president, will preside when members vote on the nominating committee's slate of officers and proposed bylaws.

YOUNGSTERS IN PIANO CLASSES at Lyon-Healy in Randhurst learn about music—not just how to play some pieces on the piano—in a new approach developed at Columbia University.

Technique Emphasizes Learning About Music

Piano lessons, fun? These kids think so. They are taking part in one of their regular weekly classes at Lyon-Healy in Randhurst, designed to teach them all aspects of music. During their first year of study, these students have mastered the basic fundamentals and, what is more, can put them to practical use.

They know the principal chords and have learned how to make up pieces of their own. They have contests on note-naming and drills on blackboard writing. They are training their ears by systematic study and at this point can play short tunes or write them down, all by ear. Cooperation and friendly competition keeps interest at a high level.

In order to work on their individual performance, each of these students attends another kind of lesson during the week.

With one other student as a partner, each studies a wide variety of piano pieces, ranging from classical to serious contemporary music. They work out practical details of technique and musicianship, relating what they learn in the classes to their actual piano playing. Emphasis is put on sightreading.

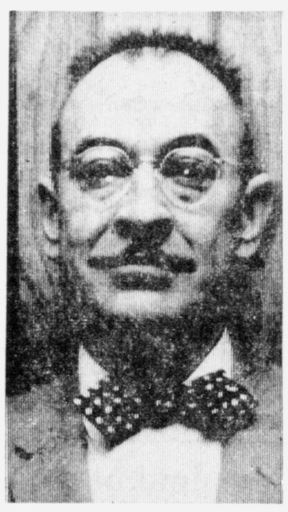
WHY THE emphasis on music, instead of just learning to play some pieces on the piano? It's all part of a new program begun a year ago by the Lyon-Healy Co. in Randhurst. The company took a long hard look at the apathy in some children and parents towards piano lessons and decided to do something about it.

The answer they found was in a class and semi-private lesson approach which had been developed at Columbiaa University. It proved that a good way to hold a person's interest and enthusiasm in music is in group teaching, taught in great depth.

Whether these students grow up to play piano for personal enjoyment or decide to take up music as a career, they will have the background they need.

Doctor-Father Is 'Papa' In 'Come Blow Your Horn'

MRS. MILFORD



DR. MEISENHEIMER

The doctor who will play the role of the father in Northwest Community Hospital Players' production of "Come Blow Your Horn" is a natural for the part.

Taking the role of "Papa" Speigal in the Neil Simon comedy will be Dr. Martin P. Meisenheimer of Prospect Heights, a general practitioner with six children of his own.

"Papa" Speigal doesn't have half as many problems with his real family as he does with his two "stage sons," who are constantly taxing all his patience and causing many hilarious situations in "Come Blow Your Horn."

BUSY AS HE is in his real life roles of doctor and father, Dr. Meisenheimer still finds time to be an amateur radio operator, and he also has an interest in photography. This will be his first venture into "show biz."

Mrs. James J. Milford, wife of Dr. Milford, a general surgeon, will portray the role of "Mama" Speigal. She is the buffer between "Papa" and the boys, a delightful character who tries to straighten out all the confusion but only adds to it.

Mrs. Milford, a registered nurse, was operator room supervisor at Northwest Community Hospital for a few years. She had the role of Miss Skilon in the first hospital play and was publicity chairman for the second production. The Milford family lives in Palatine.

TWO OTHER Palatine residents work together to turn amateur talent into professional. They are the director, Mrs. Martin Bodelson, and her assistant, Mrs. Jean Bonesteel.

"Come Blow Your Horn" will be given Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21, and again Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28, at Wheeling High School. Curtain time on the 20th is 8 p.m. The other nights it is 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained by writing Mrs. Eugene Barnes, Volunteer Office, Northwest Community Hospital, 800 Central Road, Arlington Heights, or by calling CL 9-1000, ext. 584.

It's 25 Years for Shady Lane Theatre

DALE BENSON

Shady Lane Playhouse at Marengo marks its 25th anniversary with the opening of the 1966 summer season Thursday, May 19.

The Midwest's oldest summer stock theatre, Shady Lane first opened its doors in the summer of 1941 with a 12-week season. In the cast for that first play, "Milky Way," was a then unknown actor, Ira Gesel, who later achieved fame as Jeff Chandler.

Dale Benson will star in this season's opening play, the recent Broadway hit, "Boeing-Boeing." This is a story about a gay French bachelor whose life is closely tied to airline schedules. When the schedules suddenly change, his problems begin and never seem to end.

As in the past, Shady Lane will have a resident company of New York actors. Performances will be at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, at 7 and 10 o'clock Saturdays and matinees at 2 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Plan Member Drive At Sunday Concert

The Woman's Association of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra will conduct a subscription renewal drive during the orchestra's final concert Sunday evening at Maine East High School, Park Ridge.

Concertgoers will have opportunity either to renew their membership or become sustaining members of the symphony. Members of the association will be recognized by the mums and carnations they will be wearing.

The concert is scheduled for 7 p.m. and will feature "pop" music. Among numbers to be played are Von Suppe's "Light Cavalry" Overture, excerpts from Bizets' "L'Arlesienne Suites I and II," Tschaikowsky's "Capriccio Italien" and a selection of Johann Strauss waltzes. The piano soloist, Donald Mazokelli, will play Gershwin's "Rapsody in Blue."

Tickets for the Sunday concert will be available at the door and from the ticket chairman, Mrs. John Schwenke, 824-7727.

VT Casts 'Gideon'

Resident director Richard Tyler has announced the cast for Village Theatre's production of "Gideon" by Paddy Chayefsky. The play, Chayefsky's gently satirical commentary of man's relationship with God, is set in the Palestine of June, 1100 B.C., and has a cast of 31 people, which Tyler refers to as his "de Mille cast of thousands."

The two main characters are Gideon, the town stumblebum who is chosen by God to conquer an opposing tribe with a force of 300 devout cowards, and the Angel of the Lord, who orders him to do so. Gideon will be played by John Grayson, the Angel by Wilbur "Red" Pownall.

MEMBERS OF Gideon's tribe of Manasseh and central to the action are Gideon's father, Joash, played by John Lobenhofer; Gideon's uncle, Abimelech, played by Herb Braden, and an elder of the tribe, Helek, played by Arnold Silver. Jether, Gideon's 11-year-old son, will be portrayed by Roy Brooks.

Warriors of the tribe of Manasseh are Shillem, an old coward, Pat O'Dea; Jahleel, a respected captain, Charles Sayre; Hezekiah, a younger warrior, Al Estrella; and Malchiel, Hezekiah's brother and a religious fanatic, Bob Randolph.

Hank Silver has the role of Purah, over-zealous manservant to Gideon. Shethulah, prince of Ephraim, an allied tribe, is Mel Freeman.

IN THE OPPOSING camp are the leaders of the Midianite and Succoth tribes. The roles of Zebah and Zalmunna, two kings of Midian, will be taken by David Dove and Bob Hawley; Ozni, head of Succoth, will be played by Herb Braden; Sophia Andoniadis has the role of Orpah, Ozni's sinuous 14-year-old daughter.

Women's roles in "Gideon" consist of Tirzah and Mahlah, Gideon's wives, to be portrayed by Wilma MacGrath and Charmaine Sayre; Gideon's mother, Haglah, Betty Brooks and widows of Gideon's brothers, Milcah and Abinoab, to be played by Doris Silver and Arlene Nemecek. Other women will be Carol O'Dea, Betty. Randolph, Gladys Pownall, Barbara Lobenhofer, Sue Estrella and Jan Lobenhofer.

SOLDIERS ARE much in evidence in "Gideon." Their numbers include Walt Aagard, Rich Wilson, Joe Rossanova, Bob Hawley, Bill Blair, David Breitsprecher, Bradley Pattison and Fred Cunningham.

"Gideon" will be produced at Wheeling High School, 500 S. Elmhurst Road, Wheeling, Saturday and Sunday, June 11 and 12, and Friday and Saturday, June 17 and 18. Curtain time on Friday and Saturdays is 8:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. Information and tickets may be obtained from the box office chairman, Alice Linde, CL 9-3200, 9 until noon weekdays, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays. (Bill

'Champagne Complex' Produces Few Bubbles

By JOAN REDDY
Paddock Drama Critic

After a 20th anniversary season that included George Bernard Shaw and Tennessee Williams, the Des Plaines Theatre Guild probably felt that they owed themselves an easy production. But for their easy one, they chose "Champagne Complex," a poor play. And sadly there's nothing easy about trying to exhibit a poor product.

This Leslie Williams comedy is a one-joke play that stretches its humor to the breaking point. It seems that there is a beautiful, intelligent, charming girl who has only one flaw. She strips to her polka-dotted scanties every time she drinks champagne. Naturally, her rich, staid fiance wants to do something about it. Enter his attractive, bachelor psychiatrist uncle, and the so-called fun begins.

In the hands of a skilled craftsman this might have made for an entertaining evening, but playwright Williams does not have a way with either comedy situation or humorous dialogue.

APPARENTLY director Ed Sauer was aware of his play's shortcomings. In order to make up for them, he chose the burlesque route. Prat falls, wild gestujes and rubber - faced grimaces were present in abundance.

Although well executed, all of this physical comedy was too much for the thin fabric of the play. But we must give Sauer a point for effort. Having seen the comedy before played straight, I can attest that it doesn't play well that way either.

"Champagne Complex" has become a staple of professional summer theater because of its cast of three and the resulting savings in salary. But it is less ideal for the little theater groups who want to get as many people as possible "into the act."

HOWEVER, THE Des Plaines Guild might well have used the play as a training ground for two of its younger players since youth is not particularly abundant in neighborhood theater groups.

The two young people, Paulette Gargasz as the exdisiastic girl, and Jim Curren, as her fiance, showed a good deal of promise. But although physically well cast, they lacked the experience to really carry off their roles. Modulation was the main ingredient missing in both performances. Curren, for example, entered in a state of high excitement and stayed in the same key through the whole play.

Miss Gargasz had a particularly difficult role since the weight of the play's vacuity rested on her shoulders. The heroine has to be such a charming kook that she lends charm to the whole proceedings.

ALTHOUGH fetching in her underwear, she just didn't have the personal magnetism to make the character convincing. Her romantic pursuit of the psychiatrist was particularly ineffective. But like so many actors, she came up to the drunk scene and made it believable.

Director Sauer pivoted his burlesque on the more experienced acting of Ed Grabow as the off-beat psychiatrist. Grabow is obviously a man who has used his plastic features for comedy effect before. He gave the audience a display of facial exercises and many of them did evoke laughter. But the frenetic pace and mugging made the character completely unbelievable and sympathetic later on as the man who got the girl.

ED SAUER doubled as set designer and came up with a pleasant set that did not distract from the events on stage—with one exception. The set contained an array of plants and flowers, and it was among all this verdant growth that the ivy plant which the screwball heroine had made a pet was placed. Naturally most of the comic effect was lost.

Certainly things look good for next season when the group will come up with plays such as "A Majority of One," "Anne of the Thousand Days" and "All My Sons." After a notable season of successes, the Guild should not be faulted too much for a minor failure. (Bill

CLAUDIA MARTIN, Piccola Pupa, Aron Kincaid, Nancy Sinatra and Mary Hughes are the young stars frightened by "The Ghost in the Invisible Bikini," coming tomorrow (Friday) to the Mount Prospect Cinema. On the same program is James Stewart in "The Flight of the Phoenix."

Golf Mill Shows 'Patch of Blue' And 'Cat Ballou'

Golf Mill Theatre will continue showing "A Patch of Blue" with Oscar winner Shelley Winters on a double feature bill with "Cat Ballou," another Academy Award winning film.

Shelley Winters was acclaimed Best Supporting Actress for her portrayal of the unsympathetic mother of a blind girl in "A Patch of Blue." Elizabeth Hartman plays the blind girl and Sidney Poitier also is starred.

Lee Marvin won the Best Actor award for his dual role of a drunken gun-slinger and a landgrabber in the western satire, "Cat Ballou." His co-star is Jane Fonda.

Starting Friday, May 20, the Golf Mill will present Walt Disney's "Bambi" along with "The Ghost of Mr. Chicken," starring Don Knotts. (Bill

Pick Countryside Exhibitors May 25

Jurying to determine artists who will be represented in Countryside Gallery in Arlington Heights during the 1966-1967 season will be held Wednesday, May 25.

The jurying will be done at Recreation Park, 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights. Jurors will be Bob Anderson, Carl Schwartz and Kay Hoffman Schwartz.

Artists interested in being represented in the gallery, sponsored by Countryside Art Center, may bring their work to Recreation Park between 1 and 4 p.m. on Monday, May 23, and between 1 and 4 p.m. and 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 24. No work will be accepted after these dates.

TO BE ELIGIBLE artists must live within a 50-mile radius of Chicago and be exhibiting members of Countryside Art Center. There is a membership fee for new applicants which must be paid before works are submitted to the jury.

Members not accepted by the jury still have full exhibiting membership privileges to show at outside places of exhibition and at festival events.

Artists interested in joining Countryside Center may visit the gallery from 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Monday. They also may call the gallery, 253-3005, for information.

Helen Malone in Country Club Play

Helen Malone, known to thousands of radio and television fans for her many and varied appearances on the major networks for over 20 years, is currently appearing in the hit comedy, "Never Too Late," at Country Club Theatre in Mount Prospect.

Featured in such air time productions as "Road of Life," "Women in White," Miss Malone has been kept busy shuttling between the theatre, industrial films and the live and taped television worlds.

Miss Malone has almost a nostalgic association with the lead role of Edith Lambert in the play, for during the play's pre-Broadway tryout at Hinsdale's Salt Creek Theatre with Dennis O'Keefe several seasons ago (then titled "Cradle and All"), she took over the part on several days notice when O'Keefe's co-star fell ill and played through the run of the engagement to fine critical acclaim.

SINCE THEN, she has performed the part in several other productions and upon closing her engagement at Country Club Theatre, will again join O'Keefe as co-star in another summer stock tour.

Country Club Theatre performances are scheduled Tuesday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m., Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

MARK D'ANTE leads the Mark D'Ante Quartet appearing now through May 21 at Landers Chalet, Oakton and Higgins, Elk Grove Village.

St. James' Hammy to Mrs. Kelly

Mrs. Jane Kelly, 1416 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, making her first appearance with the St. James Theatre Group in their spring production of "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas," received the group's Hammy Award for her portrayal of the lovable Irish Sister Columba.

Runner-up award was presented to Darlene Raupp, 404 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, who appeared as the robust convent cook, Sister Edna.

The Hammy Award, presented after each of the group's productions, is an "extra effort" award recognizing time and energy put forth by an individual to achieve the character they portray on stage. It also is recognition of a job well done.

Past Hammy Award winners include Dr. Richard Treanor for "Third Best Sport," John Kavanagh for "Idiot Box Blackouts" and Angela Kessinger for "The Man Who Came to Dinner." (Bill

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

Fritz Sharp For New Boss . . .

Now, that's the way to impress a new boss.

Almost lost in the quick shuffle Saturday that saw Ralph Houk replace Johnny Keane as manager of the New York Yankees was another superb pitching effort by rookie Fred (Fritz) Peterson.

The former Arlington High School left-hander helped get Houk off to a fast start as the Yankee field boss by setting down the California Angels, 3-1, in the Angels' Anaheim Stadium.

Peterson didn't walk a man in his neat effort which hiked his major league mark to 2-1. His mound gem ended a four-game Yankee losing streak.

Mickey Mantle knocked in all three runs for Peterson with a sharp single, bases loaded walk and long scoring fly that just missed being a three-run homer.

Praise for the young Yankee lefty continues with catcher Elston Howard, a man who should know, labeling Fritz as a pitcher who ticks along the lines of Whitey Ford.

"This kid pitches just like Whitey," Howard points out. "He's got a fast ball that moves, a high-class breaking ball, and most important of all, he can get his breaking ball over the plate when he's behind on the count."

It would be to Peterson's benefit if he could work in a fairly regular rotation. He's had some long waits between assignments, not by design but because of weather and schedule problems.

Peterson's next turn should be against Minnesota although Houk may hold his rookie lefty until the weekend series with Kansas City.

As a newcomer to the Yankees, Fritz wasn't quoted on his thoughts about the switch in managers but you can be sure the young left-hander was a fan of Johnny Keane.

After all, Keane gave Peterson a chance to show his stuff in major league competition.

Lloyd Meyer of Arlington Heights, who's a contract scout with the New York Mets, says he watched last week "the finest high school pitcher I've ever seen." Meyer went to Batavia and came back with glowing reports on Byron Von Hoff, a 6-2, 185-pound right hander who has a wicked fast ball and curve that "breaks off the table." Seventeen major league scouts were in the stands that day as Von Hoff, who has a brother, in pro ball, fired a one-hitter.

Will Evanston Team Coast? . . .

If you're a betting man, put your money on Evanston, Bloom, and East St. Louis to finish 1-2-3 in the state track and field finals next weekend in Champaign.

Of course, the preps still have to qualify this weekend, but barring any unforeseen events, those three schools loom as the teams to beat in the cinder finals.

Evanston appears to have too much class and could score state points in the 440 yard dash, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, 100, mile, shot put, and both relays.

The Wildkits could make a joke of the state finals with what may be the strongest prep team ever assembled in Illinois.

Bloom has an exceptional hurdler in Lonny Poole who could win both events. They also have Jim Murray in the 100 and 440, the state's best shot putter in junior Hershel Benberry, and two crack relay teams.

East St. Louis will counter with two fine sprinters, an excellent broad jumper, shot and discus standouts, and two fine relay teams.

York is another team which could pick up a few points. The Dukes have Al Janulis in the 100 and 440, Lou Drinka in the shot put, John Mauzey in the discus, and two fine relay teams.

Palatine is the Paddock area's top hope although the Pirates may score state points in only two events, the 440 yard dash with Bill Bahnfleth and mile relay.

Steve Smith, the big football and basketball star at Maine East who went on to grid stardom at the University of Michigan, has signed a pro football contract with the San Francisco 49ers. Smith is a 6-5 end. He gave Arlington High teams fits in his prep career at Maine.

A Coach Has His Say . . .

Coaches are accustomed to pressure and realize it often goes with the job.

But one prep basketball coach in Iowa got tired of the pressure and recently resigned despite a pretty good season.

It seems the season wasn't good enough for the town critics.

The school board asked the coach if he'd be kind enough to submit a list of possible successors.

"Only too happy to help out," he replied.

The disgusted coach gave the school board his list the next day.

There were six names. All of them downtown businessmen!

The Lake County Rifles semi-pro football team is looking for players. Any former pro, college, or high school players interested should attend a meeting next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the First State Bank of Libertyville.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington won the district golf tournament with a sparkling 296 total . . . Bob McDonald and Wayne Rolfs had 71s, Mike Spinello a 76, and Bud Holm a 78. . . The Cards bowed out of district baseball play with a stunning 13-3 loss to Round Lake. . . Arlington qualified seven boys in the district track meet with Bill Palmer topping the high jump at 6-2 and Dennis Striegel the shot put at 53-7½. . Dave Schimmel was second over the 180 yard low hurdles with a school mark (that still stands) of :19.4.

Competition Set for Saturday

District Track Tests Next; Area Entries At Two Sites

by BOB FRISK

The past can be forgotten for high school trackmen in Illinois.

It's not what you did yesterday or last week or last month that counts now.

It's what you do this weekend in the important district track and field competition that unfolds at 16 sites throughout Illinois.

This is the weekend they pass out the tickets to the state finals in Champaign on Friday and Saturday, May 20-21.

Five hundred and eighty-eight downstate and suburban high schools will send entries to district competition with meets scheduled both Friday and Saturday.

WINNERS OF first and second place in each of fourteen events in the district meets will advance to the state finals. In addition, other competitors who finish third, fourth or fifth will also be advanced if they meet certain pre-determined standards of time, height or distance.

(See the table of standards with the prep track honor roll on page three.)

Paddock area entries Arlington, Forest View, St. Viator, Lake Park, Prospect, Conant and Palatine will vie for honors in the Maine West District Saturday with Wheeling heading east to Evanston High School.

The Maine West feature will begin at 11:30 a.m. Saturday with the field events and preliminaries in the running events.

IN THE EVENT of a heavy rain, there is a possibility the Maine West District will be switched to Arlington High School's all-weather track.

The Evanston (Twp.) District will get under way at 9:45 a.m. with preliminaries in the track events. The field events will begin at 12 noon with finals in all events slated for 2 p.m.

Palatine is a heavy favorite to rule the teams at Maine West, and Evanston's defending state champion Wildkits should breeze in their own district.

Honor roll performers will be headlining both districts.

AT MAINE WEST the classiest entries in the running events will be Elgin Larkin's Mike Coyle in the 440 yard dash; Palatine's Bill Bahnfleth and Barrington's John French in the 440; Maine West's Kevin Flurkey, Palatine's Randy McWilliams and Prospect's Jack Pollard in the 880; Maine West's Lee LaBadie in the mile run; Maine East's Steve Myhra in the high and low hurdles; and Maine's Myrha, Palatine's Bill Meister, and Forest View's Pat Dunnigan in the lows.

The 100 and 220 yard dashes are wide-open although Owen Bauler of Notre Dame has the best clockings this year at :09.9 and :21.6.

BILL BAHNFLETH
Leads Pirate Charge

The quarter-mile is shaping up as a feature race at Maine West with the emergence of Barrington's French as a threat to Palatine's Bahnfleth. French clipped off a sizzling :49.2 in the Lake County meet, three-tenths of a second faster than Bahnfleth's best this spring. Coyle of Larkin has a :49.8 to help set up the 440 as a meet headliner Saturday.

IN THE 880 yard run Maine West's Flurkey has the district best of 1:57.0, but Palatine's McWilliams, who is improving every week, claimed a nifty 1:57.9 in the Mooseheart Relays and Prospect's Pollard has a 1:58.0.

LaBadie, Maine West's brilliant sophomore, should coast in the mile and will probably be running against the clock as there doesn't appear to be any serious challenger. Lee has a 4:22.0 this spring.

Maine's Myrha has clockings of :14.9 and :19.5 over the high and low hurdles to loom as the favorite in both events although there will be several crack low hurdlers in the Maine West District, including Paddock area boys Meister of Palatine and Dunnigan of Forest View.

IN THE FIELD events the boys to watch at Maine will be Prospect's Phil Cordina (13-3¼) and Elgin's Lloyd Westby (13-1¼) in the pole vault, Palatine's Duane Hosimer in the shot put (53-9½), and Arlington's Greg Zachwieja in the discus.

The broad jump and high jump are wide-open events with no heavy favorites. Leroy Peterson of Maine West and Wayne Render of Palatine have cleared Highlights of the district track and field meet Saturday will be available on Paddock Publications' special sports telephone service. Dial 392-2100 after 6 p.m. Saturday for the report on the meet that determines what boys will represent the Paddock area in the state finals in Champaign.

SUCCESSFUL FORM is displayed by Wheeling hurler Mark Newman on this delivery to Palatine's Bob Young in a diamond contest played last Friday. Young grounded out on the next pitch and Newman went on to pick up his fifth victory of the season against no losses. The 'Cats beat the Pirates on Newman's single in the sixth 5-4.

Prospect Hosts 17 Links Units

Strong Field Seeks State Tourney Berths

by Michael Hess

If Hercules had been a golfer, he still wouldn't have won tomorrow's district meet. Even for him the field is just too strong.

Vying for state tourney berths, area links units begin district play in less than 24 hours. Tee-off time for the first threesome is 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Site of the meet is the 6,009 yard, par 35-35-70, Mount Prospect Country Club course. Prospect High School will serve as host for the event which promises to be an extremely talented assembly.

There will be 18 golf squads in the struggle for team honors. The one best of those will advance to the Illinois finale in Champaign on May 20 and 21. First and second medalists will also take the downstate trip.

MIKE NISEN
Knights Up to Par?

ALONG WITH the home based Knights, eight other Paddock area schools will take part. They are Arlington, Conant, Forest View, Fenton, Lake Park, Palatine, St. Viator and Wheeling. All may enter from one to seven players but four must be present to count in over-all team standings.

There will also be district competition at 14 other sites over this weekend.

Each school in the Mount Prospect district has its standouts and almost any one of them may win. However, based on past performance, it is possible to divide entrants into four general groups according to their records.

THE FIRST group could be called "The Contenders." Each has displayed the required experience, depth and talent to take the championship. Each would surprise only by finishing far behind. There are four schools in this group. They are:

ST. VIATOR

The Lions have gotten off to a brilliant start this year. Of their first 10 duals, they've lost just two, one by a single stroke to Forest View and the other by three strokes.

Dial 392-2100

Highlights of the district golf meet Friday at Mount Prospect Country Club will be available on Paddock Publications' special sports telephone service. Dial 392-2100 after 4 p.m. Friday for the report on the state qualifying round of 18 holes.

Brothers Craig and Bill Crotty, Pat Hawley and Dean Muench are the big four on Father Patrick Durkin's squad. They all have experience and all have been consistently low shooters this season.

Soph Craig Crotty has two 37's, a 38 and three 39's among his nine hole scores this season. One of the 37's came at Mount Prospect. As a frosh in the '65 district Crotty carded a 94. Bill Crotty, a senior, has posted 85's in the last two districts and has a 37, two 38's and a 39 for nines this season.

Hawley, a senior, had an 88 in last spring's district. He has '66 nines of 36, 38, 38 and 39 to his credit. Junior Muench has a 36 and 38 while averaging 41 for nine holes this season. Tom Cullen and Bob Horan are fifth and sixth man possibilities for the Lions.

Among the best team scores this season for St. Viator, the defending champ in Chicagoland Prep League play, are a 156, a 157, a 158 and a 159.

PROSPECT

Of the 17 other coaches in the meet, 11 have said that headman, Mike Nisen's host Knights are the team to beat in this year's district. Factors which make them favorites are the home course advantage, tradition and talent.

Prospect linksmen have won two straight Mid-Suburban League crowns and the last two district meets. Last year they took the district title with a 313 and went on to place ninth in the state. Both those districts, and this one, were played over the Knights home Mount Prospect course.

Doug Lytle and Dave Lovgren, seniors with plenty of experience, have paced Prospect to a 5-2 duals mark this year. The Knights have topped Elgin, Elgin-Larkin, Wheeling and Maine West, of the other district entries, and were beaten by Forest View.

Lytle had an 80 in last year's district. He has a 41 for nine and 77 for 18 as his best this season. Lovgren, with an 83 last year, has a pair of 38's for nine and an 80 for 18 this season.

Right behind Lytle and Lovgren for Nisen's team have been Neil Rowe, Joe Rosanova and Harry Wallace. Rowe has a 37 and an 86 for nine and 18 while Rosanova has had a 40 and 88 and Wallace a 41 and 88. Bob Phelan and Fred Fassnacht give Prospect strong sixth and seventh men.

The Knights have had 172, 170, 160 and 159 for nine hole team scores and 336 and 315 for 18 in duals. In the Cham-

Wheeling Opens With Win Over Deerfield

by JIM FRUEHLING

Wheeling's Wildcats overcame sub-baseball temperatures and a two run deficit Tuesday afternoon as the 'Cats opened district tournament play with a 7-3 victory over Deerfield.

Coach Steve Chernicky's charges put across four runs in the top of the seventh to break a 3-3 tie and give starter Mark Newman his sixth victory against no defeats.

The unseasonably cold weather was directly responsible for the rash of errors and the scarcity of base hits. The two squads had a total of 11 miscues, many of the two base variety, with Deerfield guilty of the majority.

IT WAS A scoreless contest until the bottom of the third. Then, thanks to a couple of free passes issued by Newman, the Warriors loaded the bases.

Deerfield's shortstop Rick Duryea responded to the situation by lining a two runs single to left. These two runs gave Warrior starter John Edgar what seemed to be a sizeable lead.

The two runs loomed all the more important due to the fact that Edgar had not given up a hit.

ALTHOUGH THE 'Cats failed to get a hit in the fourth inning they did manage to scratch out a run. Newman reached first on an error and advanced all the way to third on a throwing error. With nobody out, Newman broke for the plate and Jeff Powell laid down a bunt as Wheeling worked the suicide squeeze to perfection. This play cut the score to 2-1.

Deerfield added an unearned run in the top of the fifth to regain their second run lead. However, Wheeling came roaring back in the top of the sixth.

Second baseman Tom Manderscheid slashed a booming triple to right center for the first hit off of Edgar. The second sacker scored due to his aggressive base running as he bowled the catcher over on a close play at the plate.

NEWMAN, WHO had reached first on a fielder's choice, scored on Bob Krug's line double. This tied the score at 3-3 and set the stage for the big Wildcat seventh.

Rex Peterson ignited the rally by coaxing a lead-off walk from Edgar. Wheeling then proceeded 6-1 in the high jump.

The two relays should belong to Palatine. The Pirates hit a swift 3:21.0 mile last Saturday in the Mooseheart Relays, the state's best, and will be going all out in the district to earn a good position in Champaign. Barrington looms as Palatine's big threat in the mile event with the Broncos hitting 3:25.6 in the Lake County meet.

Palatine has a 1:30.7 in the half-mile relay.

AT EVANSTON (Twp.) Coach Jim Hoffman's Wheeling crew will be bucking a talented array of high school trackmen, but the host school, headed by versatile Roy Houston, should have no difficulty overpowering the field.

The Wildkits are strong in every event and should qualify several individuals and both relay teams for the state meet.

Evanston's top boys are sprinter Rich Lewis, quarter-mile and broad jumper Houston, broad jumper and high jumper Jesse Siebert, miler Harold Posner, high jumper Steve Campbell, pole vaulter Dave May, and weightman Marshall Langhor.

Prospect (Prospect), Niles (Notre Dame), Palatine (Conant), Palatine (H.S.), Park Ridge (Maine East), Park Ridge (Maine South).

AT EVANSTON (TOWNSHIP)

Antioch, Deerfield, Evanston (Twp.), Evanston (St. George), Fox Lake (Grant), Glenview (Glenbrook South), Grayslake, Gurnee (Warren), Highland Park, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Mundelein (Carmel), Mundelein (H.S.), Northbrook (Glenbrook North), North Chicago, Northfield (New Trier West), Prairie View (Stevenson), Round Lake, Skokie (Niles East), Skokie (Niles North), Skokie (Niles West), Wauconda, Waukegan, Wheeling, Winnetka (New Trier East), Zion-Benton.

Other youngsters to watch at Evanston Saturday will be Bruce Beal of New Trier in the sprints, John Davis of New Trier in the 880 yard run, Doug Williamson of Libertyville in the mile, Craig Clendenning of Waukegan in the high jump and pole vault, Bob Melville of Waukegan in the pole vault, Bill Schopf of New Trier in the shot put, and Bruce Erb of Glenbrook South in the discus. 'Cats Triumph to fill the bases thanks to an error and another walk.

With the bases jammed, Newman rapped one to the third baseman, who bobbled the ball and allowed a run to score.

WITH 'CATS still occupying all the bases, Powell ripped a single up the middle, driving in two more runs. This left runners on first and second. Krug chased another run across as he dumped his second hit of the game, a single into right. Dan Devito ended the inning in which Wheeling batted around by striking out.

Newman, who was in and out of trouble all day, got the last half of the seventh off in shaky fashion by walking the lead-off man Tom Wheeler. However, the hard throwing right hander settled down and retired the next three men to ice up Wheeling's first tournament victory.

Commenting on Newman's route going performance, Coach Chernicky noted that Mark appeared to be having difficulties keeping the ball down as low as he would have like it. Nevertheless, Steve was very pleased with his squad's ability to come back.

This victory of Deerfield helped to revenge an earlier 7-1 loss the Wildcats suffered at the hands of the Warriors. It also enabled the young 'Cats to meet Glenbrook North Wednesday afternoon in an attempt to take the second big step down the Illinois State Tournament trail.

Name Managers in Waycinden League

Teams and managers have been named for the Waycinden Area Boys Baseball League season, according to President Paul Augustine.

The league commissioners are currently assigning boys to the teams with the official announcement expected shortly.

Several rules have been established for Waycinden Area players this year. Boys will not be allowed to play if they are not in full uniform. They must attend practcie nights as scheduled, and players should be at the field approximately 30 minutes before game time.

The boys will play at the Brentwood, High Ridge, Einstein and Devonshire school fields. The traveling league will play at the Fastex Field.

The league teams and managers are as follows:

MINOR LEAGUE — Tony's Finer Foods (Frank Herold), Cumberland Shopping Plaza (Dick Nawrot), Allen's Men's Shop (Andy Calas), Svoboda Men's Shop (John Stater), Tiffany Coiffures (Joe Springer), Oakton Lawn & Garden Shop (Bill Bairn), Burchard Cleaners (Bob Useling), Town & Country Service (Bob Speer), and Wille Hardware (San Le Barbera).

JUNIOR LEAGUE — D. P. Chiropractors (Bob Detloff), Sportsman's Barber Shop (Joe Digani), Charles Klehm Nursery (Russell Tripp), Johnson's Sporting Goods (Dick Martinek), Optimist Club (Bob Hahn), City Barber Shop (Frank Horan), Tobin's Mobil Service (Bob Campopiano), Homeowners Association (Paul Smith), No. 1 Suburban Heating (Bob Erskine).

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE—Des Plaines Plymouth (Jack Dorsey), Golf Prospect Mobil Service (Ray Wendlandt), Martin J. Kelly Olds (M. Mitsuoka), Dodge in Des Plaines (John Kay), Pete's Standard Station (E. Stiff), Bravos Olds (Bill Vandivere), Art's Shell Service (Ludwig Chrismar), Ellinwood Motors (Sid Shiller), and Gil's Bulko (Nick DiGilio).

TRAVELING LEAGUE — Ladendorf Oldsmobile (Mike Adams), No. 2 Suburban Heating (Keith Koentopp).

Showdown . . .

Wheeling and Maine West baseball units, currently tied for first place in Mid-Suburban League standings, will meet for a showdown battle tomorrow afternoon. That contest, which will break the 5-3 deadlock atop the M-SL, will be played at Maine's diamond beginning at 4:30 p.m.

District Golf Meet

paign Invitational, playing against the top teams in last year's state meet, Prospect took second.

PALATINE

This is the initial Pirates district venture under new headman Leonard Fiocca. It should be a successful outing because Palatine has run up a 5-1 duals mark including wins over Maine West, Elgin, Elgin-Larkin and Wheeling.

Most consistent shooter on the team has been junior Doug Miller. He's twice had 40 for nine and has 18 hole totals of 77 and 75, the 75 coming though he bogeyed three of the last four holes.

Other leaders for the Pirates have been Bruce Adams, Bob Doan, Jeff Teach and Bill Hein. Best nine and 18 for Adams have been 40 and 86. Doan's best have been a 38 and 81 while Teach has a 39 and 89 and Hein a 43 and 84. Hein, the only one with district experience, complete Palatine's entry.

Doug Sheldon and Kerry Sullivan, both of whom usually finish in the mid-40's for nine, coomplete Palatine's entry.

Lowest team scores this season for Fiocca's unit have been a 157 for nine and a 329 for 18. Average Pirates totals have been higher as they've turned in two 176's and a 173 for nine and a 343 for 18.

ELGIN-LARKIN

A score of 318 put the Royals in a second place tie in the district one year ago. Three vets, Bill Hoffer and Dick Funk, who had 80's, and Jim Haderer, who had an 81, are back from that runner-up squad.

Hoffer's low 18 this year was a 35-38 73 and he's averaged 40 for 15 nine hole rounds. A 38-36-74 is Funks' best. He has an 40.8 average. Haderer has a 38-40-78 and 41.4 average. Rounding out the E-L team average of 164.5 per nine is Craig Benstein who has had a 79 this season.

"We've been hurting in the fifth spot," says Larkin coach Lowell Antenen, whose squad is 7-2 in '66 duals. In the Royals record are losses to Prospect and Palatine plus a first, with an excellent 308, in the Lake Park Invitational.

"The Darkhorses" is a fitting emblem for the next group. All have good shots at the top but, due to modest records or lack of a fourth strong man or inexperience or less than strong competition, cannot be rated with the contenders. However, all are capable of getting hot and sweeping past the rest of the field. There are four schools in this group. They are:

BARRINGTON

The Bronchos are only 5-5 in duals this season but don't be deceived. They're strong.

Five capable golfers lead coach Ralph Ganzer's team. They are Paul Delewaro, who has a 72 this year and had a 78 in last year's district; Bob Weidenmiller, whose best is a 74; John Heiden, with a 36; Steve Wagner, with a 39; and Fred Phillips, with a 40.

In last Saturday's Lake Park Invitational the Barrington entry was second with a standout 309 total. That figure included a blistering 146 for the front nine. Last year the Bronchos tied for second in the district with a 318.

"We should make the first five this year," predicts headman Ganzer.

ARLINGTON

A trio of standout, experience, tourney-wise veterans lead the Cards into district competition. They are Jim Saflarski, Roger Baer and Rick Price.

Saflarski has been hot this season. He began with nines of 40 and 41 and turned in 78 and 90 for 18. But since then he has had rounds of 75, 74 and 74. Baer has carded 18's of 76, 77, 78 and 79 while 84, 83, 80 and 77 have been posted by Price.

Even with those three the charges of coach Phil Stack have compiled just a 4-4 mark in duals. One trouble has been finding a fourth man. Having the best chance to fill that fourth man role are Scott Pickard and Steve Johnson. Johnson has had 43 and 82 as his best nine and 18 while Pickard has a 41 and an 84.

Tom Sloan, with a 40 and an 81, and Mike Dixon, with a 44 and 93, may also play.

Arlington has not met any district team in '66 duals. Against the competition faced, the Cards have had a winning team score of 159 and winning 18 totals of 322, 320, 320 and 313.

CARY-GROVE

"We have seven boys who are good," says C-G coach Terry Sheppard, "and four who have ben consistantly only four or five strokes over par. Our dual record is 6-2-1 and I feel we have a fairly strong team."

Tim Baker has been the Trojans best. He carries a 36.5 average per nine and has been in the middle 70's for 18. One year ago Baker carded an 89 in district.

In 1965 Sheppard's team was 12th in the district with a 371 total. Joining Baker are three others, Steve Sweazey, Mark Figge and Paul Croy, who played last spring. Sweazey has a nine hole 38.5 average and had a 96 last year. Figge posted an 89 last year and Croy a 102.

Fenton is one of the two teams to have beaten Cary this year.

FOREST VIEW

Coach Al Kintzle's team was fourth, at 322, last year. Three have returnd from that squad, Al Piehl, Doug Locke and Bill Schindler, and they've paced FV to a 6-2 mark in '66 dual action.

Piehl had an 80 last year and he owns a nine of 38 and 18 of 80 during this campaign. A sixth place tie, at 78, was what Locke got last year and he has a 44 and 81 this season. Schlindler, greatly improved, had an 89 one year ago but has a 39 for nine and 76 for 18 this season.

Rounding out the Falcons entry this season will be Doug Turner, Kent Gedman, Steve Pierce and Dane Paladino. Turner's best nine and 18 this year are a 41 and 81 while Kedman has posted a 40 and 82.

This year Forest View shows wins over St. Viator, Prospect, Lake Park and Conant as part of its record along with a setback at the hands of Wheeling. FV's best team score for nine this year is a 158 which came on the Mount Prospect course, also the Falcons home layout.

"We haven't been very consistent," commented Kintzle on his aggregation. "We'll have to lower our recent scores or we'll finish way out of it." Forest View did show lower scores in beating Prospect by 21 strokes on Tuesday.

In the middle of the field are schools which perhaps are still a year away from leadership. They are building and have been hurt by inconsistency, injury or other unexpected setback. There are six schools in this group, "The Pack." They are:

LAKE PARK

The Lancers carry a 7-3 dual mark this season, among their losses being defeats at the hands of Prospect and Fenton.

Jim Rosenthal is the LP leader. In his third varsity season Rosenthal has an 18 hole average of 79 which includes two 75's. He had an 80 in the district one year ago. Second man at Lake Park has been Gene DeMay, a soph with a 78 average for 18.

Junior Al Bartz and seniors Charles Hodgin, Greg Poupitch, Joe Bauerle and Dick Bornack round out coach Fred Risinger's squad. All carry 80 averages except Bornack who is up to 82. In '65 district play Bartz had a 90, Hodgin a 91, Poupitch a 89, Bauerle a 99 and Bornack a 94.

Eighth place, with a 341, was where the Lancers ended in last year's district.

ELGIN

The Maroons will be out to better a seventh place, 339 finish in the '65 district. They could do just that.

Mike Rooney is the leader of coach Gus Stuart's crew. Rooney had an 83 last year and has posted 39's for two nine hole rounds this year. Charles Warren and Dave Strohm are the other Elgin returnees. Warren had an 86 one season ago and Strohm a 100. Both have 45's for nine this season.

Three others could do well for the Maroons. Jim Bell, who has a 40 for nine, Robin Kramer, with a 43, and Gary Hokanson, with a 45 have all helped their team score in the 170's this season. They slipped to 182 however, in a loss to Palatine.

FENTON

Two seniors, a junior and a soph will lead the Bisons into district competition. They've already paced coach Lee Craine's forces to a 9-1 dual meet record.

Dave Kielma and Bill Peluso are Fenton's seniors. Kielma has been close to par all season long and carded an 89 in the '65 district. Peluso had an 88 last year.

The Bisons junior is Ron Borecki, who had a 92 last spring, and the sophomore is John McKoski.

"All four boys have averaged around 40 for nine holes this season," says headman Craine. "It's hard to say what they'll do in the district but all four are capable of shooting 80's and one or two could be below that."

A 341 total put Fenton ninth in last year's district.

WHEELING

Last year the Wildcats were last in district, with a 373, and they've compiled a 2-7 mark in duals to date this year. However, headman Jack Berry thinks his charges will improve.

"I'd be surprised if we finished last again," Berry commented. "We averaged over 90 strokes per man last year. We should be better and there's a chance we may average around 80."

Five veterans who competed last year are back for the 'Cats. Bob Boening, who has a nine of 42 and 18 of 92 this season, leads the way. He had a 96 in the '65 district. Dave Quirsfeld has a 41 and 87 this year while Dick Fontecchio has carded a 42 and 84, Steve Poulos a 41 and 94, and Al Eisenstein a 41 and 94. Quirsfeld had a 92, Fontecchio a 92, Poulos a 104, and Eisenstein a 92 last year.

Two sophs will join Wheeling district entry. Dennis Klocke, who has a 42 and 98, and Jeff Sorensen, who owns a 40 and 94, should help their more experienced teammates.

Among other teams in this year's district, the 'Cats have beaten Forest View and lost to Prospect and Palatine.

MAINE WEST

It's been a difficult year for headman Gene Zuccarini's club. A line-up dominated by underclassmen has won only one of its first seven duals. Warriors setbacks include losses to Prospect, Palatine, Barrington and Elgin.

Last spring Maine was 10th in the district with a 344 team total. One golfer, Dave Krowka who had a 96, is back from that unit. Krowka's best nine this season is a 39 and he's had an 18 of 88.

Other leaders of MW are juniors Dick Merk and Ken Helfers and sophomore Dave Grutzius. Merk has fashioned a 44 as his best this season while Helfers has a pair of 46's and Grutzius a 45 plus an 86 for a full 18.

ST. EDWARDS

One top individual will lead the Green Wave into district action. That's Ralph Gierens who covered 18 with a 37-38-75 last year. That tied him for medalist honors though he slipped to second place in the playoff.

Behind Gierens the links ranks for coach Terry True are a bit thin. He'll field only a five man entry this year including Dan Mayti, who had a 93 last year, and Dan Leonard, who had a 122 last year.

In the '65 district St. Edwards was 13th with a 362.

And finally there is the fourth group, "The First-timers." All these teams are either in their initial season of prep competition or about to make their initial bow into the district action or both. There are four schools in this group. They are:

CONANT

In their first four duals of this season the Cougars took home two victories. Of other teams in the '66 district they have whipped Crown by 38 strokes and have fallen by 14 to Lake Park and by 20 to Forest View.

Cal Miller and Dennis Dorsey are the two Conant veterans. Both seniors are in their second links campaign. Miller's best nine this year is a 42 while Dorsey plays consistently in the mid-40's.

Four juniors may also be in coach Bill Holm's line-up tomorrow. John Polito, a transfer from West Leyden, and Rick Robottom have both been in the middle 40's. High 40's scores have been turned in by Jeff Larson and Don Burchardt has been around 50 for nine holes.

While Conant has displayed steady improvement through its only two links schedules, inexperience has been a hampering factor. The Cougars are entering their first district meet.

STEVENSON

Five underclassmen, two juniors and three sophs, will take part in district links play for this team from Prairie View. In its initial season of competition, coach Lou Fornero's squad has averaged 45 strokes per nine holes per man.

Top Stevenson individual is Andy Aleckson, who carries a 41 average. Aleckson, one of the sophomores, led his team to two victories in early dual action.

CROWN

The Vikings have been winless in dual action to date. Director Jim Adams will tomorrow be leading his charges into their first district competition.

Hank Edwards and Mike Palasis are Crown's links best. Edwards carries a nine hole average of 41 during the present season while Palasis is four strokes higher at 45. Both are seniors.

DUNDEE

Coach Bill Wynn feels his charges should be able to beat three or four other teams over the Mt. Prospect course. Last year the Car-Dun-Als fielded only a three man entry and failed to qualify for final team standings.

One of Dundee's golfers who took part in '65 has returned. That's junior Jeff Lange. He had a 47-45-88 last year and has been shooting in the low 40's and high 30's during this campaign. Second man on Wynn's five man team is soph Bob Schumacher.

Individuals can make the journey alone to Champaign. All they have to do is card the first or second lowest 18 hole scores in the district. Then, this pair of best golfers can go downstate regardless of what the rest of their team does. These top flight players are called:

MEDALISTS

Though the field is filled with outstanding links players there are nine who have the best chances at individual honors.

Ralph Gierens of St. Edward and Paul Deleware of Barrington would seem to have the inside track to the medal. Both have been under 75 this season. Others near the top could be Arlington's Jim Saflarski, Prospect's Dave Lovgren and St. Viator's Bill Crotty.

Darkhorses in the district's race of individuals are Al Piehl of Forest View, Doug Lytle of the Knights, Tim Baker of Cary-Grove, and Mike Rooney of Elgin.

Johnson Homer Clinches It

Pirates Stop Cards In Tourney Contest

by KEN KNOX

One hit made the difference Monday afternoon, as Palatine stepped over Arlington and into the finals of Barrington's district baseball tournament.

It was no modest hit, but a thunderous blow from the bat of Pirate shortstop Ken Johnson, a drive that arched far beyond the fence in left center field. It came in the second inning, detracting some from its climactic nature, but it was the difference in the tourney game.

Aside from the Johnson home run, the Pirates and Cards labored on virtually even terms in the incredible May chill that clutched the Barrington diamond, charitably trading three run innings, and getting nothing otherwise. The game ended with Palatine—designated the home team—on top 4-3.

SENIOR right-hander Barry Yurtis worked the full seven innings for Terry Gellinger's victors, troubling himself by five times allowing the leadoff man to get on base for Arlington, but confining disaster to one three-run Arlington detonation in the fifth. Otherwise, his speed and his sharp curve had the Cards mastered, with 12 of them falling on strikes.

Southpaw Bob Young worked four innings for Arlington, giving up the four runs and taking the loss, while Jim Bressler came on for two scoreless relief innings.

By the victory, Palatine advanced to the tourney final yesterday (Wednesday) against the winner of Tuesday's Barrington-Lake Zurich contest. It was the eighth win of the season for the Pirates, the second over Arlington, against five losses. The Cards dropped to 1-11 for the campaign, and out of the single-elimination tournament.

ERRORS signalled Arlington's ultimate doom in the first inning, when four miscues were blended with two hits as Palatine sent nine men to the plate and tallied three times. It started with one out, when John Grove's ground ball to short was bobbled. Johnson followed with a ball deep to the same area, and beat it out for a hit, with the late throw sailing past first.

That put Johnson at second and Grove at third, and Grove scored moments later when John Phillips rammed a line single into right. But the worst was to come.

Palatine's Bob Young rolled a ball toward third, and Johnson—who had advanced on Phillips' hit—headed for the plate. So did the throw from third, but it skidded past catcher Mark Frase and Johnson tallied. Hurler Young came back to get Wes Dixon on strikes, but he walked Bob Hoffman, loading the bases.

THEN DICK Smith, making his first start in right field for Palatine, rapped a ball to short, presumably for the third out. But the throw was dropped at first, and Phillips came in from third. It finally ended when Yurtis rolled out second to first.

Young came back strong for the Cards in the second, getting both Mike Ferguson and John Grove on called third strikes, and firing two strikes past Johnson. But then, with the count 1-2, the Pirate cruncher delivered. As the ball sailed away, it marked the fourth time in the last five games that Johnson had hit for the circuit, and it was—as said—the clincher. For Palatine, though getting six more runners on base in the game, could score no more. And Arlington fell one short.

Yurtis' inning of agony followed one of his best. In the fourth, he knocked down two Cardinals on strikes and got Brad Somers on a long fly to Grove in center. But in the fifth, it was a mess, and most of it was Yurtis' fault.

HE WALKED Tom LeStarge to open the frame, and sent him to second by missing with a pickoff attempt. Paul Parish sent a roller to the mound, but it went through Yurtis' legs. Young walked to load the bases.

Ron Horcher picked up a run batted in for the Cards without moving his bat, because Yurtis walked him too, and LeStarge was forced in. The Pirate speedballer reversed form after that, and seemed to be on the way out of it. He whipped a third strike past Bob Hecht, and got Thad Woodard on a pop deep to Johnson at third. But Jim Jorgensen rapped a single to left, and Parish was in with the second run. The third followed when a Yurtis pitch bounced away from catcher Hoffman and rolled beyond the out of bounds line by the Pirate bench, automatically sending Young in. It was a painful run for Palatine to allow, because Yurtis then got Mark Frase on strikes to end the inning.

It was, in fact, the end of Arlington, because only LeStarge reached base after that rifling a single to left in the sixth, taking second on a wild pitch, and perishing there.

Maine 'Walks' to Victory

St. Viator Bows Out Of Tourney Play, 1-0

by BOB FRISK

St. Viator will be on the outside looking in at the 1966 state high school baseball tournament.

Coach Len Sparacino's varsity Lions, runnerup in the schoolboy diamond finals last spring, saw their dream of a return trip to Peoria shattered Tuesday at Maine West High School in Des Plaines.

A streak of wildness by Lion left hander Bob Stevens forced in the only run as host Maine tripped up the Lions, 1-0, in the first game of the Maine West District.

Stevens, who allowed only one hit over six frames, walked four men in the decisive sixth and lost pinch hitter Pete Kulik with the bases loaded after reaching a full count.

CLAIMING THE decision in the mound duel was Maine West's Bill Gastorf, a lefty whose breaking ball had the Lions swinging at bad pitches.

Gastorf didn't allow a hit over seven innings although an infield tap by Denny Wilkinson in the sixth could have been scored either way. The throw on the slow roller pulled the first baseman off the bag, but it appeared Wilkinson had beat the toss.

The southpaw struck out four and walked five.

Gastorf had also checked Forest View without a hit last Friday afternoon in a Mid-Suburban Conference fray.

ALTHOUGH they didn't reach Gastorf for a legitimate hit, the Lions still had their chances to pull this one out.

Tom Collins reached on a walk and John Wendell was hit by a pitch in the third inning, but the rally died on a strikeout and infield tap.

In the fourth Dan Collins walked as the leadoff man and went to second on a sacrifice by Jerry Donahue. Stevens walked to put two men on, but when Wilkinson hit to the pitcher both Collins and Stevens were cut down.

COLLINS WAS nailed at third on the fielder's choice and Stevens was caught coming into third after a throw across the diamond.

In the fifth Tom Collins walked to kick things off and moved to second on Don Kulla's grounder to the pitcher. Wendell dropped down a bunt but Collins was out at third on the throw.

John Loughman hit a sizzler that skipped under the second baseman, and Wendell sailed around to third base. Loughman stole second, but Bill Kaveney grounded to second for the third out.

STEVENS WALKED in the sixth with two outs and went all the way to third on Wilkinson's slow roller to third. But Tom Collins hit to the pitcher for the third out.

St. Viator couldn't muster up any threat in the seventh as Gastorf got Kulla and pin h hitter Mike Miller on swinging third strikes and Loughman on a fly to right.

Stevens, who walked nine men over-all, was in several jams over his first five innings for the Lions but managed to wiggle out without any damage. Then came the disastrous sixth.

STEVENS GOT Rich Farias swinging for the first out but walked cleanup man Bob Bob Banger on a 3-2 pitch. Bob Mein walked on four pitches, and Harry Tistle worked the Lion lefty for a full count before receiving the third straight free pass of the stanza to load the bases.

The tension eased as Dick Manning looked at a third strike for the second out, and Maine coach Al Carstens went to his bench to bring in pinch hitter Pete Kulik.

Kulik took two balls, a strike, a third ball, and another strike to set the count at 3-2.

Stevens was off the mark with his next pitch, and Banger trotted across with the only run of the game.

St. Viator fans can only wonder now what might have happened if that sixth pitch to pinch hitter Kulik had reached the strike zone.

Palatine Thinclads Belt Knights 99-28

Palatine's powerful track team blitzed Prospect Tuesday afternoon, running up a 99-28 final in a dual on the Fremd school track.

The Pirates won 11 of the 15 events, scoring sweeps in six, in advancing their outdoor dual record to 7-1, including three straight triumphs against Mid-Suburban League opponents. The Knights are 1-4 outdoors this spring.

Palatine also took the frosh-soph half of the meet, winning there 70-57.

Ernie Quigel led two of the sweeps for Palatine in the varsity running, pacing Bob Gill and Barry Fitzgerald in the 100 yard dash and Brian McCartney and Fitzgerald in the 220. McCartney ran first in the low hurdles, followed by Bill Meister and Art Dannenberg, and in the highs, it was Palatine 1-2-3 with Bob Payne, Dannenberg and Jerry Kissner.

THE OTHER Palatine sweeps were in the two mile run, where Keith Wojtas, Jerry Weyrich and Mark Aggerbeck led the field, and in the shot put, with the order of Duane Hosimer, Joe Coffaro and Bob Salinas. Hosimer won with 50-2.

The mile relay team, running without the ailing Randy McWilliams, breezed in 3:26.1, with John Blanchard, John Ekeberg, Rick Ortman and Bill Bahnfleth carrying the baton. Palatine also took the 880 yard relay, while Ortman and Ekeberg ran 1-2 in the 440, Ortman first in :51.5, and Prospect's Craig Peterson in almost a dead heat for second with Ekeberg in :51.8.

Palatine's other points came in the discus, where Joe Coffaro won with Dick Wolff second, in the pole vault, where Rick Johnston and Art Zajonc were second and third, in the 880 where Dennis Denton was second and Rodger Lawrence third, in the mile where Denton was second, in the broad jump where Gill was second, and in the high jump, won by Wayne Render.

JACK POLLARD stood out for the Knights, winning the 880 in a fine 1:58.5 and the mile in 4:37.5, with John Jacobsen third. Phil Cordina pole vaulted 12-8 to win that event, and he was second in the high jump with Bruce McQuikken third. Leroy Rateike took the broad jump in 20-11½, and teammate Bates was third.

On the frosh-soph level, Palatine had three double winners, with Jeff Olsberg taking the 100 and 440, Warren Buchanan the high hurdles and broad jump, and Fred Sanborn the shot put and discus. The Palatine mile relay team won, as did Carl Puzzo in the 880 (2:07.8) and Dave Wessner in the low hurdles.

For the Knights, it was Owen MacBride in the two mile, Mike Corteen in the 220, Steve Holmes in the mile, Dan Ducey in the high jump and Bruce Boult in the pole vault. The Prospect 880 relay team also won.

Lion Golfers Keep Winning

St. Viator's varsity and frosh-soph golfers enjoyed a big week in Chicagoland Prep League competition but had some close calls.

The Lions' varsity posted two one-stroke decisions and one by 12 strokes.

The Lion frosh-sophs took one match by one stroke, a second by four, and a third by 21.

Craig Crotty and Tom Cullen had 42s, Pat Hawley fired a 43, and Dean Muench contributed a 45 as St. Viator's varsity edged St. Joseph, 172-173, at Timber Trails.

In frosh - soph ranks the young Lions pummeled St. Joseph, 189-210, with Bob Horan and Ken Sophie firing 46s. Don Weber came in at 48 and Dennis Palubicki had a 49.

On Thursday afternoon at Rob Roy the Lion varsity tripped up St. Ignatius, 157-169.

Bill Crotty fashioned a 37 to finish three strokes ahead of teammates Muench, Cullen, and Hawley.

St. Viator's frosh-sophs walked off with a 173-177 victory as Horan (40), Palubicki (43), Kenny Mattini (44), and Sophie (46) came in as the low four.

On Friday afternoon at White Pines the Lions came in with a 158 total to whip St. Patrick by one stroke.

Hawley led the charge with a 37 and Bill Crotty collected a 38. Craig Crotty (41) and Cullen (42) also scored for the winners.

Phil Pavone of St. Patrick stole the show on a frosh-soph level with an even par 35, but the St. Viator sophs still gained a one-stroke, 174-175 triumph.

Palubicki was low for the Lions with a 40. Tim Moore bagged a 43, Horan a 44, and Mattini a 47.

'Cat Linksmen Upset Falcons

Upset!! That's what Wheeling golfers did to Forest View last Thursday.

Going into that meeting the 'Cats had won just one of seven duals. The Falcons had won four of five duals. But, the 'Cats beat FV 169-172.

Leading the way for Wheeling were Dave Quirsfeld and Steve Poulos. Each carded 41's. Next best for coach Jack Berry's forces was the 42 by Dick Fontecchio while Bob Boenig turned in a 45. Fifth man, Al Eisenstein, had a 46.

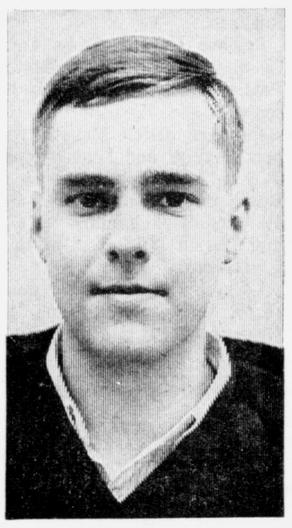
Low man for Forest View and taking medalist honors in the meet was Bill Schindler with a 40. Al Piehl had a 42, Doug Locke a 44, and Doug Turner a 46 for coach Al Kintzle. A 47 went to fifth man Kent Gedman.

THE SURPRISE triumph gave the 'Cats a 2-6 season record and was only the third dual victory in school history. In defeat the Falcons mark slipped to 4-2.

At the frosh-soph level Wheeling came out on top of FV 174 to 193. That put the winner's campaign standard at 4-5 and lowered the losers to 2-4.

Jeff Sorensen's 40 was best for Wheeling's younger links entry. He was trailed by the 43 of Craig Saar, the 44 of Dennis Klocke and the 47 of Greg Turner. Mike Stoik was fifth man at 48.

A 46 was the low nine hole round for the F-S Falcons. That was posted by Mike Harvey. Behind Harvey were Fred Lauing, with a 47; Steve Brown and Mike McKay, both with 50's; and fifth man Frank Waslewski, with a 52.



DAVE QUIRSFELD
'Cats Co-Leader

THAT DOUBLE level upset marked the initial victory for the Wildcats golf team over any links aggregation from Forest View.

St. Patrick Stops Lions In Net Play

St. Viator's Lions were roaring in tennis earlier this season, but have been having their problems lately.

Coach Pete Dunderdale's outfit dropped its third straight 3-2 decision on Chicagoland Prep League play last week.

St. Patrick scored two wins in singles and one in doubles in the varsity win over St. Viator.

Dave Harris gave the Lions their only singles triumph as he worked in the No. 2 slot. Tim Plesko and Greg Sidor were winners in second doubles.

Sophomore John Allare extended his man to three sets before bowing 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 in first singles.

Jim Hillenmayer lost in third singles, and John Lavigne and Greg Leydig bowed in first doubles.

Beverly Claims St. Colette Lead

Beverly Lanes started out on top of the heap for the first session of the St. Colette Golf League.

Five and one-half of the possible 6 points went to Beverly as Bill Mueller whipped Al Austin and Herb Nauman downed Bill Rademacher. Al Medina could only tie his match with Russ Niesen, but Ray Harles took the first five holes to down Dick Ulbrich.

Close behind Beverly in second place is Clark Brass who embarrassed Imprinting Service 5 to 1. Bill Hickey beat Gene Folkes, John DiFatta downed Bill Rademacher and Bob Duffy whipped John Gens. John O'Connor defeated Ernie Wonders for the Imprinter's only Tally.

Quadriga Mfg. Co. and F. J. Die Mold each took a piece of third place with 4½ points each. Bill Kohnke and Don Larson won matches for Quadriga over Jim's Service. Folmer Simonsen and Oscar Dolleslager tied with Jim Niesen and Bill Ahrens.

Phil Parczyk took the decision from Low Pryby for F. J. Glen Herbst also won his match against Irv Alquist. Elmer Schwartz and Joe Smrz battled to a tie. Rod Peltier won the lone point for Mitchell DeBurring by beating Elmer Houlberg.

THE CHAMPIONS of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling league for the 1965-66 season are these ladies, the representatives of Lattof Chevrolet. They claimed their crown without need of a roll-off, winning the first round and—in a position night showdown with Steve's Restaurant—the second. The bowlers are Peggy Harris and Captain Donna Reinhardt, front row; Joan Christensen, Rose Kraft and Vi Douglas, back row. (Staff photo)

THURS., MAY 12, 1966

At Rolling Meadows

Jack Miller rolled 102 pins over average to finish at 168-194-223—585 in the Winston Park Mixed league . . . Four bowlers came close to triplicates but just missed . . . They were Donna Hunter (102-102-98), Bonnie Koetter (119-119-170), Carol Lindstrom (142-142-134), and Larry Brehmer (145-145-155).

At Striking Lanes

Team No. 6 rolled the highest team game and series of the season with 1148 and 3110 in the Striking Men's Classic . . . Four members of the team rolled over 600 . . . Joe Simonis finished as high individual average leader with 211.71 for 102 games, the highest average in Illinois this season.

At Arlington Lanes

It was a fight to the last frame of the last game, but Renaldo's finally edged out Anthony's TV in the Lazy Lofters league . . . Renaldo's finished with a 60½-44½ record . . . Antyony's TV was second at 60-45, and Community Camera third at 53½-51½.

But It's Tight

Keefer's in Tuesday Lead

Keefer's Pharmacy, first night leaders of the Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League, retained top place in the Tuesday division by a slim half-point margin as they were played to a 5-5 stand-off last week by Thunderbird Bowl.

Keefer's comparatively poor showing was in sharp contrast to their near perfect form of a week ago. Ed Spletzer continued to look good as he won two points in his match with Dick Elliott, but Ed Pociask showed a sudden reversal of form that added ten strokes to his score and cost him two points in his match with Capt. Pat Danna of Thunderbird.

Big man for Thunderbird was "C" player Chuck Pellino, who won two points from alternate Jim Lister plus a bonus point for taking low individual net honors.

Keefer's remaining points were won by Carl Lindquist after a forfeit by Thunderbird's Harold Wolff.

THE KEEFER - Thunderbird 5-5 standoff was the only closely contested match of the evening. The others were one-sided affairs that scrambled the league standings on this second night of the 1966 season.

Licht's Paint Store gained 8½-1½ win over Kirchhoff Insurance that gave them a total of 14 points and moved them from fifth to second place and only one-half point away from league-leading Keefer's.

Kruse's Tavern and Restaurant enjoyed the most decisive victory of the evening, clobbering Carter Music Shop 9-1 and catapulting from ninth place to third. Carter's defeat dropped them from a tie for second all the way to eighth.

THREE TEAMS gained 8-2 victories over their opponents. Wille Lumber & Fuel had little trouble disposing of Kersting's Garden Center and moved into fourth place. Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. took Illinois Range, and Busse-Biermann Hardware topped Moler's Barber Shop by similar margins.

Thus, Thunderbird Bowl, who had the distinction of holding the strong league leaders to a 5-5 tie, found that their efforts were rewarded by a drop from a tie for second to fifth place.

Low shooter for the night was Ed Lauing with a 36 over the second nine. Birdies were reported by H. Ross, J. Driscoll, and Ed Lauing.

The standings:

Keefer's Pharmacy	14½
Licht's Paint Store	14
Kruse's Tvrn. and Rest.	13
Wille Lumber and Fuel	12½
Thunderbird Bowl	12
Mt. Pros. Elec. Con.	11
Busse-Biermann Hdwe.	8½
Carter's Music Shop	8
Illinois Range	7½
Kirchhoff Insurance	7½
Moler's Barber Shop	6½
Kersting's Garden Ctr.	5

Pro Sport Shop Moves Into Lead In Friday League

Captain Don Campbell and his Pro Sport Shop team are the leaders after the first week of play in the Mount Prospect Friday night golf league.

Pro Sport's 8½ to 1½ victory over Pete's Standard Service was highlighted by Holmes McLendon's gross 39 in downing Joe Kubik and Campbell's two up win over rival captain Tony Ramicone.

Pete's Standard avoided a shutout when Dick Stone and Joe Graffeo halved their respective matches with Charles Kovacs and Joe Szostek.

MEESKE'S SUPER Market refused to get lost in the pack by scoring an impressive 8-2 win over Doyno Motors. Meeske's Dick Lindstrom, Y. Bloomquist, and Frank Maher scored clean sweeps as Ted Small was the only point winner for Doyno with victory over Ed Luzwick.

Esquire Barber Shop and Keefer's Pharmacy share the league's third spot with a 7-3 triumph over Wille Lumber and Fuel and Clayton Court. Nick Serino's four over par 39 was not enough to prevent Wille Lumber from being clipped by Joe Wylie and his Esquire Barbers. Clayton Court ran into a barrage of pars from the irons of the Keefer quartet.

Ed Berset, representing Mount Prospect State Bank, birdied the eleventh hole to share low gross honors with Serino and McLendon while Serino, McLendon, and Keefer's Bill Mottweiler posted 33s to be the low net leaders.

Stan Grabarek's magic putter ran the ball for a pair of birds as he led all alternates with a 40-6—34. John McDonald followed with a gross 41 and net of 36.

The Standings:

Pro Sport Shop	8.5
Meeske's	8
Esquire Barber Shop	7
Keefer's Pharmacy	7
F.B.K. Realtors	6.5
Arlington Camera	6.5
Mt. Prospect State Bank	6.5

Bankers Top Picket Paint In Golf Action

Mount Prospect State Bank overpowered Picket Paint by seven points last week to capture scoring honors in the Mount Prospect Monday golf league.

The Bankers posted an 8½ to 1½ victory, two points better than the efforts turned in by Karlsen's Pharmacy and Busse Realtors.

Karlsen toppled Carl's Coin-Op and Busse whipped Morton Pontiac by identical 6½ to 3½ scores.

In other action Mount Prospect Savings and Loan stopped J & B Market, 6-4; Annen & Busse edged Van Driel's, 5½-4½; and Winkelmann's Shell and Mufich Buick battled to a 5-5 standoff.

Larry Springer had low gross of 40. Springer (40-9) and Bill Gruenes (48-17) tied for low net with 31s.

The Brass Rail Victimized

Sports Chalet Wins 1965-66 PCTL Title

Concourse Sports Chalet held the bouquet one year ago, playing reluctant bridesmaid to the Paddock Classic Traveling League's championship team, Pioneer Lanes.

But times change.

This year, Pioneer Lanes wasn't even part of the PCTL's championship roll-off. But Sports Chalet was, and was bridesmaid no more.

TONY SASSO

The Sports — kings of the PCTL's round two — engaged round one titlist The Brass Rail in the season-ending roll-off over the weekend, and carried off the prize in straight games.

The Sports needed eight points to win, and had almost all of them after the first night's bowling. In a Saturday confrontation at River Rand Bowl, Sports Chalet used a strong and balanced performance to take three consecutive games from the Railers.

TONY SASSO was the big factor in the team effort, rolling games of 215, 224 and 192 into a 631 series, best of the roll-off. He dipped to a 130 on Sunday afternoon, when the Sports wrapped up the crown with one game at Jack Gunnell's Lanes, but he still ended with the second best pin total for the roll-off, a 761.

The best was a 795, totaled by Chalet's Mike Wagner Jr., who had 603 of them in the first night's series. He added 192 in the wrap-up Sunday, when Chalet tallied 829 pins to 812 for The Brass Rail, finishing the competition in the league for 1965-66.

As was the pattern for the Chalet five throughout the second round, the prosperity was well spread. Tom Kouros had a four game total of 746, Ray Neumann 718 and Ron Steil and Dave Catherwood combined for 727. Steil had a 581 series Saturday, with his 235 third game the best of the roll-off. Catherwood added a 146 game Sunday.

THE BEST in the losing cause for The Brass Rail came from three men. Ted Zimmerman, with a 584 opening night series, ended with 747 pins down over-all, while John Giovannelli had totals of 548 and 735, and Don Oberg 583 and 731.

But they didn't have enough to compete successfully with Sasso and company, who picked up the winning habit at the beginning of the second round and never relinquished it. They retained it just long enough, for there are no more tomorrows in the 1965-66 campaign of the PCTL.

Hoffman Standard In Lead

Hoffman Estates Standard Service jumped out to an early lead in the Hoffman Men's Golf League by picking up 13 points on opening night.

Roselle State Bank, R & S Construction, Roselle Color Center, Kiczula Insurance, and Snyder's Hoffman Drugs also scored 10 or more markers on the first night of play for 1966.

Kiczula Insurance came in with low net of 194. Mike Bartnett had low individual net of 32 and Ray Larson had low gross of 40.

Toth Fires Par 36 As Leader in Scratch Division

Once again cold winds prevailed over the Old Orchard Scratch linksmen and blew the scores almost as high as last week.

A notable exception was Andy Toth who fired a one over par 36 and led Arlington Realty to a six to two win over Nelson Realty, thereby increasing their league lead with a total of 14 points.

Graft Builders moved into second position just 2½ points behind the leaders, sparked by a 38 by Mike Spinello and a 40 by Mike Graft. Peters and Co. dropped into third place after a split with Baird and Warner, 4 and 4.

An interesting sidelight developed last week as Skoglund shot another 39 and will move into the number one spot ahead of long-time, low average golfer, Captain Len Arnold.

Pitzen Movers maintained their hold on 4th place with Reiland shooting 38, giving them a 4-4 split with Miles and Miles. Haire Funeral Home, in 6th place just one point behind Skokie Valley Dry Wall, had its best score turned in by Bob Sabin. His 39 and a win by Allan Peters were the only points gained in a match with L-Nor Cleaners. Rolfs, Litt and new bridegroom Red Ackerman had wins.

Burrow Chevrolet gained six points over Busse Flowers with Meyers, Moore and Hamburg winning. Ailing Bill Schwerin couldn't handle St. Germaine as he and Stan Fill provided the two points for the florists.

Next Friday's action will see some interesting matches: Spinello vs. Rolfs; Reiland vs. Bokelman; Hugo vs. Toth; and Dr. Harding vs. Arnold.

Birdie Dept: Hamburg and Toth lead with three each. Pars — Arnold 11, Raedal, Reiland and Spinello, 10 each.

City Welding in Golf League Lead

City Welding Sales and Service won four out of five matches from Bruns Real Estate to take a one point lead after the second week of play in the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League.

Bob Burke won low gross honors with a 39, and Howie Kagey tallied the lowest net score for the night with a 35.

In the birdie department, Bob Burke scored two, while single birds were scored by Don McGowan, Len Haines, Jr., Gordon Ward, Stan Luczak, and Len Haines, Sr.

In other action Heights Cleaners beat Arlington Structural Steel 7½-4½, Harris Pharmacy split with Koops Mustard 6-6, National Conveyer and Supply handled Horcher Decorators 7½-4½, Lauterburg and Oehler edged New Emerald Cleaners 7-5, and Springs Shell Service also took a 7-5 win over Crest Heating and Air Conditioning.

Elgin Larkin Captures Golf Test With 308

Elgin Larkin stamped itself as a team to watch in schoolboy golf circles Saturday with an impressive victory in the Lake Park invitational at Golden Acres Country Club.

The Royals toured 18 holes at Golden Acres in a sharp 308 but couldn't relax as Barrington and Glenbard West pushed the new champs to the wire.

Barrington was close behind in second place with a 309 and Glenbard West, the defending champ, took third place honors at 311.

Rounding out the 12-team alignment were Arlington (320), Rockford East (325), Homewood-Flossmoor (327), Lake Park and Palatine (329), St. Charles (333), Glenbrook North (336), Niles West (340), and Crystal Lake (352).

PAUL DELAWARE of Barrington took medalist honors with rounds of 33-39 for a 72. He topped Bill Hoffer of Elgin Larkin by one stroke. Hoffer came in at 35-38—73.

Jim Saflarski of Arlington and Bob Weidenmiller of Barrington tied for third place with 74s, and Saflarski, who had turned in nines of 38-36, gained the third place medal on the first hole of a playoff.

Bill Dutch of Glenbard West and Doug Miller of Palatine tied for the fifth place medal with Dutch copping the playoff. Miller had a 37-38 for a 75.

SAFLARSKI topped the Arlington entry with his 74 as the Cardinals topped the three Paddock area teams in the alignment.

Also scoring for Coach Phil Stack's Cardinals were Roger Baer (40-38—78), Rick Price (43-41—84), and Scott Pickard (42-42—84).

Host Lake Park fashioned a 329 total with two sophomores leading the way for Coach Fred Reisinger's outfit. Casey Gauntt came in with a pair of 40s for an 80 and Gene DeMay bagged a 41-40—81. Also scoring were Jim Rosenthal with an 83 (41-42) and Joe Bauerle with an 85 (41-44).

Miller was low man for Palatine with his fine 75. Six strokes back was Bob Doan (42-39) with Bill Helm firing a 41-43—84. Jeff Teach posted an 89 with nines of 41-48.

Trophies were awarded to the top two teams in the Lake Park meet.

GRIM EXPRESSION is worn by Wheeling's diamond standout Mark Newman as he awaits his turn at bat in last Friday's game with Palatine. Newman has ptiched five victories this season and one of those came against the Pirates by a 5-4 margin. That game's tying and winning runs were driven in on a single in the last of the sixth. Newman, also proficient at the plate, hit that single.

To Maine's Gastorf

Falcons Lose 4-0 No-Hitter

"No-hitter"—that's a term which brings shudders from any baseball unit. But, that's what was thrown at Forest View last Friday.

Maine West hurler Bill Gastorf was the culprit. He didn't allow FV a single hit as he blanked the Falcons nine by a 4-0 margin.

As a result of the setback Forest View's Mid-Suburban League record slipped to 3-4 which left the forces of coach Hal Sprehe in fifth place With its victory MW remained at the top of conference standings with a 5-3 mark.

Hard luck picher for the Falcons was Rick Henderson. He went all the way and only allowed five hits while fanning five and walking two. Maine didn't get an earned run off Henderson but he still suffered his fourth defeat in five decisions.

IN THE BOTTOM of the first MW got the only marker it needed. A walk, a fielder's choice, a single and an error gave the Warriors a 1-0 lead.

Through the next four innings neither side scored. FV threatened in the third when two errors and a Gastorf wild pitch moved runners to second and third but Gary Kalas grounded out to end the frame. Two were left on base in the Falcons fourt when there were two more Maine errors but that chance ended when Dan Smith fanned.

The only opportunity the Warriors had against Henderson before the sixth came when Rich banged out a triple in the fourth. Farias was nailed at the plate on an infield grounder and the contest advanced to the top sixth still at 1-0.

AN ERROR, Farias' second triple and third hit in the game and another error accounted for two MW runs. A stolen base and a single by Dick Manny sent in the final tally. Maine didn't have another base runner.

Forest View was three up and three down in the fifth and sixth. In the seventh the Warriors sixth error of the game allowed Bill Ford to reach first with one away. Bearing down, Gastorf got Bob Jacoby on a fly to right and Jerry Adams on strikes.

The Falcons had been no hit!

Gastorf's triumph was his third straight in the conference where he now carries a 3-1 mark. He walked four and fanned four in the Forest View win.

Village Green to Stage Second Golf Tournament

Members of the Village Green Golf Club of the Mt. Prospect Country Club braved the chilly winds to play in their first tournament of the season.

This tourney was based on 18 hole play and the Peoria system of handicapping was used.

All awards were merchandise prizes available at the pro shop at the Mount Prospect Country Club. The winner was D. Griffith, who earned the $15 prize. D. Dobbs came in second for $10. Third place was captured by K. Streit for $5. The low gross award of $5 went to Jack Keyser.

The next tournament takes place on Saturday and Sunday, May 14-15. This is to be an 18 hold tourney involving the fewest putts.

Chairman of this event is Dave Halliday, who promises three merchandise prizes for the top three. In case of ties, the winners will be determined by means of a drawing.

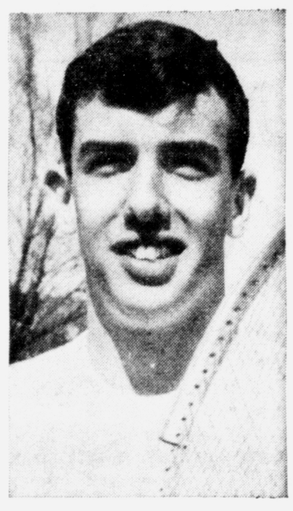
Arlington Wins District Meet

Cards Qualify Two Doubles Teams for State Net Finals

BRIAN BURKE

DAVE MILLIGAN

JIM ESSER



JOHN JARECKI

For three straight years Arlington High School has boasted the state doubles champions in tennis.

Chuck Close and Rusty Walters ruled the state in 1963, and Jeff Peek and Mirrel Kephart took top doubles honors in 1964.

Last spring Greg Inman and Bob Von Boeckmann headed all doubles entries in Illinois.

Can the Cardinals make it four straight in 1966 and make a serious run for a second state team championship?

The prospects of landing another doubles title brightened Saturday when Coach Tom Pitchford's outfit sent its two units into the district finals, qualifying both for the state meet on May 20-21 in Champaign.

BRIAN BURKE and Dave Milligan bumped teammates Jim Esser and John Jarecki, 6-2, 6-3 for the district doubles title, and Arlington won the team title with 17 points.

Only time will tell if these two doubles teams can carry the Cards to their second state net championship.

It's not impossible and area tennis buffs will point out that Arlington won the 1964 state title with a 1-2 finish in doubles although they'll hasten to add that the Cards also received some singles points in that '64 championship.

THE FAILURE to qualify a singles player for the 1966 state meet did hurt the Cardinals' state chances, but head man Pitchford was high in his praise of the two singles qualifiers, Gus Herrero of Maine West and Terry Knight of Barrington, two foreign exchange students.

"Herrero has to rank among the top four singles players we've met this year and Knight is in the top eight," Pitchford said.

Knight was the one who ousted Arlington sophomore Bill Von Boeckmann in the semi-finals, 6-3, 6-1. Von Boeckmann was district runnerup as a freshman when Herrero and Knight were playing on the courts in Argentina and South Africa, respectively.

VON BOECKMANN drew a bye in his first round match in singles and whipped Lake Park's Cy Herrmann in the second round, 6-1, 6-2. Bill toppled Craig Wolf of Prospect, 6-0, 6-1 in his second match and then fell to Knight in the battle that determined a state tourney berth.

Arlington's other singles entry was junior John Brost, and Brost received a bye before conquering George Smith of Palatine 6-1, 6-4. John also knocked over soph John Allare of St. Viator 6-3, 6-1 before falling to Herrero of Maine West, 6-2, 6-2.

Arlington's doubles team of Burke and Milligan opened with a bye and then ousted Dave Harris and Bill Gordon of St. Viator, 6-1, 6-0. Beach and Riemer of Lake Park were the next to fall, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1. The Cardinal duo whipped Doyle and Martin of Maine West, 6-2, 6-4 to reach the finals.

THE CARDS' Jarecki and Esser marched to the bout against their teammates with a bye, 6-0, 6-0 win over Karl Meisenheimer and Barry Christensen of Wheeling, 6-1, 6-2 conquest of Wills and Morrison of Barrington, and 6-2, 4-6, 6-2 triumph over Rick Gillespie and Jim Buckholz of Forest View.

Among the other Paddock area entries the Forest View duo of Gillespie and Buckholz made the biggest advance. They drew a bye and then whipped Challberg and Stone of Maine West 6-3, 6-1 and John Kjos and Andy Burtis of Palatine 6-2, 4-6, 6-2 before bowing to Jarecki and Esser.

Here's the way the other Paddock area entries fared:

PROSPECT
Singles—Glen Morton beat Rob Hunker of Barrington but lost to John Allare of St. Viator, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. Craig Wolf drew a bye and whipped Bob Glaser of Forest View 6-0, 6-8, 7-5 before falling to Von Boeckmann of Arlington 6-0, 6-1.
Doubles—Chuck Hengels and Doug Heitzman beat Wright and West of Fenton 6-1, 6-1 but lost to Doyle and Martin of Maine West 6-1, 6-1. The Knights' Johnson and Jeff Long fell to Kjos and Burtis of Palatine 6-4, 6-4.

FOREST VIEW
Singles—Rich Zapfel drew a bye and then lost to Herrero of Maine West, 6-0, 6-0. Bob Glaser beat Steve Groot of Wheeling 7-9, 7-5, 6-3 and lost to Prospect's Wolf 6-0, 6-8, 7-5.
Doubles—Howie Brasch and Ernie Troutman lost to Adams and Pistorio of Maine East 6-0, 4-6, 7-5. Gillespie and Buckholz drew a bye and won two matches before falling. (See story).

PALATINE
Singles—George Smith beat Chuck Wolter of Fenton 6-1, 6-0 but lost to Brost of Arlington 6-1, 6-4. Art Pierce drew a bye, beat Mike Mozdrin of Maine East 6-1, 6-4, and lost to Knight of Barrington 6-3, 6-1.
Doubles—Scott Rose and John Gustafson drew a bye, beat Krueger and Kuhlman of Barrington 6-0, 6-2 and lost to Doyle and Martin of Maine West 6-2, 6-4. John Kjos and Andy Burtis beat Johnson and Long of Prospect 6-4, 6-4, beat Wiback and Werner of Lake Park 6-1, 1-6, 7-5, and lost to Gillespie and Buckholz of Forest View 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

WHEELING
Singles—Ed Graves lost to John Niemtus of Maine East. Steve Groot lost to Bob Glaser of Forest View 7-9, 7-5, 6-3.
Doubles—Becker and Cuca lost to Krueger and Kuhlman of Barrington 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. Meisenheimer and Christensen beat Deffley and Hoskins of Fenton and lost to Jarecki and Esser of Arlington.

ST. VIATOR
Singles—John Allare drew a bye, beat Glen Morton of Prospect 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, and lost to Brost of Arlington 6-1, 6-4. Tim Plesko lost to Larson of Fenton 6-1, 6-2.
Doubles—Harris and Gordon drew a bye and then lost to Burke and Milligan of Arlington 6-1, 6-0. John Lavigne and Greg Leydig lost to Challberg and Stone of Maine West 6-3, 6-0.

Meteors Bump Lions, Miller

by BOB FRISK

Sophomore Mike Miller, one of the hopes of the future at St. Viator High School, survived a rocky start to fashion a creditable, route-going performance last week in the Lions' 6-4 loss to visiting DeLaSalle.

Miller, given a varsity assignment as the games jammed up on the Lion staff, was roughed up in the opening inning when the Meteors drove across three runs, but the lefty then settled down to turn in a capable effort.

Miller struck out 12 over seven frames with a sharp-breaking curve ball his best pitch. Mike walked seven and allowed nine hits, but the safeties were scattered after the first inning bombardment.

CLAIMING THE win for DeLaSalle was right-hander Dennis O'Toole, brother of the major league pitcher. O'Toole, who checked the Lions 1-0 earlier this season, only allowed two hits but had some nervous moments before recording the triumph.

The Lions pulled within two runs in the final inning and had the bases loaded when O'Toole struck out dangeous John Loughman.

A hit batsman, sharp single to left by Miller, and walk loaded the bases earlier in the seventh for the Lions, and one run came across when O'Toole walked soph John Wendell.

O'Toole got Don Kulla on a swinging third strike for the second out, but walked Bill Kaveney to force in Miller. That's when Loughman steppped up.

Settles Down

At this juncture O'Toole apparently decided the game had gone long enough. He got Loughman on a swinging third strike.

DELASALLE reached St. Viator's Miller for three runs on three hits and two walks in the opening inning with a bloop single by Ken Macievic driving across a pair.

A booming home run by Gary Gievice brought in the Meteors' fourth run in the second inning, and an error helped send the fifth across in the third frame.

Miller pitched shutout ball for the next three stanzas but forced in the sixth run in the seventh with a bases-loaded walk.

THE HOST LIONS scored their first run in the third on a sharp single by Denny Wilkinson, stolen base and two errors.

Kulla rode around in the sixth after reaching on an error. An infield out and another Meteor error sent the Lion second baseman across the plate.

West Suburban Tennis Meet Begins Today

The West Suburban Conference varsity tennis meet will get under way today (Thursday) at 12 noon at the York High School courts in Elmhurst.

The frosh-soph play is set for Hinsdale.

The first and second rounds will be held Thursday with the finals scheduled for 1:00 p.m. Saturday.

A special meeting of the coaches was slated for yesterday (Wednesday) to set up the singles and doubles alighments.

Conference champions in tennis are determined on the basis of both the dual meets and league competition.

Close Diamond Race

Cougars Clip 'Cat Nine 8-7

It was a baseball race in which Conant nipped Wheeling.

The Cougars got away fast with a 6-0 lead after two innings. That gap was narrowed to 6-4 in the fourth and both sides added a pair of markers in the fifth. A one run seventh by the Wildcats left them just behind.

Final contest score was Conant 8—Wheeling 7.

With their victory the Cougars' over-all record became 4-7 while in Mid-Suburban League encounters they rose to 2-4. A 4-6-1 season mark was the defeated 'Cats property along with a 4-3 M-SL standard.

COACH LYNN Crouch's nine got off to a big start. Al Heiman walked to lead off Conant's first and Jim Garcia singled. After Dick Helmer forced Heiman at second and Dennis Shaw popped up, there were two out and two on base.

Dan Grueneich started the scoring by bunting for a single to bring in Garcia. An error and Nick Bihun's single brought in two more runs. A walk to Greg Nelson filled the sacks and Dave Sander's single plus another Wheeling error accounted for two more runs. Heiman flied to center to close the frame.

Helmer's double down the left field line and an error gave the Cougars a 6-0 margin.

On the 'Cats mound through that six run advance was Scott Bischoff. While he gave up four hits and a walk, four errors hurt and just two of those runs off Bischoff were earned. He pitched the first six frames for Wheeling. Skip Grandt threw in the seventh.

SANDER WAS the opening Conant hurler. He went five innings giving up six runs, one unearned, on eight hits. He struck out seven and got the win. Craig Johnson went the sixth and seventh in relief.

Wheeling put a man on base in each of the first three innings but didn't score until the fourth. Then, with one away, Jeff Powell and John Hittman singled. Bob Krug got one RBI with a single to center and Dan DeVito got two RBI's with a double to left. DeVito stole third and scored on a passed ball before the inning ended.

The score at that juncture was 6-4.

Four runs went across in the fifth, two by each side. The Cougars' markers came on Grueneich's second single, two errors and an infield out. The Wildcats used Winterberg's walk, Manderscheid's single, a fielder's choice, Powell's single and Hittman's sacrifice fly for their runs.

BISCHOFF surrendered singles to Garcia and Shaw but no runs in Conant's sixth before Johnson retired Wheeling in order in the bottom of the frame. Grandt got three straight strike outs, on 11 pitches, to finish the Cougars in the top of the seventh.

In their seventh the 'Cats tried to rally. Manderscheid led off, worked the count to 2-2 and boomed a drive far over the left field fence. It was Manderscheid's third hit of the game and his team's first homer of the season. After Mark Newman grounded to third and Powell lined to center, Rex Peterson walked.

All Wheeling hopes to tie rested with Hittman. However he grounded to Johnson who flipped to first for the final out. That wrapped up Conant's 8-7 triumph and gained revenge for an earlier 1-0 shutout at the hands of the Wildcats.

York Topples Arlington, 2-1

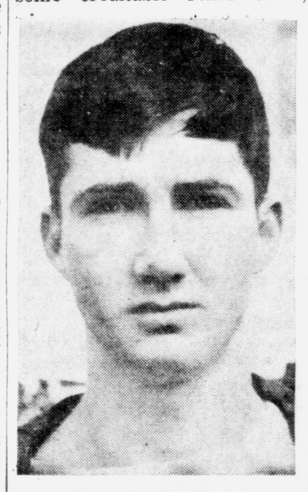
At least this one went the full seven innings.

York nailed down its second straight one-run victory over Arlington High School last week with some fourth inning fireworks.

The Dukes of Elmhurst, a 4-3 victor over Arlington earlier this season in a game surprisingly cut short after six innings, used a booming home run, walk, error, and sacrifice fly to settle the issue in a 2-1 thriller.

Scott Fiene, more noted for his exploits on the basketball floor, rifled a Jim Bressler pitch for a long home run that gave York its first marker, and the clincher came across without the aid of a base hit.

BRESSLER, A SENIOR right hander who had been turning in some creditable relief stints, absorbed the mount setback but showed some class on the hill in a route-going performance.



JIM BRESSLER
Tough Loss

Bressler allowed six hits, striking out four and walking only two.

Jim was also the only Cardinal able to collect a safety off York pitching. He drove a shot to left in the fifth inning with Tom LeStarge on second base, and Le Starge dashed all the way around when York's Chuck Purdom bobbled the ball.

THE CARDINALS had base runners in five of their seven innings but hit the plate only in the fifth.

Coach Fran Somers' outfit, seeking its first win of the season, put the tying run on base with one out in the concluding seventh, but a strikeout and pop to third ended the game.

For 103-Day Meeting

Arlington Park Opens Monday

If you had to miss the Churchill Downs scene or you couldn't get to a TV set for Saturday's 92nd Kentucky Derby—don't fret too much!

All the starters, representing the top three-year-olds in training, plus a host of yet-to-be-heard-from contenders, will be back—live and in color—this summer at Arlington Park.

Fact is, three-year-old racing, the most glamorized category of America's No. 1 spectator sport, looms one of the more exciting aspects of this year's 103-day coordinated Balmoral-Arlington-Washington meeting which opens its 17-week spring-summer run at Arlington Park next Monday, May 16.

Every one of Saturday's Derby combatants, plus a corps of noteworthy extras, not the least of whom is last year's two-year-old kingpin and this year's Flamingo hero, Buckpasser, are numbered among the record roster of 196 nominees to the 1966 Mid-America Twin, the two-race cluster comprising the $100,000 added Arlington Classic at one mile on Sat., June 25 and the $100,000 added American Derby at 1 1/8 miles on Sat., Aug. 6.

SATURDAY'S heroes — Abe's Hope, Kauai King, Amberoid, Advocator, Beau Sub, Exhibitionist, Sean E. Indian, Williamston Kid, Fleet Shoe, Quinta, and Rehabilitate, among others — are all Mid-America Twin eligibles.

So is Ogden Phipps' mighty Buckpasser, remembered locally for his smashing victory over John M. Olin's Father's Image in last summer's $330,000 Arlington-Washington Futurity.

Buckpasser nipped Abe's Hope, the upstart Illinois-bred in the $100,000 added Flamingo, later sustained a hoof injury forcing him to bypass the Derby but is expected to launch a comeback in the near future with both the Classic and American Derby on his calendar of engagements.

In Varsity Golf

Cards Suffer Two Setbacks

Hinsdale and La Grange took the measure of Arlington High School's golf squads over the past week to set up a "must" match today (Thursday) for Coach Phil Stack's varsity.

"We have to beat Glenbard West to stay in any sort of contention for the varsity title," reports stack who will send his Cards against a host Hilltopper unit this afternoon.

"Everyone has lost at least one match in the conference and we're 3-2 heading into the Glenbard meet."

The conference championship in golf is determined on the basis of both dual meets and the league headliner on Monday, May 23.

ARLINGTON HAD a string of three straight league successes snapped last Thursday when LaGrange fashioned a 316-335 win at Golden Acres.

Jim Saflarski was red-hot for the Cards with a sizzling round of 35-39—74, but there wasn't much help from his teammates.

Also scoring for Arlington were Rick Price at 41-42—83, Roger Baer at 39-46—85, and Mike Dixon at 46-47—93.

HINSDALE shaded the Cards Tuesday afternoon at Hinsdale Country Club, 334-337.

Price was low for Stack's outfit with nines of 40-37 for a 77. Saflarski came in with 43-41—84 and Baer and Scott Pickard fashioned 88s.

In frosh-soph play LaGrange whipped the Cards, 353-356, and Hinsdale scored a 377-389 win.

Doug Chaps and Steve Coy had identical 40-47 rounds for a pairs of 87s against LaGrange. Chris Buttenob and Bob Miller had 91s.

CHAPS WAS LOW against Hinsdale with a 90 on nines of 43-47.

Following the match with Glenbard today and the district Friday at Mount Prospect Country Club, the Cards will be idle until a home battle Monday with Downers Grove.

A quad is scheduled for Wednesday, May 18, between Palatine, Prospect, Barrington, and Arlington.

Prospect's Net Varsity Whips Lions

Prospect had no trouble conquering neighboring St. Viator last week in a non-conference varsity tennis battle.

The Knights of the Mid-Suburban bounced the Lions of the Chicagoland Prep League, 5-0, and didn't lose a set in the process.

In first singles Glen Morton dumped Lion sophomore John Allare, 6-2, 6-1. Craig Wolf handled Dave Harris in No. 2 singles, 6-2, 6-0, and Bryan Kiehl whipped Jim Hilenmayer of the Lions in third singles, 6-1, 6-1.

In first doubles Prospect's Jeff Long and Tom Johnson stopped St. Viator's John Lavigne and Greg Leydig, 6-2, 6-0.

Chuck Hengels and Doug Heitzman of the Knights completed the rout with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Tim Plesko and Greg Sidor in second doubles.

Falcons, Cougars Divide Track Dual

Forest View and Conant split a track dual Tuesday afternoon, and both had to be especially happy about it.

The Falcons recorded a convincing 81-46 triumph on the varsity level, and the Cougars slipped by 64-93 on the frosh-soph plane, a lower level victory that had to be satisfying because it was Conant's first track win of the season.

Pat Dunnigan paced the Falcons' varsity effort, coming in first in the 100, the 220 and the low hurdles, and running on the victorious 880 yard relay team.

Forest View's other wins cam in the mile relay, and from Fred Berg in the high hurdles, Craig Brown in the 880, Ted Lambert in the 440, and Spencer Dreischarf in the discus.

COUGARS RULED both the mile and two mile, with Dave Troy taking the shorter event and Dick Ledford the longer in a time of 10:05. Conant had special strength in the field events, with George Schenck winning the high jump, Duane Smeryage the shot put, Jim Carter the pole vault and Dom Furio the broad jump.

Conant's Ernie Drummond and Forest View's Mike Messer each racked up three individual wins on the frosh-soph level, Drummond taking the 100, the shot put and the discus, Messer the high and low hurdles and the broad jump.

Conant won the mile with Sam Burns, and the two mile with Glenn Lee, and had other firsts from Frank DeGracia in the 220, Tom Toronyi in the pole vault and Mike Carroll in the high jump.

Forest View took the mile and 880 relays, and individually Mike Joyce triumphed in the 440 and Joe Branka in the 880.

Prospect To 4-4 In MSL

Thorne, Knights Stop Conant Rally, Win 5-4

by KEN KNOX

A little fright—even a lot of it—can be a good thing for a pitcher.

Take the case of J. D. Thorne, Prospect's left-handed senior hurler.

For four innings — in a Friday afternoon Mid-Suburban League encounter with Conant — he went along relatively untroubled on the mound, his fellow Knights helping stake him to a 5-0 lead.

Then, in the fifth, three Cougar hits, a fielder's choice, a walk and an error put Thorne and the Knights at the brink of disaster, the lead narrowed to 5-4.

In the end, it came out that way, 5-4. But only because Thorne — in the sixth and seventh innings — struck out six straight Conant batters, a maximum reaction to the scare.

UNTIL THE FIFTH, Thorne had allowed Conant only one hit, a line single by Dan Grueneich in the first. He had been in trouble only once, in the second inning when an opening walk and throwing error had put Cougars on second and third. But he pitched his way out of that one with two strikeouts and a fly to center.

For the game, Thorne totaled 13 strikeouts, giving but two walks and four hits, putting Prospect back to the .500 mark — at 4-4 — in the MSL's diamond scramble. The Cougars slipped to 2-5, but even at that, they still retained an opportunity to climb in the packed standings.

Prospect assaulted early in the game, leading off the first on the Cougar diamond by rapping Conant starter Dave Sander for two hits and a 2-0 lead. Leadoff man Maury Gallagher was hit by Sander's second pitch, and Thorne hit Sander's sixth pitch for a single into left to start it.

GALLAGHER TALLIED the first run of the game on the first out, a fly to center by Tom Lundstedt. Sander then got Don Whitlock to tap back to the mound for the second out. But Dave Kingman — who was to have his biggest day of the season at the plate with three hits — slapped another single into left and Thorne scored.

Sander escaped the inning by fanning Bob Robinson, but more trouble came in the third, trouble that need not have occurred. Sander whiffed Gallagher to open the inning, and got Thorne to hit to second. But Al Heiman bobbled the ball and Thorne was on. After that, Sander got Lundstedt on a called third strike, but the seeds of defeat had been planted.

Whitlock rolled a single up the middle, the first of two hits for him in the game, and Thorne moved to third. Kingman sent a drive over third for two bases and Thorne scored, Whitlock going to third. Whitlock scored when Sander threw a pitch past catcher Dennis Shaw, and Kingman tallied when Dick Helmer — fielding Robinson's ball at short — threw the ball past first. The side was retired when Helmer threw out Rick Lott, but the damage had been done and Sander was taken out.

AL RAMSEY came on for the Cougars in the fourth, and though he had two threatening innings, he blanked the Knights the rest of the way.

That set things up for the fifth, when sophomore Bill Nuyttens — leading off for Conant — whipped a double into left. Nick Bihun followed by dribbling a ball down the first base line, and before it could be played, he was on first. Ramsey hit to Lott at second, and in the force of Bihun, Nuyttens scored. Heiman, working the count to 3-2, drew a walk, and Grueneich followed with his second single of the game. It scored Ramsey and sent Heiman to third.

Helmer rapped a ball to short for what looked like the second out, but John Phillips threw it past first and Heiman tallied, Helmer going all the way to second and Grueneich to third. Shaw also hit to short, and the Knights elected to take him and allow Grueneich to score the fourth run.

Helmer was on third then, and in a gamble to tie the game, he broke for the plate with Tim Grant at bat. But the squeeze backfired when Grant missed Thorne's incoming pitch, and Helmer was tagged out.

That, presumably, was enough for Thorne, because in those closing innings he did it all himself.

Roll Over Downers

Cards' Net Squads Rebound With Wins

Arlington rebounded from a pair of losses at Hinsdale to knock over host Downers Grove last Thursday afternoon in West Suburban Conference tennis competition.

The varsity Cardinals coasted, 5-0, and the frosh-sophs fashioned a 4-1 win.

Coach Tom Pitchford's varsity didn't lose a set in its fifth shutout of the conference campaign.

In singles play Bill Von Boeckmann whipped Al Jankowski (6-2, 6-4), Jim Esser disposed of Doug Bush (6-4, 6-1), and John Jarecki beat Jim Gahlon (6-0, 6-0).

The number one doubles teams of Brian Burke and Dave Milligan walloped Bill Klug and Dave Groves 6-0, 6-1. In second doubles the Cardinal entry of Mat Weeg and John Brost toppled Scott Cameron and Steve Current, 9-7, 6-1.

In frosh-soph play Arlington dropped one singles match but had little difficulty in gaining its fifth league win in six outings.

Singles winners were Bob Gallagher (6-3, 6-1) and Chuck Gibbel (6-0, 6-2). Posting doubles victories were the teams of Bill Stelling and Paul Stevens (6-1, 6-1) and Bob Crockett and John Harmon (6-0, 6-0).

In exhibition matches Ken Jorgensen and Dennis Conrad of Arlington gained triumphs.

Frosh-Sophs Win 5-0

Wheeling Edged 3-2 In Tennis Encounter

Wheeling netmen lost their seventh on the varsity level but won their seventh in frosh-soph play against Mundelein last Wednesday (May 4).

Score of the varsity affair was 3-2. The 'Cats fell to a 1-7 record for the season under coach Ted Ecker. Ecker's younger tennis entry became 7-1 however on a 5-0 final score.

Walk Krier won his first singles varsity match for Wheeling with a come-from-behind 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 victory. In second singles Tony Martin also played three sets but he was beaten 6-3, 2-6, 7-5. A 6-4, 6-2 final sank Fred Patton in third singles.

Mundelein wrapped up the varsity victory on an 0-6, 8-6, 6-3 setback handed to Jim Cuca and Scott Decker in first doubles. Dave Liu and Dave Stanowski gained the Wildcats second meet point with a 7-5, 10-8 triumph in second doubles.

Tom Kreis got things off well for Wheeling's frosh-soph team. He took a 6-0, 6-0 decision in first singles. Ron Kensli followed in second singles by winning 6-0, 6-3 and Dan DenBeste used 6-0, 6-0 total to capture third singles.

A 6-1, 6-1 score was used by Bill Reinhard and Reid Hansen to take the F-S first doubles encounter. Mary Steffenson and Gerald Pyle came out in front 6-3, 6-2 in second double for the Wildcats.

Falcon Tennis Unit Blanks Conant 5-0

Forest View netmen wasted little time in defeating Conant Tuesday afternoon. FV won 5-0 on both the varsity and frosh-soph levels.

Rich Gillespie won at first singles for the Falcons 6-0, 6-0 against Dick Watson. Jim Buckholz downed the Cougars' Steve Dumpman 6-0, 6-1 in second singles. Howie Brasch beat Bill Gross 6-0, 6-0 in third singles.

Ernie Troutman and Dick Zapfel, Forest View's first doubles duo, won 6-2, 6-1 from Nick Kron and Chris Shadwell. Conant's Scott MacEachron and Bob Summerfield completed their team's shutout by losing 6-1, 6-0 to Bob Gersie and Bob Glaser.

Except for a three set first doubles match, the FV frosh-sophs performed just as smoothly as their varsity.

Jim Musgrave, Dave Erickson and Gordon Folkman won first, second and third singles for the younger Falcons. Tom Rosenberger, Rodger O'Keefe and Steve Sinnot were the Cougars' defeated trio. All matches ended 6-0, 6-0.

In that first doubles event Dick Knudson and Mike Omelusik topped Bob Gemeny and Jim Fortman but were extended to three sets. The final totals had Forest View ahead 6-4, 2-6, 6-4. FV's Mike Kinneman and Tim Ebel won 6-1, 6-0 in sec-

Snappy Debut

Dick Ellsworth, the Chicago Cubs' 26 year old left handed pitcher, made his professional debut in 1958 when he was only 18 years old. Ellsworth's first game was a four hit 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a mid-season exhibition game.

Forest View Beats Prospect Linksmen

Forest View, receiving strong rounds from four golfers, downed Prospect in a 15 hole links match 259 to 280 on Tuesday.

Leading the Falcons to their victory was Al Piehl. He had a 38 over the front nine and added 24 for a 62. Doug Lock had a 63, Bill Schindler a 64 and Doug Turner a 70 for the forces of FV coach Al Kintzle.

Best for the Knights was Bob Phalen with a 64. Rounding out the total for headman Mike Nisen's crew were Doug Lytle with a 67, Dave Lovgren with a 72 and Harry Wallace with a 73.

At the frosh-soph level the final outcome was reversed. Prospect's younger golfers, in an 18 hole match, swept past Forest View 355 to 390.

Leading the Knights crew was Art Scroeder with an 85. Scott Crawford and Steve Orrell each posted 89's and Bruce Timko had a 92 for the lower level winners.

Fred Lauing's 88 was lowest for the frosh-soph Falcons. A 93 by Steve Brown, 102 from Jim Remsen and 107 by Mike Harvey completed the scoring for FV.

Cardinal Thinclads In Triangular Win

A triple-victory performance by sprinter Steve Ewart paced Arlington to triumph in a track triangular with Wheeling and Conant last Thursday.

The Cardinals rolled up 72 points to take first in the meet, with Wheeling second at 51½ and Conant third with 34½. On the frosh-soph level, it was Wheeling that predominated, scoring 67½ points to Arlington's 55½ and Conant's 36.

Senior Ewart took the 100 in :10.3, the 220 in :23.2 and the 440 in :51.8 for the most potent individual performance. A double winner in the meet was Wheeling's Bob Bromley, victor in both the low and high hurdles.

THE ARLINGTON varsity victory also included firsts from Kim Markshausen in the shot put, Greg Zachwieja in the discus, Dave Schimpf in the two mile run, and Chip Douglas in the pole vault, who tied with Wheeling freshman Tom Nelson at 12 feet. The Arlington 880 relay team also won, in the time of 1:36.2.

Wheeling won the mile relay in 3:30.5, and had two other individual firsts. Ken Steidle ruled the broad jump with an effort of 19-10, and Paul Fiegen the 880 in 2:01.

Conant had a pair of individual winners. Miler Dick Ledford took his specialty in 4:38.9, and in the high jump, it was George Schenck first with 5-6.

THE PLACES WERE well divided on the frosh-soph level, but Wheeling's Tom Johann and Conant's Frank DeGracia were both double winners. Johann took both the high and low hurdles, and DeGracia the 220 and the broad jump.

Other winners for the Wildcats were Scott Poklen in the 100, Coe Meyer in the discus, Mike Mitchell in the high jump and Stew Oakley in the pole vault.

Arlington had six firsts, one in the mile relay and the others from Tom Swanson in the two mile run, Davey Dieters in the 880, Paul Tollefson in the shot put, Terry Pitts in the 440 and Rory Cassidy in the mile. Tollefson, a freshman, had a winning effort of 42-5 in the shot.

Conant had one other victory, its 880 relay team coming home in a good frosh-soph time of 1:39.7.

FV Golf Unit Hits Cougars

Forest View found the winning touch in Mid-Suburban League golf last week (Wednesday), while Conant found its first match in the MSL rough going.

The Falcons, beaten in their opening MSL dual, rebounded to handle Conant 170-190 on the Cougars' home Golden Acres Country Club. Over-all the win moved the mark of Al Kintzle's FV linksmen to 5-2 in duals, while Bill Holm's Cougars evened out at 2-2.

The frosh-soph meet also went Forest View's way, by a 192-211 margin. There, FV also evened out at 1-1 in the MSL, and improved to 3-4 over-all, while Conant's underclassmen were at 0-1 in the league and 0-3 over-all.

THE FALCONS were paced by a pair of 40's in the varsity activity, with Al Piehl and Doug Turner each turning nine holes in that score. Bill Schindler and Doug Locke had 45 each for the victors.

Conant's best was a 44 from Cal Miller, while Dennis Dorsey had a 46, Neal Mersmann a 48 and John Polito a 52.

Strong balance featured the FV win on the lower level, with the four low shooters clustered in the high 40's. Fred Lauing was best with 46, while Mike Harvey had 48 and Jim Remson and Tom Waslewski had a 49 apiece.

Conant gained a 49 from John Mueller, 52 from Harry Debner, 54 from Dan Oelker and 56 from Bruce Oelker. (Sp

O'Hare Renews Action

After the weatherman halted last Saturday night's stock car races at O'Hare Stadium, leading drivers will be all the more anxious to renew action this coming Saturday night at the popular high-banked speedway at Mannheim and Irving Park Rds. First race will be 8 p.m.

Several newcomers will be out after defending Champion Roy Martinelli of Prairie View in their own hot entries. Heading this contingent are national competitor Sal Tovella of Chicago, Bryant Tucker of Hillside, Eddie Jast of Leyden Township, and Tom Ross of Northbrook.

Other leader entrants for what will be a doubleheader card highlighted by feature races for both the late model and hardtop divisions include, Phil Leman of Bensenville, John Kennedy of Villa Park, Bob Walsh of Schiller Park, Ron Borgardt of Hanover Park, Harry Cooper of Berkeley, Ben Markham of Roselle, Paul Heitz of Arlington Heights, Dan Kalous of Palatine, and John Spatola of Wood Dale.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Not A Menace

Rely on your veterinarian to answer any questions you may have regarding "scare" articles you see regarding pets being dangerous to children's health. The hazards, relatively slight by even the most exacting standards, can be a needless worry. If you take simple steps to safeguard the health of your children and your dog, there should be no problem at all. Whatever you do, before you consider giving up your dog because of fears of possible infection, talk it over with your veternarian, advises the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

Misconceptions about the origin of pinworms, tapeworms and roundworms in children have erroneously placed the blame at the feet of the family hound. According to the Journal of Small Animal Medicine, pinworms never live in dogs but a child can contact them from a playmate. Tapeworm, the type commonly found in dogs, seldom affect man, and when they do are likely to cause nothing more than a mild enteric disturbance. A person would have to swallow an infected flea to become infected. Obviously, the chances of this are slight. To become infected with roundworm, a human would have to swallow ova of the worm and even if this happened, the parasite would find no advantage.

If you make yourself aware of the medical and hygienic need of your puppy or dog you will have a healthy animal and be able to view "scare" stories in their proper perspective. As the center points out, regular visits to your veterinarian to have your dog checked are most important and will insure the health of the family dog.

Statistics

The subject of statistics can be rather dry, but once in awhile, a few of them can be of interest. Take for example that the American Kennel Club recently marked an important milestone in its 82-year history when it was announced that the club had registered its 10 millionth dog. The dog was a nine-month-old female Golden Retriever named Eddie's Ginger and is owned by Edwin L. Miller, of Pawling, N. Y.

It is worthwhile to note that only one million dogs were registered by the American Kennel Club in the first 57 years of its existence—the second million in the next 15-year period. In 1965 alone, almost three-quarters of a million dogs were registered, and at the current rate of increase, the club will soon be registering at the rate of one million dogs a year.

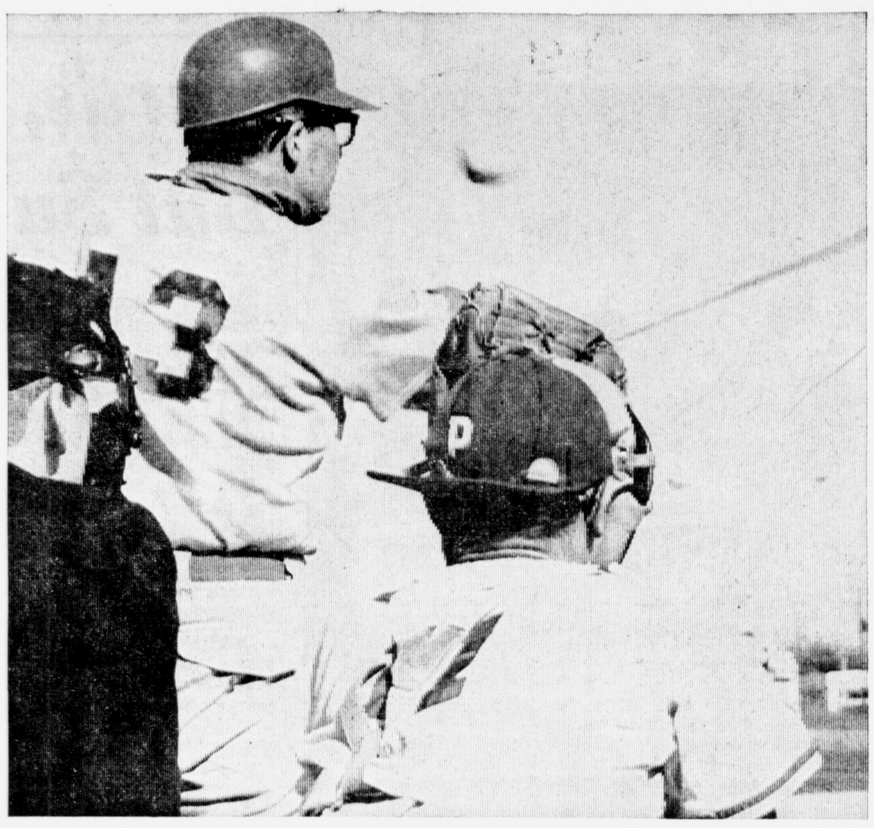
Obedience Changes

There will be a meeting late in the fall of 1966 of an obedience advisory committee to advise the board of directors of the American Kennel Club on revisions in the obedience regulations. The members of the committee will be selected by the board and their work will no doubt bring about some much needed changes in the obedience rules.

Obedience clubs, associations of obedience clubs and obedience judges, as well as any individuals interested in obedience, have been asked to submit any specific suggestions they may have to the Obedience Advisory Committee, c/o The American Kennel Club, 51 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y. 10010.

Barks & Bays

In England, at Tunbridge Wells, there is a sheep that does not know the rules. He grew up with hound dogs and likes to run with them on fox hunts.



FOUL BALL . . . That's what came off the bat of Wheeling's John Hittman as he swung at a pitch in last Frday's contest with Palatine. On the next delivery Hittman slapped a single to right and later scored getting the 'Cats off to a good start in an eventual 5-4 victory. Bob Hoffman is the Pirates catcher. (Staff photo)

Donahue Fires Fifth Shutout; Lions Win

St. Mel can't count itself among the lucky teams in the Chicagoland Prep League.

The Knights had to face both Bob Stevens and Jerry Donahue, St. Viator's standout pitchers, in the same week.

Stevens, a left-hander knocked down St. Mel with only two hits over nine innings in a 1-0 victory.

Donahue, a right-hander, followed with a nifty four-hitter Friday afternoon in a 4-0 triumph.

FOR DONAHUE shutouts are old hat this season.

The 5-foot-10 junior carried a 5-3 record into action this week, and all five of his victories were shutouts. He had blanked Ridgew o o d, St. Joseph, St. George twice, and St. Mel.

Donahue's conquest of St. Mel, a seven-inning performance, lowered his impressive earned run average to a dazzling 0.40 for 53 innings of work.

COACH LEN Sparacino's Lions gave Donahue a 1-0 lead in the first inning, when center fielder John Loughman cracked a home run. That was all Jerry needed.

He ran into jams in the second and fourth innings but was equal to the task.

Donahue struck out five and walked five.

THE LIONS appeared to have a big inning going in the first when two walks and Donahue's double followed Loughman's home run, but they couldn't push anything across.

St. Viator added three insurance runs in the fourth with Mike Miller collecting a single to kick things off. Denny Wilkinson also singled in the three-run flurry.

Bill Kaveney singled with two outs in the sixth but couldn't advance, and Dan Collins singled in the seventh to conclude the Lion hitting for the afternoon.

THE FOUR RUNS represented only the second time this season the varsity Lions had scored more than three markers with Donahue on the hill.

Jerry received a nine-run salvo in his no-hitter against Ridgewood.

FV 9 Sweeps Double Header

Twin triumphs were turned in by Forest View's nine last Saturday. FV swept both ends of a double header from West Leyden.

In the first contest the Falcons scored in every inning but the third. They pounded out 13 hits as Bill King pitched a shutout and won 11-0.

The second battle was an extra inning affair. After the first seven frames the score was knitted at one apiece. A four run explosion in the eighth wrapped up a 5-1 decision for FV.

Those victories evened the season record for the nine of coach Hal Spehe at 7-7.

THE FALCONS didn't waste any time in the first game. Kirt Koentropp's double and Bill Ford's single gave them a run in the first. Singles by Gerry Adams, King, Koentopp and a double by Rick Henderson accounted for three more markers in the second.

Following the scoreless third FV continued its batting spree in the fourth. King doubled and Koentopp doubled for a run. Bob Chudik's double and three walks meant amother Forest View tally in the fifth. The sixth was the biggest inning for the Falcons.

Henderson opened that round by walking. Mike Holstrom singled and Bob Jacoby reached first on an infield bounder to load the bases. Both Gary Kalas and Dave Worth walked to force in two runs and Rudy Perez singled for two more. The fifth tally resulted from an error.

The shutout for King was third victory of the year. He has lost once. King set five WL hitters down on strikes and didn't walk a man. Koentopp gave King all the support he needed with three hits and three RBI's.

THE SECOND game was a different story. There was no scoring for the first three innings. Marty Fontana was on the Falcons mound but two singles, a walk and an error gave Leyden a run and 1-0 lead in the bottom of the fourth.

Through the fifth the score remained the same. In the sixth Holstrom doubled and Henderson followed with a single to left. However Holstrom was thrown out at the plate. When Koentopp followed with another double, Henderson scored and the game was tied 1-1.

Fontana kept mowing down the WL hitters and the deadlock stayed in force until the top of the eighth.

Jacoby began the winning FV rally. He doubled. Holstrom followed with an RBI single and the score was 2-1. But, the Falcons weren't finished. Perez was hit by a pitch and Koentopp got another RBI with a single to right. Moments later Bob Urban sent in another run with a single and Fontana's sacrifice fly sent Koentopp across with the last run.

FOREST VIEW had gained its 5-1 victory.

Fontana's record was pushed to 2-1 with his five hit win. The lone run off him was unearned and he struck out four while walking only two in his strong eight inning performanc

For both games Koentopp and Holstrom paced the FV attack. Koentopp went five for six, had five RBI's and scored three times while Holstrom went four for five with a bat, had two RBI's and scored twice.

Newman Hurls, Hits 'Cat 9 Past Pirates

By MICHAEL HESS

Wheeling has five baseball wins. Mark Newman has pitched all five. Wheeling's-Newman's fifth victory came against Palatine.

The 'Cats defeated the Pirates 5-4 last Friday. Newman fanned nine, allowed just three hits and drove in the tying and winning runs.

Triumph left Wheeling in a Mid-Suburban League first place tie with Maine West, each with 5-3 records. Over-all the nine of coach Steve Chernicky became 5-7-1.

For Palatine the setback ended a string of four straight triumphs and brought a 7-5 s e a s o n mark. It also knocked headman Terry Gellinger's charges from first into a second place M-SL deadlock with Prospect, both at 4-4.

IRV HAHNFELDT
Tough Opposition

HURLING FOR the Pirates was Irv Hahnfeldt. He struck out eight and gave up eight hits to take the loss. Hahnfeldt was also his team's big man with a bat, stroking a homer and single, scoring twice and getting two RBI's.

Wheeling was first to score in the contest. John Hittman and Rex Peterson singled to open the 'Cats half of the second. A sacrifice bunt by Dan DeVito moved them to second and third. Then Bob Krug looped a single to short center and both runners scored.

Totals stayed at 2-0 only until the top of the third.

Leading off for Palatine was Bob Hoffman. He reached base on an error, the only one by Wheeling in the game, and went to second on a wild pitch. After Fred Bahn flied out, Hahnfeldt stepped up. He worked the count to 3-2 before lining a shot toward right center.

HAHNFELDT'S drive touched down and bounced and bounced and bounced. It went between the outfielders and rolled long enough and far enough to permit both Hoffman and Hahnfeldt to score easily. The homer knotted the game at 2-2.

In the bottom of the third Newman singled to right but was stranded.

Action in the fourth found both teams putting men on via walks. John Phillips never got past first for the Pirates. Peterson got to third for Wheeling but was cut downat the plate on an unsuccessful s q u e e z e bunt.

Palatine went ahead in its fifth. Hoffman walked, Bahn went down swinging, Hahnfeldt bounced one over the mound for a single and Mike Ferguson walked to load the bases. A perfect bunt by John Grove scored Hoffman and left the sacks filled.

NEXT UP WAS Ken Johnson. He took a strike and then lifted a fly to right center. Playing center for the 'Cats was Rich Haddock. He caught the ball as all runners tagged up. Haddock uncorked a good throw toward home, too late to catch Hahnfeldt at the plate, but Peterson relayed it to third where the tag was made on Ferguson for the third out.

The Pirates led at that juncture 4-2.

Wheeling loaded the bases in the bottom of the fifth but couldn't push across a r u n. With one away Tom Manderscheid and Newman walked and Jeff Powell beat out an infield roller. However, Hittman swung at a third strike and Peterson skied to center to close the threat.

Newman sent Palatine down in order in the sixth. Then came the W i l d c a t's winning rally.

DeVITO STARTED it with a single to right. The ball zipped through fielder Bahn and DeVito rounded the bases on the error making the score 4-3. Krug followed with his second hit, a single to right, and Haddock sacrificed him to second. Jeff Winterberg walked, Krug took third on a wild pitch and Winterberg stole second.

Manderscheid, up next, looked at a third strike for the second out. That brought Newman to the plate. The senior righthander took one strike and then lifted a shallow single to right, both runners scored and Wheeling went on top 5-4.

Newman disposed of the Pirates on 12 pitches in the top of the seventh. The fifth victory, for both Newman and his team, was as many as Wheeling garnered during all last season.

Make 9 Errors

'Cats Lose To Notre Dame 9

"To err is human" goes the saying and Wheeling baseball forces certainly proved their humanness last Thursday.

On that day the 'Cats met Notre Dame in a non-conference contest and lost 6-1. Nine errors caused defeat for coach Steve Chernicky's crew.

A trio of miscues gave ND four tallies in the first inning. Another three mistakes allowed ND its last pair of runs in the third. There were also Wheeling fumbles in the second, fourth and fifth.

Suffering most from the Wildcats' errors was starting pitcher Greg Fedyski, a junior making his initial varsity appearance. Fedyski hurled the opening one and two-thirds innings, giving up four runs on four hits, a walk and a hit batter. He took the loss.

RICH HADDOCK appeared in relief on the Wheeling mound. He finished up and allowed just two unearned markers on four hits and three walks. At the plate Haddock blasted a triple and single, half his team's total offense.

The s e t b a c k, their third straight, lowered the 'Cats season standard to 4-7-1.

Notre Dame began the first frame by using an error and a single to put two runners on base. A ome run followed and, after another error, a walk and another error, Wheeling was behind 4-0.

In the second a single, an error and a hit batsman loaded the bases for ND after two were out. Fedyski was excused at that juncture and Haddock came in to get the last out on strikes. A triple, error, single, walk and two more errors in the third made the score 6-0. ND didn't get another tally.

THE WILDCATS had only two base runners before the fifth. They were Ford Drogenmueller, who walked in the third, and Tom Manderscheid, who drew a free pass in the fourth. In the fifth Wheeling pounded out two extra base knocks and scored once.

Dan DeVito started the action with a fly out to right. Then Jim Whittington hammered a home run into straightaway center field. It was the 'Cats initial round-tripper of the campaign. Bob Krug made the second out by skying to center but Haddock slashed his triple to center. Jeff Winterberg ended the threat with a grounder to third

In the sixth a walk and ND's only two errors of the battle put runners on first and third for Wheeling. John Hittman's bouncer to the pitcher and DeVito's pop to second finished that rally. Haddock and Winterberg singled with two away in the seventh but Manderscheid fanned and the game was over.

Through their three losses in a row the 'Cats had committed 19 errors.

Explodes With 15 Hits

Arlington Nine Mauls Niles for First Win

Arlington ended a famine last Thursday afternoon by feasting on Niles East pitching.

Coach Fran Somers' varsity Cardinals, winless in their first nine games this spring, finally cracked the victory column with a crushing 12-2 conquest of Niles East.

The Cards had a ball. They exploded for 15 hits over seven innings. Pitcher Steve Allen right f i e l d e r Brad Somers bombed home runs. Tom LeStarge slapped out three safeties.

ALLEN, A 6-3 right hander who was a varsity hurler as a sophomore, went the distance on a yield of only two hits. He struck out four and walked six.

The Cards staked Allen to a two-run lead in the second inning and kept padding the advantage in the non-conference battle. They enjoyed a five-run uprising in the fourth which was highlighted by two home runs.

A one-out double by third baseman Bob Hecht was wasted in the first inning, and it appeared Arlington was up to its old ways of failing to mount any sustained offensive push.

THEY DIDN'T blow their scoring opportunity in the second.

With two outs Tom LeStarge rapped a double, Paul Parish reached on an error, and Allen and Ron Horcher slapped out singles as the Cards knocked home two runs.

TOM LeSTARGE
Slaps Three Hits

Thad Woodard's single ignited another two-run flurry in the third with Jim Jorgensen and LeStarge also contributing one-base knocks.

THE FOURTH featured the long ball. Allen started it with a home run and Somers had a round-tripper to conclude the five-run fireworks.

Arlington added three more runs in the sixth on singles by Hecht, Jorgensen, S o m e r s, Frase, and LeStarge.

Every Cardinal regular contributed at least one hit in the assault on Niles pitching.

LESTARGE WAS the leader with a double and two singles and Allen, Hecht, Jorgensen, and Somers had two each.

The victory didn't come in a conference game, but the Cards didn't mind.

They had finally put everything together — good pitching, solid defense, and timely hitting — and had that first victory to show for their efforts.

Only time would tell if this mauling of Niles East was a sign of better days ahead for the Arlington nine.

Knights Top Pirates In Net Struggle 4-1

Prospect's tennis team stopped Palatine 4-1 in a meet staged Tuesday afternoon.

Glen Morton got the Knights off to a good start by taking a 6-3, 6-2 first singles decision from Art Pierce. In second singles Craig Wolf needed only two sets to defeat the Pirates Andy Burtis 6-1, 6-3.

Third singles also went to the winning forces of coach Chuck Sandine as Bryan Kheil topped John Kojos 6-4, 6-3.

THREE SETS were played in the first doubles match before Prospect's Jeff Long and Tom Johnson got by Scott Rose and John Gustafson 4-6, 6-2, 10-8. Lone Palatine meet point came in second doubles as Scooter Smith and Gordin Hominick turned back Chuck Hengels and Doug Heitzman 6-3, 8-6.

At the frosh-soph level t h e Knights also picked up a victory. They edged base the Pirates younger netters 3-2.

Prospect won F-S first singles 6-3, 6-1 as Dave Johnson downed Al Smart. Second and third singles went to Palatine as Fran Kaiser topped Chuck Hughson 6-2, 6-3 and Paul Wallin got by Bob Bruhl 7-5, 6-0.

Evening up the meet score at 2-2 for the Knights were Bob Skrysak and Bill Wichmann. They downed Doug Mueller and Pete Upton 6-3, 8-6. At t h a t point everything depended on second doubles where Prospect's Jim Schiesser and Craig Weber beat Palatine's Russ Ritchie and Mark Dreyfus 2-6, 8-6, 6-2.

Gets 6 In First

FV 9 Batters Prospect 10-5

A first inning explosion gave Forest View a 10-5 baseball victory over Prospect last Wednesday (May 4).

The Falcons blasted a single, three doubles and a home run in that opening frame. They scored six runs, all that were needed to win.

The Knights picked up a trio of tallies in the third and added single markers in the fourth and sixth. However, they had been finished by FV's initial barrage.

Hurling duties for Forest View were handled by Bill King. He went all the way, fanning six and walking six, to gain his second triumph of the year against one loss. Control trouble caused him his only worries in the contest.

THREE PITCHERS went to the mound for Prospect. Junior Joe Koza started and gave up eight runs on eight hits in four and a third innings. J. D. Thorne allowed one run in an inning and two-thirds and Mike Mueller one run in one inning.

Falcons catcher Jerry Adams was the game's leading hitter. He got a homer, a single, a walk and three RBI's in three trips to the plate. Hank Tashe banged two doubles and scored three times for FV while teammates ing Smith and Tashe and Adams scored Koentopp and hims e l f with his home run. The Falcons led 6-0.

In the third Prospect's rally began with Rick Lott's single. Koza went down on strikes and Maury Gallagher forced Lott at second with a grounder. At that point wildness caused woes for hurler King.

King walked Thorne and Tom Lundstedt to fill the sacks. Clyde Whitcomb whistled a hard shot off Ford's glove at second for a two run error. A walk to Don Whitlock reloaded the bases and another walk, issued by King to Vince Franzone, forced in the last tally of the frame. Bob Robinson was the third out.

The scoring gap was closed to 6-4 when the Knights put their run across in the fourth. Gallagher reached second on an error and Thorne singled him home. Singles by H o l s t r o m, Koentopp and Adams plus an error and Smith's double accounted for FV's three insurance runs in the bottom of that inning.

AFTER A SCORELESS fifth each team got its closing markers in the sixth.

Lott was hit by a pitch, Gallagher forced him at second and Thorne doubled in Gallagher for Prospect's fifth frame tally. Tashe's double, two walks and an error gave FV its run in the fifth off Mueller. The score was then 10-5, the Knights were easy for King in the seventh and the game was over.

With their victory the Falcons and coach Hal Sprehe had their season record uppped to 5-6 and M-SL mark evened at 3-3. Prospect, under headman Chuck Aldrich, became 6-6 overall and 3-4 in league. It was the second straight time this year that Forest View had defeated the Knights.

JERRY ADAMS
Banging Backstop

Mike Holstrom and Kirt Koentopp added two hits apiece to the winning attack.

Thorne was tops with a bat for the Knights. Between playing first and pitching the senior lefty walked, cracked a double and single, scored once and drove in two runs. That performance raised his Mid-Suburban League average to .500, at 11 for 22.

Forest View's first opened with Bill Ford lining a single to left and taking second on a wild pitch. Hollstrom doubled Ford home before Rick Henderson popped to short and Dan Smith walked. Bob C h u d i k skied to left four out number two.

THEN, IN QUICK succession, Tashe doubled, scoring H o l strom, Koentopp doubled scor-

TRAFFIC JAM. Arlington players Bob Young (left), Ron Horcher (14), and Jim Jorgensen (in front of Horcher) move for the ball in this action at first base in the Cardinals' battle with Glenbard West last Friday afternoon. Jorgensen fielded the infield tap and tagged out the hitter in a close play at first. Glenbard scored a run in the ninth to shade the hosts, 1-0. (Staff photo)

To Pace-Setting Glenbard

Cards, Young Sharp But Suffer 1-0 Loss

by BOB FRISK

It was difficult to distinguish between the unbeaten conference leader and the cellar dweller last Friday afternoon at Arlington's Recreation Park.

Highly touted Glenbard West, unbeaten in West Suburban Conference baseball activity this spring, had more than just a little trouble conquering the "new look" Cardinals in an extra inning thriller that was a superbly played contest.

Mike Oates, who is labeled the top pitcher in West Suburban action, came off the bench as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning and drove a double to left field to send across the only run in Glenbard's 1-0 victory.

Young pitched a masterful game in a duel with Glenbard right hander Dennis Murphy.

Bob allowed five hits in nine innings, striking out eleven and walking only one. He was in serious t r o u b l e in only one frame before Todd Faulkner and Oates slammed the game-deciding doubles in the ninth.

YOUNG WAS supported with a strong defensive effort by a Cardinal nine that only the day before had snapped a nine-game losing streak with a win at Niles East.

The Cards didn't commit an error although there was one mental miscue in the second when two infielders watched a pop fly fall for a single.

Glenbard pushed a runner to second in the first inning on a single and stolen base, but Young got cleanup hitter Mike Wowczuk on a called third strike.

THE HILLTOPPERS' only other serious threat before the ninth came when Faulkner singled with one out in the sixth. Todd stole second and went to third on a dropped third strike, but was stranded as Young got pinch hitter Steve Davis to fly out to LeStarge in left.

Young got the side in the seventh and eighth, but Faulkner led off the ninth with a double down the left field line that some fans thought was foul. Faulkner stayed at second as Paul Ringnald skied out to Thad Woodard in center and raced home with the game's only run on Oates' drive to left.

Woodard singled with one out in the Cardinal ninth but was cut down going to second when a pitchout worked to perfection. Jim Jorgensen lifted a fly to left for the final out.

ARLINGTON PUSHED three runners to second base off Glenbard's Murphy who was making his first start of the season.

Brad Somers reached on an error in the fifth and stole second but couldn't a d v a n c e. Young singled to center with one out in the sixth and moved to second on a wild pitch but once again the Cards couldn't bring the runner across.

In the eighth Paul Parish bounced a hit through the box and took second on a wild pitch. That's where he remained.

The loss was Arlington's eighth straight in West Suburban play. Glenbard nailed down its ninth straight win.

Soph Klingberg Triumphs

Lions' Bats Explode In 16-3 League Win

by BOB FRISK

You can't blame Jerry Donahue and Bob Stevens for being a little envious of sophomore Danny Klingberg.

The low-scoring cliff-hanger has been a way of life for Donahue and Stevens, St. Viator High School's classy righty-lefty pitching combination.

Klingberg, a left-hander, has been hearing and reading about those 1-0, 2-0, 3-0 and 2-1 dramas in which Donahue and Stevens have been involved, and Dan must have been a little concerned Saturday when he was elevated to varsity status to pitch against St. Ignatius.

He was even more concerned when the host Wolves collected two runs in the opening stanza to jump out in front, 2-0.

BUT THIS WAS the type of day every pitcher d r e a m s about — particularly Donahue and Stevens who admittedly would like to toil with a cushion to work with.

Klingberg was the recipient of the lustiest offensive display of the season as Coach Len Sparacino's Lions mauled two St. Ignatius pitchers for 13 hits en route to a crushing 16-3 victory.

"I certainly never expected that type of game," head man Sparacino admitted after Klingberg had knocked down the side in the final inning.

"WE HAD THREE sophomores and three juniors playing and were missing Kaveney (Bill) because of illness and others because of tests."

Klingberg went the full six innings for the winners, striking-out five and allowing nine hits. He didn't walk a man in the contest cut short after six frames because of the ten-run rule.

St. Viator fell behind by two runs in the first inning but started to chip away at the Wolve lead with a singleton in the second.

DONAHUE, A pitcher-outfielder playing first base in place of Kaveney, launched the Lion second with a booming triple to right field. Jerry came across when Denny Wilkinson laced a three-bagger to left.

The Lions sent 12 men to the plate in a seven-run third inning.

A hit batsman launched the fireworks and the Lions finished with four hits, two by center fielder John Loughman.

LOUGHMAN HAD a line single to center as St. Viator's second hitter in the inning and a sizzling, ground-rule double to left as the eleventh batter. Two runners came across on the double.

Donahue and Kulla also had base hits in the big third.

Sparacino's aroused o u t f i t added two more runs in the fourth on a walk to Donahue and home run to right field by Wilkinson. Denny's sinking liner skipped past the right fielder, and the Lion senior, who has been looking good at the plate, dashed around the bases.

THE LIONS SENT 11 men to the plate in the sixth with Donahue, Mike Miller, Wilkinson, Klingberg, Loughman, and Dan Collins supplying the base hits.

Loughman, Donahue, and Wilkinson finished with three safeties each for the winners.

The victory was St. Viator's sixth in eleven Chicagoland Prep League outings.

Cards In Runner-Up Spot

Falcons Thinclads Win Their Own Invitational

Trophies didn't have to be moved very far after last Saturday's Falcon Invitational Track Meet. The hosts won.

Forest View captured top honors in its first thinclad invitational. Scoring in 12 of 15 events, FV ended with 59 points.

Runner-up in the seven team competition was Arlington. The Cards took places in 11 events and finished 18 off the pace at 41 points.

In third, with 39 points, was Niles North while Prospect was fourth with 33 points. Conant, at 26, Wheeling, at 20, and Niles West, at 16, completed the field.

FOUR FIRSTS, five seconds and thirds, and two fourths and fifths were taken by the Falcons for their title. Arlington gained a pair of firsts, five seconds, three thirds and two fourths and fifths.

Of other firsts, three e a c h went to NN and the Knights, the Cougars had two and NW one. Only the Wildcats failed to capture an individual first.

Leading Forest View to its triumph were Pat Dunnigan, Gary Crain, Scott MacDonald and Steve Leider.

Dunnigan was best in the 220 with a time of :22.0 and in the low hurdles with a :19.8. He was the lone performer to win twice in individual events.

CRAIN WAS third in the 100 yard dash and fourth in the 220 and MacDonald was fifth and third in the high and low hurdles. Second in the 440 went to Leider. Crain, MacDonald and Leider, with Dunnigan running anchor, won the 880 relay in 1.34.7.

Ken Ganung took the o t h e r first for FV with a 10:23.5 in the two mile. Right behind Ganung was teammate Dick Appleton while Ted Lambert also took a Falcons second, in the 880, and Fred Berg was third in the high hurdles.

Rounding out the top scorers on coach Dick Ohl's winning aggregation were Craig Brown, second in the mile, and John Norberg tied for second in the high jump.

Steve Ewart was the big point man for Arlington. He won the 440, in :52.9, and was runner-up in the 100. Other Cards first went to Greg Zachweiga with a toss of 146 feet, 5 inches in the discus.

ARLINGTON seconds, in addition to Ewart's place in the 100, went to Chip Douglas, in the pole vault, Tom Hahn, who tied Norberg in the high jump, and the 880 and mile relay quartets. Greg Schimpf, in the two mile, Mark Saylor, in the 880, and Kim Markhausen, in the shot, were third for the Cards.

Markhausen also was fourth in the discus and Hahn fifth in the broad jump.

Big men for Niles North, which scored in 10 events, were Gano and Haigh. Gano won the high hurdles, in :15.3, and was second in the lows.

A :10.2 put Haigh first in the 100. He was second in the 220. Kuhnle took the other NN first with a 4:33.2 mile.

Jack Pollard and Vaughn Pederson paced Prospect to its fourth in the Falcon Invitational.

A 1:59.6 put Pollard ahead in the 880 while Pederson was third in the 440 and fourth in the high hurdles. Those two teamed with Craig Peterson and Vince Curry to win the mile relay in 3:33.3. T h i r d Knights first went to pole vaulter Phil Cordina, who took his specialty with the bar set at 12 feet, 6 inches.

DOUG WHITE and Leroy Rateike took runner-up honors in the discus and broad jump for Prospect.

The broad and high jump events were where Conant took its most points. George Schenck won the high jump, at 5 feet, 8 inches, and Don Furio, at 19 feet, 6 inches, led the broad jumpers. Cougars entries took no seconds but thirds went to Dick Ledford in the mile and the 880 relay unit.

Wheeling's Tom Paturalski and Jim Lemerande were the only individuals to make the leading three in any event for their team. Paturalski was second in the high hurdles and Lemerande third in the discus. The 'Cats mile relay team was also third.

Lavin, with a 47 foot, 9¼ shot put, took Niles West's single first.

AT THE frosh-soph level the trophy had to travel a bit further but just to Arlington. The younger Cards captured f i v e firsts and four seconds to help build their total of 62 points which was good enough for the title.

Runner-up at the lower level was Niles West, with seven firsts and 53 points while one first and 43 points went to Wheeling in third. Prospect and Conant, with 30 and 25 points respectively, each got one of the remaining firsts and were fourth and fifth.

The host Falcons fell to sixth in frosh-soph competition.

Arlington's firsts went to Tom Swanson, Dave Dieters, P a u l Tollefson, Rory Cassidy and the mile relay team. A 10:30.5 put Swanson in ahead in the two mile while Dieters took the 880 in 2:07.1 and Cassidy the mile in 4:43.3. Tollefson's toss of 41 feet, 11½ inches took the shot put.

DIETERS teamed with Terry Pitts, Chuck McGuffey and John Langhout in the mile relay. That quartet won for the Cards in 3:45.7.

The Wildcats first was won by Tom Nelson with an 11 foot pole vault. Green got first for the Knights with a 124 foot, 1¼ inch discus throw and Mike Carroll was the Cougars' lone winner on a 5 foot, 4 inch high jump.

Wheeling Sophs Win

Pirates Over 'Cats; 3rd MSL Golf Win

Palatine's varsity g o l f e r s swung to their third consecutive Mid-Suburban League triumph Monday afternoon, handling Wheeling 176-184 in a dual meeting on Wheeling's home Chevy Chase Country Club.

But the challenge went the other way on the frosh-soph level, where the Wildcats took a tense, two-stroke 195-197 decision from the Pirates, all the golfers battling under cold and windy conditions.

Leonard Fiocca's varsity Pirates, who are to face defending MSL links champion Prospect in a dual at Inverness next Tuesday afternoon, were 3-0 in loop duals and 6-1 overall after beating Wheeling, while Jack Berry's 'Cats were 1-2 in the league and 2-7 in all duals.

THE FROSH-SOPH loss was Palatine's first in three MSL meetings, and second out of six duals this spring, while Wheeling moved to 2-1 in the league and 5-5 over-all.

The Pirates took the varsity match—over nine holes—by keeping their scoring close, running from 42 through 46. Bob Doan was low for the match with 42, while Doug Miller came in at 43, Jeff Teach at 45 and Bill Hein at 46.

Wheeling's best was f r o m Dave Quirsfeld, who had a 43. Steve Poulos shot 46, Dick Fontecchio 47 and Al Eisenstein 48.

On the frosh-soph level, Mike Stoik paced the winning Wildcat performance with a 46, and teammate G r e g Turner was close behind with 47. Three 'Cats tied at 51, including Jeff Sorensen and Dennis Klocke—who'll join the varsity for the district meeting at M o u n t Prospect Country Club tomorrow—and Craig Saar.

Palatine's sophs were led by Tim Nelson's 47, with Charles Daugherty in at 48 and John Lynch and Marc Meinhardt at 51 each.

Canopy Golfers In Lead

The Canopy Beauty S a l o n, playing in the Arlington VFW Golf League at Old Orchard Golf Club, was able to move out to a three point lead with a 15-9 win over Glidden Country Store.

Best gains of the night were made by Annen & Busse as they trounced the Cake Box 21-3 and Active Heating who took the measure of Pitzen Cartage 20-4.

Scores generally ran higher than normal as 54 out of a possible 60 golfers braved a freezing temperature and a cold northwest wind

Despite playing under these conditions Stew Sage carded a 40 to capture low gross honors. Don Chartrand took low net by firing a 45-10-35 round.

Horse Show Scheduled

The Fox Valley Saddle Association will hold its Annual Spring Horse Show on May 22 at one o'clock at the club grounds on Route 58 one-half mile east of Route 25 in Elgin.

There will be 18 events in which Quarter Horses, Appaloosas, Morgans, Arabians and grade horses will be competing. These events include Western, English and bareback pleasure, open model and barrel race classes.

Jack Both of Libertyville will be the judge and Norm Skala of Elgin will be the announcer. Dick Erdman of South Elgin is show chairman and Leota Erdman of South Elgin is the show secretary.

The lunch stand will open at noon.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children 6 to 12. Anyone desiring more information is asked to contact the show secretary, Mrs. Leota Erdman, 161 Melinda, South Elgin, Illinois.

Wildcats Linksmen Lose to Mundelein

The season's sixth setback was suffered by Wheeling golfers last week. They fell 346 to 368 before Mundelein.

Dick Fontecchio was best for coach Jack Berry's defeated 'Cats. Nines of 47 and 43 gave Fontecchio a 90 for the 18 hole match.

Others who c o u n t e d for Wheeling were Dave Quirsfeld, with a 50-41-91; Bob Boening, with a 48-44-92; and Ken Rideout, with a 47-48-95. A 97 and 99 were recorded by the Wildcats sixth and s e v e n t h men, Al Eisenstein and Mike Fornero.

Best rounds turned in by Mundelein linksmen were the 85's of Al Gallinati and Steve Harris. An 87 and an 89 completed the winner's total.

At the frosh-soph level Wheeling picked up its third victory in eight duals. Final score there was 384 to 401.

Mike Stoik paced the younger 'Cats with his 44-49-93 while just one stroke off that pace was Jeff Sorensen with a 46-48-94. A 49-49-98 by Dennis Klocke and 48-51-99 by Randy Summers added to Wheeling's total. Not counting were the 100 by Craig Saar, the 102 by Greg Turner or the 103 by Steve Fornero.

Prospect Linksmen Stop Maine 172-180

A 5-1 duals mark and 2-0 conference standard belonged to Prospect golfers after their 172-180 win over Maine West last Wednesday (May 4).

Dave Lovgren was the chief force behind the Knights maintenance of their perfect Mid-Suburban League standard. He was low in the meet with a 38.

BEHIND LOVGREN for coach Mike Nisen's club was Joe Rosanova. He carded a 43 in the nine hole match. Neil Rowe and Doug Lytle, with 45 and 46 respectively, rounded out Prospect's scorers.

Fifth man for the Knights, who played under what Nisen termed "v e r y windy" conditions, was Harry Wallace with a 52.

Soph Dave Krowka was best for Maine with a 39. He was followed with a 45 by Dave Grutzuis, 46 by Ken Holfers and 50 by Dick Merk. Headman Gene Zuccarini's Warriors were 1-7 after their setback.

At the frosh-soph level Prospect maintained the same 5-1 and 2-0 r e c o r d s. Younger Knights linksmen whipped MW 181-202.

ART SCHROEDER'S 40 led the F-S winners followed by Justy Yedor's 45 and the 48's carded by Steve Orrell and Bruce Timko. Scott Crawford was the fifth man with a 51.

A 45 was the low total for Maine at the lower level. That was p o s t e d by Bob Borkenhagen. Jim Reed had a 47, Rog Sorensen a 54 and Clay Strom a 56 in the Warriors' 202.

24-HOUR AMBULANCE SERVICE

WOULDN'T YOU RATHER HAVE MONEY...

than a bunch of dust catchers taking up valuable storage space around your home?

Take the attic, for instance. There's that old chair . . . still sturdy, but never used any more . . .

and the stove you replaced years ago . . .

and the trunk Dad took to college . . .

and Junior's old typewriter . . .

and in the basement . . .

wash tubs you haven't used since you got your automatic . . .

the bicycle no one has ridden in ages . . .

that old croquet set . . .

and the radio that hasn't been turned on since TV.

There's probably a lot more, too . . . all of it in good condition . . .

"But who wants it?" you say!

Someone does want it . . . and they're looking for it in Paddock Publications Want Ads.

Ours is an established company with a solid history and reputation of progress and growth in the field of commercial (non-military) electronic products. We have a record for stable, secure employment and internal promotion both within the plant and into office positions. Of course we have many other things to boast about, like good wages, insurance programs, automatic increases, complete cafeteria, a choice of 1st or 2nd shift, paid vacations and holidays (including your birthday), attendance bonus, piece work with bonus and employee credit union.

But what we and our employees are most proud of is the security and opportunity that makes a job at SOLA truly a "job with a future."

How Suburbia Lives—8

Life in a Condominium

By PAT ADAM
Suburban Living Editor

For the first time since they were married in 1926, Judy and Wayne Wilcox are homeowners.

But they don't have to worry about painting the house or tending the lawn or any of the other responsibilities that come with house ownership, for the Wilcoxes are among the approximately 120 individuals and couples who own their own apartments in Cameo Terrace North, a condominium in Wheeling.

When the Wilcoxes decided on early retirement a few years ago — both worked — they expected to move to California and continue renting as they had in Chicago for 40 years. But delays in completion of the building where they planned to live changed their minds. They bought an apartment in Cameo North instead, and they're not sorry.

LIVING IN the Wheeling condominium, they've discovered, is a way of life. Within Cameo North's brick walls are recreational and social activities, a developing spirit of community and neighborliness and satisfying friendships.

"If anybody gets lonely here, it's his own fault," commented Judy, a pert and petite woman who worked in an insurance office for many years.

Cameo offered the Wilcoxes another advantage. One reason for moving to California was because Wayne suffers from emphysema, and Chicago's cold bothers him at times. At Cameo he can walk through the continuous corridors that link all parts of the building and never once have to go outdoors.

"THAT SOLD ME on Cameo," he said.

Cameo North has a total of 136 apartments on its two floors, all but a few of them sold and occupied. That total includes 100 one-bedroom apartments and 36 two-bedroom. In addition there are laundry rooms, hobby rooms, lounges and a library. Each apartment has its own balcony or patio.

The Wilcoxes moved into their one-bedroom apartment shortly after the condominium opened in February, 1964. In the two years they've lived in Cameo North, Judy and Wayne have added their own touches to the apartment — a mural in their dining area, wallpaper in the entry hall, tiling in the bathroom.

THEY COULD do this because within the apartment walls, each owner is boss. The apartments are individually heated, and the Wilcoxes have air-conditioned theirs. Other utilities are separate, too. Owners pay their own utilities, taxes and insurance.

For maintenance of the commonly-owned elements of the condominium there is a monthly maintenance fee. Add up all these expenses, and the Wilcoxes figure they still live more cheaply than they could in a rented apartment.

Condominium, as an idea, is old. In its modern application it involves shared ownership, which at Cameo, includes the halls, entries, parking lots, balconies and patios and other exterior elements. No resident can do anything to the outside of his apartment that would change the over-all appearance of the building. Slight deviations must have the okay of the board of management, elected by the owners.

THERE ARE other restrictions on those moving into the condominium, and those who don't follow the rules can be deprived of their vote.

"You can't live as a rugged individualist," declared Wilcox, "but the rules are beneficial to group living."

Persons buying into Cameo North must be 45 or older, and they can't have any dependents under 18. Pets are restricted to cats, dogs and small birds, and these must be under control at all times. Grandchildren may visit, but they may not run freely in the halls and they are not allowed to play on the commonly-owned lawn area around which the condominium is built.

THE BOARD OF management is charged with keeping the building maintained, seeing that residents abide by the rules and providing social activities for the condominium dwellers. Currently the board president is Glenn Pilgrim. Other officers of the 10-member board are Miss Jane Leichsenring, vice president; Mrs. Josephine Farrell, secretary, and William Fisher, treasurer. Others serve as chairmen of various phases of condominium operation, such as maintenance, activities and finance.

The activities are of special interest to Judy and Wayne because he was board member in charge of these last year and she was responsible for the organ class. It's also because of the Wilcoxes that the condominium has its library, for they contributed the first 100 books. The library now numbers between 5,000 and 6,000, Judy estimated.

A COMMITTEE headed by Mrs. Robert Magill plans activities for the women, and these include quite a variety—a weekly sewing group, a knitting class, the organ group and a bridge class. The sewing group makes items for the two bazaars held each year, one before Easter and one in November, to earn money for needed items in the condominium. Already they have purchased 96 steel folding tables, 12 card tables and four large steel utility tables, the last for the laundry rooms. The women also sew for St. Vincent's Orphanage.

There are other activities for Cameo North residents. A party is held monthly. They may play cards every Wednesday afternoon. The art room is available to those wanting to express themselves creatively — with an instructor there for advice. And the men may get together whenever they want to play pool at the table in one of the lounge areas.

ONE OF THE residents is responsible for keeping everyone informed as to who is ill or hospitalized. Mrs. Julia Braun has this job, and she posts notices about those sick or in the hospital on bulletin boards near the two entrances to Cameo. Two other women, Mrs. Lorraine Sherry and Mrs. Gene Berry, welcome newcomers and continue to call on new owners for their first few weeks in the condominium.

All these add up to an atmosphere that Judy Wilcox describes as "congenial."

"It's a wonderful place to live!" she exclaimed. (SF

FROM THEIR APARTMENT, on the second floor, the Wilcoxes can look out on this huge grassy area which is owned in common by all Cameo North residents. Each apartment has either a balcony or a patio, and these also are owned jointly. Apartment residents may not do anything to the outside that will change the over-all appearance of the condominium. (Staff photo)

MUSIC IS ANOTHER of the hobbies that condominium residents at Cameo North may follow. Mrs. Myna Nielsen, Miss Jane Leichsenring and Judy Wilcox enjoy a session at the organ. There is also an art hobby room where residents may paint at leisure and get instruction if they wish. (Staff photo)

A WEEKLY SEWING GROUP is only one of the social activities provided residents of Cameo Terrace North condominium in Wheeling. The women are busy sewing items for one of the two bazaars they hold during the year to earn money for items that will add to comfort of condominium dwellers. They've already bought folding chairs, card tables and utility tables. (Staff photo)

WAYNE AND JUDY WILCOX relax in the living room of their Cameo Terrace North condominium apartment in Wheeling. Through the glass doors to the left is their balcony and to the right, their kitchen and dining area. The apartment also has a good-sized bedroom and tiled bath, plus closets. Each apartment owner has sole say over what he does inside his own dwelling. (Staff photo)

Essay Contest Slated

The Bloomingdale Township Democratic Women's Organization will sponsor an essay contest among township residents on "Why I Am Proud to Be a Democrat."

The contest is open to young persons in two age groups, 11 to 14 years of age and 15 to 17. Essays are limited to 150 words or less.

Entries are to be mailed to Post Office Box 408, Bloomingdale, and must be postmarked no later than June 4.

The judge will be Mrs. Robert Zanders of Aurora, an elementary school teacher and Democratic chairwoman of Kane County.

A PRIZE OF $10 in cash will be awarded to the winner in the 11 to 14 age group and a $25 U.S. savings bond to the winner in the 15 to 17 category. Emily Taft Douglas, wife of U.S. Senator Paul Douglas, has been invited to present the awards, scheduled for a public affair later in June.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Don Elders, 212 N. Roselle Road, Roselle, telephone 894-9342.

'Hats Off' Is Set for Friday

"Hats Off to Mother" will be the theme at the mother-daughter banquet sponsored by the Women's Guild of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, Prospect Heights. The affair is being held tomorrow (Friday) at 7 p.m. in the church social hall, Palatine and Schoenbeck Roads.

Entertainment will be provided by the Notables, a singing group from Wheeling High School. Hostesses for the dinner will be Mrs. Charlotte Thorsen, chairman, Mrs. Harold Haar, Mrs. John Lemme, Mrs. Arthur Herrmann, Mrs. Alex Liesik and Mrs. James Sternberg.

A limited number of tickets are available and may be purchased from any guild member. For further information readers may call Mrs. Alex Liesik, CL 3-2434.

Tea Is Sunday

A tea planned by the Churchwomen of Grace Lutheran Church, Euclid and Wolf Roads, Prospect Heights, for Sunday at 2:30 p.m. will feature vocal and instrumental music by talented members of the church.

All mothers and daughters of the congregation are invited.

Protect Your Family; Get Tetanus Shots

Tetanus — better known as lockjaw — remains one of the deadliest diseases known to medicine.

Why? Because tetanus germs (bacilli) can be found anywhere. On our bodies and clothing; in the kitchen, garden or office; on cattle, horses and other domestic animals; and in almost any type of soil.

These deadly germs can easily invade such minor injuries as insect bites, tiny splinters, skin abrasions from scratching and cigarette burns —not just puncture wounds from a rusty nail.

Minor injuries infected with tetanus germs are easily ignored, and an unsuspecting victim may enjoy good health until the symptoms of tetanus appear — muscular stiffness of the jaw, restlessness and irritability.

EVENTUALLY the muscular rigidity of the jaw spreads to the neck, back, arms and legs, causing the victim to appear bent backward in the shape of a bow.

As the disease progresses, spasms of the muscles of respiration interfere with breathing and may produce death from asphyxiation.

Once the symptoms of tetanus have appeared, a physician can do nothing to counteract the germs which have reached the nervous system. Treatment then is aimed at preventing further damage, usually by administering tetanus antitoxin.

However, since the disease progresses so rapidly, more than half of those who develop tetanus receive medical treatment too late. The result? Death.

This high mortality rate plus the ease of contracting tetanus from the slightest injury, are more than sufficient reasons for everyone, regardless of age, to be immunized against tetanus.

YET, MORE than two-thirds of children between the ages of one and five—and over three-fourths of the adult population in the U.S.—are not protected from tetanus.

With new emphasis on outdoor living, with accidents on the increase and with tetanus germs in the dust and dirt about us, the Illinois Medical Society urges you and your family to be fully immunized.

The vaccine, known as tetanus toxoid, requires two injections. Immunization comes only with the second injection, usually given one month after the first. A booster shot should be taken after one year and, thereafter, every five years to provide continued protection.

Iris Society Slates Show

Local iris growers and arrangers will be exhibiting their gardening and artistic skills at the seventh annual Iris Show, slated for May 28-29 at Proviso West High School, Wolf Road at Harrison Street, Hillside.

The show is sponsored by Northern Illinois Iris Society, which this year is adding a peony display to be arranged by the Fifth District of the American Peony Society.

The show is free, and doors will be open from 3 to 10 p.m. May 28 and from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. May 29.

Ironing Locks May Ruin Hair

The current fashion fad for teenage girls dictates that they all have long, flowing locks with not the suspicion of a curl or wave. To achieve the look teenagers have taken to ironing their hair.

This practice is frowned upon, and by a source not usually concerned about fashion: The American Medical Association's Committee on Cutaneous Health and Cosmetics.

The committee warns that the heat of the iron can damage the hair, making it fragile and dry, with subsequent breakage. In addition, there is a danger of burning the scalp. The committee notes that the right look can be achieved, with less risk, by the use of chemical hair straighteners.

Area Club Earns National Award

Winner and New Champion - Prospect Heights Club

A volunteer program to provide unpaid assistants for the local public library has earned the Prospect Heights Womans Club a national award of $500.

The award is one of three made in the state and 150 made nation-wide in 1966 through the General Federation of Women's Clubs-Shell Oil Company Education Program.

"Education as a defender of the nation's freedom and greatness has consistently been considered of prime importance throughout the exciting 75-year history of the General Federation of Women's Clubs," said Mrs. William Hasebroock, president of the GFWC. "The GFWC-Shell Oil Company Education Program is designed not only to provide aid to education but to enable the recipients to make free, responsible choices as they prepare for their role in tomorrow's world."

AT THE TIME the Prospect Heights Woman's Club was formed in 1955 there was no library in Prospect Heights. One of the club's first civic projects was to form a committee to investigate the possibility of starting a library. A year later the Library Committee had applications for cards from 609 potential borrowers.

After getting the library started the club assumed responsibility for sorting over the thousands of books that were donated and also the financial support for the first year. Last year more than 1,100 volunteer hours were given by members and the club also provided money for new books and awards in the summer reading program.

Other activities have included collecting 25 bathing suits for children at the Chicago State Hospital in addition to clothing, magazines and other items. They also sponsored patient trips to the zoo and picnics.

PARK RIDGE School for Girls and Lincoln Lodge for Boys are other beneficiaries of the group's projects.

Among the affairs club members have staged to raise money for their philanthropies have been the annual fashion show and the Mardi Gras dance.

Now in its fourth year, the GFWC-Shell Education Program awards are made through a $50,000 grant provided by Shell. Three awards, $500, $300 and $200, are made in each state. The Glenview Woman's Club, Glenview, won a second place award and the Champaign-Urbana Junior Woman's Club won a third place award.

Any club in the General Federation conducting a program aiding young people in its community to further their education is eligible for an award. Judging of entries within each state is done by a panel of leading state educators and the state Federation president or her representative. Winning clubs use the awards to further their aid-to-education programs. (SSD

ON BEHALF OF Prospect Heights Woman's Club, Mrs. Alfred Roth, safety and education chairman of the club, accepts a $500 check and citation for winning first place in the GFWC-Shell Education program. Mrs. Lewis Clark, education chairman of IFWC, left, Mrs. Roth and Mrs. James Seagraves, president of IFWC, thank a Shell Oil representative, R. L. Parkhurst, for the award. (SSD

A real he-man menu consisting of butt steak, baked potatoes, salad, rolls and beverage has been selected for the annual husbands' night planned by the Ladies Auxiliary of Arlington Heights Elks. The affair will be held Thursday, May 19, at the Elks Lodge, Arlington Heights, beginning with cocktails at 6 p.m. with dinner following at 7 p.m.

Comedy skits by the Winston Theatre players will comprise the evening's program.

Accepting reservations, due before May 16, are Mrs. Albert Lietz, program chairman, FL 9-1245, and Mrs. Maurice Dean, 255-0996. (S

Palatine Mother's Job Is Solving Family Problems

MRS. MARGERY WHITCOMB counsels young mother who is facing a crisis in her marriage. Sometimes brief help is all that is needed; however, counseling for a period of months may be necessary before lasting gains can be achieved. Caseworkers are required to have a master's degree in social work.

When Margery (Mrs. H. C.) Whitcomb pulls out of the family driveway at 2123 S. Linden Lane in Palatine and heads for work, she may be thinking of a variety of family problems from the youngster who is ready to drop out of school to the husband who has left his wife.

As a family counselor for the Family Service Association of DuPage County, Glen Ellyn, she must not only come face to face with these problems, but she must be ready to help the persons involved come to realistic solutions — solutions that will bring happiness back into troubled homes.

Mrs. Whitcomb, who has a master's degree from the University of Chicago's School of Social Services Administration and is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, has been a staff counselor for the DuPage agency since 1960.

ON MONDAYS she staffs the Family Service office in the educational building of Peace Church, 176 S. Center St., Bensenville. Tuesdays through Fridays she works at the agency's main office in Glen Ellyn.

"One of the most rewarding aspects of this work," says Margery Whitcomb, "is to get a call from a mother who tells you things are working out very well."

"It is encouraging to see how hard many persons are willing to work to come to a solution to really difficult situations," she adds.

Mrs. Whitcomb's husband, Hiram, is a staff industrial engineer with the Richardson Co. in Melrose Park.

THEY HAVE two sons. John, age 14, is a freshman at Fremd High School. "Chuck" (Mrs. Whitcomb says he will not answer to the name "Charles"), age 12, is in seventh grade at the Paddock School. Both boys have drums as a hobby.

"Which gives us a few family problems of our own," comments Mrs. Whitcomb.

The Whitcombs are a bit more tolerant of the drummers in the family, especially since son John brought home a check that he earned by playing with a local combo for a dance.

Mrs. Whitcomb is active in the Palatine League of Women Voters and the Paddock PTA.

Doll Display At Luncheon

A "Favorite Salad" luncheon and a doll display will be features at the Wednesday, May 18, meeting of the Women of St. Mark Church in Mount Prospect. The luncheon will be at 1 p.m.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Charles Mueller, a member of the St. Mark congregation, will show her doll collection. She now has nearly 500 dolls in the collection, including her first doll, a Canadian Indian doll.

Most of the collection consists of foreign dolls. Many are made of wood, fiber, shells or other material native to the particular country the doll represents. (S

Holiday in Spain For Bosses, Wives

A flamenco dancer and guitar player will provide the Spanish atmosphere for "Holiday in Spain" the seventh annual executive night of Park-Plaines Chapter of The National Secretaries Association (International). Members of the Park-Plaines Chapter will entertain their bosses and their wives for this "annual" event Wednesday, May 18, at Ray Foley's Hyatt House in Lincolnwood.

Dr. F. Byers Miller, executive director of NABAC, the Association for Bank Audit, Control and Operation, Park Ridge, was dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of Richmond, Va., before assuming his NABAC post in 1956. NABAC is the world's second largest professional banking association, and is devoted to furthering knowledge and proficiency in bank operations, control, auditing and personnel administration.

Listed in "Who's Who in America," he has a background as an educator, administrator and consultant to various private organizations as well as governmental agencies, including the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Park-Plaines Chapter of The National Secretaries Association is comprised of secretaries serving the chief executive officers of approximately 50 business and professional organizations with offices and headquarters in the northwest suburban area, ranging from Chicago to Barrington.

Major aims of The National Secretaries Association (International) are to improve secretarial performance; to provide educational programs; and to further the professional status of secretaries. (S

Law Professor, A&R Speaker

Dr. Albert A. Vail of the De Paul University School of Law will be featured speaker at the Queen of the Rosary Altar and Rosary Society meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 18. Subject of his talk will be "Marriage."

A question and answer period will be conducted by the speaker at the conclusion of his talk.

This final meeting of the season, to be held in the Queen of the Rosary School in Elk Grove Village, will also include election of officers. (S

Beautiful Homes, Gardens Open to Public

Plum Grove Tour Offers Glance at Elegant Living

by MARIANNE SCOTT
Women's Editor

A home with a marble, Roman bath, another with a sauna, one with formal garden, one with an entranceway of imported green stones and another with its very own chapel will be included in the home and garden tour to be held Thursday, May 26, in the Plum Grove Estates area of Palatine.

Sponsored by the Plum Grove Auxiliary, the tour will include five area homes chosen for their outstanding architectural features and tasteful decorating.

The homes include the contemporary homes of the T. J. Stenzels, the Arthur Gleseners and the Frank E. Obeids, the traditional home of the Ralph Niederts and the chalet home of the Raymond Basaras.

THE STENZEL home features a large entrance hall with indoor garden and water fountain leading to a formal living room decorated in all white. French provincial furnishings are used in this room which looks out on a formal garden. Another room in this home is done in a Far East motif.

The traditional home of the Niederts was designed by Mrs. Niedert with the help of an architect. Italian classic is the term Mrs. Niedert uses to describe her lovely furnishings. Outstanding features in the Neidert home include a balcony overlooking the exquisitely-furnished living room, a chapel area complete with altar and stained glass window and a formal dining room glittering with crystal chandelier and buffet lamps.

In the chalet home of the Basaras; which overlooks a meandering brook, the furnishings are elegantly modern and yet practical. The natural slate floor in the huge entranceway leads to a more-than-adequate kitchen where slate has also been used for the flooring.

Carpeting, woven to order in Puerto Rico, is used in the other rooms of the home. In one of the children's rooms, the carpeting was fashioned with large, raised pompons, and in the master bedroom, the carpeting was woven with designs of Grecian pillars in a contrasting shade, marking the perimeter of the over-sized bed.

A GRECIAN theme has also been used in the master bath where hand-painted murals decorate the walls. The stepdown tub is really a room in itself with walls, ceiling and steps done completely in white marble.

Many of the appointments for the Basara home were imported from Europe. While definitely a show-type home, the Basaras' home is also definitely a lived-in home.

"We love our home," commented Mrs. Basaras, "and we use all of it all the time."

A sauna bath is one of the more unusual features of the Frank E. Obeid home, which also overlooks the brook. An unusual treatment has been given a wall in the master bedroom, where blue satin panels the wall.

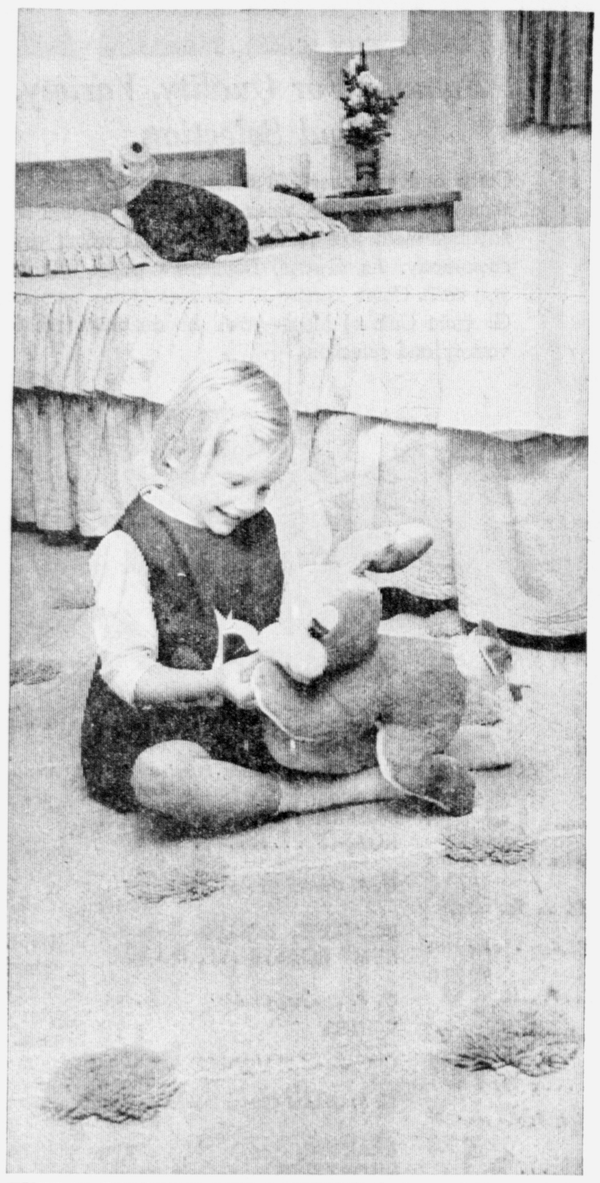
At the entrance of the Arthur Glesener home, sparkly green stones flank the entranceway. The same stone is used on the fireplace wall. This home boasts a unique basement recreation room with bottle glass windows and dark wood paneling. "Gracious family living" can best describe this delightful home.

MANY OF THE homes in the rolling Plum Grove Estates area have been placed to take advantage of the view of the winding stream or the small lake. Much of the area is heavily wooded. Once known as Longacres Farm, the section has rustic stone gates, beautifully landscaped, standing guard at each entrance. Roads were laid out to blend with the natural appearance of the landscape, and open areas have retained their unimpaired countryside characteristics.

Open to the public, tours will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Tickets, obtainable from Mrs. John Williams, 358-1878, are for the tour only or for the combination of tour and luncheon. In order to accommodate the hundreds of expected guests, luncheon will be served in two sessions, 11:30 to 12:30 and 1 to 2 p.m. according to Mrs. Walter Block, chairman.

Programs with maps showing the location of the homes and gardens included in the tour will be available at the homes on display.

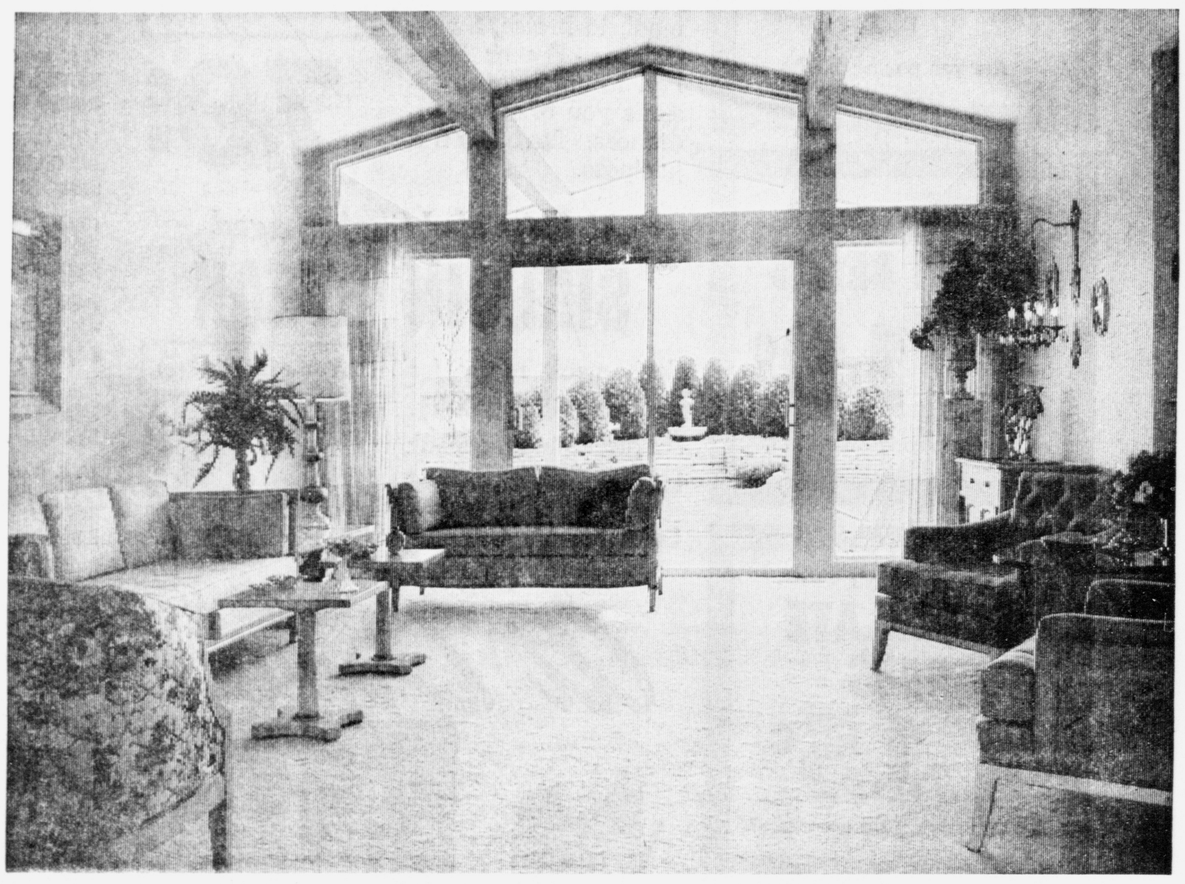
Luncheon reservations are requested by Saturday, May 21.



TUFTED POMPONS ARE A UNIQUE feature of the carpeting in Wendy Basara's bedroom. Wendy is a daughter of the Raymond Basaras, whose Plum Grove Estates home will be one of the homes displayed during a home and garden tour Thursday, May 26. All carpeting in the home was woven to order in Puerto Rico.

BALCONY IN THE RALPH NIEDERT home in Plum Grove Estates overlooks elegantly-furnished formal living room. Bedrooms are on balcony level as is a private chapel with stained glass window. Huge recreational room is on ground floor, down a few steps from the living room. The Niedert home will be one of five homes open to the public Thursday, May 26, when the Plum Grove Auxiliary stages its home and garden tour. Photo of the Niederts' formal dining room is appearing in the Real Estate section of this issue.

(S



SLIDING GLASS DOORS at one end of this sunken living room lead directly to formal garden in the T. J. Stenzel home in Plum Grove Estates. Beamed ceiling, white walls and white carpeting add extra spaciousness to an already spacious room. The Stenzel home, along with four other outstanding homes in the Plum Grove Estates area of Palatine, will be featured in a garden walk and tour May 26.

Sorority Activities

Panhellenic to Close Season With Book Review May 12th

PANHELLENIC

Another May, another season, and Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association will end its club year with a luncheon and book review Thursday, May 12 in Old Orchard Country Club. Lillian Budd of Lombard will entertain members and guests by reviewing her own book "One Heart One Way."

Mrs. Budd began her writing career in recent years and was both her children's books and adult novels," commented the program chairman. "She has visited many colleges and universities, staying in dormitories and sorority houses, thus coming into close contact with young women students. This novel is the result where she shares her knowledge of their character and their activities," she added.

THE LUNCHEON is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. and all sorority women are invited to attend whether or not they are affiliated with an organized alumnae chapter. Guests are also welcome. Sorority women interested in finding out more about the organization may contact any one of the officers for details.

A highlight of the final Panhellenic Council meeting, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. will be the installation of officers. Many area sorority women will be serving for the 1966-67 season including Mrs. Thomas McCormick, Alpha Gamma Delta, Mount Prospect, president; Mrs. George Vitoux, Alpha Omicron Pi, Arlington Heights, vice president; Mrs. John Bannister, Alpha Phi, Mount Prospect, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Swab, Alpha Xi Delta, Mount Prospect, treasurer; and Mrs. Verne Whitnell, Chi Omega, corresponding secretary, Arlington Heights.

The council is composed of one delegate and one alternate from each National Panhellenic Conference sorority alumnae group in this area with officers rotating in alphabetical order among the sororities represented. Mrs. Joseph Meyer, Alpha Delta Pi, Rolling Meadows, outgoing president, will be the installing officer. The council meeting will precede the luncheon, with arrangements by Mrs. Clifford Cooper, Delta Delta Delta, Mount Prospect, CL 3-6610.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Beta Sigma Phi Lambda Delta Chapter held its installation of officers at the home of Mrs. Mount Prospect, May 4.

Officers installed included: president, Mrs. Don Schmittzeke of Palatine; vice president, Mrs. Jack Addis of Arlington Heights; recording secretary, Mrs. Tom Pulford of Rolling Meadows; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dave Peterson of Arlington Heights; treasurer, Mrs. William Fallon of Arlington Heights; and representative to REN, Mrs. Henry Iltzch of Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin of Palatine was a guest.

Social hostess for the event was Mrs. Dave Peterson and Mrs. Dave King of Palatine presented the lesson. For her subject Mrs. King chose the poetry of Robert Frost.

Lambda Delta will have its annual birthday party Wednesday, May 18, at the home of Mrs. William Fallon, 1735 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Alpha Xi Delta Chicago area alumnae will meet for a potluck dinner at the Alpha Theta House in the Northwestern Quadrangle, Evanston, at 5 p.m. Sunday, May 15. All area alumnae are invited and may call Miss Mary Simonsen at Park 9-0539 for further information.

North area alumnae will hold their monthly business meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 18, at the Alpha Theta House. Senior girls will be initiated into the alumnae group at this time and plans will be finalized for summer activities.

ALPHA PHI

Northwest Suburban Alpha Phi Alumnae will meet Wednesday, May 18, to elect officers in the home of Mrs. Scott Ball, 1207 N. Walnut Avenue, Arlington Heights, at 8:15 p.m. Mrs. John Ryan will be co-hostess. Following a short business meeting the Alpha Phis will plan their annual summer couples barbecue party.

Area alumnae should call Mrs. Robert Trochuck, CL 3-6299 for transportation.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Chicago Countryside Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae will be meeting Wednesday, May 18, at the Glenwood home of Mrs. William Kirshner at 8 p.m.

After a brief business meeting, a program will be presented by Miss Mary Audy, psychiatric counselor, who was founder of the Wilmette Family Service Center. Now in private practice, Miss Audy will discuss problems pertinent to the raising of children in today's environment.

Members in this area interested in attending may call Mrs. Elmer Hagan, Arlington Heights, CL-5-9122.

SIGMA KAPPA

A Chinese auction will highlight the Wednesday May 11, meeting of Northwest Suburban Sigma Kappa's Evening Group. Members have been asked to bring plenty of change, along with miscellaneous items to be auctioned that evening to the Park Ridge home of Mrs. J. Worth Slade, hostess.

The meeting will begin at 8:15 p.m. and newcomers will be welcome. For information, readers may call Mrs. Richard Cubberly, 825-4770.

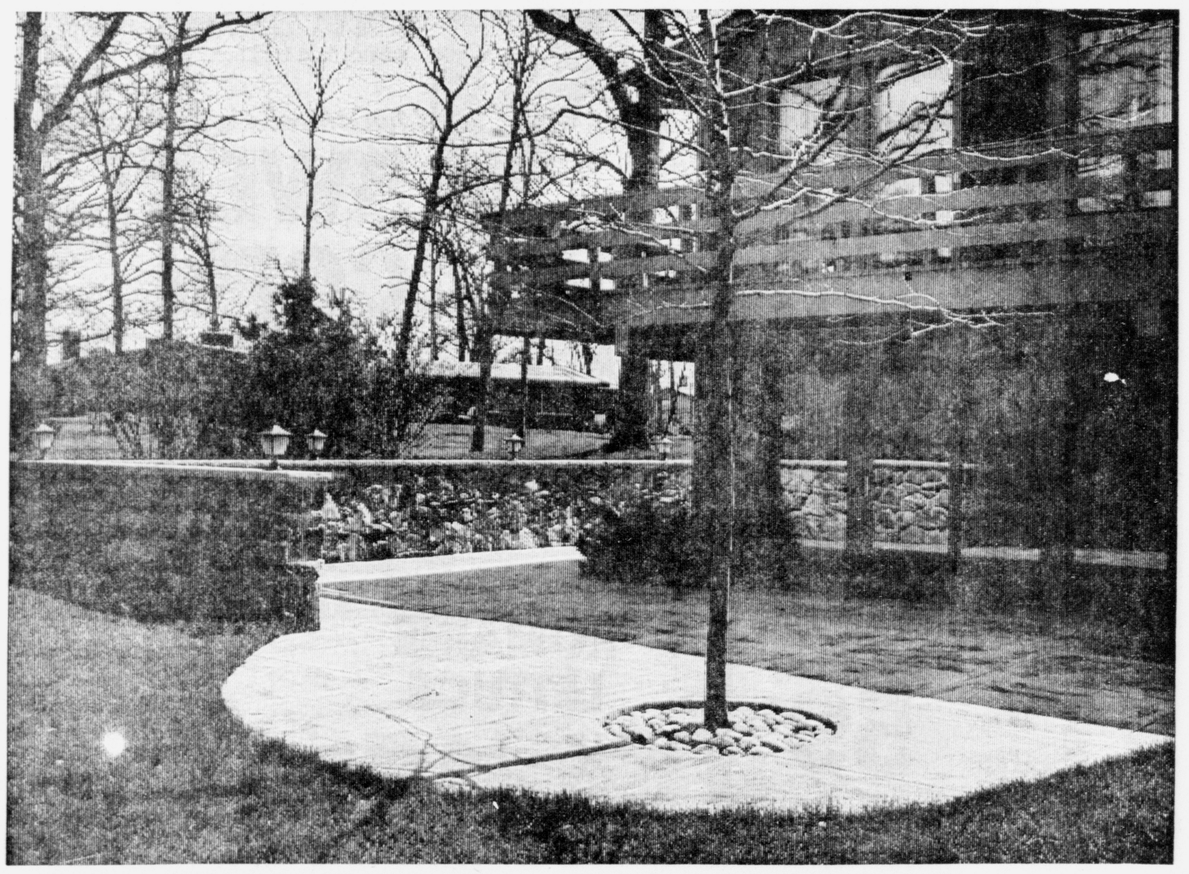
KAPPA ALPHA THETA

A business meeting with a social will wind up all events for the year for Kappa Alpha Thetas when they meet at 1 p.m. Thursday, May 19 in the Arlington Heights home of Mrs. R. W. Daeschner, 310 Mayfair Road.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Howes and Mrs. Anthony Anderson. Those planning to attend are asked to call either Mrs. Howes at 359-0298 or Mrs. Anderson at 392-7546.

Average Occupancy

Hotel-motel occupancy currently stands at about 64 per cent average. The rate was more than 85 per cent during World War II.



PATIO OF AGGREGATE STONE at the Raymond Basara home is partially secluded with unusual stone wall. Open section overlooks winding stream as does balcony from kitchen and dining areas. Sliding doors at patio level lead to downstairs family room. The gardens as well as the interior of this home will be open to the public May 26 when the Plum Grove Auxiliary sponsors a home and garden tour. Front view of this home appears in this issue's Real Estate section.

Richard Martin Takes Jane Confrey as Bride

Making their home in Florida while the groom serves aboard the USS Lexington with the U.S. Navy are newlyweds Jane and Richard P. Martin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Confrey Jr. of Wilmette, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hapanovich of 323 S. Phelps Ave., Arlington Heights.

The couple was married April 15 by Rev. Bruce E. Gideon in Wilmette Parish Methodist Church, with a reception immediately following at The Pyrenees in Skokie.

The altar was decorated with spring flowers, along with two candelabra for the nuptials.

THE BRIDE ENTERED the sanctuary wearing a sheath-styled gown of white peau de soie with an empire bodice of alencon lace. A panel of peau attached at the shoulders formed a chapel train.

She wore a tiny pearl crown to hold her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

HER COUSIN, Susanne Thevenet of Washington, D.C., served as maid of honor, and another cousin, Pamela Thornton of Naperville, and Diane Blackwelder of Glenview were bridesmaids.

All were gowned alike in floor-length sheath dresses of two shades of turquoise silk linen, styled with an empire bodice and flowing back panel. Their slippers matched their gowns, and they carried cascades of yellow roses.

Bruce Watkins of Arlington Heights was best man, and ushers were the groom's brother, Craig Martin, and the bride's brother, John R. Confrey.

A BEIGE SILK suit with matching accessories and a yellow cymbidium corsage were chosen by the bride's mother for her attire that day. Mrs. Hapanovich wore a dusty pink silk suit, matching accessories, and her corsage was of pink and white cymbidium.

A graduate of New Trier High School, the bride had been attending Illinois State University. The groom was graduated from Prospect High School and attended Elmhurst College before entering the service. (S

BRINGING GUILD ACTIVITIES up to date for President-Elect Mrs. Leonard Brune, right, is Mrs. George Sexton, president of the Women's Guild of St. James Catholic Church. Installation will be held at the Guild's annual luncheon-fashion show Thursday, May 19, in Itasca Country Club. Fashions will be from Bonwit Teller.

St. James Guild Sets Luncheon, Installation

Installation of newly-elected officers will be on the agenda Thursday, May 19, when the Women's Guild of St. James Catholic Church, Arlington Heights, holds its annual luncheon and fashion show in Itasca Country Club. Mrs. Leonard Brune will be installed as president and Mrs. Robert Hitzeman as first vice president.

Installed as second vice president will be Mrs. Elbert Kamp, while Mrs. James Nelson and Mrs. Thomas Egan will be installed as secretaries. New treasurer will be Mrs. James McDonald.

Fashions for the show will be from Bonwit Teller.

Reservations, due by May 15, are being taken by Mrs. McDonald at CL 5-0572 and Mrs. Robert Esbensen, CL 3-8271.(S

Carole Jacobson Becomes Stephan Firestine's Bride

Miss Carole Jean Jacobson, daughter of the junior Hartley Jacobsons of Hoffman Estates, became the bride of Stephan Wayne Firestine, son of the Jack L. Firestines of Fort Wayne, April 30 in a morning ceremony in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Canton, Ohio.

The Jacobsons are former residents of Canton and both young people are employed there by Ohio Power Company.

The service was followed by a wedding dinner in the Fulton House and an evening reception in the American Legion Hall in Massillon, Ohio.

For her wedding the bride chose a full-length sheath of silk organza over tissue taffeta with rounded neckline and camelot sleeves. Embroidery pearls on an alencon lace motif highlighted the neckline and skirt, and a detachable chapel-length train was held at the backwaist with a large Dior bow. Her 4-tier veil of imported English silk illusion veil was secured to a forward headpiece styled of silk organza petals with pearl trim, and she carried a cascade of carnations, roses and greens.

MISS SANDRA Jacobson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were another sister, June Jacobson of Hoffman Estates, Miss Penny Grimm of North Miami Beach, Fla. and Miss Linda Barton, Miss Susan Barton and Mrs. James McKelley, all of Canton.

The attendants were in modified empire full-length gowns of white and pink crepe fashioned with rounded necklines and elbow-length sleeves. The bodices also featured Venice lace, and Dior bows held the detachable panels at the back. Pink crepe headpieces held their bouffant veils of 2-tier illusion, and cascades of deep pink carnations and pale pink roses completed their emsembles.

JOHN NONEMAN of Canton was best man and the groom's brother, John Firestine, Tom Frisch and Bob Sehman, all of Fort Wayne, Ralph Spencer of Midland, Mich. and the bride's brother, Kenneth Jacobson, served as ushers.

The bride's mother was dressed in a pale blue 3-piece suit of silk shantung with lace overblouse, matching accessories and a corsage of white and blue carnations. The groom's mother appeared in a dress of dark turquoise chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of turquoise and white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Following a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the newlyweds are making their home in Canton. (S

Palatine Juniors Set Ann'l Banquet

The Junior Womans Club of Palatine will hold its annual spring banquet at Brookwood Country Club in Addison Tuesday, May 17 beginning with cocktails at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Loren Galbraith, program chairman has stated that the entertainment for the evening will be furnished by the "Talented Youth Organization." These youths, ranging in age from 11 to 25, have performed in Chicago and suburbs. During the winter months their performances raised monies for various high schools. Organized a few years ago, Mrs. Gloria Lee is program chairman and coordinator of the group.

MRS. SAM LaSusa is serving as hostess chairman for the evening.

A second highlight of the evening will be the announcement of committee chairmen and department heads for the 1966-'67 club year. At the April 19 meeting, Mrs. William Heise was elected president of the club with Mrs. LaSusa as vice president. Mrs. Arthur Traulsen was elected recording secretary and Mrs. Charles Skillman, corresponding secretary. Taking over the duties of treasurer is Mrs. Dean Greener. (S

Bethel 107 Represented On Council

Miss Sharon Luck, musician of Bethel 107, Job's Daughters of Palatine, and an eighth grade student at Winston Park School, was appointed Grand Representative to Maryland from Illinois on April 30 in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago. The ceremony was part of the installation of officers of the Grand Guardian Council of Illinois.

Sharon received this honor because of her devoted service to her own bethel as well as others. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Luck, as well as members of her bethel, were present for the ceremony.

ANDRE Butenschoen of Palatine was installed as Grand Outer Guard of the Grand Guardian Council. He is a member of Palatine Lodge 314, AF & AM; a member of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Chicago and Medinah Temple.

He is also associate guardian of Bethel 107. (S

The couple both attend the Art Institute, and Miss Golsen is a graduate of Prospect High School.

Saintpaulia Society Greets New Officers

A day full of business and pleasure marked the May meeting of the Suburban Saintpaulia Society. First the group installed new officers in the home of Mrs. A. Pfeiffer of Palatine and a short business session followed.

The program for the day was a display of slides of African violets grown by Mrs. L. Poduska and of the national African violet convention held in April in Miami. Mrs. Poduska attended the meetings and took the pictures.

AFTER THE installation and program, the group went to the Palatine home of Mrs. O. Oberg for a Maytime luncheon and to construct a silver money tree for one of the members, Mrs. L. Nelson, and her husband who are celebrating their 25th anniversary.

New officers of the society are Mrs. W. Hensel, Palatine, president; Mrs. M. DeMet, Prospect Heights, vice president; Mrs. L. Southard, Palatine, secretary; Mrs. R. Schroeder, Prospect Heights, treasurer. Mrs. G. Vogeler, Palatine, installed the group.

DURING THE business meeting, a report was made on the recent Illinois State show held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago. Project for the Suburban Saintpaulia group was to make table decorations which featured a musical theme using African violets.

The club also donated a cash award for the prize winning violet plant that came from the farthest city. (S

Gardener Likes 'Quickie' But Tasty Recipes

VEAL STEAKS cooked in Vermouth is one of Mrs. Joseph F. Koenen's favorite dinners. Easy to prepare, the veal tastes delicious and yet gives this Arlington Heights homemaker plenty of time for other chores, such as preparing for the Garden Club's Flower Show, of which she is chairman of exhibits.

Wine Adds Zest to Veal Chops, Steak

Mrs. Joseph F. Koenen enjoys experimenting—whether it be with flowers or food. And because she loves to be outdoors in her garden, she prefers recipes that are quick and easy to make, yet delicious to taste.

One of these is for veal cooked in vermouth to give it an unusual and elegant flavor.

"Veal is so bland by itself," said Mrs. Koenen, "but the wine gives it zest."

She seasons the veal with garlic salt, pepper and paprika and then browns it. Carrot strips are added and then simmered with the veal in vermouth.

"This recipe can be prepared in a hurry and needs no watching while it is cooking," Frances Koenen explained. "The pan gravy is delicious spooned over the meat and carrots," she continued, "and a Cheese Potato Mound makes a nice accompaniment."

THE POTATO MOUND must be prepared several hours or a day before it is baked.

Frances makes a thick white sauce first and adds sliced potatoes, minced onion and parsley. This she packs firmly into a casserole and refrigerates it until it is well set.

Before baking, the potato mound is unmolded onto a cookie sheet and sprinkled with grated cheese. The potatoes are then baked for an hour.

The well-seasoned potato mound is quite firm and easy to serve. It is attractive in appearance as well as appealing to taste and complements the flavor of the veal.

ANOTHER "quickie" that is one of Mrs. Koenen's favorites is a pan-fried steak, which has a unique flavor because it is seasoned with herbs. She suggests Delmonico steaks or beef tenderloin and cooks these in butter seasoned with minced garlic and sweet basil.

"A baked potato and a salad are nice accompaniments for these tasty steaks," Frances commented.

Gardening is a hobby of both Mr. and Mrs. Koenen, and their specialty is iris, of which they grow about 50 varieties. Mrs. Koenen enjoys flower arranging equally as well, and she will be entering both horticultural specimens and flower arrangements in the Arlington Heights Garden Club's flower show to be held at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights Saturday and Sunday.

MRS. KOENEN is second vice president in charge of artistic programs for the Garden Club and is in charge of exhibits for the Flower Show. Her current interest is Japanese flower arrangements, and she is taking a course at the adult evening school at Prospect High.

The Koenens live at 529 S. Prindle in Arlington Heights.

VEAL AND VERMOUTH

4 veal chops or 1 pound veal steak
Garlic salt and pepper to taste
Paprika
2 tablespoons butter or salad oil
3 medium carrots, cut in halves
½ cup dry vermouth

Sprinkle chops with garlic salt, pepper and paprika. Brown in butter or salad oil. Add the carrots and vermouth. Simmer for 40 mintues. Serves 2.

CHEESE POTATO MOUND

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
Pepper to taste
1 cup milk
2 cups (about 4 medium potatoes) sliced in rounds
1 tablespoon parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion
¾ cup grated sharp cheese

Melt butter; blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add the potatoes, parsely and onion to the white sauce.

Pack firmly into a waxed paper-lined round casserole and let set in refrigerator several hours or overnight. The next day, remove from casserole, place potato mound on a cookie sheet and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake at 400 degrees 45 to 60 minutes. Serves 4.

PAN-FRIED STEAK

2 tablespoons butter
1 minced garlic clove
1 tablespoon sweet basil
2 beef tenderloin or Delmonico steaks

Salt and pepper steaks to taste.

Melt butter; add garlic and sweet basil. Add steaks and cook 2 to 3 minutes on each side for medium doneness.

Week's Best Food Buys

Pork and poultry are the major retail features. Beef promotions are mostly on forequarter cuts. Lamb quality is variable and veal scarce.

Butter and eggs are in a cost decline. Fresh produce continues high. Onions, carrots, potatoes, asparagus and strawberries are highest, by weather factors.

Prices at retail are firm. Better buys on dealer choice. Pork is a case in point with promotions of rib end roasts at 49 cents a pound and generally 59; loin end cuts low at 59 cents a pound but mostly 59; center cut chops featured at 69 to 79 cents a pound, commonly 98. Bacon is cut by some stores too, with a drop of 10 to 20 cents a pound. Most top brands are holding at 98. Fryers are 29 to 39 cents a pound.

CHICAGO-AREA food values: Meats: center cut pork chops, pork loin roasts, pork steak, bacon; beef chuck roast, standing rib roast, ground beef; lamb shoulder roasts and chops.

Poultry: fryers, larger eggs.

Produce: lettuce, tomatoes, sweetcorn, cabbage, cucumbers.

TV Snack

For a TV snack sprinkle 1 tablespoon chopped Clark or Zag bar on top of graham cracker or sugar cookie. Broil under moderate heat until melted, about 2-3 minutes. (SH

Liver Strogonoff Is Gourmet Dish

This luscious liver Strogonoff may look like an expensive gourmet specialty, but look again—it's made with beef liver. Beef liver stretches your food dollar, and when this cheaper kind of liver is cut into strips they cook to succulent tenderness. As you know, liver is good for you as it's high in iron as well as vitamins A and B.

If you prepare the dish for guests you might want to splurge and buy delicate calves' liver, but the cheaper cuts of pork, lamb and beef liver are just fine for it. Sauteed bacon, onion and mushrooms combine with the meat strips in a sour cream sauce spiced with Tabasco.

Dishes termed "Strogonoff," "Stroganoff" or "Stroganov" were named for Count Paul Stroganov, a 19th-century Russian diplomat and fabulously wealthy merchant who lived during the reign of Ivan the Terrible. When he learned the Czar planned to visit him, being a celebrated chef in his spare time he brewed up a pot of delicious beef chunks with wine sauce because he knew Ivan loved it. Indeed, the Czar was so pleased he gave Stroganov all claims to the salt mines in the Urals—or so the story goes!

LIVER STROGONOFF

½ pound bacon
2 onions, sliced
½ pound mushrooms, optional
2 pounds liver, cut into strips
4 tablespoons flour, divided
½ pint sour cream
1 cup milk
½ teapoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon powdered thyme
½ teaspoon salt

Fry bacon until crisp. Remove from skillet and drain off all but 4 tablespoons of the drippings. Add onions and mushrooms. Saute until tender and reserve. Toss liver and 3 tablespoons flour until liver strips are well coated. Saute about 5 minutes on each side. Combine sour cream, milk, remaining 1 tablespoon flour, Tabasco, thyme and salt. Stir into liver, simmering until thickened. Do not boil. Add bacon mixture. Heat and serve with parsleyed noodles.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings. (SH

Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson Named To Top State Post for IFWC

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs 71st annual convention was brought to an impressive conclusion with a gala banquet for 650 clubwomen and guests in the Grand Ballroom of the Sherman House Thursday evening, May 5. The retiring president Mrs. James M. Segraves of Belleville, was honored for her two years of service as president of the IFWC, and elected officers were installed by Mrs. Kermit V. Haugan, Minneapolis, recording secretary of the General Federation.

The new 1966-68 state president is Mrs. Clarence A. Hendrickson of Arlington Heights. Heading the Junior organization in the state is Mrs. Gordon T. Beckley, also of Arlington Heights.

MRS. CLARENCE HENDRICKSON

MRS. HENDRICKSON brings to the office of president a background of 20 years of Federation clubwork. As a member of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, she has served in capacities from chairmanships to vice president and president. In the 7th District she has been chairman of American Citizenship and Legislation and Art chairman, followed by the offices of vice president and president.

Seven years on the state level have included terms as Park Ridge School for Girls chairman, vice president from Northern Region and first vice president.

MRS. HENDRICKSON also has an outstanding record of service and achievement in civic affairs in the community. She is currently serving as president of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library, is a member of the area Appeal Board, a patron of Village Players, Northwest Art Center and Community Concert Association.

Mrs. Hendrickson majored in home economics at the University of Iowa, taught in public high school and later entered the business world.

"The 7th District endorsed Mrs. Hendrickson with confidence in her ability to serve the Federation with distinction. Her experience, outgoing personality and ability qualify her for capable leadership," says Mrs. Martin J. Rauscher, 7th District president.

MRS. BECKLEY has been affiliated with Federated clubs for thirteen years, and for the last seven has been a member of the 7th District board as president of Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, Junior District director, recording secretary and hostess. She served on the state level as Junior Projects chairman, parliamentarian, Revisions chairman and Northern Regional director.

She is a graduate of Purdue University, with a degree in industrial psychology and mathematics. Following her graduation she was employed in personnel work in industry and worked for Northwestern University as a bookkeeper and cost accountant.

WHEN ASKED about her willingness to devote the great amount of time needed to fulfill her new duties, Mrs. Beckley replied that she felt philanthropic work should be done by the people who have the time and interest. Everyone can contribute in some way, and she feels that there is benefit from personal involvement.

She chose to devote her time to the Federation because it is an "all encompassing" organization, not geared to just one project or one group of people. it includes women from all walks of life and areas. She feels that the strength of this largest women's organization in the world is in its motto, "Unity in Diversity."

She added that her husband and two children support her in her work and over the years have come to understand the cumulative effect of local clubs working toward common goals.

THREE NEW 7th District clubs were represented at the convention, reports Mrs. Ben F. Carns, first vice president of the District. They were the Woman's Club of Inverness, Buffalo Grove Woman's Club and Hanover Park Junior Woman's Club. With these new clubs there was a total increase of 79 members in the 7th District this year.

Among clubs taking top honors at the convention was Prospect Heights Woman's Club which took a first place award in the Shell Oil contest for conducting the best educational programs. This prize brings a $500 check to the club to be used to further the winning club's educational programs.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE Junior Woman's Club won a second place in the Junior division for its press book. Winning books had the most Federation projects, relationship and identification to the community and the most informative and interesting news.

The convention attracted 1600 delegates and visitors from all sections of the state with a full program schedule which included speakers, reports of outgoing officers and chairmen, leadership and parliamentary seminars. (S

Extol Success Of Garden Sale

Prospect Heights Garden Club's annual spring garden and white elephant sale held May 3 was a most successful undertaking, according to Mrs. George Rasmussen, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Many items were reported completely sold out by early afternoon; however, orders are being taken by members. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. Roy Hughes with Mrs. Dudley Foxworth as co-hostess.

Participating in the Workshops were Mrs. Bernard Zinkgraf, Mrs. Roger Ericson, Mrs. Bandelow, Mrs. Bert Gescheidle, Mrs. Marion DemBest, Mrs. C. H. Nickelsen, Mrs. Rasmussen, Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Foxworth. Other members participating in the project were Mrs. R. L. Andreas, Mrs. Donald Kliment, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Joseph Clemens and Mrs. Leslie Weigle.

Plans are already underway for the club's holiday sale and floral demonstration to be held at Randhurst in November. (S

'Arlington A-Gro Gro' Show Is This Weekend

The village's growth will be symbolized through flower arrangements at the Arlington Heights Garden Club's seventh annual flower show, "Arlington A Gro Gro," at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse May 14 from 2 to 7 p.m. and May 15 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Local business establishments providing furnishings for artistic class 7, "Retail Business," are The Chandelier, Designer Shop, Schneller's Furniture Co. and Mayfair Interiors.

ALL AREA gardeners are welcome to enter the horticulture division. An award of merit will be given to an outstanding exhibit, and the following are points to help win a blue ribbon in this category:

All specimens must be spotlessly clean; specimens should be the most symmetrically formed blooms and fruit at the peak of freshness, with good color and straight stem; specimens may be cut the evening before the show and placed in warm water in a draft-free location; delicate blooms may be wrapped in wax or tissue paper for transporting them to the show.

THE CLASS includes iris, tulips, flowering branches, perennials, bulbs, foliage and flowering house plants, lilies of the valley, peonies, terrariums and fruit and vegetables grown by the exhibitor.

The Junior section is open to all youngsters from 6 to 16. The artistic division will feature defense, candy stripper's tray and transportation. Horticulture will feature potted plants or cacti, eggshell gardens, branches of flowering shrubs or trees and sweet potatoes grown in water. Entry Chairman Mrs. Joseph Koenen, CL 9-4514, may be called for details.

A MUSICALE, "Flowers with Music," will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. William Fricke, accompanied by pianist Kimberly Schmidt. Songs denoting flowers and gardens will be featured. The Frickes are affiliated with the Austin Academy of Fine Arts, Apollo and American Opera Companies and Northwest Chapter of the Lyric Opera Guild.

Flower show tickets may be obtained in advance from Mrs. William Platte, CL 5-0129. Chairman of the show is Mrs. Lawrence Brown. (S

Mt. Prospect Club Earns IFWC Awards

At the convention of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs, held last week in the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club was represented by its president, Mrs. Melvin Levers, and vice president, Mrs. Bert Morris.

Nineteen local members attended the Wednesday evening banquet which saluted Juniors' Day.

MRS. LEVERS, in behalf of the club, accepted a national award for community improvement from the General Federation for a second place in Illinois of clubs of 65 members. The award was for Mount Prospect Juniors' work in the senior citizen program and for $5,000 in scholarships given over the last two years.

The club also won a citation of second highest in the state for its contribution to CARE, a citiation for a $400 full scholarship for a teacher of exceptional children and a Shell Oil award for outstanding achievement in the Shell Oil educational program.

Any young woman interested in joining the area Juniors may contact Mrs. Jack Piper, CL 3-7976. (S

City Attorney to Speak At AAUW Meeting May 19

A BLACK ONYX RING which had belonged to her great-grandmother was the "something old" in Carol Ann Boyd's attire as she recently became the bride of Robert Richard Orr of Chicago. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Boyd, 505 S. Louis St., Mount Prospect, she also wore her mother's locket as "something borrowed." The newlyweds are living in Chicago after their wedding in Community Presbyterian Church and a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania. She will be graduated in August from Michael Reese Hospital School of Nursing, and her husband works for a Chicago lithographer.

Robert DiLeonardi, city attorney of Des Plaines, will speak on local government at the Thursday, May 19, meeting of Northwest Suburban branch of the American Association of University Women.

The meeting will be held in the South Park Field House at 8:15 p.m. Graduates of recognized colleges and universities are eligible for membership in AAUW, and new members are invited For further information, those interested may call the local membership representative, Mrs. T. M. Bulger, 255-8562.

Thirty-six members of the branch served as official hostesses at the Friday night banquet during the 5-state regional in Chicago last weekend. The banquet was held in the Sherman House and was one of the major events of the 2-day affair. The program included three selections by the branch' choral group, under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Cooper of Mount Prospect.

MRS. HELEN Bailey of Arlington Heights, former president of both the local and state AAUW organizations, was a hostess to American and foreign students who received fellowship grants from the AAUW for advanced educational studies. The students were special guests at the conference.

Saturday, May 14, the branch will direct and hostess the AAUW Northern Illinois Spring Workshop which will be attended by 200 leaders from all parts of Cook County and the northern section of the state. (S

Arlington AAUW Climaxes Year at Banquet Tonight

Arlington Heights branch of the American Association of University Women will climax its club year with a banquet meeting tonight (Thursday) in Long Grove Country Club. Members will gather for cocktails at 6:30 and dinner at 7.

Banquet speaker will be Miss Lois Brooks, local television performer whose subject will be "Women, Youth and Television." Miss Brooks, who has been moderator of the TV programs, "Your Two Cents Worth" and "Kumzitz," as well as the star of "Den Mother's Workshop," was also a recipient of McCall's "Golden Mike Award" in 1965.

DURING TONIGHT'S business meeting, new board members will be introduced. President Mrs. Paul F. Davis will welcome Mrs. Howard H. Rice as first vice president; Mrs. James L. Andrew, second vice president; Mrs. Lewis Ross, secretary; Mrs. Fred J. Riedl, treasurer.

Other board members include Mrs. James Roman, fellowships chairman; Mrs. Alexander Rabchuk, legislative chair-Mrs. John P. Kinney, AAUW orientation; Mrs. Jay G. Carr, by-laws; Mrs. Thomas Rush, social; Miss Luellen Giese, publicity; Mrs. James Hoadley, newsletter editor.

AAUW TOPIC implementation chairmen for the new club year will be Mrs. Robert Staley, "Education, an Antidote to Poverty;" Mrs. Joseph Braun, "The Law and the Citizen;" Mrs. John Parsons, "Science, A Creative Discipline;" Mrs. Charles Toot, "Revolution in Modern China."

Leading the branch study groups which will correlate their pursuits under these program topics will be Mrs. Donald Boos, literature; Mrs. Robert Long, music; Mrs. John Parsons, art; Mrs. Charles Toot, China; Mrs. Thomas Wittkoff, couples' discussion; Mrs. Woodrow Tichy, morning discussion.

Area representatives who will coordinate related AAUW area interests will be Miss Cami Bunta, World Problems; Mrs. Thomas Wittkoff, Community Problems; Mrs. Charles A. Aldag, education; Mrs. Robert Long, cultural interests.

A membership vote on a proposed branch by-laws change will be the only other item of business. (S

Benefit Date

Two area women, Mrs. Ralph E. Lockett of Mount Prospect and Mrs. John Waddick of Arlington Heights, are members of a committee planning a benefit showing of "The Trouble with Angels." Sponsored by the Alumnae Benefit Committee of Mundelein College, the event has been set for Friday, May 27, at the Granada Theatre.

FRILLY TOPIARY TREES will decorate the tables at the spring luncheon and style show of Mount Prospect Woman's Club next Tuesday at Long Grove Country Club. Preparing the trees for the festive affair are Mrs. Thoms G. Rickard, 804 Na-Wa-Ta, left; Mrs. Kenneth Silgen, 507 S. I-Oka, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Raymond Davis, 620 E. Shabonee, all Mount Prospect residents. Starting at 1 p.m., the luncheon-style show will feature fashions from the Hope Chest in Arlington Heights. (Staff photo)

New Junior College, Topic For Buffalo Grove Women

An opportunity to become well-informed on the progress of William Rainey Harper College will be presented to members of Buffalo Grove Women's Club at their next meeting to be held in the Alcott School All-purpose Room Wednesday, May 18, at 8 p.m. Guest speaker will be Roy de Marrais, administrative assistant to the president of the college, Dr. Robert E. Lahti.

A doctoral candidate from the University of Michigan, Mr. de Marrais has been involved in several developmental studies for college campuses, and is currently coordinating activities of the District 301 citizens' committee in aiding passage of the June 4 bond referendum. Mr. de Marrais will discuss proposed curriculum, academic standards, campus plans and financing of the college.

ANNUAL ELECTION of officers for the 1966-1967 club year will highlight the business meeting which will follow Mr. de Marrais' discussion. At the April meeting, Mrs. William Weiskopf, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of candidates:

President, Mrs. Sandy Navin and Mrs. Carl Schulien; vice president, Mrs. John Sheldon and Mrs. William Wiedeman; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Monson and Mrs. Bruce Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Gilbert Lee and Mrs. Edward Dreher.

Absentee ballots for members who cannot be present on the 18th can be acquired up until Tuesday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Weiskopf, 407 Navajo Trail.

Also on the agenda will be a report by the luncheon chairman, Mrs. Carl Schulien, on final plans for the club's annual June luncheon, this year to be held at the Arlington Carousel, Saturday, June 11, at 1:30 p.m.

Following the business meeting, members will participate in a "Fun Night" for which, according to Mrs. Bruce Smith, program chairman, they should wear casual clothes and be prepared for informal fun.

MRS. NAVIN, current president of the club, was presented to the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs at the May 3rd session of the IFWC's 71st annual convention held at the Sherman House May 3 through 5.

The Buffalo Grove Women's Club has recently been accepted for membership in the IFWC and as president of a new member-club, Mrs. Navin was presented with a bouquet of violets, the Illinois state flower, by the retiring president of the state organization, Mrs. James Segraves.

The club was also accepted for membership by the Seventh District of the IFWC in April at the Seventh District convention, held in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Navin, as representative of the newest club to be accepted into the District, was guest of honor at its convention luncheon, April 20.

At present, the club is looking forward to being accepted into the General Federation of Women's Clubs when the national organization holds its Diamond Jubilee Convention, June 6-10, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. (S

Barrington Flower Show

A standard flower show, "Color Me Spring," will be presented Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14, at the North Park Field House in Barrington. The Field House is located off Route 14, just west of Route 59.

Sponsored by the Field and Flower Garden Club, the show will be open to the public from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Tickets will be available at the door.

The show will feature educational displays as well as table and individual arrangements in the artistic division and both indoor and outdoor specimens in the horticulture section.

The sponsoring group is a member of The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., The Chicago Horticultural Society and the Council of Barrington Garden Clubs. (S

Meadows Jrs. At Convention

The convention was held at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago May 3-5. Awards received by the Rolling Meadows Juniors were for 100 per cent participation in federation projects and for having donated more than 25 cents per capita to CARE for 1964-66. (S
